

TONIGHT HOOSIERS WILL PAY TRIBUTE TO OLD HOME STATE

"Through the sycamores the candle-lights are gleaming.
On the banks of the Wabash, far away."

Former residents of Indiana now living in Phoenix and vicinity will in song and story, pay tribute to their old home state at a banquet to be given by the Indiana society at 6:30 o'clock tonight at the Woman's club.

The annual meeting of this Hoosier society this year has an added significance as it also will celebrate the admission, 101 years ago today, of that famous commonwealth into the union of states. The Indiana society will form an important part of the program which has been prepared for the occasion.

Levi Young, president of the local Indiana society, will preside at the ceremonies that are to take place following the banquet. Other speakers on that occasion will be T. C. Reynolds, Clyde M. Gandy and James O. Sexton. Particular attention has been paid to the musical numbers which are under the direction of Mrs. Clyde M. Gandy. In addition to an orchestra which will furnish music for the banquet, there will be a quartette and two special numbers. Mrs. Clara Hazard will sing "My Indiana Home." Two hundred plates have been reserved for the banquet.

It is stated that more than 1,000 former residents of Indiana now are living in the Salt River valley. A large number of these will be at the Woman's club tonight where they will unite in doing homage to their native state and also to explain why so many famous men and women have come from that member of the union. Local Hoosiers will, for the time, forget their native modesty and will relate some of the things that have made that state famous and likewise the people who hail from it. Tonight is strictly Hoosier night.

CHORUS PARTS TO BE ASSIGNED TO GRAND OPERA CAST

"The music for the grand opera, 'Cavalleria Rusticana,' has arrived, and Director Charles E. Carlson will meet the members of the chorus this evening at the Arizona School of Music at 7:30 o'clock. At this meeting members will receive their chorus parts and be informed as to the date of the first weekly rehearsal.

Those who wish to sing in the grand opera selected are requested to see Mr. Carlson this evening of this week, make application, receive the music and be registered in order to become a member of the Phoenix Opera club. Mr. Carlson will hold private voice tests, and will accept the musically inclined who can sing in tune.

Those who have not a slight knowledge of the reading of music, or who have not a dependable ear for tonality will not be considered. Previous vocal knowledge is not necessary, nor is it required that one be well versed in music, still, those who have had singing experience are preferred.

Basses, baritone and tenors are mostly in need, and men, both young and old, are invited to sing in this most useful of grand opera. Mr. Carlson wishes to assure all that it will be both an experience of pleasure and education to take part in this beautiful operatic work and that it should be considered an opportunity to be taken advantage of.

Mr. Carlson will explain what the requirements are to belong to the Opera club, and make it plain that there are no dues, nor will anyone in any way be required to make a financial payment.

RECONSTRUCTION HOSPITAL TO BE BUILT BY ELKS

Members of Phoenix Lodge No. 335, F. O. Elks, are taking much more than passing interest in the war work of the order. In doing "its bit" the big order has definitely agreed to erect and turn over to the government the first great hospital for the reconstruction of the wounded men. What is more, the government has as definitely agreed to accept this institution which will cost $250,000 and is to be paid for from funds donated by the order for that purpose, from its million dollar war relief fund.

The proposed hospital buildings will be erected on Parker hill, near the Robert Brigham hospital, in Boston. A recent statement issued by the Elks' war relief commission from its office, 149 Broadway, New York, says:

"This first reconstruction hospital, where our soldiers will be re-educated in occupations which will best fit them not to become a burden to society, will be erected in Boston. It will consist of a complete unit of twin ward hospital buildings, vocational workshops, barracks, mess hall, and post exchange. This was definitely decided upon today at a meeting of the Elks' War Relief Commission, composed of John E. Tenner, chairman; Joseph T. Fanning, secretary; Jerome B. Fisher, James R. Nicholson, Edward Richter, and Fred Harper, Grand Exalted Ruler, following a conference with Surgeon-General Gorman.

"The site will be on Parker Hill, Boston, contiguous to the Robert Brigham hospital. The institution will serve as the model, the standard-maker, for similar plants to be established throughout the United States. The buildings will be thoroughly modern in architecture, light and cheerful, and will have a well-trained and especially efficient professional staff."

Ex-Governor Tenner, chairman of the Elks' War Relief Commission, said: "In the beginning of the war, except for Germany, the nations, in the conservation of their men, conducted their work upon the lines that had held in all previous wars. Disease was to be prevented so far as possible and the treatment of the wounded consisted in saving life, with the expectation that discharge from the army with some sort of pension would be the future, if any permanent impairment of function remained. No medical or surgical thought apart from the saving of life was given or considered necessary. Within a few months, however, it became evident that the mere saving of life, unless it was followed by or associated with attempts to restore function to the damaged part, represented a waste that was so great that the very existence of the nation was jeopardized. Associated with this, the pathetic condition in which most of these young men were placed, with the greater part of their lives to live bound by their physical handicap, was too overwhelming not to make it obvious that something more than mere life-saving was called for."

"The government officials are particularly zealous for the Elks for this magnificent gift, which will tend to minimize the suffering and disabilities caused by the war," said Major Elliot G. Brackett, Director of Military Orthopedics, with headquarters in the surgeon general's office. "It is a fine thing for the nation and is of incalculable consequence from the standpoint of the happiness of the soldier. The need of this same rehabilitative work is being felt in every part of the world, and industrial problem has been evident for some time, and already attempts have been made to meet the need through the establishment of such work. It will result in one of the lasting contributions which can come out of the disasters of this war," added Dr. Brackett.

HARRY CRANDALL WINS SAND PULL

Admirers and extollers of the Indian, the Harley-Davidson and the Henderson, Harry Crandall, of Phoenix, won the sand pull which was held on the desert 5 miles out from Phoenix. Although the number of entrants was not as large as was desired, that was fully made up by the great amount of interest and enthusiasm shown and the fun that was derived from the sport.

The entrants and the time made in the time race follow:

1. Harry Crandall, Harley-Davidson; time 41 2-5 seconds.
2. Harold Bird, Indian; 42 seconds.
3. Bob Orput, Henderson; 42 1-3.
4. Harry Snyder, Indian; 42 3-5.
5. Jack Lee, Harley; 42 2-5.
6. Everett Higgins, Indian; 43.
7. Earl Barnum, Harley; 49 3-5.

In the free for all, Price Orlo won with his Indian. His time which was 35 2-5 seconds, exceeded all time made on that course by 5 4-5 seconds. The other entrants checked in in the order named: Bob Orput, Henderson; Harry Crandall, Harley; and Harry Snyder, Indian.

Harry Hunter of the Lexington Motor Car company, County Officer Watson and Jack Barr, of the Barr Insurance agency, acted as official timers.

Following is the list of prizes, which were given, and their donors:

"Red Top" casing, Fisk Rubber company; 5 gal. heavy Zerolene, Standard Oil company; 1 gal. Harvill, Paul Bennett; 3 spark plugs, Smith-Dugan company; 1 gal. Monogram oil, Motor Supply company; inner tube, Ed Rudolph; 2 spark plugs, Square Deal Garage; 1 pair goggles, Cal Messner; 1 cap, Goldberg's; 1 silk tie, Hanny's; can of patches, Payne-Saunders company.

In order to demonstrate the fine qualities of his 1918 Harley-Davidson, Harry Crandall offered to bet any one in the crowd that he would out race any big valve Indian machine on the grounds. Snyder, who rides a 1917 Indian, not only accepted the wager but raised Crandall. When the time for the race arrived, Crandall recalled his bet, so the affair was called off.

CIRCLE PREPARES FOR INSTALLATION

Plans are being made for the installation of the newly elected officers of Phoenix Grove No. 1, Woodmen Circle, which will take place the first Monday in January. A regular meeting of the circle was held Monday evening at the K. of P. hall, with Mrs. Nora B. Fulton in the chair and all the officers at their stations. Mrs. Mamie Fleming, state manager, was present and gave a short talk and assisted in the degree work.

Election of officers was the most important business transacted. Mrs. Nora B. Fulton, who has been the guardian for the past term, was passed to the past guardian station. Mrs. Theresa Brown, who has held the advisor's chair the past year, was given the highest honor of the grove, being elected guardian. Mrs. Myrtle Chambers was elected to fill the station vacated by Mrs. Brown. Mrs. Nellie S. Trotter, clerk, and Mrs. Lillian Moshhammer, were re-elected to their respective stations. Mrs. Lillian Moshhammer was chosen for the office of attendant, and Mrs. Janet Wilson as chairman. Mrs. Satina Willard accepted the office of junior sentinel, and Mrs. Mary E. Clark, that of outer sentinel. The managers elected were: Sovereigns Annie M. Brophy, Eva Agner and Suzie Nafziger. Doctors L. D. Deaton and G. E. Couch were re-elected as grove physicians.

NOGAY CLUB MEET TO ELECT OFFICERS

HAYDEN, Dec. 9.—The Nogay club annual meeting for the election of officers for the ensuing year was held at 8 o'clock with a large crowd of members in attendance. H. R. Christie, of the construction department, was elected president, while Joe Kerr was elected vice president and Charlie Hurst was re-elected secretary and treasurer. A board of governors was also elected. This board consists of one man from each department who will serve for one year.

After the business meeting, a smoker and refreshments were enjoyed by the many members present and a general good time indulged in.

D. D. Moffat, Ed. Engelman and Verne Heath, accompanied by their wives, motored to Tucson on Tuesday returning the same day.

Many parties from Hayden motored over to Winkelman on Wednesday and Friday evenings to skate at the rink which is greatly enjoyed by the skaters.

The women of the Red Cross have sent out for the month of November about 120 knitted garments, 63 pajamas and 24 ambulant pillows. It is probable that a greater number will be turned out for the month of December.

The women are devoting much time to the grand work and deserve great credit. This board consists of one man from each department who will serve for one year.

GARBAGE CANS FOR ONE WHO OBJECTS TO DRILLS AND WAR

He didn't want to fight because he was a conscientious objector and his mother "didn't raise her boy to be a soldier." The military authorities didn't want to force drills and manual of arms upon him so they let him empty the garbage cans around Camp Funston. Now he feels that he has been mistreated and is endeavoring to get out of camp altogether. He has made a number of appeals to various forms of influence and authority, but he is still at Camp Funston.

The singular case of this non-combatant is one of the few of that character which have come to the attention of the Maricopa county local exemption board. In California they were less considered and "put him up" in the newspapers, he told the local board, but the Maricopa county officials feel sorry for him and have requested that his name be withheld.

In his scramble to separate himself from all things military, this objector has laid his case before the superintendent of one railroad, who, it was darkly hinted to him "had influence with the government," before one minister residing in Phoenix, California, and finally before President Wilson. The president was unable to grasp the man's viewpoint so sent back word that he affirmed the decision of the Maricopa county local exemption board, and implied that he guessed as to what Mr. Objector was physically able to tote garbage cans on his back there was no reason why his mere residence in a military camp should jar on his pacifist scruples.

Many Enlisting
"An average of 15 men a day is enlisting in the army and the navy," said a member of the local board yesterday.

"At least we are granting that some permits each day and the presumption is that the men are enlisting."

Docket sheets and other work preparatory to the sending out of questionnaires, the members of the board completed and the board, though pending a great deal of work, will be in a position to meet the situation when the truth begins.

CHANDLER GOLFERS PLAY IN SUNSHINE

CHANDLER, Dec. 9.—Farmers may sigh for rain, but it is hard for the golfers, who this past week have made the San Marcos links vocal with their calls of "Fore!" to complain of cloudless days and sparkling sunshine. Among the players who were noticed on the links last Sunday were Charles McArthur, Dr. H. J. Jessop, Coleman Rogers, Kimball Bannister, Hal Bennett, Dr. McWhighen, J. W. Satter, white, Dr. Roy E. Thomas, G. E. Goodrich and Mr. and Mrs. Webb Griffin.

G. H. Dowell and J. E. Curry, of Douglas and Warren, were guests at the hotel for several days last week, and spent much of their time on the links. Ed More, of Grand Rapids, Mich.; A. G. Bartlett, Boston, and E. Krueger of Chicago, were also out of town golfers of the past few days.

Perhaps the leading social event of the week was a dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hanna to a number of their friends on "dinner date" night at the hotel. The dinner was served in banquet style at one great table, with American Beauty roses for table decorations. Dancing completed the evening's entertainment. The guests included Miss Elston of Flagstaff, Miss Lloyd of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Howard and Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Griffin of Phoenix, and Mrs. P. E. Fuller, Dr. and Mrs. R. F. Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Spangler, Mr. and Mrs. M. Vauht and Mr. and Mrs. Donald McQueen of Mesa.

On the same evening, Dr. A. J. Chandler was host at dinner to Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Robinson, Miss Helen Smith and Miss Dorothy Robinson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Code, of Hollywood, Cal. are guests at the San Marcos for a month or more. Mr. Code here on business connected with the Goodyear cotton plantation, of which he is consulting engineer.

Mrs. John M. Dwyer and Miss Melinda Dwyer of Detroit, who spent much of last winter at the San Marcos, are among the arrivals of the past week. Vincent Dwyer, who is driving his car overland from Colorado, is expected to arrive in a few days.

Robert Livermore and Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Watson motored over from Ingleside for luncheon on Tuesday.

Other recent arrivals at the San Marcos include Mrs. W. H. Acheson, Pittsburg; H. L. Mundy, St. Paul; John M. Abbot, Boston; Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Hamilton and family and Miss Jenkins, Westbrook, Conn.; Mrs. Isaac Milbank and Miss Grace Warburton, Los Angeles; C. S. Bois, Ed A. Thillweller, Miss Foster and Miss Rae Beauchamps, Phoenix.

SCOTTSDALE FOLK PICNIC ON DESERT

SCOTTSDALE, Dec. 8.—Mrs. L. M. Padin, of Chandler, Maricopa, Clark and Frank Poole participated in a delightful desert picnic Sunday, at which other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Barnes of Los Angeles; Misses Loreta, Pearl and Genevieve Miller of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Beverly Cox, Messrs. J. C. Howard and Richard Jones of Phoenix. The novelty of a picnic on a balmy December day made a distinct appeal especially to the members of the party who were used to Lake Michigan's wintry waters, and they professed themselves much delighted with an Arizona winter.

Miss Hale of Phoenix is a new resume his military duties at Leon Springs, and Mrs. Studley will locate at San Antonio for the present.

R. I. Ezell, cashier for the Ray Con, while going to Tucson last week in an automobile, met with a painful accident when the car overturned, breaking his collar-bone.

The Ray Con general office moved into their new office December 8. This gives the boys much more convenient quarters than the old one on the hill.

The Toggery is having a big "discontinuation" sale and many bargains are being displayed at this popular store. Mr. Milne, the new manager, is a wide-awake business man and will make many friends in Hayden.

RED CROSS ACTIVITIES

Recent shipments of the Phoenix chapter of the Red Cross will give the public some idea of what the vast amount of work that is being accomplished in the headquarters in the chamber of commerce as well as the outside help that is being received from various sources. According to Mrs. W. K. James, chairman of supplies, 12,264 articles have been shipped to the division headquarters. Even at this rate Mrs. James says that ten times the number of knitted things, including 200 sets and 500 articles, could have been made had the chapter been able to secure the yarn.

The knitted articles only represent the yarn we were able to secure and is no proof of the work the members are able and willing to do," she declared. Here are the exact figures of the goods expressed: Hospital garments—675 suits of pajamas, 300 bed sheets, 100 bath towels, 100 pairs of socks, 100 operating caps, 96 helmets, 54 leggings, 16 hot water bag covers, surgical dressings—2000 bandages, (hand rolled) 2700 gauze dressings, 1000 knitted mitts, 27 fracture pillows, hospital supplies—450 sheets, 200 pillow cases, 400 wash cloths, 1000 towels, 250 napkins, 650 handkerchiefs. There were 125 packages of miscellaneous dressings and garments, including shoulder wraps, bed socks, etc. Ten beds at Camp Funston hospital, apportioned to the regiment to which the Arizona soldiers being sent were equipped with 100 blankets, 100 pairs of slippers and 100 pairs of socks.

This with the 1125 Christmas packets comprised "a bit" of the early winter work of the chapter.

The conference of the Phoenix chapter of the Red Cross and officials of the Pacific division which is being held today will unquestionably stimulate the Red Cross in the state. The conference will be held in the chamber of commerce headquarters, and in addition to the local officers and delegates, five delegates from each branch will be present. The members of the Red Cross from the coast include Marshall Hale, manager of the Pacific division, C. J. O'Connor, director of the bureau of civilian relief, Mrs. Helen McLeish, Hayden, the general director of the junior auxiliary work, Mrs. Theodore Carlin, general manager of the salvage bureau and William W. Hush, field representative of the Pacific division.

The entertainment committee which has planned every hour of the visitors' stay, includes Roy S. Goodrich, chairman, Mrs. W. K. James and Bishop Atwood. Bishop Atwood will preside over a luncheon for the men of the party and the women will also be entertained at luncheon by prominent Red Cross workers.

For the first time in many Mondays there will be no sewing at the Red Cross headquarters in the Chamber of Commerce. The conference of the Pacific coast division officials and local officers and delegates will be held in the sewing room which will be opened for service again on Monday morning.

Soldiers guarding Arizona interests will be remembered at Christmas by the local chapter of the Red Cross, according to the announcement made by Mrs. W. K. James, chairman of supplies.

Mrs. James stated that the chapter wished to send personal greetings to the men who are stationed at Roosevelt and Granite Reef. On Christmas morning every soldier will receive a packet of cheer to express in a small way the appreciation of the Phoenix chapter for the services they are rendering. The hospital at Funston which has been equipped by this chapter, will also receive Christmas remembrances. The Christmas Packet committee

HOT FOR VIOLINISTS

At a recent violin recital in New York, where Godowsky and Elman, the violinist, sat listening to the greatest violinist the world ever produced according to Henderson of the "Sun," Elmer remarked: "Rather hot in this room"—to which Godowsky replied, "Yes, hot for violinists." This remark is typical of Godowsky's alacrity of mind at the keyboard, and his concert in Phoenix January 19, promises to be a rare treat. Two of the best events of the season come to Phoenix in January, the other attraction being the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra of 55 artists, here January 21.

JOHNSON OFFERS PLANTS OF LEAGUE

[Republican A. P. Leased Wire]
CHICAGO, Dec. 9.—President Ben B. Johnson of the American league tonight suggested that the government assume control of American league baseball clubs during the coming season and then give them to the club owners four per cent of the profits.

"This does not mean four per cent of the investment, but simply four per cent of whatever proceeds the government may make in operating the plants, and I am sure there is not a club owner in the league who is not willing to operate at a loss next season if it will help the government in any way," Johnson said.

President Johnson said he believed the club owners would be willing to give their plants for any purpose the government might see fit.

GOULLET AND MAGIN WIN BICYCLE RACE

[Republican A. P. Leased Wire]

The distance covered by the seven leading teams was 2,514 miles, 7 laps. The event this year lasted to within two minutes of 14 hours. VALVE CARE

The principal disadvantage charged against the valve-in-head motor, especially those of the valve type, is the difficulty of properly cooling the valves. This difficulty is not pronounced in the case of the inlet valves, because the incoming gas is cool and keeps the valves fairly cool; but it does mean that the exhaust will need frequent grinding. In many cases type motors the valves must be watched to see that they do not turn around, and thus cut off the inlet or exhaust.

FORD WILL CONTINUE MAKING TOURING CARS

Ford owners throughout the country have been made needlessly alarmed by the report that Henry Ford will build no more passenger cars until the war is over. The report is untrue. The new United States regulations which govern the manufacture of passenger cars will be observed by the Ford plant as well as by the other makers, but just what the ruling will be nobody knows just now, and meanwhile the manufacture of Ford passenger cars continues.

The Ford company is devoting a portion of its equipment to war materials but has not discontinued its regular output.
