

WAR IN MEXICO TO BE RESUMED

Five Days' Armistice Ends After Conference Between Salazar Representative and Mexican Consul Without Peace Resulting

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH] EL PASO, Jan. 28.—Hostilities in northern Mexico will be renewed at once, according to agents here. The informal armistice existing the last five days ended today after a conference between Mexican consul E. C. Lorente and Salazar's representative, Francisco Terrazas. The news of the breaking off of the negotiations was sent through the rebel camps by motorcycle messenger late today.

Colonel David de la Fuente, Orozco's former artillery chief, who recently disappeared from San Antonio, where he was under bond on charges of alleged neutrality violation, arrived today at Guadalupe with 200 men. He reentered Mexico by the way of Columbus, N. M., with Salazar and he will direct the operation of 1500 rebels in northern Mexico between Guadalupe and Juarez. The whereabouts of Orozco is unknown here.

FILIBUSTER IS ON OVER NOMINATIONS

Republicans Determined to Get Confirmations or to Obstruct Business

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH] WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The fight over President Taft's nominations was on in earnest today in the senate and for six hours today republicans and democrats battled behind closed doors the former demanding action on the nominations and the latter filibustering to prevent it. When adjournment came this evening it was expected that the fight would be renewed tomorrow, unless the republican leaders should decide to rest upon the record made today. The democratic senators consistently refused to make up the nominations in the regular order and professed themselves willing to take blame for the delay in action on the 14 or more pending appointments.

The opening of the republican fight followed a caucus early in the day, at which it was determined to force the issue against the democrats and compel them to either yield to the opposition or to openly adopt methods to delay the obstruction. As the result of the development of the filibuster, intimations were given tonight by the republican senators that the fight will undoubtedly extend into Wilson's administration and be reflected in the senate's action on many of his appointments. The republicans remained in the senate chamber throughout the day, sending the sergeant-at-arms after missing democrats when the latter attempted to break the quorum. Preparations were made for a night session, but early in the evening it was determined to adjourn and decide tomorrow whether the contest will be continued.

MUST BE CLASS TO ARMY'S AEROPLANES

Signal Corps Announces Requirements for New Flying Equipment; Speed, Carrying Capacity and Heavy Armor

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH] WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The signal corps of the army announced today the requirements for aeroplanes of the scout type. Each machine must have protective armor for the aviators and engine of chrome steel and subject to the ordinary penetration test. The machines must be able to attain a height of at least 2,000 feet in ten minutes while carrying a live load of 500 pounds and fuel and oil for four hours consumption. Moreover, the planes must be capable of being assembled for flight by six men within one hour and must have a minimum speed of 28 miles an hour and a maximum speed of not less than 65 miles. The engine must be capable of being throttled as to allow one person to take flight. The aeroplanes must be capable of executing a figure eight within a rectangle 500 yards by 250 yards without decreasing its altitude more than 100 feet upon completion of the figure.

NEW TAX MAY ADD HUNDRED MILLION

To revenue of United States; Representative Hull has Two Tax Schemes to Propose Soon

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH] WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—A feature of the tariff revision program of the extra session of congress may be raising $100,000,000 from an income tax, including an incorporated tax. Representative Hull, of Tennessee, a democratic member of the committee on ways and means, who has been active in income tax problems, plans to introduce a bill which would provide for such a source of revenue. This will be considered by the committee in connection with the contemplated early ratification of the constitutional amendment to sanction income tax legislation. Of the necessary number of states required for the ratification, only two are lacking, and Hull expects these will be drawn from New Jersey, Wyoming, New Mexico or West Virginia, and possibly Florida, whose legislature, will not meet until April.

The democratic majority of a committee favors the income tax, but in the event of failure of ratification it will renew the excise tax plan as an extension of the present corporation tax law. The committee finished today its hearing on wool and it is likely the plan embodied in two previous democratic wool bills will be understood off this is true as the so-called "fighting" is scheduled, on which democrats went on record in the congress, will be considered. The wool, cotton, metal, chemical, sugar and farmers free list bills so far as the democratic leaders now foresee. The last fourteen schedules, on "sundries" will be taken up tomorrow.

NAME COMMITTEE HEADS.

Democrats Meet in Caucus and Agree on Selections.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH] WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—A brief caucus of the democratic members of the house confirmed today the following committee selections made by the chairman of the public lands committee. ## RICHARDSON DECIDES TO COME TO PHOENIX

Likes Looks of Federal Building and Selects An Office

Evans T. Richardson, who is best known to Phoenix people from his connection with the Casa Grande Times, which he established something over a year ago, was in the city yesterday. Mr. Richardson is making a tour of the state in behalf of the University, rousing the interest of the farmers in the Farmers' Short Course which is to be given from February 10 to 22 at Tucson. The last time Richardson was in Phoenix he was discovered examining with great interest the new federal building. When it was found that he was devoting his chief attention to the suite marked "United States Land Office," it was easy to understand what was on his mind. For it is an open secret that Richardson has "decided" to move to Phoenix shortly after March 4th, and of all the attractive office buildings in this city, this particular set of rooms appeals to him the most strongly.

PUJO AND UNTERMEYER GO AFTER ROCKEFELLER

Chairman and Chief Counsel for Money Trust Investigators Will Chase Magnate to his Lair.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH] WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Representative Pujo, chairman of the house "Money trust" committee, announced today he and Samuel Untermyer, counsel for the committee will probably go to Jekyll Island about Feb. 6 to take the testimony of William Rockefeller. Pujo after a conference with John P. Garver, counsel for the Standard Oil magnate said today he hoped Rockefeller would return to New York in order that the deposition of the magnate may be taken there but if necessary the examination will be made at Jekyll Island.

Pujo went into temporary retirement today to begin an analysis of the testimony taken by the committee. This report will recommend legislation to deal with the banking and currency situation. Pujo abandoned his office in the capitol with a voluminous collection of notes and locked himself with a clerk in a room in a hotel. Attorney Untermyer and other members of the subcommittee, will aid in framing a report which will be submitted in full to the committee. Considerable difficulty is anticipated during the report which must meet the approval of the full committee one-half of which is taking testimony regarding the currency reform.

MASHER RUNS UP AGAINST THE POLICE

Chief Arrests John Doe After Incident Near Theatre

It doesn't pay to be a masher. John Doe learned this to his sorrow last night. Of course that isn't his right name, but it's the name he gave at the police station when Chief of Police Moore brought him in shortly before midnight and gave him the talk of his life.

Mr. Doe tried his wiles upon the crowd emerging from one of the local vaudeville houses and was caught up short by the head of the Phoenix Police Department. It all came about something like this: Detective Nick Harris, of Los Angeles and Mrs. Harris, have been guests of Chief and Mrs. Moore for several days. Last evening the families formed a theater party. After the show the woman proceeded to walk a short distance ahead of their husbands. About this time Mr. Doe put in his appearance and believing the young women to be unescorted, he is said to have volunteered to accompany them home. He was insistent and finally the women attracted the attention of Chief Moore and Detective Harris and informed them of the unsolicited attentions being paid them.

What followed would have made the Turkish war seem as tame as a bee-keeper's convention in comparison. It is enough to say that the proprietor of the establishment in front of which the encounter took place, will probably find no need to sweep his sidewalk this morning. And then the chief took the offender to the police station, gave him a curtain lecture and rather than be implicated in a personal complaint, finally turned him loose with the warning that "Phoenix is no place for mashers."

GAME WARDEN IS APPOINTED

Frank W. Rogers, Well Known Naturalist of This City, Lands One of Two Last Appointive Offices to Be Filled

The final decision of the chief executive of the state of Arizona on the question of the game wardenship was made known yesterday when Governor Hunt appointed Frank W. Rogers of this city, State Game Warden. Mr. Rogers is a well known naturalist who has lived in Arizona for a number of years, and has made a special study of the game birds and animals of the state. So interested is he in his work that at his own expense he kept an exhibit of birds at the state fair last year that attracted a great deal of attention.

Mr. Rogers for a number of years was connected with the New York Zoological gardens, as well as being connected with the Rochester New York Zoo. For six years however, he has been in Arizona continuing his studies in naturalism.

One of the first duties of the new warden will be to receive and provide for the shipment of elks from Wyoming to Arizona, of which there are 80 head. According to schedule these animals will be shipped on February 1, and will arrive in Arizona a few days later. They will be received at Winslow by Game Warden Rogers and his deputy N. C. Bledsoe, the only deputy yet appointed.

One of the first announcements made by Mr. Rogers after taking the oath of office was to the effect that the game laws of the state will be enforced up to the hilt. The new game warden believes Arizona can be, if properly managed, one vast game preserve, and will lend his best efforts to stop the ruthless poaching of game such as has been the case for many years. Although the constitutionality of the present game law is to be tested shortly in the Supreme Court, should it be turned down, the former statute will still be in force and effect, and the coming legislature will doubtless make up for any deficiency that may exist in that connection.

JAMES CARRAN'S PROBABLE FATE

William Faltin's Trial Recalls the Mysterious Disappearance of a Mining Man Three Years Ago and Arouses Suspicion

Three years ago Jimmy Curran, a miner who had been about Prescott for several years, mysteriously disappeared and it was not until three months later that an inquiry concerning him was made. It would probably not have been made at all but for the fact that he had left a sum of money on deposit in a Prescott bank. It was suspected that he had met with foul play or that he had died in the mountains. But notwithstanding a diligent search no trace of him was ever found.

Curran was last seen at Mayer. The last person with whom he talked was a freighter with whom he arranged to do some hauling. He said that he was going into the Black Canyon country where he had some mining claims which he was going to develop. He said that he would return to Mayer in about ten days.

The claim of Curran were located across the canyon. After he had made his location, William Faltin who was convicted last week of the murder of Carl Peterson located placer claims in the Canyon across the claims of Curran. So far as known, no suspicion of any connection with the disappearance of Curran ever attached to Faltin, nor was he ever thought of in connection with it until within the last day or two when a man who was in that part of the country at that time remembered that Faltin was there. That recollection was given a stimulus when the Yavapai man heard the story of the murder of Peterson. There are hundreds of prospect holes of varying depth in that vicinity and it is now suspected that the bones of Curran lie in the bottom of one of them.

LOW FOR FIREMEN.

Civic Federation President Gives Support to Demands.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH] NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—The firemen of the eastern railroads, fighting for higher wages, received the support of Seth Low, president of the national civic federation in a speech today at the opening of the federation's annual meeting.

"In the pending controversy between the railroads and firemen," said Low, "both sides are willing to arbitrate, but the firemen demand the arbitration will be by the Erdman act, so that witnesses can be sworn and perjury punished, while the railroads stand for arbitration such as was held by agreement with the engineers. In this controversy I think the firemen are clearly right."
