SHOOTING IN THE DARK

Brill Addition Woman Thinks It's Attempted Assassination.

A woman living in Brill's addition believes that a systematic, persistent attempt is being made to assassinate her and her children. She has no idea who the miscreant is, but she knows that on Saturday night her home was bombarded with what she believes to be a shot gun and that the same thing occurred last night.

At a late hour she telephoned to the sheriff's office about it but there was a lack of explicitness about where the seat of trouble was and the officers were unable to locate it.

The woman said that after each shot she heard missiles rattling against the building. Aside from the theory of meditated murder which to her seems the most reasonable she can only imagine that somebody is shooting at a dog which the shooter believes is on a line between the end of the gun and the house of the complainant.

But it makes no difference which is the correct theory for it would hurt the woman and her children just as much to be killed by a shot aimed at a dog in the darkness as if it were aimed directly at them.

This nightly assault upon the house will receive an investigation today and if the shooter can be located he will be asked to show his license to discharge deadly weapons within the corporate limits of Phoenix. He will also be reminded that the open season for dogs has not set in yet and he will further be informed that he is not the official dog catcher.

DEMOCRATIC APPROVAL

To the Editor of The Republican, Sir: I am a stranger here, three thousand miles from home, and a democrat. With the above introduction, that may seem irrelevant, I beg you to accept my thanks (my democratic thanks) for your article in the issue of April 23d, headed "How the States Are Going." There is so much truth and force in it that I will esteem it a favor if you will reprint it tomorrow, and under that article please give place to the enclosed clipping which was taken from the Philadelphia Ledger of recent date. The two articles, it seems to me, are good companions.

As a democrat I also thank you for the quality and quantity of truthful political news you publish for the information of that branch of the democratic family residing or sojourning within the territory who are free from obligations to Mr. Hearst.

"We observe that Mr. Hearst's friends are still doing the claiming and Mr. Parker is getting the delegates. In this connection we should condole with the territorial democracy if it had to rely upon democratic sources in Phoenix for information of the progress of Mr. Hearst's boom. Within a week, for example, the news has been printed locally in horse type that "Massachusetts goes for Hearst," "West Virginia goes for Hearst," "Pennsylvania goes for Hearst," and "Oregon goes for Hearst." And yet, each of these states has refused to instruct for Mr. Hearst, and the delegations are for Parker, Olney or Gorman—with the possible exception of Oregon. The complexion of the Oregon delegation has not been determined clearly beyond the fact that the convention refused to instruct for Hearst. Possibly, however, the headlines quoted are meant to read that these several states are "going for" young Mr. Hearst with a meat-ax.

It is still to be hoped that Mr. Hearst will exit the Arizona delegation and that he will be nominated for president by the democratic party, but a regard for the truth calls for the above corrections.

TO DEMOCRACY'S CREDIT.

There have been but few happenings in the history of political life more creditable to the intelligence, integrity and patriotism of the American people than the repudiation by the democrats of the entire country of Mr. Hearst's presidential pretensions. These pretensions were monstrous in spirit and form, and that they have been thus repudiated and trampled under foot, while a matter for public rejoicing, is especially honorable to the national democracy. It has been thus settled, for the present and the future, that no vulgar pretender, no unspeakable demagogue, no creature of millions, can either force or buy his way to the presidency of the United States.—Philadelphia Ledger.

WALKS WITHOUT CRUTCHES.

I was much afflicted with sciatica, writes Ed. C. Nud, Iowa, Sedgewick county, Kan., "going about on crutches and suffering a deal of pain. I was induced to try Ballard's Snow Liniment, which relieved me. I used three 50c bottles. It is the greatest liniment I ever used; have recommended it to a number of persons, all express themselves as being benefited by it. I now walk without crutches, able to perform a great deal of light labor on the farm." 25c, 50c and $1.00 at Elvey & Hulet's.

BEST COUGH MEDICINE FOR CHILDREN.

When you buy a cough medicine for small children you want one in which you can place implicit confidence. You want one that not only relieves but cures. You want one that is unquestionably harmless. You want one that is pleasant to take. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy meets all these conditions. There is nothing so good for the coughs and colds incident to childhood. It is also a certain preventive and cure for croup, and there is no danger whatever from whooping cough when it is given. It has been used in many epidemics of that disease with perfect success. SAVE THE LOVED ONES!

Mrs. Mary A. Vliet, Newcastle, Colo., writes: "I believe Ballard's Horehound Syrup is superior to any other cough medicine, and will do all that is claimed for it, and it is so pleasant to take. My little girl wants to take it when she has no need for it." Ballard's Horehound Syrup is the great cure for all pulmonary ailments. 25c, 50c and $1.00 at Elvey & Hulet's.

KANSAS CITY MARKETS

A Review of Prices and Conditions of the Past Week.

Kansas City, Mo., April 24.—There was a liberal supply of fed western steers and she stuff last week. First of the week fed steers, both light and heavy weights, sold at $12.25 to $14.10. By Wednesday they were 15 or 20 cents lower, but this loss was regained before the week closed. On Friday some nice $15-pound steers sold at $14.15. Western and Southwestern stockers and feeders were plentiful, and generally sold strong. A big string of Idaho feeders sold Wednesday at $14.10 and $14.15, weighing 1143 and 973 pounds respectively. On Thursday a string of Nebraska fed Wyoming cows, 1029 pounds, sold at $3.75 and were considered strong. Oklahoma heifers sold up to $3.70. Supply today is 6,600 head at Kansas City, but owing to the big run of 40,000 head at Chicago, prices are lower here. Steers are affected the most, she stuff and stockers and feeders being about steady. Some 721-pound Colorado heifers sold yesterday at $14.20, fully steady, and Colorado feeders 935 pounds, sold at $4.00, also steady.

Sheep and lamb prices gained 20 to 30 cents last week, account of light receipts at all markets, and excellent demand for mutton. Consuming points, both in the east and in Europe, Packers evidently expect a shortage in the supply for some time, and were active competitors. Visible supply of wethers and ewes particularly is very small for the next six weeks, or until Texas and Arizona stuff begins to move. Lambs sold at $6.20, ewes at $5.25, wethers up to $5.60. The run was again light yesterday at 4,000 head, market steady at the advance of last week.

ARISTOCRATIC ROBBER

San Jose, Cal., Has a Tragedy and a Sensation.

San Jose, Cal., April 24.—A masked man armed with two revolvers, entered the rooms of the Del Monte Social club early this morning and after lining up against the wall six men who were in the rooms took a diamond ring valued at $500 from one of the men, grabbed up $350 or $400 from the table, and then backed out of the room. After a pursuit by the citizens and police lasting over an hour, during which time over thirty shots were exchanged, the robber finally was killed. Upon investigation the dead man was found to be Bert Thorndyke, a prominent young man of this city.

Thorndyke was one of the best known men in the city, having resided here for years. He was well connected, his mother-in-law being Mrs. G. M. Bruce, a wealthy widow residing on Stockton avenue, with whom Thorndyke, his wife and little child lived. Thorndyke's mother is a wealthy widow of Stockton. He has a brother who is a prominent artist on the New York American.

HE EARNED THE MONEY.

Counsel for the Defense—"And, your honor, when we reflect on the very strong safe, the bad tools, the poor light, cramped quarters, and my client's weakness, am I not right he earned the money by the sweat of his brow?"—Vanity Fair.

QUESTION OF DIGESTION.

"My dear, you should have married a laboring man, not a clerk."

"Oh, Tom, do you mean I lack refinement?"

"No, my dear, but he has a stronger digestion."—Baltimore News.

First Florist—"Sell all your plants at Easter?"

Second Florist—"No; I had a couple of palms left on my hands."

THINGS A WOMAN CAN'T UNDERSTAND.

It's awful hard for a woman to understand that when her husband has had to sit up all night with a sick friend it is natural for him to throw his watch on the floor and put his shoes under the pillow.—New York Press.

TAKING DESPERATE CHANCES.

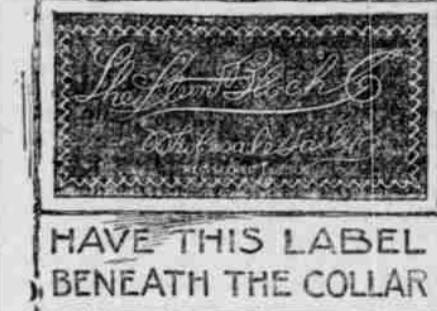

It is true that many contract colds and recover from them without taking any precaution or treatment, and a knowledge of this fact leads others to take their chances instead of giving their colds the needed attention. It should be borne in mind that every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality, makes the system less able to withstand each succeeding cold and paves the way for more serious diseases. Can you afford to take such desperate chances when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cures of colds, can be had for a trifle? For sale by all druggists.

RICHEST MAN IN MEXICO.

Former Day Laborer Who Now Wants to Pay the National Debt.

As a profession mining offers more chances for sudden wealth than any other and this is exemplified in the case of a Mexican miner, Pedro Alvarado, who owns a mine at Parral, in the state of Chihuahua. He is about 50 years old, and comes from the poor, or lowest laboring class, the ability of whose members to write their own names is remarkable. For years this man was a mine laborer, working for 50 cents (Mexican silver) a day; illiterate, unthinking and in common with the rest of his kind, he had no ambition beyond the making of enough money to keep body and soul together. He was known to be hard working, but he had no more thrift or foresight than the other peons, and in consequence his taking up of a small piece of property three years ago with the intention of sinking a shaft was a standing joke in the neighborhood. He borrowed enough money to work his property in a small way, but being what he was, his credit did not hold very long, and it was on the last day before the mort-
