

Miscellaneous.

Play.—The New York correspondent of the National Intelligencer writes: "The royal yacht building for the Queen and Prince Albert is estimated at $1,000,000, and there are 8000 weavers actually working in the manufacturing plants."

One of the first official duties performed by Joseph Pratt, the new Postmaster at Hartford, was to attend the great Tyler meeting in New-Haven.

An editor out west, in speaking of the miserable policy pursued by newspaper publishers in giving long credits, says it is a uniform system of bankruptcy without the sanction of Congress.

Return of Missionaries.—The Rev. Eugene Goodrich and lady, of the Baptist Mission in Burma, arrived in this city on Sunday last, via England, on the ship Samuel Hicks from Liverpool. Mr. Goodrich has been absent nearly fourteen years, and has returned to his native land on account of declining health. He has brought with him, besides his three children, two of the children of the Rev. Mr. Comstock, of the same Mission, who will remain with their relatives in this country.

The Pittsburg Gazette states that the manufacture of cast steel by Messrs. Schoenberger, is now in full operation at that place, and that they are now filling an order for the U. S. Army at Harper's Ferry.—That now making is intended for conversion into files.

The General Assembly of the State of Rhode Island met at Newport Monday, to hold its closing session under the old charter. The new General Assembly met at the same place yesterday, to organize the government under the new constitution.

The Mormons are about building a new city, Shokokan, three miles below Burlington, Iowa, in the Mississippi.

THE DAY FIXED.—The last number of the signs of the times, says that the righteous have reason to expect their Lord in the air, by the 23d of May, 1843. (Contradicted by the Times.)

Fitchburg Railroad.—We understand contracts have been made for completing the road 27 miles by the first of December, at a rate much below the lowest estimate! The question is now settled. The road will be completed in 1844; and if we mistake not, the stock, from the cheapness of the road, with all the new facilities, will soon be above par.—N. H. Sentinel.

Three hundred and twenty-one thousand dollars in specie arrived at New Orleans on the 16th inst. and the day previous.

We learn that in the Eastern part of Nova Scotia, such is the lack of fodder for the cattle, that they are being by hundreds, £10 10s. has been paid for a ton of hay in Boston.

If there were fewer diamonds and more potatoes in England, her people would rejoice. There's a good deal of poetry in that.

Mr. Thomas Barrett, sexton of the First Church in Beverly, now eighty-four years old has buried 259 persons!

Guns are more music to the little birds. They have more music in their souls than an hundred pianos.

A hare and a fox met one day on the vast prairie, and after a long conversation they prepared to start on their several routes.—The hare, pleased with the fox, lamented that they would in all probability separate forever. "No, no," replied the fox, "we shall meet again, never fail." "Where?" inquired his companion. "In the hunter's trap," replied the fox, "I will be sure," rejoined the fox, tripping lightly away.

The plea of Insanity.—The following is the latest successful instance of the plea of insanity. Sam, said a tender-hearted mother to her little son, "what on earth did you throw that kitten into the well for?" "Oh coz I was crazy." "Come to your ma, you sweet little cherub!"

A lesson for Pride.—Alexander the Great, seeing Diogenes looking attentively at a large collection of human bones piled one above another, asked the philosopher what he was looking for. "I am searching," said Diogenes, "for the bones of your father, but I cannot distinguish them from those of his slaves!"

"My eyes, Jack!" exclaimed a jolly tar, on seeing a soldier chained by the leg to a large cannon and for punishment, "if there ain't a soldier at anchor!"

MUTINY AT SEA.—The ship Metoka, of New York, McLarren, on her voyage from Liverpool bound to New Orleans, put into St. Thomas on the 5th ult, with her crew in a state of mutiny. Some of the ringleaders were confined in the fort to be sent home for trial, and the ship was to continue her voyage the next day for her destined port.—N. Y. Morning Chronicle.

Interesting to Girls.—When a boat arrives at any of the landings in Iowa, having young ladies on board, the bachelors crowd and hover about, after the manner of New York or Charleston gentlemen, and sing out—"Have a husband, Miss!—have a husband?"

"Are you the man of the house?" inquired a gentleman of a citizen one day. "No, but my wife is," was the subdued response.

The Whigs of Tennessee have raised their banner with the words "United Bank" inscribed upon it.

SICK HEADACHE.—This is a disease which some people are terribly afflicted, and a hint on the wisest subject may be useful. Dr. Burdell, of New York, in a letter to Alcott, says: "not a case of the sick headache has ever occurred within my knowledge except with the drinkers of tea and coffee, and not a case has failed of being cured on the entire renunciation of them."

The true possessor of the philosopher's stone is the miner, whose iron and copper are always convertible into the more precious metals. Agriculture is the noblest of all alchemy—for it turns earth and even manure into gold, conferring upon its cultivator the additional reward of health.

EPA son of Mr. Millman, near Chicago, snatched a life at the head of his little sister, in sport, and by direction of his father, which proved to be loaded, and was discharged into the forehead of the child, killing it instantly. [Cleveland Herald.]

HURKLE.—A drunken scoundrel, named Baldwin Howard, of Putnam county Tennessee, recently killed Mrs. Debra Ramey with an axe, severed her head from her body, cut off her arms, split open her back, and buried her in the snow. He then prepared for his defence a number of clubs and handspikes, and had defiance to the State of Tennessee. He was arrested and committed. If he has money or rich relatives, he will doubtless be acquitted on a plea of insanity, or something of that sort. If possible, they will hang him without trial. It is the fashion.

A poor, lame, old colored man was arrested near Poughkeepsie a few days ago, for stealing wood.—While measures were being taken to have him examined before a justice, he went to the barn, offered up a prayer to God, and tied a handkerchief round his neck and hung himself! Absolute want led him to commit the petty theft—shame led him to suicide! We envy not the man, who would arrest and punish a shivering, starving mendicant, for appropriating to his own use a stick of wood or a loaf of bread.

How sweet are the affections of social kindness! how balmy the influence of that regard which dwells around our firesides! Distort and doubt darken not the brightness of its purity: the cravings of interest and jealousy war not the harmony of that scene. Parental kindness and filial affections blossom there, in all the freshness of an eternal spring. It matters not if the world is cold, if we can but turn to our dear circle, and ask and receive all that our own heart claims.

ANOTHER COMET.—We conversed yesterday with a gentleman lately from Laguna, informs us that another Comet, much more brilliant than the one visible in this latitude, was seen by him whilst at port, and for several nights during the passage to New-Orleans. The nucleus is of a fiery red appearance, and was about 45 deg. E. S. E. of the termination of the tail or what was called the pale Comet. The tail was well defined and about thirty degrees in length. It rose about 4 o'clock, A. M. He also informs us that at Laguna, and in the interior of Caracacas, the greatest consternation prevailed among the inhabitants—the more so in consequence of the vast number of Mr. Miller's tracts which had been translated into Spanish and circulated amongst the people.—N. O. Bee.

WHOLE FAMILY POISONED.—We have not read of a more dreadful calamity than that detailed by a recent number of the Grenada (Miss.) Register.—This paper informs us of the whole family of Mr. Morehead, residing near the Yazoo Pass, having been poisoned by eating peaches dried on a painted board. One of his daughters was to have been married the very day she so suddenly tumbled from the earth. The marriage clothes were sent home as the funeral bier was preparing, and a cloud of woe bedimed the now blasted hopes of the partner of her bosom. The eldest son, prostrate on a bed of death, had just returned from a five years' study in the learned colleges of old Harvard. Crowned with his laurel wreaths of honor and glory. Death spreads his banner o'er the whole. Father, mother, son and daughter, now sleep the sleep of death, stretched side by side, and wrapped in the embers of the cold earth.

HOW TO JUDGE OF MEN.—I meet an individual man—how am I to regard him?—in what degree shall I respect him? His dress, his manners, all I see outwardly pleases me. But I must know more of him. Well, you tell me he is very wealthy—that he lives in a splendid house, and fares sumptuously every day. So far so good. But I pay homage to none of these things. I wish to ascertain what claims this man has upon my respect and esteem. You do not help me to the information I seek, by pointing to his elegant dwelling, to his costly clothing, to his luxurious table. No; the greater question I desire to have answered is what manner of person is he? is he honest, benevolent, religious?—In a word what is his character.

MARRIAGE EXTRAORDINARY.—There are few of our readers in this city or any of the principal towns in the country, who have not seen the famous united brothers, the Siamese twins. They have been residing for several years past in North Carolina, where they purchased a plantation. We had not heard of them for a long time, when we received a letter yesterday from a correspondent in North Carolina, informing us that they had entered into a state of double blessedness. Our correspondent says: "On Thursday, April 13th, married at Wilkes Co. N. C. by Elder Colby Sparks, of the Baptist church Messrs Chang and Bag, the Siamese twin brothers, to Misses Sarah and Adelaide, daughters of David Yeates of Wilkes Co., N. C. [N. Y. Courier and Enquirer.]

Extraordinary indeed. So much so that were it not for the evidence daily afforded of what unnatural things men and women will do, we should pronounce the thing incredible. What sort of women can they be who have entered into such a marriage? What sort of a father to consent? What sort of clergyman who performed the unnatural ceremony?—[Com. Adv.]

Horrible Murder.—A most barbarous murder of a whole family near Port Colden, in Warren co., N. J., perpetrated on Monday last. The head of the family was Mr. John B. Parks, an aged single man who was in the habit of boasting that he had large quantities of specie on hand. In his house lived John Carter, who worked the farm, his wife, who was Parks's sister, four children, and a servant. On Tuesday morning the neighbors were thrown into consternation by hearing that all these persons, except the maid servant, who was not at home the preceding night, were murdered. On reaching the spot the most dreadful spectacle was presented. Carter, who appears to have been decoyed out of the house, was found partially thrown into a lime kiln, his head literally beaten to fragments with a rail, which was picked up close by with all the horrid marks of the use that had been made of it. On entering the house Mr. Parks was found in his bed dead, with his throat cut from ear to ear. His sister, Mrs. Carter, and the infant at her side, were in like manner murdered, and a little son of 4 or 5 years old stabbed in several places, only not dead. There were two other children, but they slept in a distant part of the house—unknown, probably to the murderers. The house was riddled completely but what amount of plunder was obtained, no one could yet conjecture. The news spread rapidly, the country is raised, and handbills are already circulating in all directions, offering, in the name of surviving relatives, $1000 for the arrest and conviction of the murderers. Plunder, undoubtedly, was the motive, and universal opinion ascribed the horrid deed to strangers, who must have come from a distance. As there must have been two or three concerned, the hope seems reasonable that a clue will be found, and due punishment awarded to this unparalleled massacre.

Mr. Lord came to this place in 1831, where he has since resided, possessing in an eminent degree, the confidence of our community, the affection of his family and friends, and the esteem and honor of all who knew him. In 1826 Mr. Lord united himself to the Congregational church in Rutland, Vt., where he then resided. Since which time his holiness of heart has been abundantly made manifest by the unvarying rectitude of his Christian course. In the death of Mr. Lord, our community has lost one of its best citizens, the church at this place one of her most pious members, and society at large, an example bright and perfect as that "noblest work of God, an honest man." He was interred on the evening of the 23d, with massive honors, in the presence of a crowd of sorrowing friends.—Athens, Ga. Banner.
