

LLEWELLYN CASE BEFORE PRESIDENT

Attempt to Oust District Attorney From Office

MADE BY FEDERAL AGENTS

Governor Curry Puts Condi- tions Before Executive --Land Matters

A very interesting dispatch from Washington concerning New Mexico affairs appeared in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat of the 13th instant. It is, however, but only partially correct in its statements. Some of the main points are justified by the facts as they are. There has been friction between U. S. District Attorney W. H. Llewellyn on one hand and the special assistants to the attorney general of the United States on the other. At least this is the general public opinion. This friction does not seem to have been engendered on the part of the district attorney. That charges were made against District Attorney Llewellyn by the "special assistants to the attorney general" is also believed.

It is not known at this time what action President Roosevelt will take in the matter although news is expected hourly. The tenor of the dispatch seems to indicate that the President will render a decision in favor of District Attorney Llewellyn.

As to Governor Curry. His visit to Washington was induced by the necessity of laying several matters of importance concerning territorial land matters and forest reserves before the secretary of the Department of the Interior, also to arrange territorial land affairs looking to a speedy settlement of this vexed question, and last but not least to put in solid work for the passage of an enabling act within the next three months. He also went to give the President information concerning the actual conditions of the territory as they now are.

Globe-Democrat's Dispatch.
The Washington dispatch referred to follows:

"Governor Curry of New Mexico, Major Llewellyn, district attorney of the territory, and Captain D. J. Leahy, his assistant, are in Washington and today had a conference with Attorney General Bonaparte and the secretary of the interior, Mr. Garfield. Tomorrow they will confer with the president at the White House.

"In the absence of a statement from the New Mexico officials, it has been generally supposed that they came here to discuss with the president and the administration the attitude relative to statehood and to outline if possible some plan by which the merits of the territory can be brought before the Congress at its coming session. It is known, however, that a number of other territorial matters of far more importance are now before the officials.

Llewellyn Seeks Vindication.

"Governor Curry is reported as being much vexed at the action of the commissioner of public lands, taken recently in his absence in distributing the funds from the sale of the lands to the Pennsylvania Development Company. It is also natural to suppose that Major Llewellyn is more interested in meeting and refuting the charges which have been brought against him in connection with affairs in the territory than the statehood proposition. These charges are generally accredited to officials in the Interior Department and more recently to the special counsel sent to the territory by the Department of Justice.

"It appears that Messrs. E. Peyton Gordon and Ormsby McHarg, the special counsel for the government, have created something of a stir since they visited the territory and have been at work. One of their activities has been the indictment of a number of prominent men in the territory and interested companies operating there but who live in New York City. Among the indictments returned recently through their operations was one against Cleveland Dodge, a man who is a personal friend of President Roosevelt and was a member of his class at Harvard. He is a man whom it is known the president has frequently held up as a model business and commercial man.

Have Roosevelt's Confidence.

"Governor Curry has the confidence of President Roosevelt. The same is true of Major Llewellyn and Captain Leahy. All three of these territorial officials were members of the Rough Riders and known as comrades of the president in that organization.

"The transactions relative to the Pennsylvania Development Company

TO RESTORE MUCH LAND TO ENTRY

Action to Be Taken as Result of Good
Work of Governor Curry and Delegate Andrews.

Special to the New Mexican.

Washington, Nov. 16.—Governor George Curry and Delegate W. H. Andrews together this week have done fine work for New Mexico and especially for farmers and owners of agricultural land located within the boundaries of the Jemez National Forest in Rio Arriba, Santa Fe and Sandoval counties, and the Lincoln National Forest located in Lincoln and Otero counties. As a result of considerable labor with Chief of the Forestry Division Gifford Pinchot, large bodies of agricultural lands in these two national forests will be restored to the public domain and opened for settlement under the public land laws of the United States as soon as the bureau of forestry can make the necessary arrangements and surveys.

IDEAL CONDITIONS FOR TUBERCULOSIS SANITARIUM.

Washington, Nov. 16.—After observations extending practically over all sections of the United States where tuberculosis is treated, Surgeon General Rixey of the navy has reached the conclusion that the ideal location for a tuberculosis sanitarium should meet the following requirements:
Altitude from 2,000 to 7,000 feet; a maximum amount of sunshine, a maximum amount of dryness and temperature conditions without great extremes but with variability rather than equability.

A combination of these conditions will give a climate in which the consumptive can live out of doors the maximum amount of time day and night, the entire year.

These conditions are found in New Mexico.

Score at End of First Half Was 10 to 0 in Favor of Tigers—Great Crowd at Game.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 16.—Before a record breaking crowd this afternoon the Princeton and Yale eleven met in their annual football game. While the odds were in favor of the Tigers, there was plenty of Yale money in sight.

Princeton started into the Yale eleven like a whirlwind and literally played the sons of Old Eli off their feet in the first half which ended with a score of 10 to 0 in favor of Princeton.

Reinforced with several fresh players and encouraged by the cheers of their supporters, Yale went in to win in the last half. The sons of Old Eli took advantage of every opportunity and in some of the greatest playing ever seen managed to roll up 12 points and thus turn seeming defeat into a splendid victory. The final score was 12 to 10 in favor of Yale.

STAGE FOLKS UP AGAINST IT

Estimated Several Thousand Are Out of Work as Result of Financial Stringency.

New York, Nov. 16.—These are evil days for stage people and the theatrical business. It is estimated that almost three thousand actors and actresses are out of work here. They may be seen daily on Broadway making the rounds of the employment agencies.

The financial stringency, the dearth of satisfactory plays and the construction of too many theaters have combined, it appears, to bring about this condition.

Daniel Frohman says that until money conditions improve there can be no change.

Local banks are operating on a clearing house basis and business is going on here as usual except with the Wells-Fargo Company.

DRINKS CRAZED MAN TERRORIZES STANLEY

Richard J. Lee Tries to Burn His House and Runs Amuck in Town Until Captured.

Charged with an assault upon a dwelling house yesterday at Stanley Richard J. Lee was arraigned this morning before Justice of the Peace Jose Ma. Garcia. The defendant was found guilty as charged in the complaint and sentenced to serve one month in the county jail in addition to paying a fine of $25, which together with the costs, amounted to about $50. It is said charges of a more serious nature may be preferred against Lee, one of alleged assault with intent to kill and another of alleged attempt to commit arson.

According to the story told by William Mc Asher, upon whose home the assault was committed, Deputy Sheriff Ventura Baros who arrested Lee, J. C. LaFollette and H. D. Sargner, all of whom with the exception of the officer are residents of Stanley, Lee was crazed with liquor and ran amuck in the streets threatening to kill everybody in town and burn every house. Although it was not brought out at the hearing it is said Lee made an attempt to burn his own house after pouring coal oil on the floor but the fire was extinguished in its incipient stage by neighbors. Lee who at once showed flight, was subdued only after a desperate struggle and to prevent him from doing violence he was chained to a post pending the arrival of an officer. The story goes that he managed to break loose although the chain with which he had been shackled was still fastened to one of his legs and it was then that he committed an assault upon the residence of William C. Asher who had been summoned by the defendant's wife to prevent her husband from carrying out his avowed intention of burning down their home.

While Deputy Sheriff Ventura Baros was placing the drink crazed man under arrest Lee offered resistance but was soon overpowered. He was brought as a prisoner by the officer to this city last evening on the Santa Fe Central train and lodged in the county jail over night. Accompanying the deputy sheriff was Mr. Asher who swore out the complaint charging the assault on the dwelling house.

When Lee appeared in court this morning before the examining magistrate his head was swathed in bandages. He claimed he had been struck over the head with a six-shooter by Asher when he fought off the latter.

Lee in addition to the assault case was placed under $300 bond to keep the peace which was also sworn out by Asher.

The engine, baggage car and combination smoking car turned completely over. Three other cars were derailed. The way the track was torn up would indicate that something dropped from the engine, causing the derailment. Charles Combs, of North Liberty, Indiana, had his head crushed and is now in a critical condition.

OKLAHOMA IS NOW A STATE

President Formal- ly Signs Proclamation

NEW OFFICIALS SWORN IN

Inauguration Ceremonies Impressive—Great Demon- strations Mark Event.

Washington, Nov. 16.—A new star was added to the American flag today by the admission formally into the Union of the state of Oklahoma. At 10:16 o'clock President Roosevelt signed the proclamation adding the territories of Oklahoma and Indian Territory, jointly, as one of the American states. Little formality attended the ceremony which means so much to the people of those two territories. The President used a quill plucked from the wing of an American eagle. This pen will be deposited with the Oklahoma Historical Society.

No Exercises Attended Signing.

There was absolutely no ceremony connected with the signing of the proclamation which was done in the cabinet room in the presence of a number of residents of Oklahoma, most of whom are connected with the government departments, and a few other persons. When he finished affixing his signature, President Roosevelt said:

"Oklahoma is a state."

Albert Hammer, of Enid, Oklahoma, a clerk in the land office, secured the blotter with which the President blotted the signature and on which is a distinct impression of the President's name reversed. The proclamation is a mere formal recital of the acts entitling the new state to admission into the Union.

Impressive Ceremonies at Guthrie.

Guthrie, Okla., Nov. 16.—With impressive ceremonies befitting the birth of the new state the oaths of office were administered to Governor Chas. N. Haskell and the other state officers a little before noon today. The ceremonies took place on the steps of the Carnegie library. The proclamation of President Roosevelt was read by Charles Filson, retiring secretary of Oklahoma Territory. The executive oath was given by Leslie G. Niblack a newspaper man. Then followed Governor Haskell's inaugural address.

Governor's Speech Socialistic.

"In its course through this day the sun will have lighted the pathway of a million and a half people emerging from the disorder and discontent of a bureaucratic government, restricted to the point of helplessness and neglected to the limit of oppression, into a condition of liberty and self-government. We are not assembled here to worship that public officer who ultimately conceded to us our rights, especially when we reflect that long ago, from every standpoint of population, wealth and intelligence this territory was entitled to all the blessings and privileges of statehood, for now to thank these public officers in over gracious terms who have finally performed this long and unjustly deferred duty, would be in the nature of the hugging the feet of a dilatory debtor who finally pays his just indebtedness."

Flays Federal Officials.

Governor Haskell discussed the relations between the federal and state government and deplored the disposition on the part of some of those high in authority at Washington who "look upon the constitution of the United States itself as even a little thing, to be used when it meets the wish of its executor and to be construed and bended when at variance with his will."

Governor Haskell dwelt upon what he termed the oppression of the country by the trusts and then discussed the financial situation.

"The quickest road to financial relief," he said, "is to close the New York stock exchange and free the currency that it dominates and turn it into the channels of legitimate commerce."

The governor promised fair treatment to the railroads.

Grand Barbecue Ended Inauguration.

After the inaugural ceremonies a parade was formed and marched to the outskirts of the city where an immense crowd participated in an Indian barbecue, a feature suggested by Governor Haskell. It was intended that Governor Frank Frantz, the retiring governor of the territory of Oklahoma should ride in the carriage with Governor Haskell but Frantz positively refused to ride with Haskell or have anything to do with the inauguration, on account of recent
