

THE RESUMPTION ACT.

In his letter of acceptance, Tilden endorses the repeal of the Resumption Act passed by Congress July 14, 1874. We judge that the details of the bill are familiar to few, and indeed much of the debate concerning the Act seems only to prove that the heated controversialists are, respecting the matters of dispute, like the farmer's two sons. "One of 'em knows nothin' and the other does."

Section 2 takes off the charge for coining standard gold; the intention being to remove all obstacles, as far as possible, to the conversion of bullion into American coin.

Section 3 first repeals that part of the National Bank Act which limited the aggregate amount of national bank notes to $300,000,000, thus permitting each bank to issue according to the demands made upon it, without regard to the amounts issued by other banks.

Probably nothing more exemplifies the rapid growth of this Coast's industry than the extraordinary enterprise manifested by the press. 'Tis just thirty years to-day since the first newspaper appeared in California.

On the second day after the adjournment of Congress the Commissioner of the General Land Office will hear the argument of counsel on the Suro Tunnel royalty clause in all the patents for mines within the District claimed to be located over the connecting spurs and veins of the Comstock lode.

The House of Representatives today gave good example of economy in refusing to pay Pinchback of Louisiana, the $20,000 the Senate so generously awarded him.

An exchange reports the probable suspension of "The Nevada Patriot." If it is so soon its done for we wonder what it was begun for.

STRAY THOUGHTS.—We all talk grandiloquently of heroism displayed in great deeds done before the eyes of the world; but heroism is nothing but a spark kindled in the household, carried outside, and blown into a flame.

PEMUNA.—The latest embryo State given a Territorial form of government by Congress contains 72,930 square miles. It extends from a point eleven miles south of the forty-sixth degree to the British possessions, and from the Red River of the North to the Yellowstone.

The telegraphic dispatches this morning relative to the Indians are somewhat suggestive. The cry for revenge that rang through the country when Custer was killed has dwindled to an echo from the Big Horn Mountains.

The Coso Mining News says that a few days ago at Saratoga Springs in Death Valley, the thermometer indicated 142 degrees at 2 p. m. and 118 degrees at midnight.

Fort Ellis has just been drawn on for ten thousand rounds of cartridges to be given to the Crow.

The grasshoppers have eaten up everything fresh and verdant in Denver except the city editor of the News, who they have kept for dessert.

The 900-foot station in the Richmond mine was completed about a week ago, with a sump of twenty feet, being of sufficient capacity to hold from one to two weeks' water.

It is reported that there is a camp of about 125 miners doing well in diggings which they discovered in the Spring on the head of the Rosebud; that they have fortified themselves, and well provided with provisions, and will work their claims until fall.

will cross the Colorado at the Needles, and the Pacific either at Fort Yuma or Ehrenberg. The work will probably be pushed rapidly as possible.

The Salt Lake Tribune says there is an accumulation of thousands of tons of ore at Sandy, awaiting purchasers. Before the decline in silver, it was almost impossible for our miners to supply the demand.

The German gulch, Deer Lodge county, Montana mines are working. The water had commenced to fall off last week, but the recent rains have had the effect of filling the ditches again to their full capacity.

Says the Silver State: An Indian known as "Big John," who is half Piate and half Shoshone, is engaged in ranching in Pleasant Valley, below Donnelly's.

At Baker's tailings-mill, Virginia City, which was burned last Thursday night, the fire started in the roof and had gained much headway before discovery.

The Austin Reveille says it has it from an authentic source that a rich strike was made on Wednesday in the mine owned by Judge McKenny, Patrick Burns and John Lessey, situated in New York Canyon, about five miles from Austin.

Messrs. Graham and Yockey, in the interest of San Francisco parties, have for some time past been prospecting for mines in Ruby Valley, and have discovered what is supposed to be the largest and best deposit of that mineral yet found in this State.

When the Caronites have a ball the Tribune reports male costumes thusly: Billy Ames, of Carson, proved a perfect "masher" among the girls, with his "Centennial" shoes.

A late New York dispatch says, the representatives of the Western districts learn from letters received from home within a few days that the sentiment among the people is in favor of the re-emption of the silver dollar.

It is reported that there is a camp of about 125 miners doing well in diggings which they discovered in the Spring on the head of the Rosebud; that they have fortified themselves, and well provided with provisions, and will work their claims until fall.
