KEEP TO THE RIGHT TRAVEL HAS A BACKER

New Police on Duty at 8th Street and Mill Ave. Will be Assisted by Marshal

Old Man Wooden Policeman was returned to his job as traffic guard at the intersection of Mill Avenue and Eighth street yesterday afternoon and henceforth Ordinance No. 112 recently enacted by the council to govern travel by all varieties of motor propelled and horse drawn vehicles will become effective.

The former policeman that was guardian of travel at the important public school corner lived a short life of just two weeks. He was the first of his kind the town ever owned and he cared for his job bravely and without error until one dark night some luckless autoist engaged in a head-on collision and smashed him into a thousand pieces. The new guardian is painted all in white except for the $2.00 warning sign that stands out in bold black lettering as a suggestion to the would-be offender.

The new traffic ordinance governs all the travel within the corporate limits of the town and specifies that on Mill Avenue between First and Eighth street a machine or horse must proceed to a street intersection before turning to the opposite side of the street. The "keep to the right" plan of travel will be firmly impressed by the police and every effort will be made to regulate traffic as it should be.

PECULIAR ACCIDENT

An accident that might have resulted quite seriously for all concerned occurred Monday night as Judge C. O. Austin and party were enroute home in the surrey from the Independence day celebration at Riverside park. They were about a mile west of the bridge on the highway when a speeding auto forced them a little too close to the edge of the road. Fortunately the rig skidded slowly down the bank and eventually turned only onto its side, spilling all of the occupants only enough to cause some sore spots and a few bruises. The judge says he didn't figure he was so close to the edge but the glaring lights of the oncoming machine cut off all view of the roadway.

GRANDMA USED SAGE TEA TO DARKEN HAIR

She made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to bring back color, gloss, thickness

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant, remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggly and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

FARMERS THROG TO COUNTY FAIR ON CLOSING DAY

Program of Lectures on Practical Subjects Followed by Cowboy Sports—Fair Closes with Grand Ball in Evening.

With a program of interest to all the hundreds of farmers from all parts of the valley, with cowboy sports in the afternoon and a grand ball in the evening, Maricopa county's most successful fair came to a close yesterday.

Lectures on subjects of special interest to the farmers drew a large attendance, and it was in this part of the program that the greatest interest was manifest. The lectures were under the supervision of James Armstrong. The first talk was by Prof. Stanley P. Morse of the University of Arizona, who spoke on "Markets, Present and Future." He was followed by W. W. McConnell, who spoke on "The Dairy," and Frank Reed Sanders, who handled the subject "The Importance of Pure Bred Stock" in a masterly manner.

H. M. Fennemore, president of the Phoenix Chamber of Commerce spoke on the subject of "Markets," calling attention to the need of more systematized ways of handling farm products and emphasizing the possibilities in the large markets in the state. He was followed by W. E. Ferris, who gave a most interesting and instructive address on the subject of "Poultry Raising." Music by a quartet was a feature of the program.

After dinner everyone went down to McDonald street, where a number of good races were held. After the races were over, the baseball game at the ball park drew quite a crowd. The Mesa team applied the white wash to the Arizona Reds of Phoenix to the tune of 10 to 6.

After the game the cowboys from all over the state showed their skill in lassoing bronchos, and with the exception of one contestant, they all stuck.

Last night the Farmers' dance was held at the Mesa opera house. The attendance was very large and everyone enjoyed themselves to the utmost. Much of the success of the dance is due to the excellent work of the Mesa orchestra.

Children's Sports

As interesting, amusing and thoroughly entertaining as any one event of the day were the sports for children staged on McDonald and Main streets following the close of the patriotic exercises at the fair grounds. Entries ran as high as fifteen and twenty in nearly every event and the scramble at the close of the race for first place was accompanied by the enthusiastic cheering of the crowd that thronged the corners and on each side of the street for the entire block.

The one race of all was that participated in by the fat men, Marshall Bowen, Fred Brackett, Frank Givley and A. N. Smith. Bowen was the winner by a narrow margin. The shoe and sock race and the burro race were also especially amusing events on the list.

The results:
Egg race—Willie Frist, first; Joe Wing, second.
Girls' race—Para Ellsworth, first; Lavonne Boyer.
Wheelbarrow race—Clemens and Core, Riggs and Macdonald.
Three-legged race—Diehl and Clemens, Rollins and Core.
Burro race—Leroy Smith, Jim Ruston.
One hundred yard dash—Wiley Smith, C. Diehl.
Shoe and sock race—Clarence Vignault, Ed Shill.
Boys' race—E. Riggs, Andrew Vandante.

GERMAN FILMS SHOW REAL WAR

But the Movie Refs Will Be Used Only for Army Men

Moving pictures of actual war operations are being accumulated by the general staff of the German army in great quantity for the sole purpose of educating officers—now and in the future—in its war colleges. Something like three thousand films have been stored away in Berlin for this purpose, though a very few of the films have been allowed to go out to the public and a few more have been exhibited to officers on duty in Berlin to emphasize certain immediate lessons of modern fighting.

When the war is over the war colleges will fight over again all the different campaigns and attacks, to teach the officers how to detect wrong methods and right methods of procedure. The films will largely take the place of the accounts of eyewitnesses, on which war colleges have always relied.

At the very opening of the war the general staff equipped some moving picture operators for the field, stationing them with the staffs of the armies in the field. Each operator has a camera strapped to his chest and another to his back. These operators do not have tiring commissions, but remain at headquarters, ready to receive orders to proceed to any particular point where interesting operations are expected.

Many of them have taken up positions in the trenches prior to an attack on the trenches of the enemy, or prior to an expected attack by the enemy. Their films have been the most exciting but, on the whole, few good ones have been obtained, owing to the difficulties of taking a picture without destruction of the camera and the operator by the enemy.

Destruction of buildings by cannon fire, shelling of hostile airplanes, building trenches and rebuilding bridges appear in the greatest number among the accumulated films.

THE SCHOOLMA'AM

A school teacher is a person who teaches things to children when they are young. The teacher comes to school at 8:30 o'clock and when she has gotten enough for a meal in her room, she teaches them reading, writing, geography, grammar, arithmetic, music, drawing, reading, board games, crocheting, deep breathing, bird song, scientific cooking, patriotism, plain and fancy, building, forestry, clubs and other sciences too numerous to mention.

When school is out she stays behind with five or six or her worst scholars and tries to save the state the job of reforming them further. After that she hurries home to make herself a new dress and eat a hasty supper before going back to attend a lecture by an honored specialist on the history of tribal law in Patagonia, which the superintendent thinks may give her some information which may be useful in her school work some day.

A great many lectures from the country, praying on school teachers, and some of them are very cruel, making it seem so long that the poor things have to sit up until morning when they get home to get their daily rest papers corrected.

School teachers' salaries range from $30 a month up—but not far enough up to make them dirty. On her salary the teacher must dress nicely, buy herself things for her work which the city is too poor to get, go to teachers' meetings and concerts a year, buy helpful books on pedagogy, pay her way to district, county and state institutions, and enjoy herself during a three months' vacation which her salary takes each year. In addition the teacher is supposed to board away out of state of money, so that when she becomes too nervous to teach at the age of 50 or thereabouts, she can retire and live happily ever after on her income—Independence (Kas.) Reporter.
