Ein Hero Ist MR. SCHROEDER

Uses Police Patrol Wagon to Stop Runaway Horse and Declines Medal Constructed from Top of Tomato Can

Fritz Schroeder is a hero. Any big moving picture concern would have given millions to have had a camera on the job early last evening when Fritz distinguished himself.

When Fritz isn't heroing he drives the city police patrol automobile at a perfectly normal rate of speed. But when demands are made upon his heroic tendencies he forgets speed ordinances and tears off twenty-five or so miles an hour. At least that's what he did early last evening.

A call had come for the patrol wagon out on North Central avenue. Schroeder was bowling along at his usual pace, at peace with the world and thinking of a Sunday off and the girls on the sand at Riverside ocean. Comes behind him a mad-gallop steed attached to the remnants of a one-time perfectly good buggy. The horse wasn't regarding speed ordinances at all.

Without consulting the statutes to ascertain whether an untamed horse is within his legal rights when, cruising on the principal boulevard of town at about twenty-five miles an hour, Fritz speeded up until the speedometer registered nearly thirty miles an hour. Away out at Roosevelt street he overtook the frenzied steed and passed him. With a sudden swerve he nosed the big patrol outfit in front of the horse and then, leaning far out, caught him by the bridle. It was a neat catch and one that would bring a hero medal in any town where Andrew Carnegie had a downtown library.

Fritz is modest to say the least, and that is why he gracefully declined the hero medal tendered him by the members of the force. The fact that it had been worked out of the top of a tomato can had nothing to do with his non-acceptance.

CATTON WILL TRY TO RETRIEVE HIS DEFEAT

Famous Billiard Men Will Give Second Exhibition in Which Loser Has Better Chance

Two nationally famous billiardists will meet in a return exhibition at the St. Elmo this week, when Marcus Catton, the boy wonder, will attempt to retrieve his defeat at the hands of Carl.

The game will be 18.2 ball line, Catton playing for his former mark of 1600 and Carl playing for his of 250. This makes the odds four to one. Too much for the champion the last match, he lost by a good big margin, but far from bringing in an alibi, he came back with a challenge for a return match. Unlike some winners, Carl was entirely willing, so the stage is set for another five round go.

A fancy shot lesson will be given after each game, and billiard questions will be answered. The games are to start at 8:00 p. m. and will run five nights, beginning Monday.

TEST CANTELOUPES TO JUDGE WATER NEEDS

Emergency Water Commission Has Hunch This Would Be Better Than to Adduce Statistics

Instead of an emergency water commission, the Water Users' association need a tasting committee, according to the merry remarks of the attaches at the "Temple" yesterday.

It is this way: The main perishable crop in the valley is cantaloupes. Now in order to discover whether or not cantaloupes need emergency water, it is necessary to test their quality.

"I think we ought to make a rule that farmers wishing emergency water should bring in a crate of melons, let us put them on ice and have them for breakfast the next morning," said Frank Parker, the newly chosen third member of the board. Nearly every man, woman and child employed in the building has volunteered for the "heavy" work of testing cantaloupes.

ONLY CROWBAR AND DYNAMITE WILL DO

Maricopa Homesteader Will Not Be Burned Out of House and Home a Third Time, He Declares

"Ach, dey vill haf troubles burning me outt off mine house now," exclaimed Louis Byrens, a sturdy German farmer, after he had filed his year proof on a homestead near Maricopa yesterday.

Byrens built a shack the first thing. He left it one day to make a trip to Phoenix and some enterprising but malevolent person burned it. Byrens built a second house, and it was burned too. But—"By Chiminey," now, I tell you, dey haff to go some. I build him a "dobe house alretty!"

REORGANIZATION OF PORTLAND CEMENT CO.

Local Company Prepared Now to Move Forward

The reorganization of the Arizona Portland Cement company is complete and its new name is the Phoenix Portland Cement company; its capitalization has been reduced from one million to two hundred and fifty thousand shares, and this stock is separated into two equal kinds known as common and preferred stock. The aim has been to make the foundation a solid one. It is unfortunate to this valley in particular that the mill has not been operating successfully, but the defects are trivial and the repairs and improvements to be made are not expensive, comparatively. It is assured that $6,000.00 will pay for the needed repairs and improvements to make the capacity at least 400 barrels per day, and the necessary working capital need not exceed $16,000.00 per month.

The management is now in the hands of those who have put their cash into the business, and they understand their business thoroughly. In importance to the builders, road makers and water savers of this part of the country there are few industries so commendable.

Every cement user of this state should not fail to designate and insist that the home product must be used in his constructions when this cement has been found to pass all reasonable tests as to quality, in sustaining this home enterprise, hundreds of thousands of dollars may be saved to the valley in particular.

The Ontario local branches of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America will hold a conference in Chatham, beginning June 30.
