and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the di-ease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town, and aimost every hamlet of the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilized country on this continent without some personal experience of its effects; and fewer yet the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that steals upon them unprepared. We have abundant grounds to believe the Cherry Pectoral saves more lives by the consumptions it prevents than those if cures. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are curade, nor neglect them until no human skill can master the inexorable canker that, fastened on the vitals, eats your life away.

All know the dreadful fatality of lung disorders, and as they know too the virtues of this remedy, we need not do more than assure them it is still made the best it can be. We spare no cost, no care, no toil to produce it the most perfect possible, and thus afford those who rely on it the best agent which our skill can furnish for their cure. on furnish for their cure.

Northern Book Pedlars.

This class of men ought to be closely watched; we have never had such a swarm of them in the South ern country as at present, and we presume no more dangerous or unsafe customers could come amongst us. We were informed that one of that class ha lately been in Davidson county, where he employed his time among the slaves upon the plantations seldom going to the houses of their masters. A man

We were present during the session of Court, and heard some of the ablest speeches it has been our privilege to listen to for years. Mr Osborne in the case of Osear, the slave, already reported, delivered one of the most able and impressive speeches we have ever listened to; his powers of oratory connot be excelled by anyone in the State, while his logical reasoning and impressive manner cutitles him to the first place amongst the members of the bar in the not here mention the short opening speech of Mr Lander, the Solicitor. Mr L. is a young man, comparatively speaking, but his superior powers would induce the belief that he was a veteran at the bar stiffness peculiar to the class of men who may be of voice calculated to please and convince the listener We regret that we were not permitted the pleasare of hearing any of the Salisbury lawyers, as the ase tried whilst we were there, took up nearly al

We visited the sandum of Bro. Spellman, where we found him busily engaged in his laborious callng. The people of Salisbury, as well as the Des. , nocracy of Rowan and the other counties adjacent, have in him a worthy and reliable citizen and an able democrat.

On Thursday evening, we were invited to a supper given to the members of the bar by two young centternen, Mr McNealey and R. R. Moore, Esque, when all present did ample justice to the delicious viands placed before them. There were present on the occasion, Hon. John A. Gilmer, Jas. W. Osl o me, V. C. Barringer, - Lander (Solicitor), N. N. Fleming, R. E. Love, W. L. Saunders, - Kiterel, and T. R. Caldwell, -all of the legs profession. 'Also, Drs. illenderson and Caldwell, Messrs Shober and Shaver, Louise as regent during the minority of her son Re. of Salisbury, W. B. Smith of the Turboro Merenry, and J. W. Spellman of the Banner, with a number of other gentlemea, whose names we have forgotton If any one possessed of the first quality of sociasility can go to Salisbury, and full to be delighted with the noble fellows who call that place "home, why then, we would consider that he was unfile for my society this side of -- ! Yes, we repeat the We left Salisbury pleased with our trip, delighted with every body, and every body delighted with - themselves.

> The Alexandria, La., correspondent of the N. O. !resent writes; " I met here this morning a gentleaan from Georgia, whom I suspect to be not only a arm friend of Mr. Lamar, but also an agent. You rave already published all the public circumstances connected with the disappearance of the yatch Wanlerer from Savannah, Georgia, and the public decleation made by Mr. Lamar tuat she was stolen. The truth of the matter is, the Wanderer was sent away oy Mr. Lamar, and is now, in all probability, on the oast of Africa, after another cargo of Africans. The agent alluded to above, in my opinion, is traveling to ell these negroes, and that he will find customers on Red River, I have no doubt. I simply suspect this rom a casual convertation with the gentlemen, wherea we compared notes on the nigger question." DISBAILITY OF WITNESSES. - The Massachusetts Senate has adopted an amendment to its laws, which renoves the disability to receive the testimony of athests in its courts of law. The amendment provides that "every person not a believer in any religion shall oc required to tostify truly under pains and penalties of p rjure." To this, an am indiment was adopted as ollows: "And the evidence of such person's diabe lief in the existence of God may be received to affect Politicat. - At a Democratic meeting held in Nash ounsy, N. C., on the 15th instant, the Hon. Ex-Covrnor Bragg, at present U. S. Senator from the State of N. Carolina, was recommended as a suitable candi date for Vice-President in 1860.
