

POLICE EXPECT MORE SHAKEUPS IN NEAR FUTURE

Higher-Ups Silent on Last Week's Upeaval, Which Only Started Things.

HIERARCHY MENACED No Let Up Looked For Until Tammany Feels Sure of Balots for Smith.

No explanation was given at Police Headquarters yesterday regarding the shakeup of captains and inspectors Thursday night, which is said to have been ordered by Mayor Hylan because of friction between the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association and certain officials at headquarters which might have caused Gov. Smith to lose the police vote.

While the officials were silent, persons high in police circles admitted the feeling against the "hierarchy at headquarters" had been high for many months and that a shakeup had been expected for some time. Rumor has it that other heads are bound to fly before the difficulties are smoothed out entirely.

Delegates of the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association maintained silence in regard to the reported meeting with Charles F. Murphy, the boss of Tammany Hall. Policeman Joseph Moran, president of the association, could not be reached, and Joseph J. O'Reilly, formerly publisher of the Chief and now social secretary of the association, was not at his home.

Mr. O'Reilly sold his holdings in the civil service publication about a year ago so he might devote all his time to the police and firemen's associations of which he is jointly secretary.

BROOKLYN BAR FROWNS ON JUDICIARY POLITICS

Lawyers Want Candidates to Act With Propriety.

Members of the Brooklyn Bar Association received today the message of yesterday notice of a special meeting called by the president, Robert H. Wilson, for October 6, for the purpose of discussing a resolution offered by a number of the members of the organization regarding the conduct of candidates for the position of Supreme Court Justice.

The proposed resolution provides for the appointment of a committee of four members, with the president a member ex officio, to confer with the Presiding Justice of the Appellate Division, Almon E. Jencks, to the end that all of the candidates for the office of Justice of the Supreme Court shall become pledged to personally refrain from active and public campaigning or conduct unbecoming aspirants for high judicial office.

The resolution charges that "in the preliminary campaign of this year and in the primary and election campaigns for several years past certain aspirants for this high office have indulged in campaigning and in campaign methods and in conduct unbecoming a candidate for the office of Justice of the Supreme Court of this State."

"The Brooklyn Bar Association," continues the resolution, "is anxious to maintain the high traditions of the Supreme Court in this district and seeks to keep it elevated above the plane to which it must necessarily fall if ward politics be indulged in by candidates for said court."

RIVER PROJECT URGED. Move Under Way to Improve the St. Lawrence.

Engineers throughout the country are taking an active interest in the project to establish a waterway from the heart of North America direct to the continent of Europe by improving the St. Lawrence River to form a deep water outlet for vessels from the Great Lakes. By many the accomplishment of this undertaking is looked upon as the solution of the nation's power and transportation problem.

Hearings on the proposal will be held before the International Joint Commission in New York October 19, 20 and 21. The commission is composed of representatives of the United States and the Canadian Governments. Evidence is to be taken at these hearings and hearings to be held at Detroit, Chicago, Minneapolis, Cleveland, Albany, Boston and several Canadian cities during October. It is expected to have an important bearing upon the report the commission is preparing as to the desirability of joint action by the two Governments. The West is said to be in favor of the plan, but opposition has been manifested in the East.

WIFE HAS HUSBAND HELD INCOMPETENT

Guardians Named for Estate of Robert E. Danvers.

Supreme Court Justice Finch appointed Mrs. Mary E. Danvers and Henry W. Goddard yesterday as committee of her husband, Robert E. Danvers, an incompetent. He is 82 years old and a patient in the "Interpines" sanitarium at Goshen, N. Y.

The committee was appointed upon application of Mrs. Danvers, who declared that her husband was unable to care for his $40,000 personal estate. She said that she had noticed he has acted queerly after they had been happily married thirty-five years. Her brother-in-law, William Danvers, objected to the appointment of the committee, asserting that his brother was able to look after himself and his property, but the Court overruled the objections.

Prior to commitment to the sanitarium Mr. Danvers lived at the Hotel St. Albans with his wife.

TENAFLY CHIMES GIFT TO CHURCH

Romantic Widow of John S. Lyle Makes Offer.

The Swiss chimes in the tower which Mrs. Julia Gertrude Samuels, former wife of John S. Lyle, partner of Lord & Taylor, installed in his memory in 1912 at her Tenafly estate at a cost of chimes and tower of $20,000, are again the subject of comment in the cliff communities across the river. It was announced that Mrs. Samuels, who is now in England, has made an outright gift of the chimes to St. Cecilia's Roman Catholic Church at Englewood, two miles removed from the estate.

The absence of Mrs. Samuels does not affect the bona fide nature of the gift, the announcement, it was understood, having emanated from the church. The whole question—upon the answer to which several communities are waiting watchfully—is whether the church will accept. There is no fault with the chimes, which are geared to play thirty or forty hymns and a few old Scotch ballads—the trouble is with the striking apparatus.

Originally the chimes were set to go off every quarter hour, and between these periods a chime expert kept the bells ringing out anthem and choruses. The good residents of Tenafly put up with it two months, and then took a complaint to the courts. The chimes were ordered to sound but once an hour. Mrs. Samuels—then Mrs. Lyle—thereupon conceded the point and had the striking arrangement unrecruited for the hours after 7 P. M. But the neighbors several months later went to court again, and the chimes became quiescent.

It was reported that Mrs. Samuels subsequently offered the chimes to Mount Carmel Roman Catholic Church at Tenafly, but that the offer was refused.

BIRD HOUSES FOR PARKS. Girl Scouts Protect Feathered Friends Against Shortage.

A number of bird houses made by Girl Scouts, designed to relieve any housing shortage from which the feathered friends of the city's parks may be suffering, were presented yesterday to the Park Department at a ceremony in the sheep meadow at Central Park.

Troop 26 of the Girl Scouts marched to the park for the presentation. The bird houses were rather luxurious, with spacious perches and water troughs, and one was thatched in Queen Anne style. Emanuel Schwartz received the bird houses on behalf of the department and said he was sure they would be appreciated.

SLAVIN, INJURED, WILL SUE M'GRAW

Actor Denies Offer of Settlement Over Trumble After Lambs Club Frauds.

VICTIM GETTING BETTER Will Visit District Attorney This Week to Accuse Manager of Giants.

Speculation as to what John C. Slavin's version would be of the manner in which he came to collapse with a fractured skull in front of the home of John J. McGraw, manager and part owner of the New York Giants, was set at rest last night by a statement from the actor's attorney that McGraw is to be charged with responsibility for his client's injuries.

Nathan Burkan of 1451 Broadway, with whom Slavin has talked over the McGraw-Lambs Club incident since his recovery of consciousness, informed the New York Herald in response to a question regarding the status of the case that Slavin probably would be well enough to visit District Attorney Swann either to-morrow or Tuesday.

When Mr. Burkan was asked if his client intended to hold the Giants' manager responsible, he answered, "Why, yes, certainly, we intend to hold him responsible."

The attention of the attorney was called to a report widely circulated in the theatrical district that Slavin already had sworn to a complaint accusing McGraw and asking $20,000 damages, and to another report that Slavin has been approached with an offer of settlement. He said that there was no truth in these reports. The settlement offer, according to the rumor, amounted to $1,500.

"No such papers have been drawn up," Mr. Burkan said, "and there is no suit. Mr. Slavin has been waiting until his condition should improve sufficiently to enable him to visit the District Attorney, and I think that he will be well enough to do so in two or three days."

At Slavin's home in Elmhurst, L. I., it was said the actor's condition showed considerable improvement, but that he still is weak and unable to stand excitement. Since he left St. Luke's Hospital a week ago Slavin has spent most of his time resting in his home, and on advice of his physician has refrained from entering into any discussion except with his attorney, regarding the manner in which he came by his injuries.

In addition to the fracture at the base of the skull, Slavin's injuries consisted of the loss of one natural and one false tooth, a gash on the tongue and contusions about the mouth, for all of which his companions appeared to be totally unable to render any explanation.
