A GLOOMY OUTLOOK. General Stagnation in Bustness Circles.

On every side and from every quarter, for weeks past, there has come the universal cry of dull times. Outside of the parties generally affected such complaints are rarely heeded, for many merchants are naturally chronic grumblers and would assert that business was unusually dull, not because they might be doing less than formerly, but because they were not doing nore. It is a homely but true saying, that "the more we get the more we want." and it is applicable to all classes of people in every walk of life. There are, however, exceptions to all rules, and an exception must be made at this time, for it is an undeniable fact that times a c hard in Eu reka, and it is an open secret that several of our best business men are obliged to make unusual exertions to keep themselves from falling into the clutches of the Sheriff. Attachments have been the rule the past week, and it is asserted that work has only commenced. Right on the heels of this general stagnation, when a feeling of universal distrust pervades all classes. comes the ill-advised and untimely strike of the coal burners to add to the demoralization that seems to have seized our busi-ness men. This strike would, under any circumstances and at any time have, prov en unfortunate to our business interests, but at present proves doubly so, and still more disastrous results will follow should the furnaces adhere to their resolution not to pay more than a given price, and should the burners also remain stubborn. There never has been a contest between labor and capital where labor has proven victorious or where it has been benefited in the end. Should the present strike conthe end. Should the present strike continue it will in all probability end as those in Fall River and Pittsburg, in the strikers being starved out. There are two sides to every question, and there are two sides to this one. The burners undoubtedly have just cause for complaint, but they should be willing to make any reasonable concession. The proprietor of a dry goods establishment knows what capital he has invested and at what price he must sell his goods in order to make a reasonable per centage on the to make a reasonable per centage on the amount invested, and governs himself accordingly. The same rule will apply to the furnaces. The managers would not be benefited in cutting down labor to less than living rates or in causing trouble to themselves and the community by refusing to pay a fair price for any article of consumption, but they have a natural desire to see that the money invested by their employers brings them a fair return. The employers orings them a fair return. The burners should understand this, and, at least, until the present depression is bridged over, should consent to make some sacrifices and endeavor to adjust the matter anneably.

There are several causes that operate $30,000 to $40,000 is monthly sent to countries beyond the ocean, and from which we never receive the slightest benefit, and fully $30,000 is sent to different parts of this country monthly through the medium of money-orders. Just think of it! About $600,000 yearly from which but little good is derived. Of the amount sent to other cities in the United States, the greater part is absorbed, as the Elko "Independent" observed recently, by Cheap John auction houses in the East and West, who are continually sending out circulars advertising "snide" merchandise and filled up with wood cuts for goods. These goods almost invariably turn out much inferior in qual-ity to those that were ordered, but the purchaser has no other recourse but to not have easy times in comparison with those which are causing such general distress? Is it not better and cheaper in the end to spend twenty-five cents more for an place the Banner ore where it could be article at home, where you can see what loaded right into wagous. We were astonyou are getting, than to send your money off to those that you know not and who a prospect as yet, not over 50 tons of one will send you what pleases their fancy, and leave you minus your money? This is one of the causes of the present stringent times, and we advise all who would see the return of the good old days to invest their money and savings at home, in the place that they earn it.

A Literary Entertainment.

Mr. Ricker is laboring assiduously to free his church from debt, and to-night will give a literary entertainment, to close with an ice cream festival, at the church, the proceeds of which will be used for th purpose named. Miss Shirley will read some of her most choice selections, and music, both vocal and instrumental, will be furnished by some of the best singers from Eureka and the Hill. Mrs. Parker, better known as "Sister Ruth," will add to the evening's entertainment, and vill be assisted by Mr. Mead on the guitar. Among the other volunteers are Dr. De La Matyr and lady, Mr. and Mrs. Alderson Mrs. Cottle, Mrs. Ames. Miss Carroll, Miss Phillips, Miss Middlemas. Miss McCartney. Miss Ramp, Miss Edgison, Rule Brothers, Mr. Medling, Messrs, Newman, Meades and Tredennick. As the price of admission is only 50 cents, and the entertainment will be one of the last, the church ought to be crowded to its utmost capacity.

Assessments and Dividents.

Since the location of this camp the following assessments have been levied by the mines named: Albion, five assessments amounting to $85,000; Eureka Con., two assessments, amounting to $160,000, and dividends amounting to $3,900,000 paid; Fourth of July, two assessments, amounting to $20,000; Hamburg, six assessments, amounting to $205,000; Jackson ten assessments, amounting to $177,000; K K. eight assessments, amounting to $350,000 and dividends amounting to $50,000 paid Phenix, nineteen assessments, amounting to $425,000—showing the total assessments to be $1,362,500 and the total dividends $3,950,000, an excess of dividends of $2,-587,500. To this must be added the Richmond, whose stock has never been placed on the American market, and which will swell the amount of dividends about $4,-

Our Observance of the Sabbath. This is the way the Reno "Gazette" puts it: The Sabbath is probably more generally observed in Eureka than in any other town in the State. Next Sunday the devotional services will consist of the usual base ball exercises in the morning, followed by the sacrament of pigeon-shooting. In the afternoon, preceding Sunday school, there will be a foot race for a pool of $500. The customary fights will take place in the evening at the usual hours.

THE BANNER MINE

One of the Most Promising Prope ties in the District.

The Ruby Hill "Mining Report" of yes terday has the following regarding the Banner mine: "Bounded on the north by the Matamoras and Williams mines, two well-known ore-producers, and on the south by the Deadbroke, a recent and rich discovery, the Banner should need no lookis only 195 feet from the south line of the claim. It was started down on low-grade ore, and the prospectors followed the hanging wall until pay ore was struck, and this was upon the foot-wall, with a soft districts, while he himself will go to the seam of rich carbonate lying thereon. A pick easily removes this and then a blast into the quartz which hangs to the upper walls dislodges vast quantities of ore at every shot. A shaft 350 feet has been sunk on the Banner; all the way is good ore and with the best defined wall the writer has ever seen in any camp of Colorado, Arizo-na, Utah or Nevada. Horse-power does na. Utah or Nevada. Horse-power does the hoisting, and when we consider the cost of keeping stock on Prospect moun-tain and the packing of ore down from there, it is plain to be seen that it must be a very rich mine that will pay such expenses. A very small amount of money would place this mine up among the leading ore-pro-ducers of Nevada, and it could be done in skeep them, as to return them would necessitate an expenses greater than the value of the goods, and the buyer consequently has to make the best of a bad bargain.

Is it not probable that if this sum of Is it not probable that if this sum of money was kept in the county that the hard times that are now upon us would not be so hard after all? In fact, would we not have easy times in converged with the shaft, say 25 or 30 feet lower, and is now not over 250 feet from the bottom of this shaft. A connection could be converged to the property of the pr shaft. A connection could be effected with this tunnel very satisfactorily to all parties, and it would save the hoisting at having been stoped out on the south side of the main shaft, though plenty is in sight. The last 50 feet of the shaft has not sight. been drifted from at any point. It was let out to a contractor, and though showing as fair prospects as any above, the company have all they can attend to nearer the mouth of the shaft. The 273-toot level as drifted horin 15 feet in good ore. The 200-foot level has a drift following the ledge north 110 feet— a prospect—and the head is in first-class ore; but to make clean work, the force now employed in the mine are stoping in the 150-foot level and from above. They are working on this level as far as 40 feet north of the shaft in a vein of from 5 to 10 feet in width, and will run $60 per ton The ore-vein averages very nearly th same all through the mine in width and same an through the mine in width and quality of ore. Says the "Daily Exchange": Eureka, Nevada, has organized a club after the Caucasian style. At a late meeting it was resolved without a dissenting voice, "that members of the club shall not, knowingly, patronize any one who employs Chinese in any capacity, and that it is the sacred duty of the members to drive out the Chinese, peaceably if they can, but forcibly if they must." It seems to us that the Cauthey must." It seems to us that the Cau-casian clubs in refusing to patroniz those who employ the Chinese in any capacity declare against their own leaders and almost all other prom-ising politicians. The politician has to make use of the Chinese as a ladder to preferment as a topic of discourse, and virtually as a means of livelihood. With-out the Chinese on this coast lundreds. ont the Chinese on this coast hundreds of politicians would have to go to work to earn their whisky. The Chinese sup-port them, and in asking these gentlemen to drive out the Mongolians we only request them to throw away their own bread and butter and break their own demijohns. Serious as this calamity is, however, the Chinese must go.

A Relie of the Past.

Midway between Carson and Reno the traveler sees a decayed and sleepy village with perhaps a bundred inhabitants. In 1865 that was one of the most bustling camps on the coast. Its population was constantly shifting, but at any time during the height of its prosperity it numbered over 3,000. The miners, prospectors, farmers and traders flocked in from all the country round to drink and gamble. Its streets were a scene of constant bustle and liveliness. Such was Washoe City in the days of its glory, but a few years saw it left empty and deserted, its saloons closed and its faro banks "busted." And to-day the tourist, whose careless eye rests upon its ruins, little dreams of its former magnifi-

Haverly's Minstrels Coming.

Mr. W. H. Strickland, the advance agent of Haverly's famous minstrels, arrived last night, and makes the welcome announcement that they will give two performances in Eureka, appearing on Friday and Saturday evenings, August 15th and 16th. It is to be regretted that the company cannot remain longer, for the limited capacity of the Court-house will prevent many from securing seats, and, besides, the house will be sure to be uncomfortably packed.

GEOLOGICAL SURVEY.

A Plain Statement of the Work To Be Performed. The scientific survey of our country, be ginning with that of the fortieth parellel, has been continued by Lieutenant George M. Wheeler, Dr. F. V. Hayden and Major J. W. Powell, yet the lack of unity in design and harmony in results were so pronounced that Congress presented the matter to the National Academy of Sciencestheir prescribed adviser-for consideration and recommendation. Last winter a report was received advocating the discontinnance of the then existing surveys: the transfer of the Coast Survey from the Treasury to the Interior Department, to take charge of all surveys of measuration; the appointment of a commission on codi-Ecation of land and mining laws, and finally, the establishment of a Geological

These recommendations were embodied in the last Sundry Civil bill, and became a law, with the exception of the item referring to the coast survey, which was rejected from lack of time for consideration.

This law provides for a Director of the Geological Survey, which officer shall have the direction of the Geological Survey and the classification of the public lands, and examination of geological structure. and the classification of the public lands, and examination of geological structure, mineral resources and products of the national domain." To this position the President nominated Mr. Clarence King, and the nomination was confirmed by the Senate without division. Entering upon his duties at the beginning of the fiscal year, Mr. King organized his corps on a practical basis, and will conduct his work under careful business methods. Upon his geological staff will be Prof. Raphael Pumpelly, of experience in this country and Asia, who will take charge of economic geology; Mr. S. F. Emmons, geologist geology; Mr. S. F. Emmons, geologist with the fortieth parallel survey; Mr. Arnold Hague, Imperial Expert of China, who has resigned to join Mr. King Prof. George F. Becker, who resigned the Prof. George F. Becker, who resigned the professorship of Mining Geology in the Univers ty of California; Mr. C. K. Gilbert, late of the Powell survey; Dr. F. V. Hayden, and Mr. Arthur Foote, mining engineer. Of the topographical staff are Mr. Samuel Bodfish, late of the Powell survey; Messrs. A. D. Wilson and Fred. A. Clark, who were with Mr. King on the Geological Exploration of the fortieth parallel.

Clark, who were with Mr. King on the Geological Exploration of the fortieth parallel, and since with Hayden and Wheeler.

Little attention will be given at present to abstract scientific investigations, but rather to practical special examination of mineral regions for the determination of their nature, origin and distribution of the various classes of ores, the statistics of discovery, the Banner should need no looking into by anyone to be assured of its wealth. To consider that portion of Mr. King's work which the more concerns us, we note that he selects for study as a typical leadsilver section the Eureka District, and it is proposed that the plan indicated above shall be pursued in its entirety over this shall be pursued in its entirety over this district, and that a monographic survey, complete in its topography, mineralogy and geology, will be made of our mining district and immediate neighborhood, of such accuracy and refinement as has not been attempted in this country heretofore. The maps, atlases and reports thereof will be issued as an independent study. Necessarily this work will ports thereof will be issued as an inde-pendent study. Necessarily this work will take some time, though it will be pressed as rapidly as possible. Mr. Fred. A. Gilbert, geologic in clarge will come to the field geologist in charge, will come to the field in pursuance of his specialty when the topography is sufficiently advanced.

FRATRICIDE.

tween Two Brothers.

Virginia papers contain the particulars of a desperate fight which took place last Saturday evening at Mason valley, Churchill county, between two brothers, John and Morris Lancaster. John was instantly killed and the left eye of Morris was destroyed. The "Enterprise" states that the trouble grew out of a disagreement about the use of water used in common by John Lancaster and his father for irrigating their farms. Before reaching the father's fields the water flowed through those of John's. John's wheat was ripe enough to harvest (and he intended beginning to cut it last Sunday), but the wheat on his father's land required the water for a few days more. John was determined to harv-est his grain, and refused to allow the water to run through his fields

Morris went to the house of his brother for the purpose of trying to prevail upon him to let the water run to the father's wheat fields. When he arrived John began making sport of bim, bringing up the matter of his baving fits, and saying it had injured his brain, that even then he was crazy. He called upon his hired men to observe the insane actions of his brother. Morris then called John the worst names could find, and said all the bad things about him he could think of. about him he could think of.

This put John in such a rage that he ran into his house and returned armed with a shotgan. Morris was armed with a revolver, and the firing at once began.

After John had emptied both barrels of his gun he charged upon Morris and began beating him over the head with lt, breaking the stock in several places. Morrisused his revolver at this close range, wounding John in four places. The fatal shot took effect in the heart. Morris fled when he saw that he had killed his brother and at last accounts had not been cap-

The noise of the firing was heard by the relatives on both sides and caused great consternation, as all well knew what it meant, as the brothers had been quarrelling for years.

John leaves a wife and four children. Morris lost his wife and two children about a year ago.

The verdict of the Coroner's jury was that in killing his brother John, Morris was not acting in necessary self-defense.
This affair has caused great excitement in the valley, as both brothers were well-to-do farmers and were generally well liked by their neighbors, toward whom they were always civil and friendly. John Lan-caster formerly lived in Oregon.

The Mette Benefit.

Says the Ruby Hill paper: The Mette children's benefit is now pronounced "a sure thing." It will take place the nesday evening at the Ruby Hill Opera House. It will be characterized in variety, but principally of the concert order, in which a dozen or more of our best singers which a dozen to more of our best singers. sure thing."
