GAMBLERS PAID FOR PROTECTION

When Arrested by Deputy Sheriffs They Were More Than Surprised.

POLICE GAVE NO RECEIPTS

Those Picked Up by Sharp's Men Say They Paid Fifty Dollars a Month To "American" Sleuths.

The arrest of "Jack" Ryan last night by deputy sheriffs in room 207 D. F. Walker building brought to light the fact that protected gambling was on in Salt Lake City. Ryan accuses Frank Kimball, city license collector, with being the collector.

He says that Kimball came to him on Sept. 28 and got $50 from him for protection. Ryan later told Justice of the Peace Hanks that he was told that gambling was legal as long as he "contributed." But instead, he was arrested, and will be in court later to answer ed, and will be in court later to answer the charge of gambling.

Ryan further states that he has paid the $50 for many months and showed his books to prove the fact. Where does the money go? This question was asked by The News some time ago when it printed a complete list of the men who are paying $50 a month. The News asks now who is Kimball collecting the money for? He is seen long and often in consultation with Chief of Police Sam Barlow. Is it possible that Police Sam Barlow. Is it possible that Chief Barlow really does know that there is gambling in Salt Lake? He stated several times that there was not, but others are wondering whether Kim-hall ever told him of his collections.

The real collector, though, said to be authorized and detailed to collect the fund, described as a member of the detective department, a somewhat heavy and tail, dark man with a grey-

Gust Goins, a Greek who conducts a game and a coffee house at 528 west Second South street, was one who has been paying $50 to this tall dark de-tective, who does little else but keep tab on the chances for a new contribution. Goins tried to get a receipt for his money, but was told that receipts were one of the things they did not give, and he was further reminded that he had better be good or they would throw him in jail.

DOUBLE COLLECTION.

After Goins had paid one instalment of $50 to the tail dark detective, Kimball came to him, he says, and demanded $50 more. "I had to pay him, and he also said 'nix' on the receipt gag."

W. O. Otse and K. Okomo are two Japs who have a place on Commercial street, who state they also paid protection money to the police department. It is also stated that the police made a round of the "joints" not long ago and told them where to place their blinds so the public, which is not supposed to know, wouldn't know. They were even told where to buy the lumber to make the blinds.

The men arrested last night by the deputy sheriffs and taken before Justice Hanks, who placed them all under $100 bail for their appearance at the trial,

GUS LINDHULM "BROKE" MAY REGAIN FREEDOM

Not Having Any Money He May be Released From Serving 170 Days in Jail.

By being "dead broke," Gus Lindhulm, a mechanic 27 years old, saved himself $170 or 170 days in the county jail. Lindhulm, who was fined $200 in default of which he went to jail on the charge of violating the interstate commerce law, signed a pauper's affidavit this morning and Thursday morning he will appear and his case be heard by United States Commissioner by United States Commissioner Charles Baldwin. In the affidavit Lindhulm says that he has served 30 days in the county jail as a United States prisoner, and that he has less than $5 to his name. Under the federal statute, Lindhulm is entitled to his liberty providing that he is declared a pauper by the commissioner. While Lindhulm does not "shake" the fine, he gains his liberty and may go on his way. After he is released the government officials may attach his wages for the money but this is seldom done.

Lindhulm was arrested about three months ago for riding on an employe's pass between Evanston, Wyo., and Ogden, Utah. Lindhulm bought the pass from an employe of the Union Pacific named Frazze. When Lindhulm was asked to sign his name, he signed his own name instead of Frazze's and the conductor then took him into custody and had him arrested at Ogden.

Lindhulm pleaded guilty and was fined $200 by Judge John A. Marshall. He paid his last dollar to Frazze for the railroad pass to get into Ogden where he had a job. On account of being "broke" Lindhulm was sent to the county jail to serve out his fine at Lindbulm was arrested about three

YOUTH KILLED BY TRAIN.

Frank Drobvich Falls Under Wheels

Of O. S. L. Freight. Frank Drobvich, 15 years old, was rur over by an Oregon Short Line freight train half a mile from the United States train half a mile from the United States smelter at Midvale Tuesday afternoon at 4:27 o'clock. The train was going about 10 miles an hour when the accident happened, but the train crew did not know about it until the conductor. Dan Hughes, saw the boy's body lying beside the track from the caboose window. It appears that the boy had Jumped on the car soon after it left the smelter, and was probably hanging on to the side or in between the cars when he lost his hold and fell beneath the cars. The lad's body was cut in two, his legs lying inside the rail and his body being carried or rolled by the wheels for some distance. Engineer D. S. Edgar said he did not see the boy at all before the fatality occurred.

Justice J. J. Williams was called but decided an inquest was not necessary. The body was given in charge of Underdecided an inquest was not necessary. The body was given in charge of Undertaker Banks of Murray. The boy was of Austrian parentage, and was born in Pueblo. He was the son of Frank and Anna Drobvich, and is survived by his parenta and three brothers and one sister. He was a schoolboy at Midvale, and popular among his companions. It is said that he was playing about the railroad tracks with two or three other boys when the accident happened taking his life.

MAY CLOSE TOMORROW.

Arguments in Silver King Case Nearing the End.

Atty. W. H. Dickson, chief counsel for the Kearns crowd, began the closing ar-gument this morning before Judge John A. Marshall in the United States district court in the case of the Silver King Consolidated Mining Co. against the Silver King Coalition Mines Co. In an effort to King Coalition Mines Co. In an effort to whitewash Charles P. Brooks, engineer, who made a mistake of several thousand cubic feet in his survey of the contents of the Parsons stope. Atty. Dickson took up his testimony and showed where it was easy to make such mistakes in such dangerous ground where he was unable to work with a transit only part of the time. Mr. Dickson took some objections to the arraignment of Thomas Kearns and David Keith, the principal owners of the mine, as made by Atty. H. R. Macrish Co. Phones, 1452.

The first film of moving pictures made by the Revier Motion Picture company to the arraignment of Thomas Kearns and David Keith, the principal owners of the mine, as made by Atty. H. R. Macrish Co. Phones, 1452.

The first film of moving pictures made by the Revier Motion Picture company of Sait Lake was shown privately at the Majestic theater last night. The title of the picture is "Love's Sorrow," of the workings of the mine, and his attorney declared that he did not know all that was going on about the mine. He had not know all that was going on about the mine, all this a stirring tragedy of Western also attempted to lighten the burden of shows clearly that this company, can Foreman Mike Daly and several other witnesses whose admissions on the witnesses stand showed the manner in which the Parsons stope was gutted.

During part of the morning session Atty. Dickson attempted to show that the miners took the ore out of the mine. He said that they did not know the value of the ore and that the "two peg ore" and the "three peg ore" did not have any reference to value as far as the miners knew.

JUSTICE WHITE CONSIDERED FOR CHIEF JUSTICE

New York, Oct. 19.—It was learned here today that among the candidates for chief justice of the United States supreme court whom President Taft is considering is Associate Justice Edward Douglass White, He is strongly urged for the place.

supreme court from Louislana and is a Democrat. It is believed the president will give very great weight to po-litical considerations in making his selection.

While the president is considering both Senator Root and Justice White, ne has not given up the idea of ap-pointing Justice E. Hughes. Some time pointing Justice E. Trugnes. Some time ago it seemed the latter was to be ap-pointed; but the fact that he is seeking opinions both as to Justice White and Senator Root is taken to indicate Mr. Taft has not made up his mind. None of the supreme court appointments would be made until Congress meets in December. Therefore the fall campaign and Senator Root's participation in it and the question whether or not a Democratic legislature is elected in New York state will not enter into the president's considerations as affecting Senator Root.

Federal Treasury Is Enriched By Collector Loeb's Activity.

By the activity of Collector William Loeb, Jr., in detecting attempted evasions of the payment of customs duties at New York and by his keenness in searching out undervaluations of dutiable goods in the past the federal treasury stands fair to be enriched by great sums. In the case of the Duveens, the wealthy art importers arrested in New York city on charges of undervaluing very high priced works of art, it is said that millions of dollars are rightfully owed to the government.
