GOVERNMENT WILL ERADICATE ROOT ROT IN ALFALFA

Relief is in sight for those whose alfalfa crops have been damaged by "root rot", a bacterial disease that has made slight raids in the Salt River valley, for a government expert has been assigned to Phoenix to remain and study the matter and its remedies until progress has been made.

Chief W. A. Taylor of the federal bureau of plant industry informed Harry Welch by letter yesterday that O. A. Pratt, a government pathologist now engaged in work at the federal station in Idaho, has been ordered to the Salt River valley on his way back east, with instructions to take all necessary steps to discover a remedy for root rot.

PROTEST ADVANCE—The corporation commission yesterday transmitted to the interstate commerce commission a petition for suspension of the advance on flavoring syrups from all points in western classification, to Arizona. The proposed advance is brought about by advancing this item from fourth to second class, and amounts to about 60 per cent.

This sum is contained in the report of the sheriff for the month of September. The fees amount to $235.70; fines $575.90 and licenses $280.00. PERHAPS BOOTLEGGERS—The arrest of Carmen Garcia, Jose Morales and Miguel Morales by Deputies Woolf and Sears of the Sheriff's office may develop into another bootlegging case for this county. They were arrested on complaint of employees of the Arizona Eastern shops on a drunk and disorderly charge.

A COMMERCIAL NIGHT SCHOOL

Opportunity Offered Students at High School Who Cannot Make Day Classes to Take Up All Business Lines in Evenings.

There will be a night school from now on at the high school for the purpose of giving boys and girls who work day times a chance to get a good education. It was the suggestion of C. L. Michael to start this school last Monday and a large crowd of students had gathered at the commercial department by seven thirty. It was a great surprise to think such a large number would appear for the first night's work, and they are still signing up. This is considered a good thing for boys and girls, who want an education and do not have the opportunity to take advantage of the day sessions. The commercial department is the greatest department of any high school and Phoenix has one of the best throughout the country.

This school will hold its sessions on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays of each week, from 7 to 9 p. m. Mrs. Jay and Mr. Michael will teach stenotypy, short hand and type writing, while Mr. Glass and Mr. Michael will teach the business subjects, such as book keeping, commercial arithmetic, penmanship and spelling.

M. R. Carlson of Los Angeles will give a speed demonstration on the stenotype machine next Monday night. Mr. Carlson is one of the fastest operators on the stenotype machine in the world and will show what speed is to the students present at the high school Monday night.

The company owns properties in the Weaver Mining district Yavapai county, 14 miles from Congress Junction. George S. FINANCES and MARKETS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Reactionary tendencies were uppermost through out the session despite new high records in war shares. It is this particular group, however, which manifested the increased heaviness, and the susceptibility of these issues to adverse influences—rumors in fact—and demonstrations of new artificial and speculative character of sensational movements in this class of stocks. The selling of many of these issues was resumed at the outset, the decline being in a nature of a continuation of yesterday's late operations. The early decline was soon checked mainly as a result of the improvement shown by railways but even this maneuver failed in its effect, the second decline setting in before noon. During the mid-session prices again lifted, in some instances rising to over their first recovery but all of these gains were wiped out later on the circulation of reports of an accident to an American vessel. The slight recovery, if anything, more hurried scramble to unload. When it was learned the accident consisted of nothing more than a minor explosion on a torpedo boat in home waters, the prices immediately retrieved their loss, only to go still lower during the final hour, the selling in that period was accelerated by the activity on the part of short interest which recognized on a hollow tone market, and made the most of the situation. Liquidation was most extensive in the later dealings, the support was hule warm at the best. The outcome of results in the closing were numerous in marginal accounts, to that degree the market now presents a stronger technical aspect. The sales were 1,175,000 shares, aggregating $3,820,000.
