THE FOURTH.

We surrender to-day nearly the whole of our available space to matters connected with the observance of the Nation's Centennial Anniversary. The wires were badly demoralized yesterday to the eastward, yet we have sufficient intelligence from that direction to give us to understand that the day was observed by our Eastern brethren with a patriotic heartiness never before witnessed in this country. The day seems to have been remark- ably free of accidents, the only serious misfortune of this character occurring in the capital of our own State. At Carson one man was killed outright and three others seriously injured by the explosion of a cannon. The burning of a stable in Austin and the destruction of a small house in San Francisco are the only fires reported. A full account of the day's proceedings in Eureka, including the poem and oration, will be found in our local columns.

NEVADA AT THE CENTENNIAL.

Major Ford, of the Ophir mine, who has just returned from the Centennial, informs the Virginia Chronicle that Nevada's representation at the exhibition is simply contemptible. After spending a whole day in the search he stumbled across the Nevada quartz mill, in a miserable little shanty outside the main machinery building. The mill was not running, nor was there any one about it in authority. Two men were "laying off," but they indicated an intention to start the machinery at 4 o'clock, and with this the few visitors present who, like Major Ford, had stumbled upon the mill, were forced to be content. The men in charge could not explain the workings of the mill, nor did they know of any one who could. We feared all along that that one-horse coffee mill would bring us into disgrace. Stevenson should not be allowed to escape; and indignant Nevadans at Philadelphia have our full permission to put him through the battery of that miserable little rattle-trap. Turn on the steam, good engineer.

TWENTY-FOURTH VOLUME.—Last Saturday the Reveille entered upon its twenty-fourth volume and twelfth year of its existence. Austin, without the Reveille, would be like the play of Hamlet with the part of the Prince omitted. There are but few towns of its size in the United States that supports a daily paper like Austin, and there are but few daily papers as fully merit the support they receive as the Reveille. It is ably edited and is a zealous advocate of the interests of its section. It is one of the most welcome of our exchanges and we hope it will outlive the next decade of centuries.

A BATTLE.—The telegraph brings information of a sharply contested battle, on the 4th instant, between the Serbian and Turkish forces at a place called Sticar. The Serbians were finally routed with a loss of 2,000 killed and wounded. The Turkish losses were relatively insignificant. Foreign military gentlemen assert, according to telegraphic advices, that a decisive encounter must occur within a week at or near Nitoch. The Turks have 30,000 men there well equipped and fortified.

TELEGRAPH TO BELMONT.—We are glad to learn from the Courier that there is a fair prospect that the Western Union Telegraph Company will extend its wires to Belmont within the next sixty days. The mining interests of Nye county are rapidly becoming of such importance as to demand telegraphic communication with the money and business centers of the coast.

SHOT IN THE NECK.—At Virginia City, Monday morning, officer Kirby was shot in the neck by B. A. Cummings, brother of ex-Deputy Sheriff Cummings of Storey county. Cummings, who was very drunk, had just been placed under arrest by the officer, when he hauled out his pistol and blazed away with the result already given. The officer will recover.

DROPPED DEAD.—John Flemming, an old-time Sagebrusher, dropped dead in a Virginia City saloon Monday morning. He died from excessive use of liquor and starvation. In the early days of the Comstock John Flemming was a well-to-do business man, largely interested in mines and real estate.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Elisha Coking, a Cornish miner, was killed in the shaft of the Savage Company a few days ago. He was precipitated a distance of 200 feet and, of course, death was instantaneous.

Centennial Celebrations.

BRILLIANT AND ENTHUSIASTIC DEMONSTRATIONS AT VARIOUS PLACES.

Accidents and Incidents of the Day.

NEW YORK, July 4.

As the clock struck 12 last night the city was given to the most uproarious hilarity imaginable. Salutes were fired by the boats in the harbor, and church bells rang, while the steam whistles on a thousand factories and tug-boats, etc., added to the din. Never, in the memory of the oldest inhabitants, have the streets presented such a magnificent appearance. Hundreds of thousands of good natured people are surging through the streets witnessing the illuminations, decorations and fireworks. The most vivid description would convey only a poor idea of the pictures-que and imposing appearance presented on Union Square from 9 o'clock far into the morning. The whole scene was one of unparalleled beauty, and will be long remembered. Nothing could be grander or more imposing than its appearance. When the advanced guard of the monster procession marched into the square the great buildings surrounding the square shook with the deafening cheers of at least 50,000 people. Every building around the square was appropriately illuminated, save the old and stately residence of Daniel Drew, which stood out in gloomy proportions. Broadway and Fourth avenue were packed, and Fourteenth street is altogether impassable. Many and variegated lanterns, splendid devices in gas jets and other illuminations, formed a scene of Oriental magnificence.

The Brooklyn demonstration was almost unparalleled. A grand procession paraded the streets, and at the end of the march the Mayor and others made speeches, and a chorus of a multitude of people sang Hall Columbia.

AUSTIN, NEV., July 5.

The Fourth was celebrated here with great enthusiasm and business was entirely suspended. The city was thronged with visitors from the surrounding country and every house was decorated with the national ensign.

The procession, consisting of the military, fire companies, benevolent societies, citizens and hundreds of mounted Pute and Shoshone Indians, was the finest seen here for many years past.

The literary exercises were conducted by the Hon. M. J. Farrell, Hon. D. C. McKenney and Dr. Scott. The celebration closed with a fireworks display and dances.

About 2 o'clock this morning a fire broke out in the stable of J. A. Wright and the building was entirely destroyed. Loss, slight. The origin of the fire is attributed to fire-crackers.

HAMILTON, NEV., July 5.

The Fourth of July passed off very quietly here. The day opened with a salute of 100 guns, followed later in the day by the reading of the Declaration of Independence, singing of national anthems by the choir and other exercises and a dramatic entertainment in the afternoon at the Court-house. The celebration of the day closed with the firing of 50 guns at sunset and fireworks sent off from a high hill adjacent to town late at night.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 5.

The procession yesterday was handsome in details and presented many unique and pleasing features. The military display was large and effective. The civic societies were out in force, and the line was about 4 miles in length. The crowd on the streets along the line of march was immense. Kearney, Montgomery and Market streets being almost impassable. The sidewalks, balconies, windows and even roofs and cornices were covered with people, and from the exposed position occupied by many the absence of any serious accident is remarkable.

CARSON, NEV., July 4.

A terrible accident occurred here this morning while a salute was being fired in the V. and T. railroad yard, with a large cannon recently made by the moulders in the employ of that company. It was prematurely discharged and four men were severely injured. Win. Bollerand had both arms blown off besides being terribly burned in the face and other parts of the body. He has since died. Robert Henderson had one hand badly mutilated and was severely bruised. Kendrick Reed was stunned and received internal injuries which may prove fatal. J. M. Tilton, recently from Colorado, was badly cut about the face and eyes. He may recover.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 5.

The city is very quiet this morning and people are taking a rest after the excitement of the last two days. None of the morning papers appear except the Delta, which omitted publication yesterday morning.

The telegraph wires are all down east of Omaha. Heavy storms raging in that section of the country. The news is consequently confined to local matters, of which there is scarcely anything to report outside of the routine of the celebration.

Last night the city seemed given up to the undisputed reign of fire-works of every description. Hundreds of bonfires were blazing and there was a fusillade of crackers and bombs almost deafening until midnight. A great crowd witnessed the fire-works at Woodward's Gardens, and over 6,000 spectators attended the carnival ball at the Pavilion, which was handsomely decorated for the occasion. The costumes of the maskers, though in many instances elegant, presented little novelty.

The Fire Department have had a busy time for the last few days, though only one fire involving any material loss has occurred, that in the case of the dwelling house on Prospect Place, off California street, near Powell. Loss, $2,500.

The roof of Wells, Fargo's forwarding department, Plymouth Church, on Taylor street, near Geary, and the White House dry goods store, on the corner of Kearney and Post streets, were ignited, but the flames were extinguished without loss.

Friday will be mainly devoted to the race of the San Francisco Yacht Club, and the general tapering off on the part of the citizens, whose patriotism during the last few days has been of an exhausting nature. Some of the retail dealers are opening their doors as usual, but wholesale houses and principal places of business will remain closed until to-morrow.

TOMMY KELLEY KILLS A MAN IN RENO.

Last Friday night Tommy Kelley, a former resident of Eureka, killed a man by the name of Fagan in Reno. Kelley was an early settler in Eureka, and at one time officiated here as a deputy constable or policeman. He was of a quarrelsome disposition and engaged in one or more shooting scrapes while residing in this place. He left here about eight months ago, by order, as he claimed at the time, of the Vigilance Committee. The following account of the difficulty at Reno is from the Journal of last Saturday:
Last night, at 10 o'clock, J. W. Fagan was killed by Tom Kelly while quarreling with him. As near as we could learn from the numerous rumors afloat in the crowd which gathered, the particulars of the affray are as follows: Some years ago Fagan had a valuable pup in Salt Lake City, which he thought a good deal of. This pup was suddenly missing, and he had not been able to find it since. Kelly, who lived in Salt Lake at the time Fagan had the pup, possesses a dog which, to say the least, looks much like the missing animal. He was very proud of it and claims that he bought him. Fagan asserted that it was his and insisted on taking him. Both men had been drinking and quarreling together pretty much all afternoon and evening, until at last they got more than usually vehement in the International Hotel, and from high words they proceeded to blows and Fagan slapped Kelly's face. The latter drew his pistol and struck him over the head, cutting a deep gash and knocking him down on his knees. He then fired two shots, one of which struck him in the groin, completely severing the femoral artery. Fagan was unarmed, and after the shooting commenced attempted to dodge behind a post. He fell when shot the last time and did not speak a word after, but gasped for breath for some fifteen minutes and then died. Kelly was arrested by Under Sheriff Kinkaid and lodged in the county jail. Fagan received all the medical and surgical attention possible, but to no avail. His body was taken charge of by undertaker Sanders, at whose rooms an inquest was held this morning. He had only arrived in Reno, having come in on the emigrant train yesterday afternoon. He had his baggage checked preparatory to going away on the V. and T. express train. He was going to Empire City, where a former partner assured him was a good opening for his business—a shoemaker. He leaves a wife and two children at Salt Lake.

SHOOTING AFFAIR.—About 1 o'clock on the morning of the fourth, a man named William Crane was shot at the lower hurdy house on Buel street by George Watkins. The latter was having a difficulty with a man named McGuire when Crane interfered to prevent bloodshed. During the scuffle Watkins fired his pistol, the ball entering Crane's left side just above the hip bone, passing directly through, and hitting McGuire, without however penetrating the skin. Crane's wound is not considered dangerous. Watkins was arrested by officer McKee and yesterday gave bonds in the sum of $3,000 for his appearance for examination in the Police Court next Wednesday.

FIRE.—The alarm of fire yesterday forenoon was caused by a slight blaze between W. P. Haskell & Co's furniture store and Jacob Vanderlieth's lodging-house. The fire is supposed to have caught from a rocket which lodged there and had been smoldering since the previous evening. A few buckets of water extinguished the flames, although had they a few moments further headway the chances are that a serious conflagration would have ensued.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

BY VIRTUE OF AN EXECUTION ISSUED out of the District Court of Eureka county, State of Nevada, on the 3d day of July, A. D. 1876, at 12 M., and to me directed and delivered, for a judgment rendered in said Court, on the 15th day of January, A. D. 1876, in favor of Samuel Geddes, plaintiff, and against the Geddes & Bertrand Mill and Mining Company, defendant, for 1,738 37-100 dollars, in U. S. gold coin, with interest in like gold coin at the rate of ten per cent. per annum, together with damages, and $88 10-100 in U. S. gold coin, costs of suit, with interest on said $88 10-100 at the rate of ten per cent. per annum, from January 15, 1876, I have on this, the 3d day of July, A. D. 1876, at 12 o'clock M., levied on the following real estate property, to wit:

First—That certain mining ground, and those certain mines, mining claims or locations, lodes or deposits, situated, lying and being in the Secret Canyon Mining District, in the said county of Eureka and State of Nevada, and known and designated as follows, to wit:

1. That certain mine, located, owned and held by and in the name of the "Geddes No. 3," by Samuel Geddes, Louis Bertrand and W. H. Carter, on the 19th day of August, A. D. 1869, and duly recorded in the records of the Eureka Mining District, containing eight hundred—800—feet.
2. That certain mine located, owned and held by and in the name of the "Bertrand No. 2," by the same parties, on the same day, and also recorded in the records of Eureka Mining District, and containing eight hundred—800—feet.
3. That certain mine, located, owned and held by and in the name of the "Bertrand No. 2," by the same parties, on the same day, and also recorded in the records of Eureka Mining District, and containing eight hundred—800—feet.

4. That certain mine, located and held by and in the name of the "Geddes No. 2," on the 23d day of August, A. D. 1869, by the same parties last aforesaid, and recorded in the records of said Eureka Mining District, containing eight hundred—800—feet.
5. That certain mine, located, and held by and in the name of the "Bertrand No. 4," in the mining district last aforesaid, on the 25th day of August, A. D. 1869, and containing eight hundred feet.

6. That certain mine, located and held by and in the name of the "Stockton No. 1," by the said parties, on the same day, and recorded in the records of the same mining district, and containing eight hundred—800—feet.

7. That certain mine, located and held by and in the name of the "Bertrand No. 3," on about the 23d day of August, A. D. 1869, by the said Samuel Geddes, Louis Bertrand and W. H. Carter, which said mine is commonly known and called the "Calico mine," and upon which is the shaft known as the "Calico shaft," and upon which is situated the boiling works of said party of the first part.

8. That certain mine, located and held by and in the name of the "Stockton No. 1," on the 23d day of August, A. D. 1869, by William Crider, W. H. Carter, Geo. Eberhardt and Samuel Geddes, and duly recorded in the records of said Eureka Mining District, containing one thousand—1,000—feet.

9. That certain mine, located, owned and held by and in the name of the "Stockton No. 2," on the same day, and by the same parties as named in the "Stockton No. 1," and containing one thousand—1,000—feet.

10. That certain mine, located, owned and held by and in the name of the "Secret Valley," on the 23d day of September, A. D. 1869, and in the names of Louis Bertrand, Samuel Geddes and W. H. Carter, and recorded in the records of said Eureka Mining District, and containing eight hundred—800—feet.
(All of which said mines hereinbefore described, were recorded in the records of said Eureka Mining District before the said Secret Canyon Mining District was organized and set off from said Eureka Mining District.)

11. That certain mine, located and held by and in the name of the "Osborne & Elzy," on the 19th day of October, A. D. 1869, in the names of J. B. Osborne, E. J. Elzy and G. J. Gardiner, and duly recorded in the records of the Secret Canyon Mining District, in said county of Eureka, and containing six hundred—600—feet, together with all the dips, spurs and angles, and also all the metals, ores, gold and silver bearing quartz rock and earth contained and being in or upon said mines, mining claims or locations, and each and every one of them.

SECOND—That certain private wagon road of the party of the first part, leading from the said mine, or part of them, to the mouth of Cave Canyon, in said Secret Canyon Mining District.

THIRD—All those certain pieces, parcels or tracts of land or ranches, situated, lying and being in the said county of Eureka and State of Nevada, and bounded and particularly described as follows, to wit:

1. That certain tract of land or parcel thereof, beginning at a mahogany tree marked 1, about one-half mile west of the line between Eureka—formerly Lander—and White Pine counties, State of Nevada, and in Secret Valley, in said Eureka county, about 600 feet north of the house formerly occupied by Samuel Geddes, and running thence:

1. S 80 chains to a mahogany tree, marked 2; thence
2. W 20 chains to a mahogany tree, marked 3; thence
3. N 80 chains to a place of beginning—containing 100 acres;

Surveyed by true meridian, variation 16 deg E, and located, surveyed and recorded for Samuel Geddes.

2. That piece or tract of land beginning at the S E corner of land surveyed for Samuel Geddes, as aforesaid, and running thence:
