

ALL IS RISKED

Early Is No Worse Than Ultimate Destruction

THE DOCTRINE OF JAPAN

Japanese Minister to England Proposes to Have no Hope of Assistance and Little Hope of a Favorable Result—Must Take Gambler's Chance.

London, Jan. 16.—In particularly frank language, Baron Hayashi, after a consultation with the foreign office tonight, summed up the situation for the Associated Press as follows:

"We can only hope that the czar will give us peace; but my hopes are not strong. If we go to war it will be for issues whereon both America and England have insisted diplomatically. We have received no pledges from any country that in the event of defeat it will step in and save us from being absorbed by Russia. We cannot count even in extremities on the armed support of any nation in the world. It would be a struggle to the death. Perhaps we are not strong enough to fight Russia. There are two opinions about that."

Baron Hayashi intimated that he thought Japan was bound to be beaten in the end. "If we were beaten," the minister resumed, "Russia would take Korea and Manchuria by right of conquest and possibly Japan. No power on earth could then dislodge her from Central China and all the far east. I am sure it is better to go to war when you know you are right, even if defeat is possible, than to see your independence submerged under the continual aggression that is bound to absorb you eventually. Nothing can avert war between Russia and Japan in future years, even if peace is procured now, so long as Russia pursues her present far eastern policy."

"The American action in enforcing the opening of the Manchurian ports was a splendid example of honest diplomacy. It was straightforward, which contrasts favorably with the methods of other nations, except Great Britain, when the British admiralty bought the two Chinese warships, has taken any practical step to live up to its diplomatic demands upon Russia since fighting a diplomatic battle in behalf of America and Great Britain, but if only we can settle it, we know we shall receive assistance from neither. We are prepared to fight our own battles and take the consequences."

"The latest, and if it be true, the most serious statement, namely, that Russia intended to risk sending her Black Sea fleet through the Dardanelles, received today a positive denial from the foreign office. Baron Hayashi, the Japanese minister, visited Downing street and was told that after making minute inquiry, the British authorities were convinced the report was unfounded.

Regarding the main issue, neither Baron Hayashi nor the foreign office had any information. Neither at the Japanese legation nor at the foreign office is it expected any trustworthy indication of Russian action will be obtainable for several days. The excessive apprehension in the best informed quarters here that Russia's answer will precipitate war, is based more upon knowledge of the attitude Russia has taken during previous phases of the controversy than upon any definite information of Russia's intentions under the present acute circumstances. Not even the czar's pacific utterances, however, can dispel the fear which pervades British officials that Russia will not give in.

King Edward continues to use his personal influence to an almost unprecedented extent to persuade the czar to maintain peace, but the king's ministers appear to have practically given up hope that a resort to arms can be averted, though most persons do not look for any culmination of the crisis within three weeks.

ONLY IN PART.

Will Russia Accept Japan's Latest Proposition.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 16.—It is already practically certain that Russia will not accept Japan's latest proposition as an entirety.

Russia is ready to agree to certain points but on the others the foreign office believes, Russia cannot yield. Officials are of the opinion that the way is open for continuing the negotiations and there is no indication that Russia will seek to delay her answer, which probably will be ready in a few days.

The czar continues to talk peace and the czar, in a conversation remarked: "War is a horrible thing; there will not be war."

In the meanwhile Viceroy Alexieff and Baron de Rosen, as well as the foreign officers, are studying the Japanese doctrine. Army and navy circles continue pessimistic. The best feature of the situation is the fact that the Japanese reply has in no sense the character of an ultimatum. It is drawn up in precise terms, does not fix a time limit and the acceptance by Russia of certain propositions therein, marks an advance toward a settlement.

Many rumors are afloat, including a report that a naval battle has occurred at Vladivostok.

Another rumor industriously declares that the czar, on parting with Minister Kurino on the occasion of the New Year's reception, speaking in French remarked:

"The patience of Russia is almost exhausted."

The story, however, is palpably untrue as the czar and M. Kurino spoke in English throughout their conversation.

AMERICA MARU'S CARGO.

San Francisco, Jan. 16.—The Japanese liner, America Maru, which arrived here today from the orient, two days ahead of time, is scheduled for return trip Jan. 25th. She will take freight and passengers only for Japanese ports, and when her cargo is discharged, she will be turned over to the Japanese government to be used either as transport or as an auxiliary cruiser. The vessel, which was built about eight years ago, was fitted with gun mounts and could soon be converted into quite a formidable war vessel.

The Nippon Maru and the Hong Kong Maru, sister ships are now in Japanese waters, and it is understood here will remain there and within the next few days be under control of the government officials.

Among the passengers of the America Maru was Lieutenant Colonel A. B. Dobovskiy of the Russian army. He had been in Japan for several months and is on his way to St. Petersburg. He is connected with the judiciary branch of the army.

WEEK WITHOUT CHANGE.

London, Jan. 16.—In the opinion of the British government, the end of this week does not mark any change in the far eastern crisis, which more than ever keeps diplomatic circles in London in a state of anxiety.

BLACK SEA STORY DENIED.

Port Arthur, Jan. 16.—The Ekaterinostav and Kamsa, belonging to the Russian volunteer fleet, arrived today. Statements from Constantinople regarding the desire of the Russian Black sea squadron to pass the Dardanelles are flatly denied in competent quarters here.

GRAND DUKE'S NEW JOB.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 16.—Grand Duke Nicholas Michaelovitch, who hitherto has been in command of the Tiflis garrison division of the Russian army, has been appointed a member of the council of empire.

The post of assistant minister of interior and chief of the gendarmie, which was held by Lieut. Gen. De Wahl has been abolished.

ALL JAPAN WANTS.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 16.—A dispatch received here from Vladivostok says it is reported there that all the powers have urged Japan to maintain a status quo pointing out the undesirability of a disturbance of pacific relations.

The news which reaches the legation is of a thoroughly reassuring character says the secretary of the Japanese legation.

"Neither Russia, nor Japan desires war," continued the secretary. "Japan has no interest in undermining the national prestige of Russia."

The central point of difficulty is Korea, which, quite possible understanding may be reached at no distant date. Japan does not claim a protectorate over Korea. She only demands the right of free trade in Korea and Manchuria.

RUSSIA BUYS WAGONS.

Sankt Peterburg, Minn., Jan. 16.—A local manufacturing concern has received an order from the Russian government for 1,000 wagons to be shipped, for the most part, directly to Omaha and forwarded from there with consignments of wheat and meats, recently bought in that city. Five hundred wagons are ready.

Investigation of the Charges Against Senator Smoot.

Washington, Jan. 16.—The senate committee on privileges and elections met today for the purpose of hearing the presentation of the case in volving the right of Senator Reed Smoot to occupy his seat. Former Representative Taylor of Ohio, was heard for some of the protestants, and E. P. Stevenson for those representing the National Reform association.

A. S. Worthington and Waldemar Van Cott appeared in behalf of Mr. Smoot. Mr. Taylor set forth the charges, the chief of which were that Mr. Smoot subscribed to, condoned and promoted polygamous doctrines.

IROQUOIS INQUEST

Detectives Employed to Shadow the Coronor

The List of the Victims of the Disaster Was Increased by One Yesterday, Bringing It to a Total of 572.

Chicago, Jan. 16.—But one witness was heard in the Iroquois inquest today and the jury then adjourned to inspect the interior of the theater. A lively dispute took place when the deputy coronor and the jurors entered the building. A force of detectives employed by the owners of the building followed them around and insisted on listening to all that was said. They moved away only when Mr. Buckley threatened to have all the detectives arrested.

The sole witness today was James G. Cummings, the state carpenter of the Iroquois theater. Cummings' testimony differed from the testimony given by other employees. He swore he had shown them how to open the ventilators and they unanimously swore that nobody had ever shown them anything about the ventilators.

Rev. Chas. L. Roberts, pastor of the Hamlin Avenue Methodist church, died today of injuries received in the fire. His death brings the total to 572. As a result of the orders issued by Building Commissioner Williams only eight of the ten main churches, closed for violations of the building law, will remain closed tomorrow.

WM. J. BRYAN, GUARDIAN

The Office of the St. Louis Daily Commencer.

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 16.—William J. Bryan was asked this evening if the Daily Commencer which he purposed to publish at St. Louis during the democratic national convention would advocate the candidacy of any particular aspirant for the presidential nomination.

He said: "I will simply advocate democratic principles, and," he continued, "I do not care to discuss anybody's candidacy. I have no favorites. All I desire is that the candidate be a man whose democracy is so well known that it will not be a subject of inquiry or discussion during the campaign and whose democracy will not be questioned after election. I simply want to do what I can to protect the party from any confidence game that may be attempted on the voters."

GERMAN AFRICA.

Martial Law in Apprehension of a Dangerous Rising.

Swaakopmund, German Southwest Africa, Jan. 16.—Martial law has been proclaimed here and at Karibib. It was announced from Berlin Jan. 13 that the threatened rising of the Hereros tribe, numbering 30,000 to 40,000 men, news of which had been telegraphed there from Windhoek, Damaraland, German Southwest Africa, excited some apprehension at the colonial bureau and the foreign office, as German forces on the spot were inadequate to deal with the widespread insurrection.

THE WAY OUT

What to Do When Food Don't Agree.

When food don't agree sensible folks make a change.

Where all others fail, Grape-Nuts, being predigested and all nourishment, succeeds, usually from the first trial.

A lady of Washington, says: "My baby, 19 months old, had never seen a well day in her life. She had suffered from indigestion from the time of her birth and it seemed impossible to find any food to agree with her. She could keep almost nothing on her stomach and her bowels were in such a constipated condition she suffered a great deal."

"It was then that I tried Grape-Nuts for her, steeping it thoroughly and straining it, putting a small portion in each feeding and it worked like a charm. She began to improve immediately and gained half a pound the first week."

"Baby got her indigestion from me, for my digestive organs have always been weak. I rely on Grape-Nuts for most of my food, for there are times when I can eat nothing else at all but Grape-Nuts. I am steadily improving, and know it will entirely cure me in time. I never have that tired feeling anymore. I eat Grape-Nuts and feel its effects in improved mental strength very forcibly." ## A FUTILE HOLD-UP

They Were Driven Off by a Volunteer Force and Are Being Pursued by Blood Hounds.

McClenny, Fla., Jan. 16.—Passenger train number seventy-six, east bound, on the Seaboard Air Line, was held up one mile east of Sanderson at 7:45 p. m. tonight by four white men. The door of the baggage car was blown open with dynamite, the robbers mistaking this car for the express car.

The engine was stopped by a volley of shots fired into the cab. The fireman and engineer were taken off the engine and escorted to the second class coach and the robbers ran the train ahead about half a mile, when they blew open the baggage car. The train conductor went forward, but was fired on and driven back to the coaches.

Conductor Peck, who was dead-heading over the line, called for firemen and volunteers. N. H. Harrison, claim agent of the road, Kobb McCay and J. C. Williamson, traveling freight agent, responded, and the four went forward, opened fire on the robbers and drove them off. Conductor Peck took the throttle and ran the train four miles down the road. The robbers secured no booty and made no attempt to rob the passengers, but there was great excitement in the passenger coaches while the firing was going on.

The sheriff in Davie and Baker counties are on the trail of the robbers with blood hounds.

A DEATH TRUST

Anti Toxine Manufacturers Playing With Lives

A CRUSADE IN CHICAGO

The Medical Societies Have Taken It Up, and Urge the Manufacture of Serum in a Laboratory to Be Established in Every State.

Chicago, Jan. 16.—The Chicago Medical society and the Illinois State Medical association will, it is expected, begin legal proceedings against the anti-toxine trust under this anti-trust law. Secretary Pritchard, of the health department, said today that he had information to that effect.

An official statement regarding the "death trust" in anti-toxine was issued today by Secretary Pritchard. The statement says: "The anti-toxine trust is nothing more or less than a traffic in human life. There is no one who manufactures and practically controls the anti-toxine supply of almost the entire country have seen fit to arbitrarily advance the price of their product one hundred per cent. This discovery was made by the department of health of the city of Chicago, when, in ordering its needed supplies for charity work, it was met with these increased quotations.

"The department felt compelled to call public attention to the evidence that a combine had been formed which effectively controlled the price of the only known remedy for the most dread scourge to the child life of the country. Primarily our object was to call attention to the immediate effect this would have on the death rate of children in the city of Chicago. Since the discovery of anti-toxine the department of health has done all in its power to encourage its use. It has its own medical inspectors to administer and has provided the anti-toxine in all cases where people were too poor to purchase it.

"The horizontal increase in the price made by the trust means that the city of Chicago will be compelled to appropriate double the sum to do the same amount of charity work in diphtheria cases for 1904 than it did in 1903. This the city can do, and doubts will do, but outside of this it must be remembered that the anti-toxine industry on the self-respecting, self-supporting heads of families of modest incomes. To all such, should diphtheria invade their homes and they would be compelled to pay the increased price, the burden put on them by the anti-toxine trust will indeed be grievous.

"It should be noticed that the increased prices quoted by the trust to the city are the prices of manufacturers to a jobber. This applies not only to Chicago, but practically to the entire country. The publicity already given, has aroused the medical profession and the confidence of the public. No doubt will result in some action speedily being taken to provide a supply of anti-toxine from sources other than that of the combine."

A. F. Nightingale, of the trustees of the University of Illinois, today said: "I think every institution of the nation should have a laboratory for the manufacture of anti-toxine serum for its state."
