Count in New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—A comparison of the returns from the eight districts thus far canvassed with the totals sent out on election day shows that the party which resulted in showing the largest plurality in the state has gained a slight edge over the others.

The changes that have taken effect upon the returns made up for the newspapers on election night showed the voters of the state had given their support to the popular ticket, even though the campaign was not a success.

The Sun will publish Saturday the following table of pluralities by counties in New York state:
