PROTEST LAND OFFICE SPLIT

Board of Trade Points Out
Some Reasons Why Legislators and Others Have Deceived Themselves
About Incomes

The Phoenix board of trade will add its protest to that of the land office officials at the proposed division of the United States land office between Phoenix and Tucson. This was settled at a meeting of the board of directors last evening, when the secretary received instructions to write to Hon. Carl Hayden, putting him straight on some of the matters that have been confused heretofore. Particularly the subject of yearly receipts is a confusing one. The house committee in Washington in looking over matters asked the interior department for figures, and in return got the receipts of the Arizona office for the fiscal year ending last June. Now these figures are enormous compared with those of last year, for with the playing out of government land due to the filing of scrip, the dividends have been cut nearly fifty per cent.

This was all duly, if not exactly clearly set forth in letters from Register Weedon to Carl Hayden. Hayden wrote back yesterday enclosing a copy of the interior department's figures and gently chiding Mr. Weedon for not having got his (Carl's) drift.

Weedon offered to show again, and wired back, telling the congressman to check some more and watch his dates, to see if he couldn't find something more to the point.

Tucson wants a land office, and has instituted a remarkable fight for one. The decision rests on the determination of yearly receipts, which must be so big before more than one maximum office can be maintained. Tucson is several hundred miles from the center of the public land district of the south. The business of the office in that region is now being handled suitably by United States Commissioners at Wilcox and other places. A recent report of the register showed that out of 126 cases of final proof hearings, but fifteen had to be conducted in the Phoenix office.

Main Road Matters
The board of trade's able committee on the through line railroad reported, got another batch of work and was set to it again.

The proposition now stands that the Tucson, Phoenix and Tidewater people need assistance in lining up their right of way across private property. Having abandoned the Madison street line, they are confronted with still further difficulties. It is to aid them past the rats that the joint committees of the Board of Trade and the Merchants and Manufacturers' association are getting together again.

M. and M. Protest
To Hon. Carl Hayden,
House of Representatives,
Washington, D. C.

The Merchants' and Manufacturers' association of Phoenix hereby makes protest against the division of the land district and the establishment of another office.

The annual report of the Phoenix land office for the fiscal year ending June 30th, will show that there is not sufficient business in the state

TEXAS SOCIETY TO CELEBRATE SAN JACINTO

Lone Star Staters Will Gather for Basket Picnic
on April 21 at Camp
Grounds for a Great
Time

All members of the Texas Society of Arizona and former residents of the great Lone Star state, will gather with their families and sweethearts next Tuesday, April 21, at the old camp grounds on the corner of Tenth & McDowell Road, and of the Brill car line, at a basket picnic to celebrate the anniversary of the battle of San Jacinto, where General Sam Houston defeated the Mexican Santa Ana, and made possible the republic of Texas.

Texasans are exceedingly proud of the fact that the state of Texas had an independent existence prior to becoming a part of the United States, and that Texas came into the union as the result of a treaty between the two countries. They never tire of celebrating their independence, nor any event that was a chief factor in bringing about that circumstance.

April 21, as the anniversary of the battle of San Jacinto, is a favorite holiday in the Lone Star state. This year is the 75th anniversary of that great victory.

The plan for the celebration this year is quite pretentious. In addition to the basket picnic feature there will be music by an eight-piece orchestra. Speeches will be delivered, the most notable one being by Hon. Cato Sells, commissioner of Indian affairs, if he gets here. Mr. Sells' home is in Cleburne, Texas. Legions and coffee will be made on the grounds in the time-honored way, and a good time is expected.

Members of the organization and those wishing to become such are requested to communicate with Fred A. Larson, phone 1479, or Secretary E. A. Marshall, phone 568.

of Arizona to support two separate offices. The state of Arizona has taken up many thousands of acres. Practically all script has been taken up, and the work of the office is not now more than half so much as formerly.

In addition to this the reclamation service now maintains its central office in Phoenix and all of its records are here.

Kindly delay any action until further evidence is furnished.

Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association.

C. H. PRATT, President.

H. M. CLEMANS, Secretary.

RUSSELL HAS GOOD TEAM BUT CAN'T GET GAMES

Manager of Holland House Gang
Misses Shot at New State Team
When Manager Fails to Show

"Waiting at the park" is the title of a new song with Manager Russell of the Holland House baseball team is singing every Sunday afternoon, and sometimes on week days. He sang it last night in a very loud and mournful manner, when the manager of the newly outfitted New Staters failed to show up with a five spot he had promised.

Russell has the best of the amateur teams in the city. He also has the best 1914 model fully equipped Jinx you nearly ever saw. He can no more get a game with a local amateur aggregation than he could get a world series contest with the Athletics. He works hard and advises like a little man, but the stuff doesn't show.

He again issued a bitter challenge to every and all teams up to and including the top notchers in the Central Arizona league.

BOYCE BEATS JAYNE; LOSES TO H. MILLER

Interesting Billiards Developed in Last Night's Games—Some High Runs in the Contests

Billiard fans had a great treat last evening when a number of the enthusiasts saw Boyce defeat Jaynes in one of the best games the present tournament has produced. The score was 100 to 75, Jaynes playing for 80 points, which makes the margin of his loss small.

Both players were in excellent form, the winner making a high run of 29 as against 18 for his opponent.

The second game was between Boyce and Miller. Miller started off with a run of 22, and won.

Tonight, Wood plays Jaynes at 9 o'clock at the St. Elmo.

The standings, resulting from the two games and their predecessors, are as follows:

	Hicap	Won	Lost	Pct.
Tillery	100	4	0	1000
Boyce	100	3	1	750
Miller	75	3	1	750
Wood	80	2	2	500
Brunst	50	1	1	500
Avery	80	2	2	500

PATHE MOVIE MAN HERE TO FILM PARADE

Dillwyn Daniels of Los Angeles Comes in to Get Everything in Connection
With Second Annual
Aztec Sun Fete

There will be movies. Dillwyn Daniels Co., in the person of Dillwyn Daniels, his own self, is here to do the work. Daniels arrived early yesterday morning. The first thing he did was to hunt up Harry Welch of the Board of Trade, show him his Pathe's Weekly credentials, and get a quick motor car ride to the ranching districts on the south side. All in the space of half a day—or less—he drove up, threw out his weight, put the mural on his boss and had made himself at home.

The camera clicked on a multiplicity of real hogs at food yesterday morning. This section of the picture goes to illustrate a record of industrial progress to be issued shortly.

Early this morning Daniels goes to the ranching districts for a shot or two at the big birds. By noon he will be in town again making ready for the Sun Pageant.

Speaking of the pageant, he said last night, "Pathe likes parades, especially if they show any tendency to depict historical or traditional features. They eat it up."

After the Sun Fete parade, Daniels will climb aboard a fast automobile and have himself whisked back to the south side. He will invade the Bartlett-Bland ranch to film the pastoral activities of horses and cows and growing alfalfa, all for that industrial film. Friday he goes to the Roosevelt dam. He will ask his driver to go mightily slow past the place where Harry Welch came near losing the 1913 Pathe man over the cliffs. On Monday the industrial little spectacle-gatherer of authentic records of events will be back in San Diego, ready for what may happen.

When apprised last night by an agent of Edwin C. Baker that the large and speedy motorcycle would attempt to lower the transcontinental record starting from San Diego on May 3, he said he would arrange to be there to record the start. Another man can get the finish in New York city somewhat less than twenty days.

CATCH GOMEZ IN ACT OF STEALING TRUNK

Spirited Chase Ensues but Fugitive is Finally Overtaken

Jose Gomez is something of a runner but he failed to make a quick enough getaway yesterday afternoon when caught in the act of attempting to steal the contents of a trunk belonging to Mrs. Clark Churchill, of East Monroe street. He gave his pursuers a merry chase for three or four blocks and was finally captured when he reached the point in Second street where the canal intersects.

Without being discovered, Gomez entered the Churchill home and dragged a heavy trunk out the front door, across the porch and out to the gate. At the gate he proceeded to lift the lid and stuff a quantity of clothing into his shirt front. He was in the act of lifting some silk shirt waists from the tray when he was discovered by Mrs. Churchill who immediately set up an alarm.

Patently saw a man running from the Churchill home and heard a woman screaming. They gave chase and managed to overtake the fugitive. A telephone call was sent to the police station for officers and while Policemen Vadder and Maxwell were making their way to the scene Gomez started throwing his plunder into the canal. A quantity of waists and other apparel disappeared in the water as they became soaked and sunk from view.

At the police station Gomez was booked with a charge of petty larceny against him. He will be transferred to the county jail today.

WILL EULOGIZE THE MOOSE DEAD

Arrangements now under way and rapidly nearing completion for the annual memorial services of Phoenix Lodge No. 708, Loyal Order of Moose, to be held in the Empress theater, Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, are of that order that insure most impressive exercises. With a memorial address, eulogizing those members of the local lodge who have died within a year, and with a musical program of unusual merit, there is every reason to believe that the aims of the committee in charge will be fully realized.

It was only yesterday that it was definitely ascertained that the Empress theater would be available for the exercises to which the public will be cordially invited. It is now planned to make the interior a veritable bower of flowers. Hundreds of red and white roses will be utilized in this decoration, while other flowers and potted plants, ferns and palms will also be employed. In this connection the committee is especially anxious that any person willing to contribute flowers for decoration purposes, either deliver them to the Empress theater early Sunday, or notify Walter J. Hayt, of Merryman & Hayt, or George N. MacBean, of the Busy Drug Store, stating how many and what kind of flowers they will furnish, and they will be sent for. Contributions of flowers will be very graciously received and deeply appreciated.

W. Paul Geary has been selected to deliver the memorial address. In all of Arizona there is not now another who enjoys such an enviable reputation as a speaker than Moose Geary. His address promises to be a masterpiece. The musical program will be entirely in the hands of Ben Massie, who will select the music and secure the musicians.

Four times in the past year death has entered the ranks of the local lodge of Moose and that number of departed brethren will be eulogized during the course of the Sunday services. The session, while open to the public, will be in lodge formation with Dictator MacBean in the chair. In addition, National Director C. G. Reum will be in attendance and occupying his station. It is expected that there will be delegations from several other lodges and a number of visiting ner and Duffy. Such of these that are not packing doubtful reps are kids whose stuff is not tempered in the fire of manly games. To inspect the pitching roster of the Phillies would do no real good, and would lead to the use of unkind terms such as do not compare with our policy of mildness.

The Federals may not surpass organized ball in pitching talent, but they approximate them to a degree that should earn big league criticism. Faltersburg, Seaton, Moore, Hendrix, Miller, Brashall have many a good name ahead of them. And the Reds have many more of possibly smaller fame, but just as reliable as any American or National league regular. The youngsters in the Federals have as much chance of developing stuff as those of other organizations. That's a thirty mile long chain.

Everybody doesn't know that there are some major league clubs which would make pretty poor showings against some of the factor A. A. losers. The Federals have some of this high class minor league material, therefore the Young Turks are major leaguers. Q. E. D.

"GOOD ROADS AND NON-INTEREST BEARING BONDS," BATTLE CRY OF COXEY'S SECOND MARCH; ARMY'S MAIN BODY STARTS APRIL 16

Coxey's army on the march twenty years ago; "General" Coxey as he looks today.

"Good Roads and Non-Interest Bearing Bonds," the battle cry of "General" Coxey's first march to Washington in 1894, will also be the battle cry of his second march this spring. "I may not survive to make a third twenty years hence," says the "General," "but I do expect to live to see the 'Non-Interest Bond' idea at least as strong an impetus in the popular mind as the 'Good Roads' idea has attained already."

Coxey's army of the unemployed is now forming at several points for the march on Washington. Coxey's main contingent will start from Massillon, Ohio, April 16, and the grand round-up at the Hotel S. located on May 21.
