COAST SURVEYOR'S MOVEMENTS.—Captain Elliott has his little steam launch and boats on Crawford & Harrington's wharf repaired and overhauled. He has also chartered the sloop Sappho, and will commence surveying about the first of April. His operations will be on the inlets of the upper Sound, near Olympia. Lieutenant Cutts, in command of the Coast Survey schooner Yukon, will commence about the first of May where he left off last summer, and operate towards the upper end of the Sound. Captain Gilbert will commence about the first of May, and his operations will be on Hood's Canal. The steam launch that Mr. Mitchell is now building is for Captain Gilbert, and will be ready by the first of May. Captain Lawson, with the Fauntleroy, will doubtless operate down the straits. Most of the surveying parties operating on the Puget Sound waters are naval officers detailed for that purpose. Captains Gilbert and Lawson, we believe, are the only Coast Survey officers who will operate this summer.

MRS. HORTON'S FUNERAL.—The funeral of Mrs. Dexter Horton, yesterday, was, perhaps, the most largely attended of any occurring in this city for a long time. The services were held at the family residence, and were conducted by the Revs. Bagley, Whitworth and Ellis. The Sunday school class that she taught, sang several hymns, and Miss Elta Whitworth sang very beautifully her favorite song, "Only remembered by what I've done." The body was conveyed to the old cemetery, and buried in the D. Horton family lot. Thus has passed away one of our society's best exemplars, a truly devoted and unostentatious worker in the cause of humanity, and a most estimable pattern of Christian worth—one who adorned every sphere in which she moved, and her influence for good in our community will be felt, long years after the sod has turned to mould above her grave.

CAPT. JACK'S COMBINATION.—As will be seen by our advertising columns this morning, Captain Jack Crawford, supported by "Miss Rena," the charming soubrette and great combination company, will be here on Friday, the 29th inst., and will appear on that and Saturday evenings in Yester's Hall in two powerful border dramas, entitled "The Plains: or the Trials of Death Valley," and "Capt. Jack: or the Life on the Border." We bespeak them a good house. This troupe will play only at Port Gamble and Victoria below here on the Sound; so that the best opportunity for the people of Port Blakely, Madison, and Milton, as well as for those of Newcastle, Renton and the surrounding country will be to come to Seattle for Friday or Saturday evening. From the reputation of the company and its star actors, we judge it will be well worth attending.

THE COMMERCIAL STREET GRADE.—The condition of the lower end of Commercial street, from Washington down to the depot, has been all winter a discredit to the city. From Main to King it is even now scarcely passable. The saw-dust turnpike has only made the natural clay mud the softer and deeper. It is gratifying to see the work of improvement going on at last in that direction. It would, however, be a betterment, for filling the lower ground, to remove at least a foot or so off the top of the bump or knoll below Main street, in the vicinity of the new hotel, instead of bringing all from a distance. Nothing can add more to the prosperity of business houses along this portion of Commercial street than to have this thoroughfare put in a thoroughly serviceable condition.

MUCH NEEDED.—Messrs. Ross and Minkler are having the iron work cast and finished for a sash or up and down sawmill erected at the North Pacific Iron Works in this city. The mill will be built about thirty miles above the jam on the Skagit river, and be run by water. The location is a fine one for such a mill. The power is enough for more than ten times the capacity of this one. The way the settlers are going in to this Upper Skagit, a sawmill, for the manufacture of lumber, will be hailed with great pleasure by those able to build something better than a log cabin. Mr. Minkler, who was in town a few days ago, says the right kind of settlers are taking up lands in that section, and a small steam-mill is much needed.

STEAMER MOVEMENTS.—The steamer Politkofsky was here yesterday, and received a lot of hay and some work oxen for Mr. Impett's logging camp, and left for Port Madison some time during the night. The Wenat came down from White river yesterday afternoon with a large load of hay. The ferryboat Success towed a scow with 280 M shingles to Port Blakely. The North Pacific arrived from Victoria early yesterday afternoon, and left soon after for Tacoma.

IN RUNNING ORDER.—The locomotive Bode will be running again to-day. The damage was but slight. The break in the road was repaired and trains running over it yesterday. It was not the breaking of any trestle-work, but the foundation of a new filling at the end of trestle No. two that gave way.

MINING EXCITEMENT.—Victoria, in common with all British Columbia, is deeply exercised just now over the quartz question. A Victorian has lately contracted with parties in San Francisco for the construction of an improved 20-stamp quartz mill and a Blake rock-crusher, price, $25,000.

A NEW PEST.—Though the caterpillar nuisance has somewhat abated, our orchardists and gardeners this Spring appear to be annoyed by a new plague, in the shape of a little bird that nips the blossoms off the cherry trees. At this nefarious work they seem to be as industrious as if engaged in some beneficial employment.

DOMESTIC INEQUITY.—The Mail records the case of a lady in Whatcom county who, getting tired of the uneventful life of a housewife, suddenly left her quiet abode on that stream, and the companionship of her disconsolate husband, riding astraddle on a cayuse to the town of Whatcom, and thence leaving for parts unknown. The husband followed post haste, but, unfortunately, too late to overtake the recreant one. After giving vent to his grief and disappointment in a flood of tears, he took the boat for Seattle, and thence by the Panama for San Francisco, whence they lately came, in the hope to find her there. It is surmised, however, that she has adroitly dodged him, and will put in a re-appearance shortly somewhere on the Sound.

NEW CANNERIES.—Messrs. Sherwood, Farwell and party are making a thorough investigation of the most available salmon fishing stations hereabouts preparatory to their contemplated extensive operations in that line the coming season. Our people wish them all possible success. There are millions in the salmon business on Puget Sound, and we hope these men will realize abundantly on their enterprise.

EAST SIDE ITEMS.—Business is reported brisk in Colfax and Waitsburg. Wheat is at fifty cents. All the vacant land within four miles of Waitsburg is taken. A great many new buildings are going up in Colfax. The Waitsburg school has two teachers and 90 pupils. Says a writer in the Gazette: "Lumber scarce in town; not enough to make a batten door. Some one start a lumber yard here; it will pay."

NORTH PACIFIC IRON WORKS.—At this foundry they have a lot of castings about completed for the Puget Mill Co.'s furnaces. There are fronts for six boilers and some other castings weighing about four tons, the mill company saying, when giving the order, that they would send a steamer for it. It is supposed these castings are for the Utsalady mill.

STEAM DRUM AND PIPE.—The large steam drum for the Port Blakely Mill Company, made in this city, is completed. The same company will have made here this week about 140 feet of 8-inch steam pipe from boiler iron.

VESSEL MISSING.—The Astorian reports that the Edward James, which left that port for Honolulu on January 12th, had not yet arrived on the departure of the Mattie Maclean, which made her then 43 days out.

SOLIDIFYING.—Surber's pile-driver is at work along the long trestle of the S. & W. W. railroad, up the bay, driving side piles for braces and otherwise strengthening and securing the work.
