The Effect.

Eureka is not the only base metal mining camp that is affected by the low price of lead. The Coso Mining News of a late date says:

The vast reduction in the price of lead has had serious effect upon some of our heaviest companies. The Union Consolidated suffered a loss of $80,000 from this cause during the past year.

At Darwin, a furnace producing ten tons of bullion per day, loses just $350. In other words, where a ton of bullion formerly realized $25 over and above transportation, it now takes $10 more than the lead is worth to market it.

Since it costs $40 per ton in San Francisco to refine the bullion, or separate the lead and silver, it is but small wonder that this class of industry is suffering in Inyo. We are in for a general war in Europe, the remonetization of silver or some other cause to produce the effect of an advance in lead to its old figures.

Thanks.

We are under obligations to Mrs. Zottman for a magnificent cake, donated to the office yesterday. It was as light as a snowflake, as rich as a Comstock bonanza, and as palatable as pastry could well be. It was done justice to by all hands, who commended and enjoyed the production. The bakery under Mrs. Zottman's skillful direction is receiving a large and well deserved patronage, and is acquiring a large family custom.

Batemann Street Entrance.

This evening, and during the season of the Adah Richmond Burlesque Troupe, all holders of reserved seats will be admitted to the Hall at the Bateman street entrance. Means will also be taken to prevent the encroachment of a throng in the aisle.

FLUE DUST.

Good hay, delivered in Eureka, commands from $35 to $40 per ton.

Spring advanced like a lamb. The leonine part will probably come later.

A railroad team loaded with crude bullion arrived from Tybo yesterday.

Seventeen thousand letters were sent from Eureka during the month of February.

A railroad team loaded with grain and merchandise departed for Tybo this morning.

The freight arrivals by rail yesterday embraced one car of merchandise and seven of coal.

Sixteen car-loads of crude bullion and refined lead were shipped to Palisade yesterday.

The value of the crude bullion shipped since our last issue was $11,000.

The sidewalks and stores were thronged last evening with a crowd of visitors from the suburbs.

Three hundred registered letters were sent from the Eureka Postoffice during the month of February.

Money orders to the amount of $5,500 were forwarded from the Eureka Postoffice last month.

Wood is delivered to the Eureka Consolidated Company by rail at $9 per cord.

Snow on the Hoosac road has drifted to a depth of five feet, rendering it well nigh impassable.

Lead was quoted at 4 cents, currency, large lots, in the New York market yesterday.

The jail vault and fixtures are set down in the Controller's report at a value of $18,000.

Eureka county stands second on the list in her contributions to the State Treasury during the year 1877.

The Austin stage driver reports the roads in a fearful condition between Eureka and the Willows.

Mr. P. Berwin keeps us supplied with New York dailies, for which favor he has our thanks.

A few more days of the glorious sunshine and the mud will be but a memory.

The Board will to-morrow declare the seat of County Commissioner Oberer vacant.

Rev. Wm. Johns preaches at Miners' Union Hall, Ruby Hill, this evening, at 7 1/2 o'clock.

Two Base Range game cocks are matched for a fight next week. The boys anticipate some good sport.

Joe Mendes is painting and otherwise improving his main street property.

Members of the National Guard are requested to meet at the Justice's Court room at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Secret Canyon is coming into deserved notoriety. Our miners prophesy immense deposits under the overlying shale.

From the 1st of October, 1876, to September 30th, 1877, there was 68,985 tons of ore extracted and reduced in Eureka District.

The aggregate value of the property belonging to Eureka county, including the Court-house, jail, hospital, books and furniture, is computed at $38,600.

Rube Eggleston is under the weather, so ill in fact as to be unable to attend to the routine of his business. Hope he will be all right in a few days.

Tenement houses are very scarce. An agent informs us that he has a dozen applications for residences which he is unable to fill.

There are no less than six broken-legged patients under the care of the physicians of Eureka at the present time.

Don't tell a married man any joke on the boys, for he'll tell his wife, his wife will tell her sister, and her sister will tell the rest of the girls.

A choice presents itself to our community this evening. Church services and comic opera. Is there any doubt but that the churches will be crowded.

A series of caves have been broken into in the Jefferson ground, near the Jackson mine. A good indication of the near presence of an ore body.

General Freight and Ticket Agent Lawlor, of Palisade, was in town yesterday. He left for theretomorrow again this morning.

Mr. McCharles informs us that no change has been made in the Cosmopolitan Restaurant, and that he will conduct it the same in the future as in the past.

The average boy is never so happy as when able to surreptitiously break a window pane. The sashes of the Lemon mill give evidence of the bent of his inclinations.

Spring races will soon be in order at the Willows track. Mr. Carpenter contemplates inaugurating a season of turf sports as soon as the weather will permit.

Last evening, at Bigelow's Hall, was probably the first occasion that—using a popular slang phrase—the gallery gods ever took a tumble.

The petition for the opening of Bateman street will be presented to the Board of County Commissioners to-morrow, and also one asking for the appointment of two policemen. Both documents have numerous signers.

Decased.

Mr. Henry Allen yesterday received a brief dispatch from the East, conveying the sad intelligence of the death of his wife. Mr. Allen had just returned from a visit and left her in very precarious health, but with hope from the attending physicians that she would recover. The lady was well known in Eureka, having resided here for a number of years prior to her departure in search of health—a trip which unfortunately was of no avail. Her demise will be regretted by a large circle of her former friends, who esteemed her for her amiable qualities and gentle traits. Mr. Allen has the sympathy of all in his bereavement, and we join in their condolence.

Lucky Lawyers.

The law firm of Wren & Thornton, of Eureka, enjoy a monopoly of the legal business of the C. P. Railroad Company in Nevada. All cases arising in Elko, Eureka, Lander, Humboldt and Washoe counties receive their attention. The offenders whom Mr. Thornton went down to Reno to prosecute, the other day, pleaded guilty.

THE ADAM RICHMOND TROUPE.

Two hours of brilliant action, chaste and pleasant dialogue, intermingled with the singing of choice selections of operatic gems and popular songs—that is the burlesque of "Kenilworth," as presented at the Theater last evening by the Adah Richmond Burlesque Company on their first appearance in this town. Plot, the piece has none, but a series of ludicrous and mirth-provoking scenes are presented in rapid succession, and the interest of the audience is never allowed to flag or tire. The prominent absence of anything which could in the least offend the taste of the most fastidious, is a pleasing feature of the entertainment, and a strong recommendation of the performance to public support. Miss Adah Richmond, as the "Earl of Leicester," made a fine appearance, sang sweetly in a clear contralto voice, and is possessed of a graceful figure, well set off by a handsome costume. A married gentleman, who sat in front of us, remarked that she had a vicious kick, a pretty foot and ankle, and a leg that swelled to glorious proportions. His enthusiastic applause betrayed the genuineness of his criticism and his admiration of the qualities that he dwelt so warmly on. Miss Susie Parker, as "Amy Robsart," acted her part well, sang clearly in soprano solos, and also in the duets with Miss Richmond. Miss Julia Seldon, Alice Dashwood, Julia Emmons, Emma Frost and the Newman sisters filled their respective parts with credit. The male characters were well sustained, and notably those by Moses W. Fiske and Gus. Bruno, whose acts kept the audience in roars of laughter during the time they were on the stage. Bruno is a strong card, and possesses a seemingly inexhaustible fund of humor, supplemented with agility seldom seen, and is, to all appearances, composed largely of India-rubber, with joints distributed in all parts of his limbs. As a whole, the entertainment is well worth witnessing, and there is no doubt but that a good season's business will be the result of the engagement, as the troupe is deserving of public support on its merits. "Kenilworth" will be repeated this evening.

Wants Information.

We have received a letter from Boston, from one N. S. Slater, who desires us to give him a full description of the Eureka Consolidated and Grand Prize mines, their past history, resources, location, profits on the ores extracted, methods of working, geological formation of the country, and a dozen other points. The modest Slater says that he is informed that the mines adjoin each other, and wants our opinion as to the advisability of investing. Keep out, my boy; a man who would ask a stranger to supply all that information, and enclose a three cent postage stamp by way of compensation for the trouble, would die of an enlargement of the heart, if he ever got a $3 dividend on a $40 investment. Stick to railroad shares and Hoosac tunnel stock, and you will thrive on your cheek. You are better fitted for a life insurance agent than a mining speculator.

Shooting Scrape.

The usual serenity of Buel street was disturbed yesterday afternoon by a little difference of opinion between two of the residents of the lower level, Madame Lake and Annie Jensen.

The exciting cause, as related with much volubility by the Madame, was a dispute about some wood. Annie taking umbrage at the cutting sarcasm of Mrs. Lake, and attempting to right her wrongs by the aid of her little pistol. Her aim was not as accurate as it might have been, and the only damage inflicted was the perforating of the front door of the Madame's residence with a bullet. A warrant was sworn out for the arrest of Miss Annie, and the outraged law will take cognizance of the affray and mete out due punishment if necessary.

Paris Exposition Committee.

The following letter was received by the Postmaster yesterday:

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 23, 1878.

MR. COR. WILSON: Will you please oblige the Committee on Minerals in sending by Wells, Fargo & Co.'s express, marked Mineral Department, Paris Exposition, Room 18, Safe Deposit Building, San Francisco, California, a few nice specimens for the Paris Exposition. Any mineral, rich, curious or wonderful, is desired. Write name and locality, and put with each sample. Respectfully, A. B. PAUL, Chairman Committee.

A Close Call.

A fire caught in the roof of the SENTINEL building at half-past 2 o'clock this morning, and created quite an excitement for a time. Fortunately it was discovered before it got under headway, and by the help of willing hands was quickly subdued. The damage was trifling, amounting to nothing more than a few burnt shingles, and a disarranged office. It was caused by sparks from the stovepipe communicating with the roof. Our thanks are due to the many friends who came so promptly to the rescue, and by their efforts averted the danger.

Music Hall.

Our next-door neighbors to the north have made a new departure. The house, in the future will be run as a first-class music hall, where mirth and gayety, vocal and instrumental music, dancing, fascinating female waiters, girls, etc., will contribute to the enjoyment of the customers. Undoubtedly they will, with the above attractions, secure a generous and deserved patronage.

Fled.

Some time ago a fellow by the name of Brown attempted to pass a spiel-mark on a man in a hurdy-house on North Buel street. Knowledge of the attempt coming to the hearing of Deputy Sheriff McKee, a warrant was issued for the fellow's arrest, but he got wind of the intention, and left for other fields, where the law is not so omnipotent and officers so obtrusive.

Tybo Bullion.

Says the Sun: The result of 27 days' run of the Tybo Consolidated furnaces is $100,000. For a played out camp this beats nothing.

HOW SHE CAUGHT HIM.

She was jealous, and it may be possible that she had sufficient cause. It was her own fault, for she had no business to bring a pretty servant girl into the family, knowing her husband's impressibility and his penchant for forbidden fruits. What she suffered for a month, only herself can tell, but her agonized feelings and outraged love finally got the best of her, and she determined to satisfy her suspicions, and confront the guilty husband by proofs beyond all doubt. She shrewdly observed that their had been strange noises emanating from the girl's chamber on several occasions, and had one evening attempted to enter the room after the maid had retired, but was refused or delayed until the intruder in the chamber—if there was an intruder—had time to escape by the window. That the amorous rogue was her husband, she doubted not for a moment, and when he started down town Tuesday evening, and stated that business would delay him until a late hour, her determination was quickly taken and carried into effect. Mary—that was the girl—was summoned and informed that her mistress desired to change rooms for the night, and that she must occupy the family chamber. The new move did not seem to suit Mary, in fact she vigorously and tearfully remonstrated, but the wife was firm and forced her to yield. Mary evidently wanted to confide some secret to her mistress, but could not bring her mind to the task, and eventually sought her couch. The wife took up to a full length, and started to pour out a torrent of reproach and wrath, when she caught sight of the Lothario's face, and her tongue froze to the roof of her mouth, and she gazed in horror and wild dismay. It was not her husband, but the recognized beau of her maid. We draw a curtain over the ensuing scene. Our pencil would fail to do it justice. Mary was hurried back to her room, after a little confidential talk, and strange to say, is perfectly secure in her situation. Still stranger, the husband notices a struggle in securing, in the household, and is much gratified thereby.

Crash at the Hall.

An immense throng gathered at Bigelow's Hall last evening, and long before the curtain went up, they were packed into the rear portion like so many sardines in a box. The elevated benches were eagerly seized upon as eligible points of view, and a struggling mass of humanity crowded upon them, wedging in until there was not room to put a knife-blade between them. Just before the performance commenced, the boards and supports came crashing down, giving away beneath the immense weight that was piled on them. It was a wild scene for a moment, a struggle of scrambling, indistinguishable lot of arms and legs frantically flourishing in the air, the owners endeavoring to extricate themselves from the debris. Strange as it may seem, there was no one seriously hurt, a few sprains and minor cuts being the only injuries sustained. Mr. Bigelow will replace the structure to-day, and build it of a strength that will last, not for a day, but all time.

White Pine Items.

We are indebted to the News of yesterday for the items of interest appended: Mr. W. S. Grey, who met with a serious accident in the Eberhardt mine some months ago, is out again.

An official order has been issued from the Postoffice Department discontinuing the Po-office at Hunter, in White Pine county.

Mr. N. C. Fassett has resigned the superintendency of the King Company and departs for San Francisco in a few days.

Gone East.

John Shoenbar, Superintendent of the Rescue mine, Silverado, a gentleman who has been identified with our mining interests for a number of years, departed for New York this morning, for the purpose of attending the annual meeting of the company. Mr. Shoenbar, since his return, has done much to develop the property under his charge, and has proved its value by the explorations carried on. The mine has been fabulously rich in the past and will probably yield as largely in the future. The Superintendent will be absent about three weeks.

Leg Broken.

Yesterday morning, James Reilly, the whim tender at the Bald Eagle mine, had his right leg broken below the knee, while hoisting ore from the shaft. The horse attached to the lever of the whim broke loose, and the arm, flying back, struck him in the leg, shattering the bone. He was brought to town, and Dr. Owen set the limb. He was resting very comfortably last evening, but the weary prospect before him of a long and tedious confinement in bed.

Lead.

The New York Engineering Journal of a recent date says: There is practically nothing doing in this article, which makes it difficult to arrive at a true knowledge of prices. There is probably enough offering at $3.75@3.80, however, to make this a quotation. The steamship South Carolina, for Panama, carried en route for New York, from San Francisco, 205,000 lb. base bullion, and 120,000 lb. pig lead.

A Strike in Gila.

The Tybo Sun has information of a rich strike in the Gila mine at Reville. The new body is of high grade and will supply the mill for five or six months. The mill starts up in about ten days.

Mining Location.

The Cecilia mine, containing 1,500 feet, was filed for record March 1st, 1878, located by P. Hussey. This claim is a relocation of the Sea King mine, on the west slope of Prospect mountain.

You Bet

You bet that boots are selling at the GOLDEN RULE STORE, at prices most astonishing; in fact, lower than at any house in town. Go everybody, see JOE, and be convinced.

Reduction.

Great reduction in GLOVES at the GOLDEN RULE STORE, to close out the present stock, which is at present the largest in the State of Nevada.

MUSIC HALL.

Joe Mendes keeps the best of beer, Down at his big saloon; His waiter girls will serve you well, Whilst Humfrol plays a tune.

Not only that, a lady sings Sweet ballads of the day; And she will surely charm you all—For which, no extra pay.

Up-stairs there are some kenos cards, And other games of chance; And should you soon get tired of there, You cross the way to dance.

So when you come from Ruby Hill, Don't fail to make a call; The only place to meet a friend Is at Joe Mendes' Hall.
