NORMAL PLEASURES RESUMED IN LOCAL SOCIETY CIRCLES

Now that the holiday season is over, society will resume its normal pleasures which will have to do largely with benefit affairs or informal events that have been the order of gayety since the declaration of war last spring.

Affairs are hurriedly planned and the calendar fails to register a function more than a week away. The most notable function of this week will be the Red Cross card afternoon to be given at the Woman's club Wednesday by Mary Brodie, Auxiliary.

The past week's pleasure was confined to watch parties, the most notable New Year's Eve event being the domino affair at the Country club, attended by seventy guests.

Mrs. Harry A. Jones Is Hostess on New Year's Eve

Mrs. Harry A. Jones presided over a smartly appointed dinner New Year's Eve, later entertaining her guests at the domino dance at the Country club. Pointsettias were used in effective decoration and covers were arranged for Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dunbar, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rowlands, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Kingsbury, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barber, Mr. and Mrs. Carleton Wood, Mrs. Coit Myers, Miss Henrietta Olney, Robert Coulter and Joe Cassou.

Miss Florence Bartlett is leaving the end of the week for Chicago, after a pleasant fortnight in Phoenix, the guest of her sister, Mrs. Dwight B. Heard. Miss Bartlett will pass a brief period in Chandler before her return east. One of the most interesting coming events will be the illustrated lecture to be given by the clever visitor at the Woman's club Tuesday evening, when she will discuss her recent travels in northern Africa.

Dr. and Mrs. Sweek Entertain With An Informal Dance

The red and green color scheme noted at all holiday functions was effectively carried out. Covers were laid for Mrs. E. R. Everling, Miss Virginia Davis, Fred Blair Townsend and Fritz Holmquist.

Jack Griffin Guest of Honor At Affair Given By Parents

Jack Griffin was the guest of honor at one of the most delightful events of the gay season on New Year's eve when his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Griffin made him the incentive for a charmingly arranged dinner followed by a box party at the Elks. The charm of the Griffin home on North Second street was accentuated in its artistic holiday decoration. The dining room was especially effective in its wealth of Christmas fancies. Holiday bells were suspended from the chandelier and formed a veritable canopy over the basket of crimson flowers, the table's centerpiece. The lights, too, were shaded in the scarlet tone. The place cards carried out the idea expressed in the decorations and the floral favors, a corsage of violets for the girls and a carnation for the men added to the general effectiveness. A tree laden with clear and amusing gifts furnished no end of fun. Those there were Miss Laura Spangler, Miss Martha Spangler and Miss Isabel Hanna of Mesa, Miss Mary Josephine Collins, Leola Moore, Harold Moore and Howard Hildreth.

Complimentary to Miss Isabel Klugel, Mrs. Sims Ely gave an informal luncheon at the Arizona club Thursday, her remaining guests being Mrs. E. E. Kirkland and Mrs. Hugh E. Campbell.

San Diego Visitor Incentive For Number of Pretty Affairs

Miss Isabel Klugel, an attractive San Diego visitor, was the inspiration for a number of delightful affairs during the past few days, one of the most pleasurable being the dinner of twelve covers over which Mrs. E. E. Kirkland presided on New Year's day. The guest of honor was Mrs. Kirkland's guest during her stay in Phoenix returned to the California coast last evening.

R. H. Greene was a dinner host at the Son of a Gun Club on New Year's night, his guests including Mr. and Mrs. James Griffin, Mrs. E. S. Griffin, Mrs. E. A. Cooper and Jack Griffin.

Mrs. Mose Drachman arrived from Tucson Thursday for an indefinite stay with Mrs. B. A. Piekas. Mrs. Drachman's visits are always the incentive for a number of smart affairs.

Corporal Lester De Mund left Thursday for Camp Funston after a brief though pleasant visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Peter De Mund.

Mrs. Redwell and Miss Alice Redwell Are Returning

It will be welcome news to their legion of friends to learn that Mrs. Augustus Redwell and Miss Alice Redwell are returning to Phoenix very shortly. They had planned to be home for the holidays but were unavoidably detained in New York for a fortnight.

Mr. and Mrs. Sims Ely were dinner hosts Friday evening to Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Loe of Hutchinson.

Dr. and Mrs. George Edwin Blair had as guest over the New Year Elmer A. Fern of Camp Kearney who was the motif for a theater party and supper given by the Blairs.

In celebration of the twenty-fourth birthday of their son, Warren Parker, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Parker gave a delightful dinner on New Year's night entertaining Corporal Lester De Mund and Tom Geare.

West Washington Street People Give Entertainment

Mrs. Joseph Cope and Miss Genevieve Cope were dinner hostesses on New Year's day when they gave a pleasant affair at their West Washington street home. Fragrant Chinese lilies were used in decoration. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tait, Mrs. Susan Tait, Miss Edith Fisher of New York, Miss Catherine Tait, Miss Margaret Tait, Miss Winifred Tait, Miss Mary Louise Pinney and Roy Tait.

Mrs. Henry W. Allen, Jr., of Colorado Is to Pass the Remainder of the Winter Season in Phoenix

It is to pass the remainder of the winter season in Phoenix the guest of her sister-in-law, Mrs. W. W. McNeff. Mrs. Allen arrived from the California coast a few days ago. Mr. Allen, Charles Allen and Charles Allen, Jr., with whom she has been making a motor tour of the west. The men of the party will return to their home shortly. Mrs. Allen remaining in Phoenix until spring.

Friends of Dick Hall, a winter resident of Phoenix have learned with interest that he has been made a lieutenant in the aviation corps. Lieutenant Hall is stationed at Houston, Texas.

Jack Griffin is returning to Flagstaff today after enjoying the holiday season at home. Young Griffin is a popular student at the Northern Arizona Normal school.

Students at Stanford Leave After the Holidays

A number of Stanford students home for the holiday fortnight returned to the university yesterday. Those leaving for the coast last night were Harold Goldberg, Walter Martin, Paul Sweeney and Wallace Kolberg. Those leaving earlier in the week, Joe Doran, Harry Bern and George Luhrs.

Eustace, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Nettleton, Dr. and Mrs. G. D. Conover, and Dr. Kimball Bannister.

Mr. and Mrs. Barry Goldwater Give Delightful Dance Party

Quite the most attractive events of New Year's night was the informal dance given by Mr. and Mrs. Barry Goldwater at their home on North Central avenue. The holiday decorations prevailed in the living room, while the patriotic idea was carried out in the tent of flags, where the past, present and future were told the guests by a gypsy maid.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Craig Leaving Phoenix Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Craig are leaving Saturday for Santa Barbara, where they will take up their residence. They will pass Sunday in Los Angeles with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Strong Witbeck and it is quite possible that their going to the coast to live will change the plans of the Whitbeck's who contemplated wintering here. The Craigs have a legion of friends who greatly regret their departure.

Mrs. J. W. Dorris of Casa De Rosas gave an informal tea Wednesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. P. T. Wright and Mrs. W. R. Rand of St. Paul who left the following day for the California coast after a two months' stay in Phoenix.

Miss Mary Leavell Pauses at Castle Hot Springs

Miss Mary Leavell is passing the week end at Castle Hot Springs, the guest of Mrs. J. G. Batelle enroute for San Francisco, where she will take a three year's course in nursing at the Lane Hospital. The charming society girl is eager to take up the work which has always appealed to her, to which so many young women are now turning.

their attention. She was the guest of honor at a number of affairs before her departure on Thursday, one of the particularly delightful being the New Year's dinner given by her brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Roland H. Parsons. Besides Mr. and Mrs. Sims Ely, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McAlister, Miss Edna Swingle, Miss Grace Tufts, Miss Helen Tufts and Northcutt Ely.

Junior Set Enjoys Week of Exceptional Gayety

The Junior set again monopolized the week's gayety and countless affairs were registered on the social calendar by high school girls. One of the most delightful events was the New Year's afternoon event given by Miss Mary Janice Hulet in honor of Miss Margaret Christy of Flagstaff and Miss India Smalley, recently arrived from Tucson to make her home here. The living room was decorated in Christmas greenery with a prettily ornamented tree as the motif for the holiday scheme. The decorations were the additional Christmas idea expressed in the appointments. Hearts was played, the prize winners being Miss Marion Pascoe and Miss Janice Manning. Asked to meet the complimented guests were Mrs. Joseph Brown, Jr., Miss Dorothy Brownfield, Miss Mary Josephine Collins, Miss Mildred Dorris, Miss Dolly Franklin, Miss Mary Louise Pinney, Miss Loe Ella Campbell, Miss Marion Pascoe, Miss Edith Burtis, Miss Jane Christy, Miss Janice Manning, Miss Thelma Blandy, Miss Marion Duncan, Miss Gertrude Evans, Miss Patricia Tharadson, Miss Lois Leavett, Miss Ruth Burtis, Miss Hilda Dickinson, Miss Merle Belt, Miss Marion Davidson, Miss Lucile Mills, Miss Louise Connor and Miss Jessie Humphrey.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Crabb Entertain for Their Son

In honor of their son, Cecil Crabb, here from Pomona College for the holiday season, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Crabb gave a charmingly arranged dance New Year's eve at their home, 1915 North Second street. The living room, dining room and den were attractively decorated in the Christmas colors, red and green, with innumerable bells and wreaths and long stemmed American beauty rose buds to carry out the chosen tones. The patriotic touch was given in the use of the flag and the place of prominence given the portrait of the president. The Hartman orchestra furnished the dance program. The invited guests were, with few exceptions, graduates of the local high school and included Miss Maud Stewart, Miss Dorris Christy, Miss Edith James, Miss Pearl

Davis, Miss Ida Mae Golze, Miss Angela Marshall, Miss Edith Harrison, Miss Lois Tuckey, Miss Ruth Land, Miss Midge Kilpatrick, Miss Dorothy Hult, Miss Ruth Kohlberg, Miss Lucilla Grable, Miss Nettie Bowen, Ber Taylor, Lee Moore, Harlow Akers, Horace McKee, Lewis Irvine, Joe Smith, Maurice Hennerington, Henry Stokes, Donald Hult, Albert Gerwick, Wallace Kohlberg, Fritz Griswold and David Kisselberg.

Miss Marion Bennett Acts Hostess at Pretty Affair

Miss Marion Bennett, who returns to Los Angeles tomorrow to continue her studies at Marlborough, was hostess of a charming affair on New Year's night when she entertained with a dance at her home on North Central avenue. The Christmas decoration in vogue during the holidays was carried out in the living room and dining room where holly wreaths and bells were arranged effectively. In the library a pink color scheme was expressed in the artistic use of roses. The guests were Miss Dorothy Brownfield, Miss Ellen Burton, Miss Gertrude Evans, Miss Ruth Burtis, Miss Mary Sloan,

The Business-Bringing Office

Business men no longer go from a comfortable, convenient home to a shabby office filled with shabby furniture, and Efficiency is conspiring to help him. Business furniture then, must first be efficient.

The office desk must be something more than a table to write on, the filing cabinet something more than a closet to poke things into—yet grace and beauty should not be side-tracked when the office furniture is bought. Consider the desk; whether it be wood or steel it should contain within its user's reach every possible accessory or auxiliary to the dispatch of business. A glass desk pad isn't a bad scheme—price lists and other data are always visible without being in the way. There's also a difference in efficiency in office chairs. The swivel chair should swing easily on its pinions, not wobble or squeak; the spring holding the back should be strong, so that stout gentlemen may not suddenly turn turtle.

There should be comfortable arm chairs for visitors; the order from the out-of-town customer will be closed more rapidly when the order giver is himself made comfortable first. The efficiency-seeking office manager will not overlook the many desk accessories, some one or two of which invariably furnish "short cuts" to this or that—filing drawers, swinging stands, stationery cabinets, etc.

Good office furniture provokes good business. The customer or other visitor to an office filled with odds and ends, or with the bargain relics of other men's failures, which came via the auction route or the sheriff's sale, or with the ugly furniture "that father used" full of sentiment, but shy on utility, is apt to conclude that the service is on a par with its furnishings.

Size up your office today and if it looks a little shabby make plans to better it (an up to date office quickly pays for itself), and get some good pointers on how you can improve your office conditions at
