YAVAPAI COMMERCIAL CLUB.

Will Hold Meeting Tonight for Election of Officers.

The members of the Yavapai Commercial club will hold a meeting tonight, Tuesday, at the office of the president, Judge R. E. Sloan, for the election of officers and to complete arrangements for occupying the new club house now being erected by Mr. E. M. Murphy. A large attendance is expected.

The Yavapai Commercial club is a social organization whose membership consists of the leading people of the city and county both in social and business life. It was organized about two years ago with a membership of 120, but during the growth of the new Prescott it has never secured for itself a permanent home. Some time ago Mr. Murphy secured the property where the new club house is now being built and is fitting it up expressly for the purposes of this organization.

When fully completed the apartments will be as comfortable, inviting and up-to-date as any club member could wish for, a pleasing place for both business and social appointments and altogether a credit to the city.

A MYSTERIOUS SUICIDE.

Stranger Killed Himself in Court House Plaza Last Night.

Shortly before 11 o'clock last night a stranger, supposed to be Henry Walters of Butte, Mont., sat down by a tree at the southeast corner of the courthouse plaza, and leaning back against it placed a revolver to his right temple, fired and died instantly.

Night Policeman McCord and Night Watchman Doherty, who happened to be in the vicinity, heard the shot, though the report was not loud enough to be heard in the sheriff's office. They could not tell exactly the direction of the report and it was possibly ten minutes before Mr. Kaufman found the man, who had done his work so thoroughly that his body had not even fallen over on the ground. The wound was powder burned and the bullet did not come out, but blood flowed freely from the point of entrance, saturating his clothing on the right side and the ground beneath his hand which held the weapon of self-destruction, a .22-caliber revolver.

Coroner Burnett was summoned by Mr. Doherty, a jury was empaneled, the remains viewed and his personal effects taken charge of, after which the body was turned over to John & Dorris, undertakers, and the inquest continued to 2 o'clock today. Judge Burnett's office. In his pockets were found a small leather purse, a comb, a five-cent piece and various other trifles of no value, together with a railroad ticket from Santa Monica to Benson, a membership card in Oswego lodge, Knights of Pythias, of Butte, and documents showing membership in the Federation of Miners. His K. of P. card bore the name of Henry Walters. The only person among those viewing the remains who could definitely recall having seen him before was Jack Raab, who says he has seen him in Butte and thinks he worked there in the mines.

The dead man was well dressed in dark clothes, shoes blacked and had the general appearance of one in comfortable circumstances. He also had a silver watch and chain. He was presumably in the neighborhood of forty years old and has a small dark mustache with a very prominent and straight nose.

He was a rugged, healthy looking man, rather tall, and though his hands were soft they bore evidence of hard work. Nothing was found indicating a motive for suicide except the absence of money in his pocket, which suggests dependency over financial matters.
