

NEW PHONE LINE IN ESTANCIA VALLEY

Sunshine Valley Public Utility Company Will Begin Work at Once.

Santa Fe, N. M., Oct. 15.—Articles of incorporation have been filed in the territorial secretary's office by the Sunshine Valley Public Utility company, which has for one of its objects the operation of local and long distance telephone lines in the Estancia valley town. Other purposes of the new corporation as outlined in its charter are to operate electric light and power plants and water works systems. The total authorized capital stock is placed at $25,000.

The company is composed of some of the prominent business men in the Estancia valley. Dr. W. A. Wilson is the president, Dr. C. D. Otosen, secretary, E. P. Davies, treasurer and H. A. Hart, general manager. Dr. Wilson is proprietor of a drug store at Willard and is also engaged in the practice of the medical profession. Dr. Otosen is also a physician who has had many years of experience in several eastern states and is looking for a location in the Estancia valley to practice his profession. Mr. Davies is cashier of the Torrance County Savings bank and is also an attorney at law. Mr. Hart, who is the general manager of the company, is a son of Mrs. H. W. Warner, manager of the office of the Postal Telegraph company in this city, and who was for some time located at Tuxedo. He is an expert electrician and has had several years' experience in telephone operation.

It is the intention of the company to proceed at once with the construction of telephone toll lines and exchanges through the Estancia valley and extending the system in to Santa Fe. The materials to be used will be of the best obtainable and it is said the exchanges to be put in will be as fine as any in the territory outside of those operated by the Bell companies. One exchange is already in operation at Willard.

The company has entered into negotiations to connect with the Colorado Telephone company, which will give it telephonic communication with all points in northern and western New Mexico, El Paso, Texas, and all Colorado points reached by the Colorado Telephone company.

TUCUMCARI CHURCH TO INSTALL PASTOR

Rev. Warner H. DuBoise is Second Presbyterian Minister to be Installed in New Mexico in Past Three Months.

Tucumcari, N. M., Oct. 15.—(Special.)—The Presbyterian church of this place, though but two years old as an organization, is an illustration of the wonderful growth of the country and the public spirit of the rapidly increasing population. The church on Wednesday night will install their present minister, Rev. Warner H. DuBoise, as pastor, and the money is practically raised for the building of a $5,000 structure. The church has grown from a mere handful at its inception to a large congregation.

Rev. John R. Gas, the synodical missionary of the territory, Rev. Manuel Madrid, of Mora, N. M.; and Rev. Samuel Magill, of Raton, N. M., will be the committee appointed by the presbytery of Santa Fe of the synod of New Mexico to preside and install the pastor.

Mr. DuBoise will be the second pastor of this presbytery to be installed in the last month. Rev. J. W. Purcell, Ph.D., of the church at Santa Fe, having been installed at that place two weeks ago.

The long distance telephone to the southeast, which makes connection at Tuxedo with the Roosevelt County Telephone company, and thus reaching all points in Roosevelt county and in both directions on the Pecos valley lines of railway and the Eastern Railway of New Mexico is now installed and is giving excellent service. The line is owned by Tom Reagan, of Tuxedo, N. M.

The business interests of this town and Melrose, N. M., appreciate the direct connection which is given both places through the automobile line, which is in operation between Tucumcari and Melrose. The Hartford Development company, with headquarters at Melrose owns the line. The service is daily and traveling men especially appreciate the advantage of the short line between the two places and touching as it does the towns of House, Quay, Roosevelt and Cap Rock, town of Hartford.

The colonist excursions of the Rock Island railway are bringing train loads of immigrants to this country each excursion week. The real estate men and the locators for government land are kept busy. It is not believed that so many have come prospecting in previous years. There is scarcely a piece of government land to be found in the county, and most prospectors are buying out claim holders at good prices.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, due to cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and he is right. Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets—cures blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, pleasant, delicate, gentle, though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure. If it's painful periods with women, same cause. If you are restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 30 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unusual blood pressure.

Brush your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does, it's congestion, blood pressure. You find it where pain is—always. It's simply Common Sense.

We sell at 25 cents, and cheerfully recommend

STOCK MARKET UNSETTLED AGAIN

Metropolitan Securities Dislosures and Other Features Responsible This Time.

New York, Oct. 15.—Confidence has received another rude shock through the amazing exposures resulting from the Metropolitan Securities investigation. It is now over two years since public disclosures of breach of trust in high finance circles began, followed by the collapse of the copper manipulation, and finally these scandals connected with the local traction situation.

Hence no wonder confidence is seriously disturbed! And who is responsible? Messrs. Roosevelt and Hughes, who have been instruments of exposure—or the individuals who conceived and conducted these operations and abused the trusts placed in their charge? Of course the guilty protest against financial house-cleaning. Of course, they endeavor to ward off official investigations on the plea that they disturb confidence. But responsibility for the latter should be placed distinctly where it belongs; upon the perpetrators of misdeeds and not upon those who are the means of turning on the light and preventing future operations of this sort.

Those who have trifled contemptuously with public interests and displayed blind disregard of stockholders' rights are the real culprits. It becomes daily more evident that when our corporations are honestly managed, the public and stockholders will get their dues, values will become more stable, and American credit will be now at such a low ebb in all the great financial centers of the world will be restored to its rightful status.

Throughout all these disclosures there is one gleam of encouragement and that is that public opinion is aroused and will insist upon clean, as well as capable management. Eventually these disclosures will result in the raising of the standard of corporate management, but meanwhile the public is dazed by these scandalous revelations and wonders what financial inquiry will be brought to light.

Other Influences.

Stock market values were also unsettled by other influences. Monetary conditions are still very unsatisfactory. The demands for raising the crops and for general business are very large; the situation being materially aggravated by the high prices of wheat and foreign buyers. The situation is rendered more acute by the fact that we cannot depend upon Europe for financial aid to anything like the degree which we have done for the last three or four years. Our credit abroad has not only been impaired by well known conditions, but we are less able to command that assistance than usual.

Usually at this season there is an ample supply of grain and cotton, but the market which can either be depended upon to bring gold this way if needed, or to extend our credit abroad. Exports of both wheat and cotton, however, are more or less restrained by high prices. It is probably true that eventually Europe will be compelled to take our wheat and cotton on a high basis, but the fact that foreign buyers at present are holding off is more or less detrimental to the local financial situation.

Bank Reserves.

The Bank of England reserve declined this week to 46 1/2 per cent, and the Bank of France is also rumored to be figuring on drawing gold from this side. Were our bank reserves in a position to stand any increased strain, the situation would be more assuring, but surplus reserves are very small, and their restoration will be difficult until crop funds begin to return from the interior, which at the earliest will not be before November first. It is possible that Secretary Cortes will be able to give the market further assistance in case of emergency, and his prudent course, of relieving pressure at points of necessity without unduly exhausting his sources of relief, is one that gives hope that further aid will be forthcoming if needed.

Situation Unsatisfactory.

The situation abroad is still unsatisfactory. On the Continent especially there seems to have been a very similar overdoing to that which has been experienced in the United States. Capital is practically as scarce over there as here; the principal difference being that the situation is not aggravated by the discreditable operations which have unfortunately occurred on this side. Local bankers are exceedingly conservative, showing a disposition to curtail credit and to be much more exacting as to collateral.

Just One Element.

There is just one other element which tends to delay the restoration of confidence, and that is the growing conviction that the present year has witnessed a turning point in business and that we are to face at least a moderate business and industrial reaction. Wall street has held to this opinion for some time past, but the conviction is now extending beyond, and naturally has a perceptible—though indirect—effect upon stock market values—chiefly the industrial.

It is quite evident that any curtailment of manufacturing profits would quickly affect the common stocks of these properties; and since many of these still contain a large proportion of water the shrinkage would naturally become more severe. This explains why bankers are discriminating more and more against this class of collateral.

Substantial Investment.

The railroads, are of course, a much more substantial class of investment. They are not dependent upon a single industry for their support as are many of the industries, and what they may temporarily lose in one division of their traffic can be compensated for in other. It is a matter of easy demonstration that railroad traffic is a much more stable element in business than the sales or profits of any mercantile or industrial corporation. Of course, the net profits of our railroads are more or less threatened by the enormous increase in expenses, which puts them in a poor position to meet any contraction of traffic.

Nevertheless, railroad securities have had an extraordinary decline; quite sufficient to avert any serious panic and even should dividends be reduced many of them would ultimately prove profitable investments at present prices, although it need cause no surprise if they recede to still lower levels before the close of the year.

The bond market continues in a very unsatisfactory condition. Here, too, are the possibilities of profitable investment with little danger from loss of revenue; but the general exhaustion of buying power is evident and shows that the country has not yet had the opportunity of accumulating a sufficient supply of new capital.

The outlook of the market is extremely uncertain. This is not a good time for buyers to get into debt, and conservatism is strongly urged in all stock market operations. For the present at least, I continue to advise my friends to try and keep what they have got instead of trying to make more through hazardous risks.

Aren't You guilty of the Act Yourself?

The Albuquerque Citizen doesn't claim to have discovered something elementally new, but they have some fellows around the place who are mighty slick at hanging the old things together in new and taking ways. They'd fix you up an ad that would make even Solomon himself have some doubts about the old proverb.

Solomon says there is nothing new under the sun, and Solomon is an authority. He may have done some things that were somewhat shoddy, but it has never been satisfactorily proven that he ever misrepresented.

Conceded, then, that he knew what he was talking about when he made that statement, how do you account for the queer things that bob up now and then that nobody ever saw before?

My dear Sir, they are all merely new combinations of old things. You can't even think of a really new thing. Try to think of a new animal. To save your soul, you can't help thinking of legs and eyes and teeth and tails, which are all old and well known things. Try something else.
