The Board of Trade.

CHICAGO, July 9.—Fine weather for harvesting and threshing started wheat weak. The government weekly crop bulletin for South Dakota said a decided improvement in the condition of wheat had occurred since the preceding report and the harvest promised to be from ten days to two weeks earlier than usual. The prospect in the winter wheat belt was for a much more general movement of the crop to market within the next ten days. The slackness of speculation caused liquidation and short selling. Laier, there was a recovery in September on higher late Liverpool cables, which started the early short sellers covering, but the fact that free shipments of the new wheat were predicted for the near future and a generally bearish sentiment which could not be shaken off caused the price to decline once more near the close.

July ruled stronger than the other months on the good price that was paid for the cash articles. July closed unchanged and September lost $100\cdots$.

Lower cables, improved weather and crop reports, liquidation of long lines and lack of foreign demand caused an easier feeling in corn. July declined $20\cdots$.

Fluctuations in oats were narrow, July left off unchanged. An over supply of hosys and lower prices at the yards caused as concession in prices. NEW YORK MARKETS.

The Stock Exchange. NEW YORK, July 3.—The bullish sentiment on the stock exchange was unmistakable today and carried prices aggressively upward during the two hours' session, routing the bears and defeating their rather feeble efforts to work a reaction. Some professional traders were skeptical about the character of the buying of the last two days, regarding it as a maneuver to attract outside buying to realize on, and they attempted to check the advancing tendency by renewing yesterday's atto attract ourside buying to realize on, and they attempted to check the advancing tendency by renewing yesterday's attack on the coalers. This group of stocks proved easy victims on account of the demoralized condition of the anthracite industry, on account of the increasing competition of gas as fuel and the extreme cheapness of bituminous coal. The losses ranged from 1 to 2½. This drove against the coalers and in fact unsettled the market and induced some profit-taking on the two days' advance. But the character of the buying at the decline made it evident that the stocks absorbed during the last two days nad been taken for something more than a fractional turn in price. The check to the advance brought only small offerings, which were easily absorbed and the market was soon moving upwards again under the influence of the persistent and urgent demand for the Vanderbilts. The buying of New York Central was most conspicuous, though the movement in the price was not as pronounced as in some of the allied roads. Buying elsewhere in the pit was less urgent, though it was good, part of it evidently being covering of short contracts put out earlier in the day.

The bank statement was regarded as favorable and helped on the advance. Some effort was necessary to sustain prices to the close in face of a 1 point break in sugar, but the close generally was firm at top prices, net gains ranging from a fraction to 3 per cent.

The bond market was fairly strong. U. S. new 4s coupon advanced 1½, the old 4s coupon %, the old 4s reg. ¼ in the bid price.

The Bank Statement. The weekly bank statement shows:
Increase, Decrease,
Surplus reserve $8,668,250
Loans $12,981,500 Legal tender 1,098,400

Deposits 2,993,400

The banks hold $32,345,300 in excess of the requirements of the 25 per cent, rule.

The New York Financier says: A notable decrease in surplus reserves is the feature of the statement of the New York banks for the week ending July 2.

Operations with the treasury pending the award of the new loan and the settlement of July dividends are responsible in large part for the heavy changes in the various items. The increase of $12,691,500 in the various items. The increase of $12,691,500 in stitutions which are carrying government money—in fact, the expansion reported by the National City, the Hanover National and the Chise National equals the total gain reported for all the institutions. The fact that the increase is thus limited to a few banks precludes the idea that general business demands have influenced the heavy loan grawth although one of the banks responsible for these changes has actually lost in cash the full amount of its in its case seem to have been made in cash and withdrawn from the bank. Incidents like these tend to confuse accurate analysis, but the general trend of the statement is about as expected. The heavy collections of checks given for small subscriptions are causing a loss to the banks in treasury operations. On the other hand, the treasury is making unusually heavy payments on war account, but its receipts for the reason named, are in excess of disbursements. The effect is to reduce the surplus of the local banks, and that is what the statement shows.

The loss has been greater than expected, for the banks have gained through the interior movement. The flow of cash to New York, however, has passed its maximum and domestic exchange has declined sharply at interior centers. The situation can only be described as favorable. The surplus reserves of the banks are in excess of $2,000,000, and while the award of the new loan this week will create more or less confusion, nothing more than a temporary disturbance is anticipated. The fact that not much over one-fourth of the whole amount has been taken in $500 bonds or under, makes it easy for the treasury to regulate the period of payments for larger subscriptions, in installments so separated as to minimize the effect on the money market.

THE WOOL MARKET.

London.

London, July 9.—There was an excellent attendance at the wool auction sales today. A miscellaneous catalogue was offered and sales were made at firm figures. New South Wales greasy was in demand and was taken largely by the continent at full prices. Fine Geelong sold at higher rates and a few lots were taken by American purchasers. Fine crop breeds in good condition were the subject of increased competition at hardening values. The offerings numbered 13.050 bales. Following are the sales in detail:

New South Wales, 4.500 bales—Scoured, 9d is 3-2d; greasy, 54/d@104/d.

FOREIGN MARKETS.

Financial.

LONDON, July 10.—The continued with-drawals of gold for Germany and Russia and dividend payments have caused a rise in the discount rate, and money is expect-ed to gradually become dearer. The stock market throughout the week The stock market throughout the week has been rather more active, buying having been encouraged by the cheapness of money and American victories, which have strengthened the hope of peace. Some departments, however, were unfavorably affected, especially home railway securities, which showed a fairly general decline.

Hamilton (Ontario) Spectator.

Great Britain will be able to learn some lessons from the Spanish-American war, and among these the necessity of providing, within the empire, a food supply for the British Isles will be not the least important. The rise in the price of wheat in Great Britain shows that that country depends, in some measure, upon the United States for its food supply. It is not at all likely that the war will materially reduce States for its food supply. It is not at all likely that the war will materially reduce the supply of wheat in the United States. The war will be conducted entirely out of that country, and the withdrawal of sufficient men to carry the war to a successful close will not cause a drain which will be felt. And there is little or no danger of grain vesse's being seized en route to Britain. But, nevertheless, wheat has gone up in that country, and that fact is sufficient to alarm the British people and cause them to ask what would be the result were a war to come on which would materially shorten the supply of American wheat. It all teaches the lesson that Great It all teaches the lesson that Great Britain's sympathy for us in this matter is both sentimental and practical. The British people prefer to see their own kin beat a Latin race for which all Anglo-Sax-ons feel a natural contempt. They also are anylous to keen on the best terms with reanxious to keep on the best terms with us because they are under bonds to keep the peace with us for the sake of their daily bread.

Friend-I suppose you'll be springing the same old sea-serpent story on the publie in a month or two? Summer hotel proprietor-Oh, no! I'm going to spring something entirely new-I'm going to have the biggest liar in the village see the sea serpent this year, in-stead of a "time-honored resident of unquestioned veracity," as heretofore .- Puck.

and puny mortal. Watch for the drawn face and the tired limbs. See those trembling hands. Notice the uncertain look in the eye. What brings men to this paint The thing principally to blame is indiscretion, If you eat too much rich food you will sooner or later have dyspepsia. If you drink too freely other troubles quite as serious will face you If you go to excess of any nature you must pay the penalty. You stunt nature and you become a weakling-a all faculties. There is, however, relief for you if you are "down" and "all gone" today. You have only to ask for relief and you get its
