Poll's New Theater.

But a few more opportunities are of-fashionable Newport, and are exact re- known favorites.

plicas of that famous resort. So much

"Coming Thro' the Rye" that anticipa-

ENTERTAINMENTS.

Hyperion Theater.

Nowadays play lovers refuse abso lutely to accept farce without embel lishment, and require, in addition to the story, fifteen or twenty musical numbers, an endless parde of pretty girls, an augmented orchestra and scenery and costumes that would have been impossible in the day when "The Mikado" was produced at the Savoy theater, London, on two weeks' notice, Such a combination of merriment and melody is said to be "The Earl and the Girl," which the Messra. Shubert are to offer on Monday and Tuesday even ings at the Hyperion. The piece is the work of Seymour Hicks, Ivan Caryll and Percy Greenback, who have been responsible for a great many successes of the kind.

"The Earl and the Girl" tells th story of a penniless young nobleman whose creditors come about his ears at the critical moment when he is on the point of welcoming a wealthy American girl-object matrimony. In desperation lest this young woman should find out the state of his finances, he engages Jim Cheese, an animal trainer, to im personate him. Through a mistake the creditors get on the track of the real earl, while the American girl, Elphin Haye by name, meets the dog trainer and is horrified with his vulgarities.

In the course of events these complications are straightened out to the satisfaction of every one concerned, but not before the audience has enjoyed many happy laughs and has heard a variety of pleasing melodies. Among these are "I Would Like to Marry You," "I Want a Can Made to Order." "Won't You Change Your Name?" "Mediter-ranean Blue" and "How'd You Like to Spoon With Me?" This last number is accompanied by a novel bit of business. which provides ten girls with swings that project over the heads of the au-

The presenting company is headed by Eddle Foy, a comedian whose mirthprovoking qualities are well known in this city. Besides Mr. Foy, there are eighty-four other artists, including Harry B. Lester, Clara Inge, Zelma Rawlston, Isabelle D'Armond, William Armstrong and Frank Lavarnia.

Tiddish players, who have established including all of the principal members. New Haven theater Thursday, Friday features, a splendid reputation by their past per- and th schorus and dancers, will ap- and Saturday, January 17, 18, 19, and formances at this theater.

FANTANA. It seems hardly necessary to go into Frank Doane, Billie Taylor, John Park, theatrical successes of the past two details about "Fantna," which comes Percival Jennings, Charles Wallace seasons. The present edition is said Friday. No musical comedy that appeared here last season received more enthusiastic commendation and the local scribes used up practically their whole stock of superlatives in describing it. There is a daintiness and quaintness about the piece which is all its own; there are more big song hits than in almost any other piece before the public, and in the costuming and mounting the atmosphere of the land of lotus and cherry blossoms has been faithfully reproduced.

This particular engagement is unique inasmuch as the composer, Raymond Hubbell, is to be present and conducthe orchestra through part of the performance each night, while for the baiance of the evening the baton will be held by Maurice Levi, one of the bestknown musical directors in the country, who has come to the front of late as the conductor of one of the greatest military bands ever organized and which he will take to Paris this sum mer to fill a lengthy engagement. He was for rears with the famous Weber-Fields aggregation, and is known far and wide as "the man who taught the gallery boys to whistle with the band."

The company this year is an excellent one and is headed by Mr. Blaisdell and Georgia Boyton. Glancing down the cust, one strikes came after name that belonged to that peculiarly fasclinating type formerly known as "Weberfields," including Dorothy Bertrand, Catherine Lingard, Catherine Cooper, May Carlisle, Bobby Atwater and many

All the big song hits are retained, including "In My Rickehaw," "Darby and Joan," "Just My Style," "My Word," "Song of the Pipe," Art," "The Girl at the Helm," "Laughing Little Almond Eyes," etc.

New Haven Theatre.

There was a large and well pleased audience at the New Haven theater last night to see "The Phantom De-

SCENE FORM "THE FOOL HOUSE."

has been said and written in praise of fered for vaudeville devotees to see the

GEORGIA BOYTON IN FANTANA, AT THE HYPERION.

tions of unusual enjoyment may rea- | thrilling playlet of Edwards Davis and Seat sale opens on Monday morning.

"HAPPY HOOLIGAN."

his company styled "The Unmasking," which heads the Poll bill this week, Al H. Weston and company, Avery and Hart, Julia Redmond and company, "Happy Hooligan's Trip Around the Bell Veola, Rawls and Kaufman and

SCENE FROM THE EARL AND THE GIRL

YIDDISH PLAY,

During the past season the Yiddish company that has been playing at the Hyperion theater has won for itself a large following in this city; it has won the respect of all the theater-going people, as it produces only the very best Yiddish plays by the very best Yiddish writers. For its next engagement here, which will occur on Wednesday evening, January 16. It will pr sent for the first time the latest Yiddish play, "On the Mountains," a powerful Yiddish drama in four acts, with a prologue and epilogue, written especially for Mme. Kenny Lipzin and her own company of Yiddish players. In the cast are included two of the most distinguished Yiddish players, Maurice Moskowitz and Samuel Tornberg, and a splendid cast.

For this performance here the original New York production, including the magnificent scenery, electrical and mechanical effects, will be seen. The The management of this theater guartective," which combines drama, muite, comedy ensemble work by a chorus of pretty girls and many mysterious effects, and a den of llops. The performance will be repeated today, matince and night.

MAURICE MOSKOWITZ.

"THE FOOL HOUSE."

"The Fool House," the Four Huntings who mad ea big hit here during their previous visits and who have met with continued success on the road since they were here, will again be seen here, coming to the New Haven theater Monday, Tuesday nights, January 14 and 15, with a special matines Tuesday at the regular popular prices. They will present "The Peol This comedy is an elaboration of their famous vaudeville acrobatic comedy skit, which is an emborate vehicle for the exploitation of some of the most wonderful acrobratic acts ever seen outside of the circus. It in itself is a comedy of no mean merit and which besides its topsy turvy characteristics has a constant plot with many dramatic situations. The Fool House" is an uprogriously funny farce and there is not the least doubt but that the theater will be filled to the doors at every performance as was the case during the other two engagements. Already there is a large advance sale of seats for the engage-

"COMING THRO! THE RYE." The wildly herided song play "Coming Thro' the Rye" will have its first presentation in this city at the New Haven theater, Wednesday, January 16, matinee and night. According to trustworthy reports, this is a production of exceptional attractiveness, There are eighty in the company, made up of comedians, singers and dancers, and a chorus of sixty, who are described as the "beauty chorus." "Coming Thro' the Rye" is said to be exceedingly elever as to the work of librettist, George V. Hobart, and composer, H. Raldwin Sloane. The Will J Block Amusement company, under whose direction the performance is given, is credited with having suppiled a company and a scenic investiture of the most capable and elaborate

BESSIE GIBSON IN "COMING THRO" THE RYE."

Joe Hart's latest Japanese fantasy pear here. Among the former are Stella at the matines Saturday. This farce styled "O Hans San," a pretty stage Mayhew, Frank Lalor, Alma Youlin, comedy, which is full of mirth and picture in which a large number of picture in which a large number of Florence Townsend, melody, is one of the great, big solid pretty girls participate, will headline the Poli bill next week. Dolly and Milton Nobles, in "Why Walker Reformto the Hyperion next Thursday and and the beautiful "girl with the white to be beautifully costumed and staged ed;" the Doherty sisters and many oth-The scenes are all laid in and in the company are many well ers will form a good bill.

Bijon Theater.

"The Man from Mexico" is announced for next week at the Bijon theater, It is a comedy. Comedy of the comediver order is "The Man from Mexico. A gurgle, a giggle, a snicker, a ha-ha, a shriek, then a howl, and from the howl period till the final dropping of the curtain on the last act a rib-cracking roar-that is the effect of "The Man from Mexico" on the average audience. Story? Oh, yes, the play has a story. It's about a man and woman who are married. The woman is somewhat jealous of her "Hub." "Hub" goes to dine at a restaurant and dear little wifey follows. Unfortunately the restaurant and wife are arrested. Neither, however, is aware of the predicament the other is in. Act two. Hub is sent to jail for thirthe jail for the purpose of offering money, his strength, his time, even his town of Limoges, famous since the is the kaolin in this neighborhood the muscle of a navvy.

in Australa and in other parts of by many modern potters give an ab-Europe. One of the oldest potteries in solutely even heat and require no England is that which produces the heavy manual labor. This kiln makes Doulton ware at Buralem-contraction the ideal equipment for the little stuof the old Saxon Burwardeslea; in fact dies which are dotting themselves all wherever you find famous potteries over the land, places where beauty you will probably discover that the loving men and women are dreaming people of that neighborhood come of beautiful things and making their is "pulled" by the cops and husband generation upon generation or potters, dreams into a fragile but enduring and have the knowledge of this deli- reality of porcelain. There is no craft cate craft in their very blood.

tale, and his is only one among the so etherealizes and makes lovely the ty days. He sends wifey a letter that romance of pottery. There is no zeal common things of every day life. he has gone to Mexico on a hurried like the zeal of the artisan who is When you see a slender stemmed cup business errand. Wifey pays a visit to also an artist. He will sacrifice his frosted over with the most delicate antees for this splendid organization of description. The original company, World" will be the attraction at the Piccolo Midgets are very pleasing idea that it might be used as a substitute of this statement. What then tute for soap, and it was discovered must be the responsibility involved in that while the substance had no tending a fire which is to make an exsaponaceous qualities it was that very quisite design, the work of many hours kaolin from which the famous por perhaps of days or weeks, a permanent celains of the Orient were made. The part of clay on which it is drawn! In consequence of this, in the past sixth century for fine work-in enamel a great amny potters have had hard and other artistic handicraft, already and disagreeable work to do in perhad its potteries, and when it was dis- sonally attending to the manual labor covered that in the near neighborhood end of their business. The perfect fuel were the largest deposits of kaolin yet is not easy to find. Shovelling coal is discovered the china industry grew stoker's work. It is unreasonable to with mushroom-like rapidity, and at- expect a man to be skillful with his tained also the stability of the oak. It hands and at the same time to have which gives the Limoges china its Here is where gas cames to solve the clear, white color and fine texture. problem, as it has solved a hundred There are large deposits of the kaolin others. The gas kilns which are used in which the individuality finds fuller The story of Palissy is a household play than in china making, none which and exquisite silver tracery, a plate garlanded with flowers, a vase as lovely as the roses it is meant to hold these things have the peculiar charm of all things which are both beautiful and uerishable, the intense fascination of sunsets and rainbows. And vet they may last for hundreds of years-the porcelain made for staate banquets a century ago is still in ex-

Many a woman has taken up this work as her grandmother may have bent herself to the patient toll of the embroidery frame, merely as a pleas-ant occupation for leisure moments, a dallying now and then with the marvelous secrets of color, and has ended by making it her profession. Artists have felt the allurement of the gentle

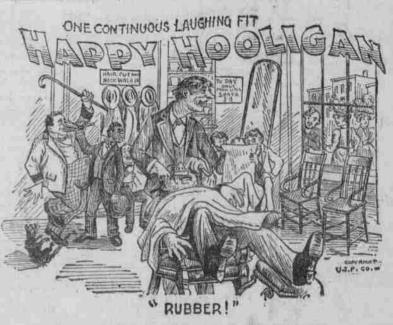

These workers, as well as the larger potteries find the gas kiln a boonand all through Ohio and the Middle West gas kilns supplied with natural gas. On the whole, perhaps, the studlo worker in jottery benefits most by the invention. The larger concern can afford to subdivide its working force; in a small establishment every one employed is likely to take a hand at every task. It is the latter that the labor saving devices are the greatest blessing.-Gas Logic.

ARTESIAN WELL FROM EARTH-OURARES.

It has just been discovered that the upheaval of April 19 dld funny things rears prior to April 19 these had been ordinary, well behaved wells, vielding water plentifully when a steem pump was emplo ed. But now they are spouting artesian wells, from which a pumping is done. This was discovered yesierday when the pump was taken out for repairs, the courtyard being flooded in a short time.

pumping from one lowered the water in inything goes wrong. It must be right | for the first time since March, the pumps were again removed, when it was discovered that the water flowed lutely true to a certain standard is no freely.-San Francisco Chronicle.

child's play. It calls for a high degree of inteligence. Every man who Ella - I always keep him at arm's has ever tried to tend his own 2re, length, a wood or coal range, will realize the Set.

HAPPY HOOLIGAN AT THE NEW HAVEN THEATER.

cheer and comfort to the inmates, sup-posing, of course, Hub is in Mexico, home, to the task of realizing the Hub spies wife and makes desperate vision of the beautiful which he has endeavors to keep out of her sight, seen in his heart. He may work to wood, in clay, in stone, in the flowers meeting with considerable success. Act three. Hub is released from pris- that grow in the garden; but he is a to the wells in the courtyard at the on and proceeds homeward, where he dreamer who must make his dream a rear of the San Francisco Mint. For attempts to describe his trip to Mexico reality.

and tells wife all about it. Of course, In such a trade there is a very praceverything ends well, but it is a hard tical side. The artist must be a metrial to Hub's nerves, and the predica- chanle as well, and his tools must be ments into which Hub is thrust during perfect. He is not only dreaming the course of the play would bring a dreams to be realized by his own skill- steady stream of water flows when no torrent of sympathy from the lips of ful and careful hand; he is planning any married man in the audience. the work of others who have not his Gertrude Shipman is to play Mrs. Insight. Hence we must have a me-Benjamin FitzHugh (that's the wife), chanical equipment as nearly perfect Lawrence B. McGill is cast as Benja-min FitzHugh (that's Hubby). Harry Langdon is cast as a friend who is always attempting to straighten things uneveness in the heat, a little defect connection between them, for the out, with the inevitable result of mak- in the oven, may ruin the most beauing them worse. Mr. Simonds is to tiful piece of china that was ever de- the other. Normally, the water was play Bismark Schmitt, a very essential signed. In china making there is no within thirty feet of the surface, and character, and Frank Wallace, jr., will sluch thing as a near-perfect piece of that was the condition when the pump interpret the lines allotted to Cook, the work. There is no making it over if was taken out last March. Yesterday Tammany deputy.

IN THE PALACE OF THE KING. The final productions of Viola Allen's great success, "In the Palace of the King," will be given this afternoon and evening at the Bljou. The company has done excellent work in the piece, every woman who has tried to cook by Stella-How long is his arm?-Smart and crowded houses have witnessed each performance.

THE MODERN POTTERY.

Some Important Improvements Over Old Methods.

The potter's wheel was among the first mechanical devices of civilization, and it is practically the same to-day, primitive as it may seem, that it was when the Etruscan potters moulded the jars and pitchers of red-brown lay and decorated them with rude figures and conventional designs to please the taste of the housewife, Early pottery is mostly of the un-glazed colored earth with which we are familiar in the museums, in the collections from ancient Rome, Greece and Egypt, and in the work of our own American Indians. The work earthen casseroles, which one may see to-day in the little Italian shops of New York, are probably not far removed in design from the cooking pots in which Roman slaves prepared their masters feasts in the days of the

The Chinese were the first to make what we call fine china, and the brilliant whiteness and fine, smooth surface of their porcelains were due to their use of a very fine peculiar white earth, which still bears its Chinese name of kaolin. The secret, like that of the silkworn and the making of gunpowder, and a dozen other trades of these cunning Oriental workers, was jealously guarded, and for hundreds of years the ships of Europe brought cargoes of Oriental china to the markets of England, France and Holland without any one being able to discover why the Chinese ware was so different from anything made by Western potters. It was an age of queer superstitions, and all sorts, of curious theories were advanced concerning the porcelains. One was that the clay had to be buried for fifty years before being used, and that sorcery was responsible for its clarity and exquisite coloring. When the people of the Middle Ages came across any. thing they could not understand they usually called it sorcery.

But, finally an inquisitive monk discovered the secret and brought a small quantity of white earth from the East, and then European potters began to experiment along the lines of the Chinese. The story of the development of the china factories of Limoges reads like a romances. In searching for herbs, the wife of a physician near St. Yrlex pulled up a shrub, to the roots of which clung a fine, white earth. She took it home with the

Keeping the heat of a furnace abso-

-You'll say it's the very best you ever ate-that's the universal verdict-every one who eats GOLD MEDAL CREAMERY BUTTER says, "that's fine." It's so good that after you once taste it, you'll never enjoy a meal without it. We want you to know all about this butter-we want you to realize yourself just how sweet, and pure, and good is. It is made in the largest creamery in the world—the only one privileged to use the odorproof package. The cream used is the richest produced anywhere. The greatest care is taken in every part of the making. The butter is packed fresh and pure from the churn, in a package which keeps it so until you have eaten the whole of it.

This package is odor-proof, and germ-proof, so that nothing can possibly hurt the contents. You can buy this pure butter for the same price as common tub butter.

Hadn't you better try it? Your grocer has it.

DILLON & DOUGLASS. New Haven and Hartford, Conn,