GRAYS EVENED THINGS WITH SANTA FE MEN YESTERDAY

Locals Took Second Game in Series of Three at Traction Park Grounds.

The attenuated Jimmy Lopez from the wilds of Carthage had no terror for Dan Padilla's Grays yesterday afternoon, and they evened things up for the defeat of Saturday by scoring 16 runs to the Ancients' 5.

The Ancients did not give Lopez the support they gave Eddie Safford on Saturday. They were weak at every position, as the error column will show. Little Jimmy Moore, who played a star game at short Saturday, had a bunch of butter fingers yesterday, and the same malady seemed to affect the entire infield.

For the first three innings, both sides played hard enough to keep warm, but after the third, the boys from Old Baldy lost their voice. Even noisy Jimmy Stanton failed to emit so much as a squeak. Clancy succeeded Lopez on the mound in the fourth, and the change lent a little interest to the situation, for nobody knew that Clancy was a pitcher. Nobody knows it yet.

The Grays continued to pound the ball and the Ancients failed to stop it. Fat Perea went to sleep on first base while Stanton hid the ball in his mit. Of course, Perea was a dead one. It was an old gag but it worked. When the eighth came Padilla told his men to lay down, get out and finish the game, but they had trouble getting out even at that.

The Ancients won Saturday in the eighth by laying down a succession of successful bunts. Six hits were recorded, one after another, and when the smoke had cleared away, the game was won. Little Eddie Safford allowed but two hits, while Hidalgo was touched up for an even dozen.

About twenty-five people witnessed the game Saturday. Yesterday's attendance registered 150 paid admissions.

The same teams are battling again this afternoon, in the last game of the series.

IRRIGATION HAS ACCOMPLISHED MUCH

But There are Still Forty Million Acres That Can be Made to Produce.

Spokane, Wash., May 31.—Regarding the importance of the work of the National Irrigation congress, which will have its 17th session in Spokane August 9-14, R. Insinger, chairman of the board of control, says: "The national reclamation act was passed in 1902. At that time there were in the government's name in the sixteen states affected, 600,000-000 acres of arid land, of which it was estimated possible to reclaim sufficient to support 50,000,000 people. By 1911 the reclamation service will have reclaimed nearly 2,000,000 acres at an estimated cost of $70,000,000. There are 40,000,000 acres of arid lands susceptible to reclamation by irrigation. The construction cost of the reclamation works is returned to the government from the sale of land, the proceeds to be applied in furthering irrigation development. Irrigation is making a garden spot and an empire of the 'Great American Desert,' and the work of the irrigation congress is yet in its infancy."

George E. Barstow, Texas, is president of the congress; B. A. Fowler, Phoenix, Ariz., secretary; R. Insinger of Spokane, chairman of the board of control; and Arthur Hoyer Sponkane, secretary of the board of control.

THE RELIEF FUND NEARLY EXHAUSTED

Of More Than $20,000,000 Collected For Italy, Only Few Thousands Remain.

London, May 31.—Some remarkable details of the disposition of the world's charity to the Italian earthquake sufferers are furnished by the Daily Mail's Rome correspondent. He says that although the principal ruined cities have not as yet begun the reorganization of normal life, practically all the relief funds have been disbursed or promised. The president of the central relief committee has furnished the following approximate figures: Relief sent by foreign countries valued at $4,750,000, of which the cash subscriptions are approximately as follows: Great Britain, $600,000; Argentina, $400,000; Germany, $400,000; France, $200,000; United States, $200,000.

The relief from other countries is not yet calculated precisely. The foregoing sums do not include provisions from abroad, but and warship relief. The Italian government voted $5,000,000 and imposed surtaxes equivalent to $14,000,000, the latter being distributed over a series of years to be expended in restoring public service in the earthquake area. In addition, the Vatican received $1,200,000 from the Catholics of the world, much of which already has been distributed by the Sicilian and Calabrian clergy. The total contributions were $28,020,000. The central committee disbursed $4,450,000 and engaged very large sums for rearing orphans and other charities which must continue for years. It has at its disposal now only $16,375.

THREATENED WOMAN WITH BIG KNIFE

Officer Had Some Trouble in Subduing Prisoner but Landed Him in Jail.

Manuel Lasalde was fined $15 and costs in the court of Judge Craig this morning for threatening Mrs. Washington with a knife in a North Third street mercantile establishment where the latter in company with another woman, came to purchase some provisions. Mrs. Washington later swore out a peace warrant for Lasalde and he was taken to jail in default of $250 bond.

Lasalde's capture by Officer Tony Gutierrez yesterday afternoon was sensational. As soon as the matter was reported to police headquarters, Officer Gutierrez was detailed to bring the man in. He finally trailed him to the Palace pool hall. Lasalde escaped through the side door while the officer entered the front door. The officer left the pool room just as Lasalde reached the sidewalk and he was placed under arrest. On the way to the station, Lasalde showed fight and when within a half-block of the station broke away from the officer and attempted to escape. Officer Gutierrez was too quick and took his prisoner to jail without further trouble.

Harris, Albuquerque, New Mexico, Fred Bennett, Commissioner of the General Land Office, Approved May 13, 1909. Frank Pierce, First Assistant Secretary of the Interior.

VALUABLE INFORMATION.

That there are good, better and best whiskeys, and that there good, better and best methods of producing whiskeys was explained by a connoisseur thus: "Many people have the idea that because whiskey bears the government stamp showing that it is four years old—no proof, and better and government supervision, it is all right. This is a great mistake. Many whiskeys are made from inferior grain, carelessly handled and rushed through the process of manufacture, meeting all the requirements of the government yet producing whiskey of poor flavor.

"The making of whiskey is just like the making of any other product. Good material, careful supervision of every detail, pure water and proper aging in government warehouses gives whiskey a flavor and snap that can be readily distinguished. Take for instance, McBrayers Cedar Brook. This whiskey is made by the good old fashioned method of years ago. The most select grains only are used; pure water is drawn from limestone rock; every care is exercised during the process of making, and it is then aged from six to eight years in bonded warehouses. It is just as good whiskey as money and experience can make and as good whiskey as money can buy."

HOW "UNCLE SAM" ORIGINATED.

This familiar nickname for the United States is said to have come about in the following manner: During the war of 1812 the United States government entered into a contract with Elbert Anderson to furnish supplies to the army. Whenever the United States buys anything from a contractor it appoints an inspector to see that the goods are up to the specifications. In this case the government appointed a man by the name of Samuel Wilson. He was a Jolly, whole-souled man and was familiarly known as Uncle Sam.

It was his duty to inspect every box and cask that came from Elbert Anderson, the contractor, and if the contents were all right the cargo was marked with the letters "E. A.—U. S.," the initials of the contractor and the United States. The man whose duty it was to do this marking was something of a joker, and when somebody asked him one day what these letters stood for he said that they meant Elbert Anderson and Uncle Sam.

Everybody, including Uncle Sam himself, thought this a very good joke, and by and by it got into print and before the end of the war it was known all over the country, and that is how the United States received the name of Uncle Sam.—Des Moines Register and Leader.
