Matrimonial.
Mr. George K. Bailey, the well-known market man, and Miss Katie Dees were quietly married on Tuesday, so quietly that their most intimate friends hardly knew of the affair. They had easily settled down to housekeeping before any one realized what had transpired. George always was a shy coon, and he managed this matrimonial matter strictly on that basis. Miss Dees is a niece of Mr. Allison, of Allison's ranch, and is lately from Tennessee. The SENTINEL joins with the numerous friends of the happy couple in wishing them a long life of wedded bliss and prosperity.

Reduction of Prices.
The Haverly Widow Bedott Company have reduced their prices of admission for this and to-morrow evening as follows: Reserved seats, $1; all others, 50 cents. The matinee prices will be 75 and 50 cents, children, 25 cents. To-morrow evening will be the last performance, and no one should fail to see the old "Widow" before she takes her departure. The play is one of the finest put upon the boards, and should draw crowded houses.

Distinguished Arrival.
Professor Arnold Hauge, Geologist to Professor Clarence King's Geological Survey, arrived from the West by last night's train. The Professor is direct from China, having just completed a trip around the world. Professor Arnold Hauge is a brother of Professor J. D. Hauge, the mining expert and engineer, who has paid occasional visits to Eureka in the years past. During his stay here Professor Hauge will be the guest of Mr. Fred A. Clark.

Funeral of Vivian.
The Miners' Union and Masonic and Odd Fellows societies turned out in large numbers yesterday afternoon to attend the funeral of the late Joseph Vivian, of Ruby Hill. The remains were taken from Masonic Hall to the Masonic cemetery. The funeral was under the auspices of Eureka Lodge, No. 16, F. & A. M. The deceased left a large circle of friends to mourn his loss.

Re on Time.
The train for Mineral Station excursion and ball this evening, will leave the depot at 5 o'clock, and will leave Mineral Station the next morning at 4 o'clock. Tickets sold at the depot only. For the round trip, $1.50 each.

FLUE DUST.

Scraps from the Note-book of the Sentinel's Reporter.

The moonlight excursion to-night. The District Court will adjourn to-morrow. Yesterday was one of the warmest days of the season. The "Tarriers" lead off with their ball next Monday evening. T. B. Hutchinson & Co. yesterday received a fine line of choice groceries. The Union Guard are making extensive preparations for their picnic at the Italian ranch. The Joss House in Chinatown is being thoroughly overhauled and renovated by the Mongolian worshippers.

Mr. E. J. Butler, Secretary of the Eureka Tunnel Company, has removed his office to the SENTINEL building.

There is a young man in this town who has become partly demented by his vain efforts to raise a mousetache.

A married lady, who was rather uproarious on Main street yesterday afternoon, was locked up in the calaboose.

Quite a number of gentlemen and ladies are making preparation to attend the party at Mineral Station to-night.

The agent for the "Sunny South Dramatic Company," which numbers eighteen people, is daily expected to arrive here.

"A man may smash a stove and things, And black a fond wife's eye; And she may pound him with a club, But true love cannot die."

Those who attended the previous ball at Mineral Station spoke in the highest terms of all the arrangements. McFall has everything in good shape this time.

Call and see the new firm at the Merchants' Exchange. Julius and Abe are clever young gentlemen, and have our best wishes for their success in business.

Mr. Al. Titus is having a substantial stone wall built in front of his residence on Spring street, which will add to the appearance of his property, and keep off the dirty water and mud when the floods come.

When ladies meet They always greet. With kisses heard across the street; But men, more mild, Do not meet and part when both have "smiled."

A Nuisance.
EDITOR SENTINEL—I once heard a negro minstrel say that it was true that "a man and wife are one, but," he remarked, that "if a person were to pass when my wife and I were quarreling, they would think there were a dozen of us at least." But if a person were to pass a certain house on a certain street in Eureka, almost any night from 7 to 12 o'clock, he would think there was at least a score of drunken Indians gathered there for a fandango. And yet for most of the time a woman and two children only are there; but the woman has been on a "jam" the most of the time since the 4th of July, and I think that if an officer should pass the door night he might find a good subject for Jim Ash-ley's lodging house. There is no chance to sleep in the vicinity, generally, before 1 o'clock, and it is a great annoyance to the neighbors who have to work for a living. If the thing is not stopped before long, the name of the party will be exposed.

Throwing Mud.
EDITOR SENTINEL—Oh no! don't throw mud! The radical papers are saying that since Hancock was 16 years old he has never eaten a meal, worn a suit of clothes, or mounted a horse that the government did not pay for. No, no, don't throw mud! If no better mud than existing wearing clothes, and riding at the expense of the government can be found, you had better return to the mud you threw the same day Hancock was nominated—the burrhead, mud-slinger, or is it that homonymic-like, it returns to slay the one who throws it? Who throws mud? Lay on Macduff, and damned be he who first cries blood, enough!

Somebody Else's Funeral.
EDITOR SENTINEL—Yes, the Democratic party has been fasting for a longer time than forty days. The Republicans reported them high unto death; in fact, they were talking of a burial; but they have had a healthy though weak pulse, and have shown signs of getting on their legs several times. They now have not only a strong and healthy pulse, but are stirring round, and force the acknowledgment that the race will be close and hotly contested. It looks like somebody else's funeral this time.

Miners Experts and Sports.
The Austin Revelle says: This morning, as a gentleman took his seat on the Grantsville stage, some one on the sidewalk asked: "Who is that man?" Another bystander said, "He is either a mining expert or a sport. I don't know which, for they look so much alike now-a-days as two peas in a pod." We are at a loss to know which is elevated or which is degraded by the comparison, or whether the occupations of the two are not so near alike that the whole lot of experts might not just as well be set down as gamblers or professional sports.

Departs This Morning.
Mr. George Emmett, the well-known foundryman of Gold Hill, departs this morning for his home on the Comstock. Mr. Emmett, during his brief stay in Eureka, met hosts of old acquaintances and friends, who vied with each other to make his visit a pleasant one. He returns to the Comstock favorably impressed with the outlook of the Base Range.

Returned from Austin.
Mr. Dave Steindler and Mr. D. Nathan returned yesterday from Austin. Dave is in ecstasies over the royal treatment he received at the hands of the people of Lan-der's capital and the beauties and attractions of that mountain paradise. Austin is a steady going place and its people all seem satisfied with their surroundings.

Eureka's Great Flood.
On Saturday next, if our memory serves us correctly, the flags of Eureka will be placed at half mast in commemoration of the great flood which visited that town in 1874 and by which twenty-four lives were lost.—Reveille.

Widow Bedott.
The performance of Haverly's Comedy Company was repeated last night to an appreciative audience. To meet the dullness of the times the management have determined on a still further reduction in prices for to-night and Saturday.

Train Delayed.
The passenger train of the E. & P. Rail-road was over two hours behind time last night. The delay was caused by a break in the engine at Mineral Station. Another engine was sent up from Palisade when the train came to a standstill.

The Pritchard Trial.
The second trial of John T. Pritchard, for the killing of Officer Symonds, at Gold Hill, has commenced at Carson. It seems difficult to get a jury. Attorney Soderberg, formerly of Eureka, is conducting the defense.

Resigned.
Mr. J. D. West has resigned his position as President of the Maryland Mining Com-pany, and E. B. DeLa Matyr has been elected to fill his place.

CANDELARIA.

What a Returned Eureka Says About That Section.

A SENTINEL reporter last evening had a conversation with Mr. L. Banner, just returned from Candelaria. Mr. Banner spent five months in that section. He regards it as a splendid mining country, with a future second to no other place in Nevada. The mineral bearing belt seems to be from eight to fifteen miles long. There are a half dozen leading mines in an advanced state of development, and all looking well. The Northern Belle works 165 men in the mine, and runs two mills. The Victor, Mt. Diablo and other prop-erty has plenty of ore in sight, but are short of milling facilities. The Mt. Diablo is controlled by the Shaw brothers, formerly of the Eureka Consolidated. A scarcity of water is one of the greatest drawbacks to the prosperity of the section. All of the water used at Candelaria is hauled from Colobus, a distance of eight miles. It sells for five cents a gallon, and a bath costs $2.50. The colored man who keeps the bath house saves the water from his tubs and sells it over again for street sprinkling purposes. In the barbershops are posted notices to the effect that $1 per week will be charged for the privilege of washing one's face and hands, which is considered a fair and reasonable price. A project is on foot to bring in water in to $75. The enterprise, it is estimated, will involve the outlay of $300,000. The town of Candelaria is growing rapidly, and business has been and is still quite brisk. The population of the immediate section is estimated at about 1,500. It is thought that great impetus will be given to mining matters by the extension of the Virginia & Truckee Railroad, which will come sufficiently near to the Candelaria section to stimulate all branches of business. On the whole, Mr. Banner is sanguine that Candelaria will be a booming camp in the near future.

MINING REFORM.
Pruning Down the Expenses.
For some months past the San Francisco newspapers have been earnestly engaged in offering suggestions for lessening the expenses of working mines. The Bulletin is glad to know that the pruning knife has been applied in some cases, with good results to the stockholders. It cites the Belmont, in which a reformation has been inaugurated, and as there are doubtless Belmont stockholders in this city, the following from the Bulletin, will prove interesting reading:

Some time ago certain large stockholders in the Belmont became restive under the monotony of assessments, and began casting about for relief without sacrificing their stock. The mine had produced $1,000,000 in bullion and taken in $600,000 in assessments from stockholders. During the height of the producing period $200,000 was taken out in sixty days. Nothing was ever given back. Investigation showed that the money was largely absorbed in extravagant expenses, and the work of economy was introduced. As soon as sufficient stock was secured to effect the reforms desired, it was a comparatively easy matter to cut down expenses very materially, and place the workings of the mine on business-like principles. The salary of the President was reduced from $150 to $50, and the Secretary from $200 to $75. The attorney at $100 per month was dispensed with altogether. The fee of $5 to each Trustee for attendance at meetings was dropped. The expenses at the mine were also reduced. There was a superintendent, with day foreman and night foreman, to work eight miners, and a watchman to look after the Monitor-Belmont mill, a half interest in which had cost the company $76,000. Here is a case of genuine reform, that counts for something in dollars and cents. At the recent annual meeting of the company, the Secretary reported about $88,000 received during the year, embracing $40,000 from assessments, including $4,400 from the one now in process of collection. The sale of stock for account of this assessment is advertised for July 26th. There are those who still have faith in the Belmont mine, though the stock has dropped to very low figures. Some of the stock, bought at seven years ago, stands to holders at $20 to $25 per share, exclusive of the long array of assessments since collected. This is probably not an isolated case. So many old-time holders in once producing mines have made rich by their present pecuniary situation that it encourages others to retain their grip long after the majority have abandoned all hopes and their stock.

UNIVERSITY LANDS.
The Price Fixed by the Board of Regents.
The Board of Regents of the Nevada University held a meeting in Carson on Wednesday. The object of the meeting was to fix the price per acre of timber lands belonging to the University Fund. The annexed resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That the price of State timber land containing nut-pine, cedar, juniper or mountain mahogany be fixed at $1.25 per acre, and that land containing other pine, fir, tamarack or other timber suitable for manufacturing into lumber or timbers, be fixed at $2.50 per acre, and that there shall not be sold a less quantity than 160 acres of timber land in one body. Said body of land shall be selected in compact form in conformity with the rules and regulations in the sale of lands by the United States Government.

Resolved, That the Land Register is hereby authorized to ascertain the true character of timber lands applied for, by requiring the applicant to make affidavit and produce the affidavits of two disinterested witnesses as to whether any part of said lands contain timber capable of being manufactured into lumber, and make such other rules and regulations as will protect the best interests of the State. Such affidavits may be made by the Clerk of the District Court, or any person authorized by law to administer oaths, having a seal.

T. N. STONE, President Board of Regents. J. S. MATHISON, Sec'y Pro Tem.

Our Dog Abe.
This afternoon, says the Carson Appeal, Clem Berry caught a rat in a wire cage, and getting out in the street called for all the dogs to come and try their teeth on the rat. Inside of five minutes half a dozen dogs were on the ground, in a state bordering on insanity. Most of the solid citizens of Carson also gathered about Clem, and the utmost excitement prevailed. While the rats were dying freely about the crowd, and everybody was crying, "Turn 'em loose!" "Give the dogs a show," etc., our office dog Abe, a thoroughbred English bulldog, stalked leisurely into the ring. Presley his eyes fell on the rat in the cage, and not noticing the gauzy wires, he sprang toward it. When his teeth encountered the cage he saw he had made a mistake, but determining to carry the thing through, he gave a few crunches, the wires closed in about the rat, and then he swallowed rat, cage and all. A howl of disappointment went up from the crowd, and the dog sauntered methodically back to the office, looking as quiet as if he had simply swallowed a nut-tion chop.

The Entertainment Last Evening.
The Germania Club last evening gave the most select and pleasant entertainment ever given in Eureka, which consisted of vocal music and dancing. The singing by the Club was excellent. Between each place the audience joined in a dance. The attendance was large, and the whole affair was conducted in a splendid manner. The Club intends giving two of these entertainments a month until winter, when they propose to give one each week.

JOHN JENKINS' PISTOL.

An Apparently Unprovoked Attempt to Kill Frederick Ward.

The pop of the pistol is heard on the Comstock rather too frequently in these days, and the worst of it is that men who shoot at each other in Virginia are not sufficiently skillful with the weapon to insure the safety of other people who take no interest in the game. One of these days poor marksmen may get hurt by an indignant neighbor. Last night between 10 and 11 o'clock, John Jenkins stepped into his front yard, between A and Howard streets, on the Divide, and called across the fence to his next-door neighbor, Frederick Ward, asking if he was there. Mr. Ward, who was sitting on his porch smoking a pipe, replied that he was there, and Mr. Jenkins, being thus assured, turned loose his pistol, supposing that he was aiming at Mr. Ward. The latter jumped into the collar after the second shot, and called to Jenkins not to shoot any more, as he was not armed. Jenkins was just fixing his pistol for a third shot at his neighbor, when Mrs. Ward stepped between them and two men caught hold of Jenkins with intent to kill, and the examination began before Justice Moses to-day. All the witnesses examined on the part of the State testify to the circumstances as given above, and some of them further state that the bullets from Jenkins' pistol went so wide of their marks as to strike a house adjoining Ward's. Ward says he does not know why Jenkins should try to kill him, as they had no quarrel since the settlement of a law suit about three years ago. The examination was continued until to-morrow, when witnesses for the defense will be examined. Meanwhile Jenkins is in jail.

HUNTSMAN'S HOTEL.
A Handsome Structure, and a Convenience to Overland Passengers.
[From the Reno Gazette, July 20.]

On the ashes of the Capital Hotel at Battle Mountain, L. D. Huntsman, the proprietor, has erected a new and much finer building, which is now being furnished, and is already open to the public. A wide platform fills the space between the house and the rail. A handsome fountain and reservoir, filled with gold and cat fish, are located in the center. A lot of young trees are fenced in and growing nicely. The building is gray, with dark trimmings, 150 feet along the track by 40 deep. Its height is 33 feet. The first story is 12 feet, the second nine and the attic eight. The house is hard finished. The first floor is divided into a parlor, reception room, dining room, bar room, kitchen, railroad offices, etc. The second floor has three rows of bedrooms and two halls. The inside row of rooms is dark, which is an accommodation to railroad men on night runs, who want to sleep in the daytime. There will be over fifty bedrooms. A wide veranda will run the whole length of the building in front, with doors from the second story, and a single roof. The house will be lighted by gas. It is a great addition to Battle Mountain. The overland east ends dinner there.

SALT LAKE ITEMS.
[From the Tribune of the 20th.]

A queer kind of yellow stuff, made into a dress, that looks like a wrapper on one side, a night gown in the rear, and a duster all around, is the latest summer dress for the ladies. It is the general impression that lead ore commands a good price this fall and winter; therefore miners should not let up on account of the present low prices. The census of Utah is now complete and shows a population of 143,690—one-fifth of whom are white and free, while the other four-fifths are slaves of the Mormon Church.

California Through Death Valley, is one of the finest plays ever put on the boards, and should draw an immense crowd to-night at the Liberal Institute.

Bathing in the Jordan is indulged in by the boys, who are utterly regardless of the latest fashion in bathing suits, even discarding paper collars.

The Mormon priests would like to see the brethren take a forty days' fast. It would swell the tithing fund and enrich the old frauds immensely.

Assessor Hank Knight returned yesterday afternoon from an official visit to the western side of the county. He is doing a good business in the way of scooping in revenue from the outlying precincts.
