INTERESTING LECTURES PLANNED FOR THE WINTER

Congregational Pastor Back From an Enjoyable Vacation; His Win- ter's Work

Following a month's vacation on the coast, two weeks of which were well taken up in attendance at the Long Beach Chautauqua assembly which is in session in that city all through August, Rev. Charles H. Dains, pastor of the First Congregational church of Tempe is back ready for the year's work ahead of him. In a way his visit on the coast afforded a vacation and a rest, but at the same time a whole lot of odds and ends were attended to that will drift into the church work from time to time this coming winter.

Rev. Mr. Dains had occasion to hear some ten or fifteen noted educators of the country, at the Long Beach chautauqua. Among them were Henry Churchill King, president of Overland College, Ohio; James A. Francis, a great Baptist divine of Boston; J. A. Coyle, Presbyterian divine of Denver; and Francis J. Heney, one time of Arizona and now of California. All services in that city were splendid addresses based on present social and economic topics to a good extent.

While in Los Angeles, Mr. Dains was afforded an opportunity to make his own selection from thousands of pictures of slides that he will use in stereopticon illustration work in connection with his literary lectures on Sunday evenings through this winter. Lectures on books that are at the time attracting wide attention from the literary world, brought Mr. Dains into exceptional popular favor with his congregation through last winter. "Peace" lectures, a series based on war conditions in Europe, and used in connection with the stereopticon slides will take up the first few Sunday evenings at the Congregational church this fall. Services in that place of worship will be resumed on the usual schedule next Sunday.

THE COTTON PRIZES

A matter of interest just now and one that deserves special attention are the prizes which were pledged some months ago to promote interest among the boys of the Tempe district towards the growing of cotton. A real contest among the youths was inaugurated which served as the incentive for planting a good many patches. It will not be many days either until the prizes will be due. A number of items in connection with the contest will come up at the board of trade meeting to be held in Tempe the coming Thursday evening. Other matters of vital interest to every live Tempeite will also come in for consideration.

A RETURNING TEACHER

PET HORSE KILLED AS RESULT OF KICK

When Jesus Gonzales drove into Mesa Sunday and hitched his horse inside the corral of his friend Rafael Ortiz, he little thought that it would be but a few hours before his fine steed would be brutally, feloniously and maliciously assaulted by an equine enemy. However, few know what is going to happen next anyhow, so Gonzales cannot be blamed for what happened. About night, after dark, a loose horse that belonged to Francisco Ramirez came running along that way and espying the captive animal tied to a post inside the fence of the Ortiz corral, went over to pick a fight. He proceeded by giving the captive horse a good stiff kick in the leg. That ended it. It broke the leg of Gonzales' pet and Ramirez's pet then left and wended his evil way alone. Monday morning Marshal Peyton went out and ended the horse's misery by a bullet in the head.

Gonzales then consulted Judge Irwin as to what to do. Judge Irwin advised that the parties get together, so Ortiz, Gonzales and Ramirez talked it over and the matter was settled by Ramirez giving Gonzales a brand new horse instead of the kicked dead horse. However, Gonzales did not want the kicking horse.

ELECT ANOTHER TEACHER

Miss Iva L. Chapman, of Ann Arbor, Michigan, a graduate of the university, has been elected and has accepted the chair of history in the Mesa high school. Miss Chapman is a specialist in history and has done splendid work in that field in the University of Michigan. She will be here some time near the first of the month.

TELEPHONE MEN HERE

J. F. Joyce, construction foreman of the Mountain States Telephone company, who will have charge of rebuilding the Mesa system, came in yesterday and will have a force of men here in a few days. Mr. McCandless, division superintendent of plants, came in from El Paso to see the work properly started. Work in earnest will begin in a day or so and will be pushed until the complete plant is installed.

SIMS BACK FROM EAST

J. K. Sims has returned from a trip in the east where he has been buying the full stock for the Lesueur Spillsbury company. Mr. Sims took in some of the cities of the east while away and managed to strike New York, Boston, Toronto, Montreal, Buffalo and numerous others. He arrived in New York in time to purchase his full line of fancy goods, furs, jewelry, etc. at the prices that prevailed before war prices went into effect. Sims says that his customers will receive the benefit of the old prices and will not be taxed the war prices that show an advance of over fifty per cent in some cases.

HIGHER THAN A GIANT

A stalk of cotton, fairly well fruited, was brought in from the Jack Frazer ranch yesterday and put on exhibition in the Commercial club rooms. The stalk is a curiosity in that it was going toward the sky when cut down by Jack, who did not care for a veritable "bean stalk in his yard," as it were. Frazer had the Mesa giant, a youth of tender years, who measures six feet in his stockings, the stand by the stalk and try to reach the top with his outstretched hands. Nothing doing—the stalk of cotton was higher than the giant of Mesa could reach with his long arms. No tape line was available.

SMITH TO GET REWARD

A. N. Smith, who captured the Mexican suspect Friday, is pretty certain of getting a reward of $100 or more offered by the sheriff of Pinal county. Sheriff Hall passed through yesterday taking the Mexican to Florence where he will be held. At Mesa Sheriff Hall informed Smith that there was a reward out and that he would see that it went to Smith.

THROWN BY HORSE

Angeles Garcia, a middle-aged Mexican, received what will probably prove to be fatal injuries this morning, when the horse that he rode, stumbled, threw his rider and fell on top of him badly crushing and wounding him. He was found lying unconscious in the road north of Mesa at an early hour this morning by another Mexican, whose name is unknown, and Dr. Drake was summoned and went immediately to his assistance. He was taken to the home of Rufio Mendivil, where he is receiving every attention possible. It is not believed that he will live, as he was badly injured internally.

BITTEN BY RATTLESNAKE

C. P. Norris, of Mesa, was bitten by a rattlesnake while loafing around Granite Reef dam Sunday. Friends applied well known remedies and brought him in to the city where medical attention was rendered and he is now considered out of danger of serious complications. Norris went out to the reef with a party of friends to spend the day and was

THESE CANDIDATES NOT TO BE IGNORED

By GEO. B. WILCOX

Mr. Wm. P. Doheney, Sr., candidate for constable for East Phoenix precinct, and Harry Proops, candidate for the same office for West Phoenix precinct; claim that the news of the filing of their respective petitions for those offices have been overlooked, shut out or ignored by their supposed friend, The Arizona Republican.

They say that the interesting articles appearing in the daily periodicals, entitled "The Perils of Pauline," "The Adventures of Kathryn," and "The Blood Curdling Adventures of the Sheriff of Maricopa," the latter written by a local author evidently working on The Republican, are all interesting and of equal merit, but Bill and Harry would be pleased to inform the news gatherers of The Republican that they are in the race on the progressive party ticket, and although they at this time own no automobile, each of them are pretty fast on foot, and expect to gain the lead in the race just after their opponents' tires go flat, which is bound to occur with all automobiles, political or otherwise.

But think that if he can draw that salary of constable one year at $1,800.00 and make the same arrangements with the sheriff's office that some others seem to have made, that he might afford an auto for the second year; and that if he can make the proper arrangements with some local press agent with an abnormal imagination, that he will no doubt be able to succeed himself another term. And if he does, he may be in the market for a large new auto; dealers please take notice.

Speaking of the auto as a political machine—Say, Mr. Voter and Taxpayer, don't you think this present democratic administration, both state and county, are working it to the limit? In the good old days of Brodie and Kibbey, an office holder riding in an automobile or abounding more pretensions than a street car, would have created as much attention and curiosity as a circus parade; but since the advent of our Jeffersonian(?) administration the officeholder who does not ride in a gas machine, running on pneumatic tires, is the exception and not the rule. Of course, the average farmer and laborer, who is paying taxes on his small holdings, does not object to the office holder riding in an auto if he owns one, but he does object to paying for the gas, oil and up-keep of the machine.

Excuse the digression, and don't forget that "Bill" and "Harry" are in the race, even if they are afoot.

It was not the intention of The Republican to ignore these candidates who are excellent men, ought to be elected. But in making up the lists, the precinct tickets were omitted.

bitten by the rattler while "scouting round." Fortunately restoratives were at hand and serious danger immediately avoided.

OFF CAMPAIGNING

Prof. H. Q. Robertson left yesterday for Yuma, where he will spend a few days campaigning for his candidacy as superintendent of public instruction of Arizona. Professor Robertson will take in Douglas, Bisbee, Tucson and other points in Southern Arizona, while on this trip and will return to the city about the fifth of September.

VISITING IN PHOENIX

Mrs. Charles Bowers and family spent today visiting friends in Phoenix.

IN FROM THE J. F.

The supply wagon from the J. F. ranch came in Mesa yesterday and took in a large quantity of supplies for the men out on the range. They report conditions good out that way and are so far undisturbed by the rumors of war.

SHIPS CALVES

A. N. Porter yesterday shipped twenty calves to Phoenix for the veal market of that city.

HERE FROM CASA GRANDE

E. R. Stoner, of Casa Grande, came in yesterday and spent a while visiting his brother, Dr. A. B. Stoner, the popular osteopath of the Gem city. He left in the afternoon, returning home.

MRS. TWAY RETURNS HOME

Mrs. E. D. Tway, who has been visiting her mother and father at their home in Mesa for some weeks, on account of suffering with acute inflammatory rheumatism and a peculiar sudden blindness, has recovered sufficiently to return home to her ranch near Mesa. Mrs. Tway is entirely well, but is so much better that she wished to be at home again.

IN FROM LEHI VALLEY

Mr. and Mrs. Kays, of the Lehi valley neighborhood, spent yesterday in Mesa shopping and visiting with friends.

IRON SPRINGS

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Bennett returned Friday night from a motor trip to the points of interest in the Verde valley and Jerome. Though they encountered some warm weather, the scenery, good roads and wonders of the prehistoric ruins contrasted any unpleasant impression of that part of the state. Mr. and Mrs. Bennett are leaving camp again Monday morning for the Grand Canyon, Flagstaff, Williams and other points in the north.

Mr. Lloyd B. Christy spent the week end in camp, returning to town Monday morning.

Mr. H. Clay Parker, one of our most enthusiastic club members contributed to the gaiety of the week by giving a stag party Friday evening.

HAYDEN

The local postoffice changed hands the latter part of the week and it is now Postmaster G. W. Phillips and Assistant Postmaster Ruple. For some time arrangements have been under way for this change and Postmaster Harry Adams and Assistant W. P. Reynolds have been looking forward to it. The outgoing force carries the best wishes of all Haydenites and their loyal service is generally appreciated. Mr. Phillips is one of the oldest residents and a staunch Democrat. He has made his home in these parts most of the time for more than four years past. William E. Brooks, Jay Good, W. G. Duncanson and Gus Williams, all from Globe and vicinity were visitors in Hayden and other towns in this wing of the country the early part of the week.

During the week just past the Ray Shock ball team suffered a severe shock in the loss of eight of its members including the best of the bunch. This is an awful blow to local fans, but nevertheless, they are going ahead with renewed hope for the continuance of the sport here the rest of the season. The team has been turned over to Catcher Robinson as captain and he will take what material is available and work up another fast aggregation. In this new order of things we lose a good umpire as C. H. Studley aspires to the position of active member of the team and will be seen in uniform hereafter. Most of the players who deserted the colors were originally from coast cities and were unable to resist their longing for the waves. Those leaving for the coast were (Champion, Rose, Bogerson, Gimes, Goss, Lee, Healy, Catcher, Mitchell has gone with the Jewels of Mesa.)
