What They Raise In Northern Arlzona.

One of our oldest and most highy respected citizens went to Flagstaff on the 4th and took passage on one of the trains conveying a delegation of Christain Endeavorers to San Francisco. Of course they saw him get on the train, and guessed that he was a "native and to the manner born." After the train got in motion one of the old deacons, with a gennuine down-east gift of inquisitiveness, began questioning him. His first question

"I suppose you live in these parts?" "Yes," was the answer. "Been here long?"

"Came before the woods were ourned." "What do you raise here?"

"We raise hell, sometimes." The old deacon returned to his seat, opened his grip, brought out his bible, read a chapter and asked
