

HAMPTON, PHOEBUS AND OLD POINT.

BELIEVES IN THE CURE BY FAITH

Rev. Baker P. Lee, Formerly of Hampton, Embraces New Religious Creed in California.

ANNOINTED SEVERAL WITH OIL

He is the Son of the Late Judge Baker P. Lee, Who for Many Years Adorned the Old County Court Bench in Elizabeth City County.

Considerable interest has been aroused in Hampton over the news from Los Angeles, Cal., that Rev. Baker P. Lee, son of the late Judge Baker P. Lee, for many years a distinguished jurist, writer and attorney in Hampton, has embraced the "healing by prayer" religion. The Los Angeles Examiner contains a long account of the meeting recently held by Mr. Lee, in which the minister, who is rector of a big Episcopal church in that city, annointed several persons with oil and fervently proclaimed his firm belief in "divine healing."

Mr. Lee is accounted one of the leading Episcopal ministers in California and his friends here are numbered by the hundreds.

The account of the meeting given by the Examiner is as follows: After a fervid exposition of healing by prayer, Rev. Baker P. Lee, at that church last night, reverted to the Apostolic rite practiced for the last six centuries in the Christian church by anointing with oil and laying his hands on the heads of the women and one man who came forward to be cured of their ailments through faith.

Intense interest was shown by the congregation when the rector made declarations and when, after he had if there were any among the members who wished to be annointed, several persons found their way to the altar.

Profound Interest Shown. A death-like silence prevailed while Mr. Lee, imprinted with oil the sign of the cross upon their foreheads one by one, and placed his hands upon their heads with a short prayer asking God that they be freed from physical ills from which they suffered. Dr. Lee repeated the command of James:

"Is there any sick among you? Let him call for the elders of the church; let them pray over him, anointing him with oil in the name of the Lord; and the prayer of faith shall save him: if he has committed any sins, they shall be forgiven him."

Utters Appeal for Cure. Mrs. N. W. Middlecott, South Alameda street, was the first to kneel before the altar. Making the sign of the cross upon her forehead and then placing his hands upon her head. Dr. Lee said:

"Concentrate your mind upon the promise God made us in His name. According to the usage of this church, I anoint you with oil and I lay my hands upon your head and ask of God that you may be holy in body, mind and soul. We thank Thee, O God. Amen."

Tourist Receives Treatment. Next came H. C. Phisick, 233 North Flower street, a paralytic, who said of the affliction from which he was suffering, the minister, in performing the same rite as in the other cases, said:

"Take up thy bed and walk. We pray that he may rise and be well."

The man, who is a tourist, had by chance entered the church.

Mrs. Calvert L. McAdams, 1111 East Tenth street, and Mrs. M. S. Johnston, 2637 East Third street, were also of those who came forward. Several cures were related by a number of women who arose at the pastor's request to tell of their experience. Among these was Mrs. A. Moorhead, 727 South Hill street, who told how by prayer and autosuggestion she had been cured of a disease that has been pronounced incurable.

Mary Ills Curable. During the course of his remarks Dr. Lee said autosuggestion is not a panacea, but, with proper development of the subconscious mind, many of the ills of the human body may be cast out by prayer and suggestion.

In connection with the Emmanuel movement he said:

"I cannot see why anyone cannot believe in suggestion and the divine healing. We believe those who have been annointed will be healed. Today two cases were treated, one of them I might mention. A young lady who has suffered from rheumatism for twenty years was annointed. She felt much better and by Thanksgiving Day she is going to walk to church."

Righteous Physicians Helpful. "You ask, 'if you believe in divine healing why do you go to doctors?'"

We go to doctors because they have studied the anatomy and know more about it than we do and those of them who are God-fearing men will help us. It is the suggestive idea that makes us Christians. Use the same in your thoughts and you will be better in mind and body. Teach yourself to think of it each day. Think that God did not mean for you to be sick. Exercise your mind, breathe in God's pure air, sleep in a room where there is pure air, masticate your food. This is not a lecture on physiology, but use your mind and that will make you better."

Concluding the services Mr. Lee said: "Let us feel that this is relevant; that it is not the personal power of one man; that it is the power of God."

The Great Clothing Sale

At I. Kirsner's Clothing Store Will Continue Until Saturday, November 28th.

Owing to the many requests that have come to us from persons who want to secure some of the excellent bargains offered in our

Great Panic Sale

We have decided to continue the sale until November 28, instead of closing the sale today as we advertised. This is done for the purpose of accommodating many of our friends and patrons who do not receive their pay until later in the month. By this means we will be enabled to offer many more good bargains and the immense stock is yet so complete as to make it certain that the men and boys can be fitted out here.

It was our firm intention to end the sale today, but now that we have acquiesced in the demands made upon us, we want to make the sale even more attractive than ever.

A Word to Parents

This sale offers an exceptional opportunity to parents to fit their boys out in high-grade clothing as such remarkably low prices that no mother can afford to miss the chance of getting a suit for the boy.

Overcoats! Overcoats! Overcoats!

The cold snap means that you must have an overcoat and right here is where Kirsner can accommodate you and also do it by saving you at least 40 to 50 per cent. at the same time. The immense line of overcoats includes the heavy, the light and the famous rain and cravenette coats. The overcoats have been marked down to such low prices as to offer each man and boy on the peninsula the chance of getting an overcoat of the highest quality at the usual rate asked for the shoddy goods.

Well to Remember

That Kirsner personally guarantees every article sold by him and during this sale the old guarantee of satisfaction or money back holds good. Take the goods home, and if you are not satisfied, we'll refund the money you spent.

Do not wait until the last days of the sale, but come in at once and be among the patrons who get what they want at the prices they can afford to pay for it.

Ask your friends who have been here about the bargains we are giving during the sale. All goods marked in plain figures.

WHY WOMEN LOVE FINERY

In the November American Magazine Professor Thomas of Chicago University, writes on "The Psychology of Woman's Dress." Of woman's love of finery he says:

"As society advances there is a tendency in man to give up ornament and in woman to take on more of it. This is not because man is naturally less inclined to display, but because he has undergone a great reform in his habits, the greatest perhaps in the history of the world. Primitive man was pugnacious, unsocial, ostentatious, and lazy, but capable, crafty, and masterful—your true adventurer, but endowed with an inventive imagination and capable of splendid bursts of energy. This was the wild-oats period of the race, and its vestige are still seen in the gamster, the artist, the wild youth, and the dissipated husband."

"But when man exhausted the game which had been his principal pursuit and began to take up the settle manufacturing and agricultural interests which had been chiefly developed by woman, and to buy and sell, he brought with him more ingenuity than woman had ever developed, a freer movement, a greater power of organization, and at the same time less domestic responsibility and he gradually transferred some of his interests in the pursuit of game to the pursuit of business. But business lies, so to speak, outside the region of appearance. It is primarily a matter of judgment, efficiency, and energy, and if a man has efficiency and energy and abundance he is attractive enough without ornament. No one ever completely loses an interest in bright objects, but business men take advantage of this fact to display their goods, not their persons. The color sense and the sexual interest are recognized in the display, wrapping, and advertising of wares. The glaring bill-board and the beautiful lady on the cigar box saturate the goods with color and sex, and we buy them on that basis. But a pretentiously groomed wife are also an advertisement; they are signs of business success, and nothing succeeds like success."

"We must not, of course, imagine that man set deliberately about abandoning ornament. Specialized occupations became more effective means of getting his results than personal display, and he gradually went over into them. Neither is his ornamental nature fundamentally altered. He dips into ornament in addition, before he has regularly become harnesses to an occupation, and he keeps up his interest in it the specimen vicariously."
