THE RESERVED RESOURCES.

Stevens county, of this Territory, is an empire in itself. Stretching from the Cascades to the eastern border it comprises about one-fourth the entire area of the Territory. It rather represents the yet uncultivated surplus land of the Territory, and contains the material out of which is to be carved a dozen opulent counties of the future. Beginning on the west we find within its bounds the great valleys of the Wenatchee, Entiat, Chelan, Methow, Okanogan, Colville, Spokane, etc., none of which have yet been peopled to any great extent, not from want of advantages for making a livelihood, but from want of settlers to occupy them.

Of the last named valley, we reproduce some descriptive notes from a correspondence of a Portland paper. The writer states that:

"The region is almost entirely a rolling country, perfectly destitute of timber except a few scrubby pines along Pine creek, Hangman's creek and the Spokane river, but the soil wherever cultivated yields the most wonderful crops of wheat, barley and oats; frequently 60 to 75 bushels of wheat to the acre is obtained, and that with the poorest kind of farming. At Campbell's ranch on Pine creek we saw the finest vegetables we ever saw anywhere, also tobacco, grapes and fruit trees in the most flourishing condition.

There are now six white families living at Spokane Falls village, a store and sawmill, owned by Mr. J. M. Glover. Mr. Post is building a very substantial grist mill which, when completed, will be a great convenience to the people hereabouts, who now have to go to Colfax to get their grain ground, a distance of 63 miles. A North Pacific railroad or some other outlet, is all this country needs to place it in the front rank of wealthy flourishing States or Territories."

As these great agricultural valleys become rapidly peopled they will pour a great stream of productions into the towns where they have outlet, and build up there great manufacturing and commercial industries which will sustain a large city population.

This region will be peculiarly the domain of the Seattle and Walla Walla railroad in future, as it lies so far north that that road can easily intercept all competitors on the south for its tributary trade.

WIDE REACHING SOLICITUDE.—With a considerate regard that is all embracing in its concern and a disinterestedness that is truly refreshing, the Portland Board of Trade Report remarks, under the sub-head of "Oregon Railroads," that "excepting the extension of the Puget Sound branch of the Northern Pacific railroad (which will develop the coal industries and hop products of the Puget Sound valley) and the opening of the Seattle railroad to the coal mines, we have had no further railroad extensions; nor have we during the past year, had any other public or State improvements inaugurated."

GEN. SHERMAN ON MONTANA.—The Lieut-general in his report to the Secretary of War, dated U. S. Army headquarters, Big Horn river, Montana, says: "The country west of here is a good country and will rapidly fill up with emigrants." This is the region west of Bismarck, the present western terminus of the Northern Pacific railroad, and furnishes another strong argument in favor of the prosecution of that road.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—In the great suit of the Eureka Consolidated Mining Company vs. the Richmond Mining Company in the U. S. circuit court, Justice Field this morning delivered the opinion of the court, giving judgment in favor of the plaintiff, the Eureka Company. The opinion was an elaborate document, reviewing the whole controversy and all questions involved. The court room was densely crowded by lawyers and brokers, all listening with eager interest for the final decision, which was only announced at the close of the reading of the ponderous document, when there ensued a grand rush for the street, all seeming determined to take advantage of the effect of the decision on the stock market.

An assessment of thirty cents per share has been levied by the Mexican Company.

The memorial of the Senate of California to Congress, on the social, moral and political effect of Chinese emigration, and the policy and means for its exclusion, is a lengthy document and covers the whole ground.

THE FIFTEENTH OF AUGUST AT TULALIP.

TULALIP, Aug. 20th, 1877. ED. INTELLIGENCER:—Since the establishment of the Catholic Mission at Tulalip, 1858, the feast of the assumption of the blessed Virgin Mary, has been annually celebrated on the Reservation, with enthusiastic fervor and devotion, to which might be added, and not unjustly, pomp.

The fifteenth of August has always been considered by the Catholic Indians of Puget Sound, as the great day of their religious enjoyment. On this happy occasion the various tribes flock together at the Mission from all parts of the country, in order to express with common accord their respect and filial love towards the Heavenly Mother. The fifteenth instant has been a real triumph for both mother and children. At 9 o'clock A. M. High Mass was celebrated in memory of the most Holy Virgin ascending from the rock of Gethsemane to the heavenly Jerusalem. Over 400 well disposed souls attended the divine sacrifice and listened to the sermon of the day with great attention and devotion. Sixty persons had the happiness of receiving their divine Lord and Redeemer, in the wonderful sacrament of his love. Seventeen Indians made their first communion, and a couple of the oldest scholars were joined in wedlock, to the great satisfaction of their parents and friends.

The royal "Te Mass ex" terminated the religious singing, so sweetly executed during the service by both whites and Indians. After thanksgiving, the large assemblage left the church in perfect order. At 1 p. m. the church bell called the people for a procession, which was promptly organized and soon presented a most imposing sight. Four hundred Indians, dressed like their white brethren, were arranged by tribes and marched two by two, having at their head their chiefs and leaders, bearing flags of true peace and banners of true union. After the Indians came the white ladies and the informal sisters of charity leading and following their twenty-six pupils, who were very neatly and tidily dressed. Four of them, in white robes and crowned with natural flowers, were carrying modestly and gracefully the statue of the Immaculate Virgin of virgins. The music scholars came next, carrying the banner of St. Peter and singing the Litany of the Queen of all Saints. The last but not the least part of this procession was formed by the clergy and many white gentlemen of different denominations, paying in unison and beautiful harmony, the tribute of respect honor and glory, so justly due to the most wonderful virgin who gave birth to the Divine Redeemer of mankind, and thus crushed the head of the infernal serpent. In front of the whites was seen the pious and edifying Indian Agent, Major Edmund Mallot, carrying the glorious banner of the faithful guardian of the "Most Holy Family." No doubt the pious songs and harmonious canticles in the varied tunes and different languages repeated by the echo of the neighboring hills of Tulalip, were also heard agreeably all over the Eternal Hills of the Heavenly Jerusalem. On the return of the procession solemn benediction of the most blessed sacrament ended the church service of the day.

At 3 o'clock P. M., the drum and bugle announced our doors, the opening of the school-boys' examination. Soon a large number of witnesses surrounded the little band of young Indian musicians, on a platform made by nature. The examination commenced by an invocation to the Divine Spirit of Light, and proceeded successfully throughout the following programme: 1. Christian doctrine. 2. Reading and spelling. 3. English grammar. 4. Writing. 5. History. 6. Geography. 7. Arithmetic. The whole being sweetly intermixed with various songs, addresses, dialogues and speeches on several well selected subjects. The exhibition lasted three hours and everybody seemed to be well pleased with the progress of the children. Some persons remarked that it would be difficult for many white children to surpass the red scholars of Tulalip.

After a large distribution of suitable prizes, the eloquent and gentlemanly Agent, Major E. Mallot, addressed the assemblage in a most appropriate, touching and effective manner. The zealous agent earnestly endeavored at the close of his remarks, to impress on the minds of the parents the imperative duty of procuring for their children the great benefit of a Christian education. The Indians answered by a beautiful song of thanksgiving. After which the school children left their seats and mingled their joy with the joy of their parents and friends.

WITNESS.
The American People.
No people in the world suffer as much with dyspepsia as Americans. Although years of experience in medicine had failed to accomplish a certain and sure remedy for this disease and its effects, such as Sour Stomach, Heart-burn, Water-brash, Sick Headache, Constipation, Palpitation of the Heart, Liver Complaint, coming up of the food, low spirits, general debility, etc., yet since the introduction of GREEN'S FRUIT AND PLEASANT FLAVOR we believe there is no case of Dyspepsia that cannot be immediately relieved. Thirty thousand dozen sold last year without one case of failure reported. Go to your Druggist and get a sample bottle for ten cents and try it. Two doses will relieve you. Regular size 75 cents.
