of the star amendment to the lottery bill was concured in by the house to-day by a vote of 68 to 25. As a matter of courtesy and in order that there may be no flaws it is likely now that the bill will go to the governor for his approval or disapproval. Counting to day there are eight working days remaining The governor is authorized to hold the bill not more than the days. He will probably take avantage of his right to keep it the ful length of time allowed him by las but there will be three days of the session left, nevertheless, and there will be no difficulty in pass ing the bill over his veto in on day. The fight is therefore ove now. There is much satisfaction in Baton Rouge over the final on come of the fight. When the of the lottery bill was be
