"Lid of Hell" Is Fastened Down More Firmly Than It Was During Low's Administration.

McCLELLAN WILL KEEP IT SO.

Mayor Announces That Police Commissioner McAdoo Has His Full Support in War on Gambling Element.

MURPHY HOLDS UP HIS HANDS.

Tammany Chieftain Braves Resentment of Rowdy Element and Dissension in Wigwam to Give Good Government.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

New York, March 26 .- Mayor George B. McClellan served notice upon the gambling element generally and the opponents of Charles F. Murphy particularly last night that "the lid" is riveted down in New York and that he intends to see that it is kept down.

No one can doubt that the lid is on, and that the lid will stay on."

In his most emphatic manner, Mayor McClellan made this declaration at the dinner of the Lotos Club, at which he was the principal guest. In other words cartying the same meaning he repeated the statement several times curing his address and evoked for himself enthusiastic applause.

Since Dr. Parkhurst coined the now-famous phrase, by saying just after the elections last November that "the lid of hell will be taken off off January 1," the date when Mayor McClellan took up the reins of government at the City Hall, everything in Gotham has been "the lid." Dr. Parkhurst, like a great many other reformers, has been agreeably surprised by the fact that "the lid" is fastened down, even more firmly than during the administration of Mayor Low.

This has caused much bitter feeling among a number of the Tammany leaders, who expected that New York would be a "wide-open" town after the success of Tammany. It is this sentiment that the Mayor and Charles F. Murphy are now

PROBLEM FOR TAMMANY. Fixed in their determination to carry out antielection pledges, both Mayor McClellan and Murphy are facing the most serious and complex situation that has confronted a Tammany Mayor and a Tammany Hall leader in many a year. In their policy of keeping the city from again becoming wide open they are being as-ganisation by fifteen Tammany district to tear off the "lid" and throw it away. Both Mayor McClellan and Mr. Murphy are standing solidly behind Police Commissioner McAdoo in his fight to suppress sailed from within and without their or-the poolrooms and gambling-houses that have been opening up. Before Commissioner McAdoo took the appointment as head of the Police Department he had a thorough understanding with the Mayor and the Tammany leader, and the rule he now is enforcing was then determined upon. It will be carried cut if it means that high officials of the Police Department are to be dismissed and that certain district leaders of Tammany Hall are brought into open revolt.

"Commissioner McAdoo is perfectly able to cope with the situation as it exists," said Mayor McClellan, when questioned on the situation. "He has my utmost confidence and approval in the course he is fol lowing, and can count on my hearty support. The pleages which I made to the people in the last campaign were made to keep, and I am keeping them."

MEETING IN THE WIGWAM, The majority of Tammany leaders are lined up loyally with Mayor McClellan and Mr. Murphy in this crisis, even though some of them would like to see a little more moderation exercised toward the "sporting" element. But the mutterings of the minority have become louder and louder as the days pass, until this week, with the opening of the racing season in the East at Bennings, the open deflance seems near at hand.

Head and front among the disaffected leaders is Alderman Timothy P. Sullivan of the Sixth District, and the vice chairman of the board. He has been gathering about him leaders whose interests have been affected in one way or another until he has a formidable number of followers. Whether the Sullivan contingent will dare to make a fight against the leadership of Mr. Murphy is yet problematical.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful It Is in Preserving Beatth and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the buman system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better: it is not a drug at sall, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

"Tharcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels: it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poisson of catarth.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Absorbent Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal and other harmless antisepties in tablet form, or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much-improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is that no porsible harm can result from their continued use, but, on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician, in speaking of the benefits of chercoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Absorbent Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but It cents a box at drug stores, and, although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Absorbent Lozenges than in any

YATES BETRAYED BY HIS FRIENDS.

Politicians Who Accepted Office at His Hands Go Back on Him at Critical Hour.

CHANCES NOW SEEM GONE.

If the Governor Carries Every County Yet to Instruct He Will Not Procure the Nomination.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL Springfield, Ill., March 25.-The gallant fight of Governor Yates for a renomination is practically over. Less than a score of counties in Illinois have not held their County Conventions, and enough is known to make it certain that the Governor cannot be renominated. This follows long-established precedent in the State. Shelby M. Cullom is the only Governor who was elected his own successor. Governor Fifer was renominated to succeed himself, but was defeated at the polls, Governor Yates not only has had to battle with an alert and resourceful field, but also against President Roosevelt, the two United States Senators and the entire congressional delegation from Illinois, Nor was this the worst handlcap. He was surrounded by false friends, men in every county who have been recipients of his bounty in the way of places, who have dodged primaries and conventions. There is hardly a county in the State where the Governor has not lost the active assistance of those he had a right to expect to carry his burden for him. Even now there are traitors who are fawning at his heels and advising him what to do.

No candidate for office in Illinois ever made a canvass under such discouraging circumstances as Governor Yates. He has accomplished wonders. On the first bal-lot in the State Convention he will have something like 300 or 250 votes, and it may go close to 400 if he makes any headway in Cook County. This is not expected, however.

in Cook County. This is not expected, however.

The friends of Yates are indignant at the treatment he has received from President Roosevelt. They also denounce Senator Hopkins.

"Richard Yates," asserted an appointee of the Governor this forenoon, "was the first man of prominence or influence to declare for the nomination of Roosevelt for President. He came out for him before the death of McKinley. When Cullom and other Illinois politicians were firting with Hanna and endeavoring to coax him to become a candidate, Governor Yates stood for Roosevelt. The President is the last man in Washington who should have deserted Governor Yates. I except, of course, the statesman from Aurora, Cullom's colleague."

TRADING.

TRADING. The only thing Governor Yates can hope to accomplish in the convention is to make the best trade he can with one of his rivals in the interest of his appointees. Doubtless he would personally prefer to nominate the most objectionable man to the Cullom-Cannon syndicate. This is not nominate the most objectionable man to the Culiom-Cannon syndicate. This is not an easy matter.

With the Governor eliminated, the strongest candidates are Lowden and Hamlin. Either would please Culiom, although it is believed Cannon's preference leans to Hamlin. The Governor and Attorney General have not been in accord since the State Convention of 1900. Within a month after the inauguration of the State officers friction opening developed between the two. It reached an acute singe when, on the advice of the Attorney General, Auditor McCullough refused to issue warrants for the pay of several State Board attorneys. The Attorney General held that he was the law officer of the State and would assume the responsibility of the law business for all the State boards and commissions. This lopped off a lot of the Governor's patronage. Then there was more friction over the collection of the $1,000,000 claim from the Federal Government, and also over the suit for refunding of money collected by the Insurance Department from insurance companies.

YATES DENEEN COMBINE. There is not much chance of the Yates votes going to Hamlin with the consent of Yates. There is about the same chance of Lowden receiving the influence of the Governor. The battle has been fierest between these two this spring, because they have been the leading candidates.

An alliance between Yates and Deneen is most natural if it were not for one thing. Deneen represents more than any other candidate the powerful Chicago newspapers, which are responsible for all of the anti-Yates sentiment in the State. These papers are the cause of most of Yates's woes in the State.

Deneen's strength is almost entirely in Cook County, and will be composed of delegates particularly hostile to the Governor. In no case could Deneen deliver delegates to Yates. But Yates could, if he would, hand Deneen a tidy bunch from the county, But it is extremely doubtful if he would do it or if enough could be delivered to nominate Deneen, because the second choice of most of the Yates delegates is unquestionably Lowden.

The checkers may be moved and combined in every possible way, but in the end the conclusion must be reached that if a Chicago man is to win his name is Lowden, and if a country man, it is Hamlin. of Yates. There is about the same chanc

The fight in this county was brought on by the action of the County Central Committee, which was manipulated by Goorge B. Gillespie, Assistant Attorney General, and also chairman of the committee.

At the meeting of the committee there was a split, one faction going ahead and naming delegates to the State Convention who were opposed to Governor Yates. The remainder of the committee, backed up by the voters, called a mass convention for Monday to name a contesting delegation to the State Convention.

L. Chapman carried the county for Congress and W. C. Simpson for the Legislature. The fight over local candidates was equally warm.

Moran has had the congressional bee for many years, and this is not the first time he has been a candidate, although he has never proceeded any further than the nominating convention. Advancement of Retired Officer May Be by Special Legislation. REPUBLIC SPECIAL Washington, March 26.-Raids on army promotion are being made thick and fast in the Capitol. The latest effort to obtain advancement for an officer, through special legislation, appears in a bill introduced by Senator Fairbanks of Indiana. It provides for the selection of one from such officers on the retired list of the army as shall have served forty-one years or more on the Medical Corps, nine years of which shall have been as Surgeon General, and for his appointment by the President as a Major General, by and with the consent of the Senate.

holds that it is "impracticable and undestrable."

The resignation of former Governor Stanley of Kansas, a member of the commission, has been received at the department and that of Clitton R. Breckenridge of Arkansas is expected. But, according to the department officials, no hint has been received by them that T. B. Needles proposes to retire, nor do they think that he will do see.

Members of the Indian committees in Congress prefer that the Dawes Commission be eliminated, since they consider it both unwieldy and of questionable efficiency. Because it was so severely scored by the Bonaparte report, they think that it would be better to close up the affairs of the Five Nations under the management of one well-qualified man, who should be paid more than the single salaries now attaching to a commissionership.

None of the vacancies will be filled and the same object may be accomplished without the formal abolition of the commission. A report from Indian Territory that the resignations of all the Commissioners would be forthcoming and that J. George Wright would be appointed to take charge is discredited in Washington. Should the "one man" proposal prevail, it may be stated with confidence that Tams Bixby will receive the position.
