

ROOSEVELT WILL TALK IN INDIANA

Will Make One Speech in Hoosier State in Favor of Senator Beveridge, But no More.

MANY AT SAGAMORE HILL.

Great Stream of Politicians and Statesmen Call at Former President's Home to Talk Politics.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 7.—Albert J. Beveridge, United States senator from Indiana, and one of the most prominent and consistent of the "progressive" Republicans, came down from Sagamore Hill this afternoon with a promise from Theodore Roosevelt to deliver a campaign speech in his favor in his fight for re-election to the senate. Mr. Beveridge departed content and smiling, but he left it for the colonel to make the announcement of the proposed campaign speech in the senator's behalf. This is what Mr. Roosevelt said:

"Mr. Beveridge and Mr. Swift came to Sagamore Hill last night and spent the night here. They came to request me to go to Indiana and speak in behalf of Senator Beveridge. I promised them I would."

He added he had agreed today to make only one speech for the senator, and, as far as known, he will make only one. The time and place has not been fixed.

Those who have followed the political conferences at Oyster Bay since Theodore Roosevelt's return share the belief that he has been feeling his way cautiously in his attitude toward the administration and the insurgents, but today's incidents are considered the most important yet developed. Senator Beveridge is making his fight for re-election as an insurgent. He is opposed by John W. Kern, who ran with Bryan in the last campaign.

In his fight for re-election, he is placing himself squarely against President Taft and the tariff measure. The law which the president has defended as the best tariff measure ever enacted is denounced without equivocation by Senator Beveridge, and the same Republican state convention that endorsed Beveridge for another term virtually repudiated the law. In the senate, Beveridge fought the bill to the last and then voted against it.

ONLY ONE EXCEPTION.

It is pointed out, however, with this exception, President Taft and the senators from Indiana have been pulling together on administration policies. There has been no break between them. The president entrusted to the senator the conduct of two administration meetings at the last session of Congress—the statehood bill and the Alaskan government bill. And, although the senator worked faithfully with the insurgent band in the senate, and had a hand in the alteration of President Taft's railroad bill, he supported the administration regularly in the last session when the votes were taken.

Sagamore Hill was fairly swarming all day with men of various political persuasion. They came by train and by automobile. They talked politics all day long, but as they left they were unanimously reluctant when asked to tell what they knew. Consequently, Oyster Bay is developed in an atmosphere of deep mystery.

There were three Indianaans among the visitors. Besides Senator Beveridge, they were William Dudley Fouke and Lucian Swift of Indianapolis.

From New Hampshire came Winston

ITCHED ALL SUMMER

Skin Troubles Cause Great Aggravation in Hot Weather—Unnecessary If Poslam Is Used.

Frequently a skin trouble appearing in the spring and allowed to remain unchecked will afford cause for intense itching all summer long. When poslam, the new skin remedy, is first applied all itching is stopped, inflammation is allayed, the burning skin is cooled and comforted.

For the prompt relief and cure of the many forms of eczema, acne, tetter, barber's itch and all other skin troubles poslam has proved the most efficient healing agent yet evolved. In the lesser affections, such as pimples, red noses, complexion blemishes, rash, scalp trouble, itching feet, etc., results are seen overnight, but a small quantity being required. (Nothing is so good for sunburn and mosquito bites.)

A special 50-cent package of poslam is prepared for minor uses, and this, as well as the regular $2 jar, is on sale by all druggists, particularly Schramm-Johnson Drugs. But no one is asked to purchase poslam without first obtaining a sample package, which will be sent by mail, free of charge, upon request by the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West 25th street, New York City.

Churchill, the novelist, John Bass, war correspondent, and his brother, Robert R. Bass, who is a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor.

New York state was represented by Representative Hamilton Fish and James R. Sheffield.

From Montana there was United States Senator Thomas H. Carter. Colonel Roosevelt appeared well pleased with the day's work of talking politics, which began almost as soon as he was up and lasted well through the afternoon.

To interviewers, however, he would say little concerning the conference, except that he had promised to make one speech for Mr. Beveridge. Thus the general insurgent rally looking toward the shaping of Colonel Roosevelt's future attitude were left in the dark.

STANDPATTER THERE.

And as an indication that this was not the case there was the presence of Senator Carter, who steadily has opposed insurgency.

Senator Beveridge spent only a few hours at Sagamore Hill, and it was evident that the press of other visitors and a dinner engagement in New York that necessitated an early return gave him less time than he wished in which to discuss the political situation in Indiana.

"I have no doubt Mr. Roosevelt will give out anything he wishes to become public about the interview," said Mr. Beveridge.

"I gave my views on the Indiana situation fully in a formal statement several days ago," he added.

"Did you come away pleased with the result of your visit?"

The senator's smile broadened until he laughed aloud.

"Well," he said, "I have had many talks with Mr. Roosevelt in the last few years, but never in my experience have I had one more satisfactory than that of today."

Further than this Senator Beveridge would not go.

"In regard to my vacation tomorrow," he added, "and it is needless to say that I go in a very happy frame of mind."

Senator Beveridge said he came to Oyster Bay by appointment, and that his visit had nothing to do with the other visitors here today.

"I found Col. Roosevelt," he added, "more alive, and more interested in things than ever."

Winston Churchill was as careful as Beveridge to keep back information, as to the conversation between Roosevelt and the Bass brothers and himself.

"Col. Roosevelt has been interested in the fight since it began in 1906, when I ran for governor," he said. "This year Robert R. Bass of Petersburg, is a candidate for governor. He may be classed with the insurgents."

but the New Hampshire Republican organization has proposed his nomination. Mr. Roosevelt wanted to know about the situation in New Hampshire, and as I am an old friend of his, I came down to tell him."

CHURCHILL QUESTIONED.

"Did Mr. Roosevelt indicate his attitude in regard to the fight in New Hampshire?"

"Only by his friendly attitude. He said nothing to show his views."

Then Mr. Churchill produced a paper on which he had written a statement. Here it is:

"One of the purposes in New Hampshire this summer is to make Mr. Bass governor and to elect a legislature to support him. We have done nothing else, we have meddled with nothing else. We know Mr. Bass is uncompromising. He has been with the progressive movement since it started. He is incapable of making political deals."

"The people of the state trust him, and his nomination and election will be a clear-cut victory, a signal stage in the fight we began four years ago."

Senator Carter looked gravely at the statement and informed them the people in his part of the country were not hearing much about the insurgent movement just now. The senator came alone and returned to New York alone.

Senator Carter said that while his visit was not a political one, he had given the colonel considerable information about the situation in the west.

"I assured him," said Senator Carter, "that the alleged divisions in the west are greatly exaggerated and that many of us were trying to attain the same ends through different methods."

CARTER'S ASSURANCE.

Senator Carter said he had assured Col. Roosevelt that the strength of the insurgent movement in the northwest had been overestimated. The senator was asked if there was any possibility of a breach between President Taft and Col. Roosevelt and he replied:

"I can see no danger of it. Mr. Roosevelt will probably have more of a soothing influence than any other."

In addition to the political talks, Col. Roosevelt also found time to talk about hunting in Africa. John Burroughs, the naturalist, who spent the night at Sagamore Hill, and T. J. Ador, who dropped in for luncheon, swapped stories of the jungle with him. No politicians are expected at Sagamore Hill tomorrow.

GARMENT WORKERS STRIKE.

Over Fifty Thousand Men and Women Leave Work.

New York, July 7.—Fifty thousand garment and cloak makers, of which 8,000 are women, walked out this afternoon at the call of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' union, which demands an eight-hour day, an increase in wages, and a guarantee that contractors shall stand behind sub-contractors for wage payments. The fight thus far is purely local, but officers of the union said tonight that if the employers attempted to subvert their work in other cities the union would call a strike there also.

The 1,200 factories here employ 100,000 hands, of which approximately half are organized. The strikers hope to draw many of the non-union workers out by a sympathetic appeal.

A circular issued by the union reads, in part:

"Avoid arguments and enter into discussion with no one. Give no opportunity for interested parties to make disturbance which may lead to a breach of the law and to arrests. Show the world you both know your duties and rights and are law-abiding citizens."

Stories of Success

JAMES OLIVER.

It was the great Franklin that said—"prow deep while slugs sleep" but it was left to a poor boy born in bonny Scotland to bring the plow up to its highest efficiency.

James Oliver farmed forth to fame and fortune in America when he was 11 years old, his first job being on a farm near Geneva, New York, at fifty cents a week and board.

The call of the West caused the family to remove to Mishawaka, Indiana, where in a log school house James attended school just one winter.

His rise from a cooper shop at two dollars a day to the great Oliver Chilled Plow Works giving employment to thousands proclaims a story of great success.

He always knew the value of a dollar, and acquired the savings habit early.

ARBITRATING WAGES.

St. Louis, July 7.—The Order of Railway Telegraphers submitted testimony before the board of arbitration appointed under the auspices of the United States board of mediation today to show that the operators of the Missouri Pacific and Iron Mountain systems are entitled to a general increase in pay. General Chairman E. Maxwell and General Secretary-Treasurer H. J. Mohler were on the stand.

Three arguments were advanced in behalf of the telegraphers. One was that the wages have not been advanced in ratio to the rates of other branches of the railroad service. The second was that the increases since 1906 had not been adequate. The third was that the cost of living has increased to such an extent as to necessitate increased wages.
