FAYETTEVILLE, N. C. DECEMBER 9, 1848.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE was read before both Houses of Congress on Tuesday last, at vents us from giving anything more in this publication than a synopsis from the Union as fol-

The operations of the Post Office Department, exhibit the gratifying fact of a large increase of service performed, together with an increase four years or more, the connection between Raof the revenue received, justifying, in the opin- leigh and Camden, S. C., known as the Metroion of the Postmaster General, a reduction of postages to a uniform rate of five cents; which suggestion is recommended by the President to the favorable consideration of Congress.

The view of the finances, as given in the messoge, forms the most triumphant vindication, and indeed the noblest eulogy, of the policy of the administration in that most important branch of our national interest. By reference to the message, will be seen the somewhat singular coincidence that the total exports and total im- railroad projects, that the Governor determined ports of the last fiscal year amounted, in round to play a neutral part between them, and by a numbers, each to 154 millions; while of the im- recommendation that would kill both, give no ports just $21,128,010 were re-exported, and of comfort to either at the expense of the other. necessary payments on accounts of the public a more rugged country? debt, the payments to Mexico and remaining war | And we have said that this recommended route chase of about half a million of funded stock of

It has conducted the financial operations of the government during a period of war without the loss of | for them. a dollar, and with war loans always at a premium. In these facts, to say nothing of its other advantages so powerfully and convincingly insisted on in the message, surely may be seen abundant reason why such a system should not be abandoned.

HON, ROBERT STRANGE .- Some of the friends of this gentleman may be a little surprised that in some of the ballettings for Supreme Court Judge, he did not get the full vote of the democratic party. THE INTERESTS OF FAYETTEVILLE AND THE WEST. Internal Improvements-Railroads, Plank Roads, &c.

We last week ventured an opinion in regard to the recommendation by Gov. Graham, to extend the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad from Raleigh to Charlotte. (We estimated the distance at 135 miles; he at 160 miles by the mail route. Probably 150 would come nearer to the true distance by direct railroad route.)

The Governor recommends that such continuation be made to form the "connecting link" 12 o'clock. On Friday morning, we received a of Railroad which has so long been desired to copy of it in the Union, but its great length pre- complete the chain of railroad communication from one extreme of the Union to the other.

The people of the counties of Cumberland Robeson, Richmond, &c., might well ask why the Governor has recommended the connection between Raleigh and Charlotte, when for the last politan route, has been considered by many as the most practicable and most useful route?

So, the people of Wilmington and the adjoining counties, might ask why he has overlooked the connection contemplated between Wilmington and Manchester, S. C.
