

WIRES WIND AROUND DEBS.

IMPORTANT TESTIMONY AGAINST THE STRIKE LEADER.

One Railroad Man Testified as Soon as Protection Was Given There Was No Trouble in Running Trains—Strikers Did Not Keep Their Stipulations.

Chicago, Sept. 11.—The trial of the American Railway union contempt cases was resumed this morning before Judge Woods in the United States court. General Superintendent Dunlap of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific road, testified as to interruption of traffic on his road and delaying of mail trains. The court ruled that the witness could testify only as to what he actually saw and could not use information prepared in typewritten form which was received from employees under him. He heard members of mobs on different occasions jeer at the government and curse the Woods-Grosscup injunction in unmeasured terms. He also was a witness to the stopping of trains and heard engineers threatened by rioters.

"Do you think there would have been trouble in moving trains if there had been no threats of violence?" asked Mr. Walker.

"I do not. Just as soon as we got protection we found no trouble in filling the places of strikers and in operating our trains."

Mr. Dunlap said that in the twenty-six years experience he had never seen a strike unaccompanied by violence. On cross-examination Mr. Gregory tried to elicit information in regard to the methods of the managers' association. Counsel for the government objected on the ground of irrelevance upon which Mr. Gregory made a long speech in which he pointed that he would attempt to prove the existence of a combination to reduce wages.

General Superintendent Busler of the Burlington road testified that many the trains on the road had been detained strikers. J. N. Seal, general superintendent of the Mobile and Ohio, testified that he had petitioned Debs for a release of the boycotted trains. Debs testified that he had ordered Dwyer to release embargo. See him."

The strikers did not keep their stipulations. General Yardmaster Clarke of the B. and O. testified to several scenes of violence.

The government introduced several messengers to prove that telegrams were delivered at A.R.U. headquarters. All telegrams were addressed "E. V. Debs."

James Coniffe testified that Debs received these telegrams.

A DEMOCRATIC EXCUSE.

Chairman Hughes Tries to Explain the Cause of the Defeat.

Lewiston, Me., Sept. 11.—The Journal has received returns from 305 towns which give Cleaves, rep., 59,734; Johnson, dem., 25,835; Bateman, pop., 3,613; Hersy, prohib., 1,825. Republican plurality 33,899.

In 1892 the same towns voted as follows: Cleaves 58,503; Johnson 46,821; Bateman 2,303; Hussey, pop., 3,180. Republican plurality 11,682.

The majority of Dingeeley over McGillicuddy for congress will reach about 9,000 against 4,016 two years ago.

Bath, Me., Sept. 11.—The Times this evening has an interview with Chairman Hughes of the democratic state committee, who says:

"The defeat was largely due to the hard times, which the people are led to attribute to the democratic administration and to a misunderstanding of the tariff bill, the provisions of which they did not know."

JAPAN TREATS WITH COREA.

To Strengthen and Perpetuate Corea's Independence.

Washington, Sept. 11.—A telegram was received at the Japanese legation this morning to the effect that an important treaty had been negotiated between Corea and Japan which authoritatively defines the relations of the two countries toward each other and toward China.

The object of the treaty is stated in the preamble to be the mutual desire on the part of the emperor of Japan and the king of Corea to definitely fix and determine the attitude of each country toward the other with a view of clearly elucidating the existing relations between Japan and China which have been created by the request made by the Korean government of the Japanese government to compel the Chinese to evacuate Corea.

To secure concerted action of the more effective accomplishment of this object this treaty of alliance between the two countries was signed at Seoul on the 26th of August by Mr. Otori, the envoy of Japan, and the Korean minister of foreign affairs.

The treaty consists of three articles: Article I defines the object of the alliance to be the strengthening and perpetuation of the independence of Corea as an autonomous state and the promotion of mutual interests of Corea and Japan by compelling the Chinese forces to withdraw from Corea and by obliging China to abandon her claim of the right to dominate the affairs of Corea.

Article II binds the Japanese government to carry on warfare operations against China both offensive and defensive by the article to afford the Japanese forces every possible facility in their movements and furnish them with supplies of provisions at a fair remuneration, so far as such supplies may be needed.

By article III it is provided that the treaty shall terminate as soon as a treaty of peace shall have been concluded by Japan with China.

IN MEMORIAM.

Resolutions in Memory of the Late N. F. Hall.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 11, 1894.

At a special meeting of the directors of the Merchants' National bank, held this day, the board directed the following memorandum to be entered upon its records:

Nathan F. Hall died September 10, 1894. He was one of the original incorporators of the Merchants' bank, at its organization in 1851, and has been a director from that time continuously to his death, surviving all the incorporators, and all the original officers of the bank.

He was a man of the strictest honor and integrity, and of a most genial and winning temper. He was always faithful in the discharge of his duties as a director, and was a wise and intelligent adviser in the affairs of the bank. To us, his associates, his memory will ever be pleasing and grateful.

He was a man justly and highly esteemed and honored by this community, and throughout his long life he had earned and won the sympathy and affection of everybody who knew him.

We place this tribute to his memory on our records, and direct that a copy thereof be sent to the family of the deceased, and be published in the daily papers.

Attest: H. C. WARRIN, Clerk.

ASSAULTED BY HER PASTOR.

Mrs. Morrison Brings a Suit Against the Rev. John Hood.

Boston, Sept. 11.—A civil suit for damages has been brought by Mrs. Philip Morrison, wife of the sexton of the First Unitarian church, corner of Berkeley and Chandler streets, against Rev. John Hood, pastor of the church.

The case is assigned for Saturday in the municipal court. Mrs. Morrison claims that Mr. Hood assaulted her last Saturday evening by striking her in the face with his fist.

The assault is an incident in an era of hard feeling that has prevailed for six months or more between the two factions in the church, one anxious to get rid of the pastor and the other equally determined to retain him. Mr. Hood admits striking the woman, but claims he was provoked by her tongue and by her clinging to him in an effort to prevent his progress through the church.

THE BOARD OF EDUCATION.

IMPORTANT SPECIAL SESSION HELD LAST EVENING.

Report of President Avis—Recommendations of the Board of Education in the District—Report of Superintendent Urtis Accepted.

A special meeting of the board of education was held last evening, all members being present.

It was voted to open a new room in the Quinipiac school. The salary of Whitehead of Bristol, R. L., who recently appointed instructor in work in the Boardman manual training school at a salary of $1,100, was increased to $1,200. The committee on special instruction had understood that he would accept $1,100, but he refused it. It was voted to buy three pianos, one for the manual training school, one for the Skinner kindergarten, and one for the Day kindergarten.

The amended report of the finance committee was accepted.

The report of President Avis in behalf of the board of education to the New Haven city school district was adopted. Following are some extracts from it:

At the close of this year the board of education is pleased to report the schools in their usual prosperous condition. The rapid growth of the district, however, has taxed the schools to their utmost and in several sub-districts it has been necessary to rent rooms outside for the relief of the great pressure in some of the buildings.

In speaking of the condition of the high school at the present time the report says: When the present high school building was erected it was intended to accommodate about 400 pupils. To-day there are in the school about 750. The loss and gain during the year usually balance, so that this will be about the number during the year. It will be found by reference to the course of study prepared for this year that 554 recitations are required each week in the high school, and these should all be given if the school is expected to do its best. But they cannot all be given in the present building. It will be necessary to drop out seventy-two recitations each week, or 2,880 for the year, or rent rooms and hire teachers to do the work outside, which the board has already done to take care of the commercial class for the coming year. The situation grows worse every year, and next September, taking this year's figures as a basis, the building will not seat the pupils.

Year by year the room that was originally intended for other uses and cannot well be spared has been taken and partitioned off for the accommodation of classes and to increase the seating capacity of the building. The assembly room, hall, principal's office, everything, in fact, that could be used, has been laid under contribution until there is nothing left to draw upon for the accommodation of classes and to increase the seating capacity of the building.

If this school, the culmination of the New Haven system, the link that joins the system to the normal school and colleges, or if its pupils do not wish to go further, has within itself the means for a culture broad and liberal enough to fit them for almost any walk in life, it is to be maintained, it should be kept at its best and should not be allowed for want of proper support to destroy the symmetry of an educational system second to none in New England.

The attention of the district is respectfully invited to this vital matter.

The high school building, as was reported at a previous meeting, was condemned by the fire marshal for not being provided with the necessary escape in case of fire, and the district appropriated the necessary amount to make such changes as were necessary. This work has been done and the building is now in a satisfactory condition.

Two years ago the district voted to authorize the issue of bonds to the amount of $170,000 for the purchase of a site and for the preparation of plans and the erection of a new high school. This at that time was supposed to be the balance of the bonds authorized by the legislature ($500,000) unappropriated. It was afterward discovered, however, that by previous votes of the district $39,000 of that amount had been at different times appropriated for other purposes, leaving a balance of $131,000 for the high school. A site was secured in York square at a cost of $40,300, leaving for the preparation of the plans and the building $90,700.

In accordance with the vote passed at the last regular meeting of the district the board has caused plans to be prepared for the new high school and submits them for your approval. The proposed building will meet the requirements for many years to come, if erected.

The following indebtedness, which appears large, will be greatly reduced as soon as the board begins to receive taxes due on the list of 1893, which, by operation of the new law, cannot be collected until after November 1 of the present year.

The problem of providing finances for the successful operations of the schools is growing to be a serious and difficult one, and the board respectfully invites the attention of the district to a few facts in relation to the growth of the district in population, and its apparent growth in rateable wealth as shown by the grand list.

In 1880 the taxable property of the district was assessed at $46,827,807. There had been a down trend from the year 1876, when the grand list was more than $68,000,000. In 1879 it touched bottom, and in 1880 it began to rise. From 1880 to 1894, a period of fourteen years, the grand list has increased $7,941,819, or 17.3 per cent.

In 1880 the population of the district was a little over 60,000. In 1894 it is over 90,000, an increase of 50 per cent. Thus, while the population has increased 50 per cent, the grand list has increased only a little over 17 per cent. It is fairly reasonable to suppose that the wealth of the city under ordinary conditions would increase in proportion to its population.

If this be true the grand list of the district property assessed at two-thirds of its value should be nearly $70,000,000, or at its full value would give the district a grand list of $105,000,000 from which to raise funds for the maintenance of the schools.

The board therefore suggests that the district instruct it to favor such legislation as may be necessary to secure a re-assessment of the rateable property of the city school district of New Haven at the next meeting of the legislature.

The board does not feel justified in recommending a tax of less than 4 1/2 mills for the coming year. Less than that would not meet the ordinary expenses of the year.

The fourth annual report of Superintendent Curtis on the state of the school was adopted.

Three thousand copies of the report will be printed for public distribution. The recommendations of the board to be acted on at the annual district meeting will be found under the call for the meeting in another column.

Waterbury, Sept. 11.—James Gahan, aged seventy-five, and residing at 77 Bishop street, dropped dead on North Main street at 10 o'clock to-night while engaged in conversation with a friend. Heart failure was the cause of death.

REPUBLICAN DELEGATIONS.

STATE AND CONGRESSIONAL CHOSEN AT TOWN CONVENTIONS.

Congressional Delegates Solid for ex-Postmaster Sperry—Farnsworth, Ullman, Johnson and Preston Delegates to State Convention.

The republican conventions to elect delegates to the state and congressional conventions were held at the Young Men's Republican club house last evening and were most harmonious throughout. The congressional delegates selected are for ex-Postmaster N. D. Sperry for congress. Both conventions were as harmonious as anyone could desire, and the business of the evening went through with a rush.

The congressional convention was called to order at 8:40 by James H. MacDonald, chairman of the republican town committee, and William P. Niles of the Fourteenth ward was elected chairman and Fred A. Betts secretary.

After the roll had been called, showing that 76 out of the 80 delegates were present, Theodore H. MacDonald and Harry Brown were appointed tellers and nominations for first delegate to the congressional convention were called for.

Quick as a flash William H. Ely, James H. MacDonald, Joseph P. Peaker, William A. Schappa, John W. Lowe and Charles M. Stone were placed in nomination. An informal ballot was then taken, resulting in Ely receiving 37 votes, MacDonald 4, Peaker 6, Lowe 14, Stone 19. Seventy-two votes were cast, making thirty-seven necessary to a choice. As Mr. Ely received 37 votes it was voted to make the ballot formal and the choice of Mr. Ely unanimous.

For second delegate James H. MacDonald, John W. Lowe, Charles M. Stone and Joseph P. Peaker were placed in nomination. Two ballots were necessary to secure the election of the second delegate to the convention. The first ballot showed that fifty-seven votes had been cast, of which thirty-eight were necessary to a choice. On this ballot MacDonald received 37 votes, Lowe 20, Stone 13, Peaker 4 and blank 1. On the second ballot MacDonald received 42 votes, Lowe 19, Stone 13 and Peaker 4. Mr. MacDonald's election was thereupon made unanimous.

For third delegate there were three candidates in the field, Joseph P. Peaker, John W. Lowe and Charles M. Stone. Councilman Peaker was chosen in the first and only ballot, receiving 46 votes out of a total of 50 cast. Lowe received 25 votes and Stone 9.

William A. Schappa of the Sixth ward was elected fourth delegate without opposition. He was placed in nomination by Samuel MacLaughlin and the nomination was seconded by Henry S. Hamilton, Isaac Ullman and a number of others. As no one was placed in nomination against Mr. Schappa the secretary was instructed to cast the ballot of the convention for him and he was unanimously chosen fourth delegate. The congressional convention then adjourned.

The four delegates chosen to the congressional convention are solid for N. D. Sperry for congress from the Second district and will vote for him first, last and all the time.

Immediately after the adjournment of the congressional convention the delegates to the state convention were called to order at 8:30 o'clock by Town Chairman MacDonald. Of the eighty delegates, seventy-eight were present. Reuben H. Brown was unanimously chosen chairman and Theodore H. MacDonald secretary. The convention was held in perfect harmony and there was absolutely no friction, although Lucius B. Hinman persistently pushed forward the name of Dr. Waldo H. Minor for one of the four delegates.

As soon as nominations for first delegate were called for Frederick B. Farnsworth, president of the Young Men's Republican club, was placed in nomination by Herbert E. Benton of the state central committee. A like service was performed for Dr. Waldo H. Minor by L. B. Hinman. In the vernacular of the street, however, Minor was "not in it," the ballot resulting in Farnsworth receiving 69 votes, Minor 1 and one blank.

Isaac M. Ullman of the Sixth ward was chosen second delegate, receiving 49 votes, to 7 for W. H. Minor, 20 for George E. Albee and 1 for Henry C. Newton. Mr. Ullman was placed in nomination by Frederick B. Farnsworth.

The convention chose Commissioner Lyman H. Johnson as its third delegate. The name of Dr. Waldo H. Minor was again sprung upon the convention by his undaunted champion, L. B. Hinman. Commissioner Johnson was nominated by James A. Howarth, and Major Albee and Henry G. Newton from the floor. The ballot resulted: Whole number of votes cast, 74; necessary to a choice, 38; Johnson 54, Minor 11, Albee 8, Newton 1.

For fourth delegate Alderman William E. Morgan nominated William H. Preston of the Eleventh ward. L. B. Hinman was again on his feet and nominated Dr. W. H. Minor. All of Mr. Hinman's efforts, however, were futile, and Mr. Preston was elected, receiving 62 votes to 12 for Minor and 1 for Albee.

After the election of the four delegates had been made unanimous the convention adjourned sine die.

WILL CELEBRATE THEIR 11TH.

Members of Camps 1 and 8 are cordially invited to be present with their ladies.

BIG DAY FOR FIRE LADDIES.

WEST HAVEN FIREMEN ENTER TAIN MANY VISITORS.

A Large Throng at Savin Rock—Third Annual Field Day—Fine Old Time—Parade in This City—The Contest for Prizes—Proud of Sheriff Tomlinson.

The third annual field day of the West Haven Hook and Ladder company, No. 2 was held yesterday. As early as 9 o'clock the out of town companies began to arrive, and were met at the depot by a committee, who escorted them to the green, where the parade was formed at 10:30, with right resting on Temple street.

The parade moved in the following order: Platoon of Police.

Landrigans' Band, 23 pieces.

West Haven Hook and Ladder company, 23 men.

Board of Burgesses and Selectmen in carriages.

Second Regiment Band, 25 pieces.

Hubbard Hose, No. 2, of Middletown, 31 men.

Westville Hose, Hook and Ladder company, 11 men.

St. Mary's T. A. B. Drum Corps of Branford, 14 men.

J. J. Dayton Hook and Ladder company of Fair Haven, 36 men.

Drum Corps, 11 men.

R. M. Bassett Hose company of Derby, 46 men.

Milford Band of Milford, 21 pieces.

Arctic Hose company of Milford, 44 men.

The line of march was as follows: Temple street on to Elm, thence to George street, down George to State, to Elm, to Church street, where it was reviewed by Mayor Sargent and other city and town officials in front of the city hall, thence to Chapel street, to Temple street, on the green, where the parade was dismissed.

The Hubbard Hose company of Middletown attracted much attention. They marched well, their hose carriage was handsomely decorated and Miss Irene Schwartz, the fourteen-year-old daughter of one of the members of the company, rode upon it. But the Arctic of Milford turned out the largest company, having fifty-five men on the ropes.

The J. J. Dayton Hook and Ladder company of Fair Haven in red shirts and white belts were a splendid looking body. The West Haven firemen in blue uniform came second as regards appearance and were applauded almost as heartily as any company in line.

Ex-Chief A. C. Hendrick and ex-Fire Commissioner John H. Leeds of this city were the committee of judges to award the prizes to the best looking company in line. The R. M. Bassett company of Birmingham was awarded the prize for having the largest number of men in line and the Hubbard Hose company of Middletown the prize for presenting the best appearance as regards marching, saluting when passing the judges' stand and dress and general demeanor.

After the parade the various companies took cars for the shore, the afternoon being spent in games and in various other ways, everybody having a good time.

The committee having the matter in charge was composed as follows: W. W. Clinton, chairman; W. Hurlbut, secretary; C. F. Hoffmeister, corresponding secretary; J. L. Sherman, treasurer; H. Hyde, G. Mallory, W. Marsh, F. O. Hotchkiss, J. Gasco, G. Gessner, C. Smith, F. Breck, D. Costello, A. B. Thomas, J. Tucker and H. Green.

Among those noticed at the shore were: High Sheriff Tomlinson and State Comptroller Staub. The former marched in line with the Arctic of Milford, occupying a post of honor, the boys being very proud of their distinguished and distinguished looking representative, and the latter being likewise specially honored. Mr. Staub remained with the boys several hours and left for home on the train about 4 p. m.

The following were the winners in the several events:

Hook and ladder race—First prize, two silver plated fire axes, R. M. Bassett Hook and Ladder company of Birmingham; second prize, two silver plated wall picks, J. J. Dayton Hook and Ladder company of Fair Haven.

Hose race—First prize, nozzle, Hubbard Hose of Middletown.

Running race—First prize, traveling bag, Downey of Middletown; second prize, picture, Marshall of Middletown.

The ball game between the West Haven Hook and Ladder and the Hubbard Hose of Middletown was played in five innings. The score was 2 in favor of the West Havens.

THE PINES.

A Beautiful Little Park Which Has Sprung Into Immediate Popularity.

Have you seen "The Pines"? Not the "Pine Woods," but the picturesque little park of that name on the banks of beautiful Lake Whitney at the new terminus of the New Whitney avenue road. You can sit on a bench in the park, and yet be near enough to the shore to indulge in piscatorial sport with a line and rod of usual length.

A reporter yesterday caught a lazy unworthy disciple of Isaac Walton enjoying this pastime in this easy fashion. In the piney woods bowers a few huddled yards distant he came across three merry school ma'ams feasting on a table d' hôte spread. Further on were a clergyman and his family of little ones having a royal good outing all by themselves. This delightful spot is visited by a great many people now, and the side and scenery are delightful.

"The Pines" are fast budding into a popular resort for quiet lunch basket parties, who do not require anything stronger in the way of beverages than ginger ale and root beer sold by the commercially ambitious small boy already located in a tent near the park entrance.
