Raises 21 Children, Corn and Potatoes; Gets Medal

JEBEC, Que., Aug. 24.-Hildebert Letourneau of St. Pierre, Montmagny county, has raised twenty-one children, also some fine potatoes and corn and wheat. His neighbors are right proud of him—because of his great and happy family—and the Government has taken notice of his fine crops and awarded him the 1922 prize for agricultural merit—the nedaille du merite agricole. Neighbors called on him to-day and said: "Carry on, Hildebert!"

the expectation of the Secretary of the Treasury to continue as heretofore the advances necessary to enable the financing of such approved purchases.

"The Secretary of the Treasury quite agrees with what he understands to be the views of the Chancellor of the Exchequer that advances shall be made to each allied Government for the commodities purchased in the United States by or for it and that no allied Government should be required to give its obligations for such purposes when merely serving as a conduit for the supply of the materials so purchased to another allied Government.

"Any other course would indeed be incompatable with what the Secretary of the Treasury deems a cardinal principle which should be followed in respect to such advances, namely, that the allied Government for the use of which the commodity is purchased must give its own obligation of any other allied Government cannot be accepted by the United States as an equivalent."

"It has been at all times the view of the United States Treasury that ques-tions regarding the indebtedness of the Government of the United Kiengdom of Great Britain and Ireland to the United States Government and the funding of such indebtedness had no relation either to questions arising concerning the war loans of the United States and of the United Kingdom to other governments or to the questions regarding the repara-tion payments of the central empires

"These views were expressed to the representatives of the British treasury constantly during the period when the United States Government was making loans to the Government of the United Kingdom and since that time in Washington, in Paris and in London."

PARIS SEES FAILURE OF BERLIN PARLEY

Fear was openly expressed in official says, unless the middle classes are al- quarters to-night that the negotiations ompromise. Mauclere, the representatives of the Reparations Commission, his previous refusal to hand over the mines in the Ruhr and the State forests as a guaranty for a State forests as a guaranty for a moratorium.

In view of this attitude the feeling here is that the Berlin conversations are doomed to failure, since Premier Poincare absolutely refuses to accept any of the German guaranties offered in lieu of the mines and the forests.

The only note of optimism comes from Sir John, who is reported still to be hopeful of finding an eleventh hour comful of finding an eleventh hour com-approved, Says Vatican.

There is uncertainty in political circles despite the growingly optimistic crop reports. Latest Soviet indications issued for public consumption are that there will be 9,000,000 tons of surplus wheat for export. The total crop is estimated at more than 45,000,000 tons. Allowing for food and seed this gives the above surplus for export, though the figures must be taken with a grain of salt especially in view of impartial estimates, including those of the American Relief Association's experts.

What probably is disturbing Moscow more than the crop estimates are reports from the same sources indicating a growing deflection of peasants from the Communist party. Whole electoral groups have left in a body with the apparent intention of cooperating with the more moderate democratic elements. The revolt is most marked in the central provinces and apparently is due to persecution of the Church and the growing determination of the moderates to fight the extremists with their votes.

Jasper, who had come also to see the sights of Paris, got to see some at closer range than he had expected, chief among them being the famous Conciergerie on the banks of the Seine, the gloomy prison in which Marie Antoinette passed her last days. Jasper was being held at this prison when Mr. Deyo interceded for him. Mr. Deyo who was traveling in Europe, received a telegram from George Fowler, head of the chain of Fowler department stores, instructing him to do everything possible to obtain the boy's release and to bring him back home with him.

Now Mr. Deyo has arranged for the boy's passage and has deposited several hundreds francs with the Embassy to insure Jasper's arrival at Cherbourg on the date named. Meanwhile an American woman who is a well known philanthropist has agreed to take care of the boy until the ship sails.

Budapest, Aug. 24.—The hotel employees have proclaimed a general strike following refusal of their demands for inclusion of a 10 per cent tip in all bills presented to guests. The guests, including a number of Americans, are being obliged to cook their own meals. One hundred Deputies, unable to find living quarters in the capital, called in a body to-day upon the President of the National Assembly to lay the problem before him. The latter decided to have a large building erected near the Parliament where the homeless Deputies will be lodged.

"The problem of soaring cannot be sold to be solved, but long steps have been made, as illustrated by Hentzen's flight on saturday, lasting two hours and ten seconds, during which he reached a height of approximately 650 feet. He remained close to the starting point, working back and forth in a rising current on the face of a hill for an hour and a half, then struck out across the country and landed more than six miles from where he ascended.

Building Developments in RICHMOND

The Least Congested Borough

HE political storm centering on the proposed rapid transit tunnels to Staten Island has awakened interest in Richmond Real Estate. The least congested of the five Boroughs of Greater New York-sprawled over an area of 57 square miles and containing only 116,-531 population—Richmond offers great possibilities for the future builder and home seeker. This season has witnessed extensive building operations in Richmond, both for business and residential purposes. One and two family houses predominate.

A digest of the opinions of Richmond Real Estate operators about present building operations and possible trends will be included in a leading article.
