SANGER BROS. BEN'S BULLETIN.

WILL SURPRISE YOU AGAIN.

The success of our last week's sale has proved to us that the people WILL BUY if the goods are sold cheap enough. We offer you an entire new line of bargains for this week. Byery areticle is desirable-in fact, just the goods you want at this season. During the sale ast week, we were asked by a number of our patrons if the sale prices would continue next week, as they preferred to wait till the rush was over. To them and to all our readers, we would say that sale prices of goods advertised last only during time advertised.

NEW YORK, June 17 .- In response to the formal announcement of his nomination by the Committee of the Greenback National Convention, Gen. Butler

LOWELL, MASS., June 17 .- Gentlemen of the

I have received at your hands official announcement of the action of the convention at Indianapolis with deep sensivention at Indianapolis with deep sensi-bility. In the ordinary course of politi-cal events the choice of a convent-tion of representative men of any con-siderable portion, my fellow-citizens, in according to me this highest honor they can confer, would call for grateful acknowledgment, even though it might be a selection to repre-sent the thoughts of such convention upon questions which commonly divide political parties. Views on such ques-tions may have been inherited or an out-growth of measures merely of administions may have been inherited or an outgrowth of measures merely of administration. The great questions you present are higher and grander than any political measure. Nearly a quarter of a

The second one was mailed at the financial system of the government at once the envy and admiration of all men. so pure a man as Peter Smith, with the impulses of whose noble heart all were acquainted.

A pleasing incident occurred, in the presentation to Col. Smith of a beautiful cluster of oleanders by the Galveston delegation. Mr. J. Austin, of Denton, said that the Gulf City of the South met the Chicago of Texas with hearty greeting, and congratulated her and her people in having so grand a man as Col. Smith at her helm of state. Col. Smith made an appropriate and fitting reply, accepting the beautiful gift.

Henry M. Furman delivered the address of welcome in behalf the Fort Worth Fire Department, and was frequently applauded. He considered it a great honor to have so brave and distinguished a body of men present in the city. He drew a comparison between the two political conventions which have been held here, and the present one, showing that while they really represented but the personal ambitions and political interests of a comparatively small portion of the people, the fire boys represented all the population of the state in one of its dearest interests. They are always on hand to save life and property, whether it belongs to the owner of the log cabin or the palace.

Chief Hogan, of Waco, in a brief address, thanked the people of Fort Worth for the hearty welcome that had been accorded them.

The secretary read the constitution, by-laws and rules of order.

President Conner appointed John Cotter, of Galveston; Bart Moore, of Waco; and Chief Kahn, of Gainesville, a committee on credentia's.

The address of welcome by Mayor Smith was brief and to the point.

He spoke of the great pleasure it afforded him to speak in belaif of our lovely city of Fort Worth, and paid a handsome compliment to the fire boys, and the gallant work he had witnessed them do in the hour of danger.

President Comor replied, thanking Mr. Smith, and denominated him as the great "Ninth Wonder" of Texas. He spoke in behalf of all the visiting companies of the association, and said they knew how genuine and heartfelt was this welcome, emanating as it did from so pure a man as Peter Smith, with the impulses of whose noble heart all were acquainted.
