

The tariff of '42. can no longer be doubted to be assailed in the next congress with all the power which the Administration can bring to bear against it. The word has gone forth. The Union chronicles the successful efforts of Mr. Secretary Walker in marshalling figures, and arraying statistics to prove that the country—prosperous now in all its industry—is suffering under the unjust taxation of a protective tariff—and all the affiliated presses are in full cry for free trade.

The composition of the cabinet is of evil omen. The President is free trade (notwithstanding Mr. Buchanan's certificate in Pennsylvania during the election, that he was as good a tariff man as Mr. Clay) and all the cabinet, except Mr. Buchanan, are either original free traders, or converts to that doctrine. Of course under such auspices the chances of protection will find no favor. What the result may be, is thus shown forth in the well written, brief and pithy, leading paper in the American Review for this month.

"That the country is to be convulsed with a fresh anti-tariff crusade, is therefore inevitable. The saboteurs of the tariff, the men who triumphed in Mr. Polk's election—the men who manufacture the public opinion of the party—will never rest satisfied till they have signified their victory by some decided attack on the nation's prosperity. General thrift and contentment are to them some enemies. Let the people mainly be well employed, fairly paid, satisfied with their condition, and steadily, though moderately, improving their circumstances—the more efficient they will be in the future, while even the humbler are putting away a trifling savings bank or some cracked teapot against a rainy day—and your village demagogue will find it difficult to find a ready-made victim for his demagogues. What avails the dignity of bar-room oracles, if the laboring class are at work week days, and at church on the Sabbath? Who so mad as to hope to hold a Jolicoeur majority, where the children divide their secular hours between work and school, and are constant at church and the Sunday-school? Stony ground this for you Ely Moores. Davey and Dorr to work upon; they will never get back their seed. Let the great mass be quietly at work, with plenty in their homes and God in their hearts, and the oratorical champions of 'Workingmen's Rights,' the 'Trailing Millions,' and all that, will be driven to the necessity of going to work themselves, and flourishing as idle waters, post-ers, contractors, etc., on the strength of their assumed influence over the people, and the number of votes they control and secure to the party."

ATTEMPTED ESCAPE OF SLAVES.—The watch detected, on Saturday, a plan to escape of several slaves, and three of them have been apprehended, and committed to jail. A vessel, which had dropped down below Town Point, was suspected to have been engaged as the medium of their escape; and a strict examination was made on board of her, but there was no evidence of the fact. The individuals in custody are servants in situations, which are to be envied by thousands of their color, and tens of thousands of whites, in the so-called free States; and some of them, no doubt, would have rued the change to such freedom, if they had succeeded.—The master spirit of the enterprise, however, who possessed an intelligence beyond his station, for which he is indebted to the kindness of his owner, might have fared better than his dupes.—North Star.

THE HEALTH OF NEW ORLEANS.—The report of the Board of Health, for the week ending the 26th inst., shows 124 deaths—not one in a thousand. Of that number one third were from the following causes, viz:—

Croup, Diphtheria, &c.	28
Congestion of the Brain, Drowned,	10
Of four cases of Fever,	6
Of Yellow Fever,	none

The places of interest show that a large proportion of the immortality occurred among the poorer classes: 77, or nearly three fourths, being in the Potter's Field, only 28 in the Catholic and Protestant Cemeteries, and the residue (24) in the St. Patrick, St. Vincent, and Cypress Grove Burial Grounds. It is to be remembered that the period reported will be remembered by many as the settemana calda or hot week. Is there any city of the population of this (at present) probably 150,000, in our country, with which it will not, at this time, bear a comparison in point of salubrity?—New Orleans Tropic.

Crops in Connecticut. As far as we can learn from our farmers, the crops will, in this part of New London County, be about equal to those of any previous year—although the quantity of hay cut will be but an average crop. Grain, rice and oats, we are told, will come in very well, and of corn there will be about an average yield. These facts are more gratifying, as the indications, in the month of May and June, were decidedly unfavorable to the growth of any of these articles, and many intelligent farmers prophesied that the year would be unpropitious throughout.

Of fruit, there is an abundance of most kinds. We hear nothing yet, however, of the apple crop; but, of pears and peaches, there will be a large supply. Whortle and blackberries, particularly the former, are of unusual size; and the crop is more than sufficient to supply all demands. We noticed that parties, of from six to twelve, leave the city almost every day, for the purpose of gathering them—often returning with from eight to thirty quarts.—[New London News.]

Yankee Wool. It costs just about as much to keep a sheep producing coarse wool, as it does to keep one of the finest variety, viz. 24 cents. The wool of the former is valueless, inasmuch as it will cost for fodder about as much as its wool will bring. Hence, there is no wool of the quality imported to this country. A Yankee sheep would be ashamed to carry it about with him. Yet the Lancashire pater has a great deal to say about the low duty on coarse wool, as if it were in competition with any wool produced in this country. The gammon of such logic is too palpable to deserve any one, and only renders those who use it ridiculous.—Rockster Democrat.

A correspondent of the St. Louis Republican, Mr. J. A. Hubbard, who had in early youth [together with his brother] been bitten by a mad dog, writes that he was cured by drinking a strong decoction made from the bark of the root of the black ash, which is a well known cure for the bite of a rattlesnake, drawing a white glass ball three times a day for eight days. This is a very simple remedy, and should at least have a trial. We give the following as the mode of preparing it.

Take the root of the common upland ash, generally called black ash; peel off the bark and cut it in a strong decoction, of this bark.

SHERIFF OF DELAWARE COUNTY ASSASSINATED BY INDIANS. DELHI, AUG. 7.—8 P. M. Friend Wood—I sit down to drop you a few lines before the mail closes, to inform you of one of the most fiendish and brutal outrages that ever disgraced our country. Under Sheriff Steele has been brutally murdered in Andes to day, by those heartless ruffians styling themselves Indians. A sale of property disgraced was postponed until today, on the premises of one Earl, of Andes. Steele went there to assist the Sheriff. The property was in a field, and 100 Indians were there, who forbade the officers entering the field. A volley of musketry was immediately fired by the Indians, who gathered around. Both horses were killed and Steele received two balls in his side. Edgerton, who with Sheriff Moore's horse, left immediately for Dr. Steele of our village; and from him we have all the intelligence we have yet received of this shocking affair.

Poor Steele is probably dead, as Edgerton says it was the opinion of every one on the ground that he would not survive, although he was alive when Edgerton left. Thus, the most faithful of officers have been murdered! and his only crime the faithful discharge of his duty. In the name of God, where is this to end!

The Indians, Indian-like, fled after firing. Yours, E. M.

A NOBLE ACT. Miss Willis, a daughter of Wm. H. Willis, Esq. of this city, now on a visit to Glen Cove, aged only 14 years, while walking near the beach, discovered a man in the water struggling and shrieking for help—without a moment's hesitation she plunged in to rescue the drowning man, and being an excellent swimmer soon reached him; but in his death struggle he grasped her so tightly as to prevent her from assisting him or moving herself, and in consequence both were near being drowned, when they were fortunately discovered by some laborers near, who rescued them. This was certainly an act of heroism rarely paralleled in the annals even of female chivalry. N. Y. Courier and Enquirer.

Gambling in New York. A New York paper gives the following description of one of the fashionable gambling establishments in that city: "The furniture is splendid—the cooks scientific—the servants admirable—the wines exquisite—the company select—the regency superb—the chequers unexcelled—the rascality unequalled."

DON'T GRUMBLE. He is a fool that grumbles at every little mischance. Put the beam forward, and is old and good maxim—Don't run about and tell your acquaintances that you have been unfortunate. People don't like to have unfortunate men for acquaintances. Add to a vigorous determination a cheerful spirit; if necessary, bear them like a philosopher, and get rid of them as soon as you can. Poverty is like a Panther; look at it steadily in the face, and it will turn from you.

British Feet on Lake Ontario.—In the Bay of Kingston, on the east side, are visible the remains of the British Fleet which occupied the Lake during the last war. This consisted of the St. Lawrence, 98 guns; the Regent, 44; Pyache, 26; Montreal, 26; the Niagara, and a large store ship or transport, besides schooners and gunboats. The hull of one of these vessels, probably the St. Lawrence, is roiled over for preservation. The remainder are sunken, the end of their bare ribs alone projecting out of the water.

"THE HAT."—Mr. Greeley, editor of the New York Tribune, having stated, in an account of the late great fire in New York, that a fireman, of Engine Co. No. 22, was blown two whole squares without touching the ground, and escaped with a sprained ankle, has been presented with "The Hat," from the O. G. Club, in Charleston, S. C., as a memento of their high regard of his admirable mode of penetrating the sublime "Mr. Greeley takes the joke, and the hat also, and giving an amazing account of the affair.

Williams College. We learn from the Northampton Courier, that the annual commencement of the above institution will take place on the third Wednesday in August. The baccalaureate sermon will be preached by the Rev. Dr. Hopkins, president of the College, upon the Sabbath afternoon previous.

The annual sermon before the Theological Society and Mills Society of Inquiry will be preached by the Rev. Dr. Sprague of Albany, upon the evening of that day. On Tuesday evening will be the usual prize theological exercises. The society of Alumni will be addressed by the Hon. Emory Washburn, of Worcester.

A Fearful Tragedy.—The following is from the New York Sun. A deplorable occurrence at the country residence of one of our New York merchants, involving the happiness of three families, and probably the lives of two persons, has been rumored for some days. We have been able to collect but a few authentic particulars. The merchant recently returned from Europe, and on visiting his country residence, had his suspicions aroused that a friend was base and a wife unfaithful. Finding them together he stabbed the guilty pair, and would have killed both instantly had he not fallen insensible at the moment of striking a second deadly blow at his wife. Both were seriously wounded, and the husband dying in the belief that he had killed both, is now a raving maniac. His wife is believed to be not fatally wounded, but the recovery of her paramour, who is a merchant, is doubtful. Both were stabbed in the region of the heart.

Mr. Buchanan Secretary of State. left Washington this morning for Bedford Springs. He expects to be absent about a fortnight. The President has appointed John Y. Mason, Esq. (the Attorney General) to act as Secretary of State ad interim.—[Washington Union.]

Females.—Judge Lewis says: "God bless the sex! Ever foremost in the work of charity, always ministering to the sick—tingering the angel at the cross—speeding earliest to the hospital! They never erred but once, and that error had been committed at a later period of the world, after four thousand years of bright and lovely deeds, the Accusing Spirit had earned the offence to Heaven's Chancery in vain!"

Wool.—Mr. Abraham Dix of Geneva, has sold his crop of Wool, 5000 pounds, at 46 cents, and was sensible the purchaser direct to England.

Bacon Cans.—Two young Englishmen are cultivating brown corn, on a farm between Cricklade and Cheltenham, for the purpose of export. They have this year a crop covering 1200 acres, and said to be very fine.—The father of the young man resides in England, and receives it and has it manufactured, it is said to be a good "speculation."

An Italian Colony is about to settle in Texas. The Washington Union says: "They are men of liberal political principles who wish to breathe the air of a free country, to enjoy her bigness and advance her interests. Most of them have capitals of $1,000 to $10,000. They will bring their families with them and introduce into their new homes the arts of Italy, the cultivation of the vine and the olive, the manufacture of wine and oil, and, if found sufficiently profitable, raising silk worms and the manufacture of silk. The scheme is not yet matured, and the arrangements are not yet reduced to detail; but an American of energetic character and of a liberal mind is concerned in the plan.

STRONG PRACTICE. A correspondent of the Concordia [La.] Intelligencer, gives the following sketch of the 'practice' in cases of 'interment' in the Sugar State, which will doubtless be edifying to some of the faculty in the West. "The worst fever is got here is the Onemitting; it's a pretty tight, cause it's apt to hang on long, but it ain't nothing like ekat to that. The grave that thadies or over in them hills.

In general, uses it up in a couple of days. I gin a somick in the first place, then half an hour after that, five or ten grains of 'Old Sampson,' that's the short name we've got here for calomy. Well, then, when the case looks right, I give about a wine glass full of it—and the next day the nigger is fitten for quinine—and the next day he kin walk into the pork and make his hoe fly—his seldom I has em in longer than I tells you on—sometimes in the very beginning of the attack I bleed, but it won't do, stranger. When the eye looks big and glossy, 'Old Sampson' in five grain doses in every half an hour for a couple of hours is just the thing—that is more people killed by bleeding at the wrong time, than this is by 'Old Death' herself.

Some Western swain has recently fallen most desperately in love with a fair one—Miss Betsey, he calls her; and disdaining common and vulgar prose, he allows his flame to burst out and blaze in poetry.—One stanza will give a sufficient insight into its merits.

mi love she is mi harts delite
hur name it is miss Betsey ile go & see hur this very nite
if god alimty lets me.

"Mother, our Sal has had a fit, 'A what? A fit O, murder—did you say a fit?—'Yes—dad bought her a pair of shoes, and they fit exactly. Boy you're a fool.

"My James is a good boy," said an old lady, but he has his feelings—he put the cat into the fire, flung his grandfather's wig down the cistern, set the barn on fire and tried to sick a fork in his sister's eye; these are only childish follies."

HOBSON'S CHOICE. The late Benr Nash, introduced Mrs. Hobson, a beautiful lady, to the company assembled in the ball room at Bath, with this supplementary observation: "I have often heard of Hobson's Choice, but never had the pleasure to view it until now, and you must coincide with me that it reflects credit on his taste."

A pert strapping one day asked an old gentleman which was the right road to the State Prison. The one you travel every day replied the latter.

WHAT I LIKE TO MISS. I like to see a young lady, one of the 'Aristocrats' especially, mimicking as her and industrious 'mechanic' in the street, as he goes to, or from his work; imitating his work &c. I think it appears very dignified and respectable, and shows a very superior and highly cultivated mind!

MAN'S LIFE. Man's life may be the only an hourglass to some being of a higher order; and they perhaps, say, when three-score and ten years are up, 'What, another hour gone! Dear me, how time flies!'

TEXAS is about being divided into two States. Right, such blessings ought not to come single.

The Portland Argus tells a story of a truck horse, in that city, that went to get shed, all on his own account, by an old customer of the smith, the shoes were put on and charged as usual.

It is said that a spoonful of horseradish put in a pan of milk will preserve it sweet for several days, either in the open air or in a cellar, while other milk will sour.

CURIOUS. The ladies of Puttville are holding a refinement Fair, to raise funds for the purchase of ground for a cemetery. This appears like carrying out the old doctrine, "let us eat and drink for to-morrow we die."

STATE OF VERMONT. BE it remembered that at a probate court held at Rutland within and for said district, on the first Monday, being the 4th day of August, A. D. 1845.

Present, Wm. Hall, Judge.
Whereas Charles Young, administrator of the estate of David Young, late of Danbury, in said district, deceased, intestate, has this day made application to said court representing that the personal estate of said deceased, after the allowance for the support of the family and the assignment to the widow, is insufficient to pay the debts and expenses of administration by about the sum of $25 dollars, and therefore praying said court to grant her license to sell so much of the real estate of said deceased as will raise that sum—said real estate consisting of the home lot of about 12 acres, one lot in Wallingford of 50 acres, one lot in Mt. Holly of 150 acres, and three lots in Mt. Tabor of more than 5 acres, all in said district, one undivided half of a dwelling house, shop and well in Manchester in the county of Bennington. Therefore,

It is ordered that said application be referred to the first Monday, being the 1st day of September next, for hearing and decision by said court, and that a copy of this order be published three weeks successively, previous thereto, in the Rutland Herald, a newspaper printed at said Rutland, that all persons interested may appear and give bonds for the payment of said debts and expenses, or otherwise object to the granting said license if they see cause.

POPULAR REMEDIES. THE most popular remedies of the present day as those which cleanse and purify the blood, and which are known to be antimony, zinc, mercury and the living resource to the bleeding in diseases, are now it is hoped going out of fashion, and vegetable remedies will soon be the popular medicine.

Then Brandreth's Vegetable Universal Pills will be used and appreciated. They are known to act beneficially on every part of the body; being taken up by the chyle they pass into the blood, which they purify; and it should be remembered that they only remove those parts from the blood which were the cause of inflammation or disease of any kind. Nothing is equal to ridding the vitiated humors with a vegetable medicine of this kind, which eighty four years have proved never to do injury, but always good.

BE CAREFUL OF COUNTERFEITS. The following are the only authorized agents for the sale of the Brandreth Pills and Liniment in Rutland County.

SAND'S SARSAPARILLA. For the removal and permanent cure of diseases arising from an impure state of the blood or habit of the system.

S. A. is a mild aperient, antiseptic and tonic, it contains the three most useful properties of medicine. It purges, purifies and restores. Scrofula, Cancer, Leprosy, all ulcers and Scrofulous sores, all diseases of the skin, and all internal disorders, not organic, but springing from a diseased circulation, give way before its hygienic influence.

Diseases having their origin in an impure state of the blood, and fluids generally, will be speedily and effectually removed by this invaluable medicine as its operation is peculiar, and consists in removing the cause to disease by entering into the circulation and passing through the general system.

The following letters furnish additional testimony of the intrinsic virtues of the Sarsaparilla: They speak for themselves.

New York, April 22, 1845.
Messrs A. B. & D. Sands Gentlemen; Feeling it a duty due to you and to the community at large, I send you this certificate of all the healing virtues of your Sarsaparilla, that others who are now suffering may have their confidence established and use your medicine without delay.

I was troubled with a severe ulcer on my ankle, which attended half way up to the knee, discharging very offensive matter, itching, burning, and depriving me often of my rest at night, and very painful to bear.

I was recommended to use your Sarsaparilla, by Mr. James McConnell, who had been cured by it, and after using five bottles I was completely cured.

I have delayed sending you this certificate for one year since the cure was effected in order to ascertain with certainty whether it was a permanent cure, and it now gives me the greatest pleasure to add that I have never felt the slightest re-appearance of it, and that I am entirely well.

Yours very truly,
SARAH MINTYRE, 240 Delancy street New York.

The following statement is from a gentleman who is one of the first druggists in the city of Providence, and from his extensive knowledge of Medicines of every kind, and his experience of the effects of Sand's Sarsaparilla, his opinion is one of peculiar value to the afflicted.

SAND'S SARSAPARILLA. I speak experimentally when I say that this medicine is far more effectual in the cure of chronic or acute rheumatism than any other preparation I have ever tested. Having endured extreme suffering at times within the last five years from repeated attacks of inflammatory rheumatism, I have recently used Sand's Sarsaparilla with the happiest success; my health is now better than it has been for many months past, my appetite is good, and my strength is rapidly returning. I attribute this beneficial change entirely to the use of this potent medicine. Feeling a deep sympathy with those who are afflicted with this most tormenting and painful complaint, I cannot refrain from earnestly recommending to such the use of this valuable specific. Having the most entire confidence in the medicine and skill of Dr. Sands, I was induced thereby to try the effects of their sarsaparilla, and I take pleasure in adding my testimony to that of many others commendatory of its invaluable properties, and known to and unobscured by the 'Mills' Sarsaparilla.

CHARLES DYER, Jr., Druggist and Apothecary, 46 & 42 Westminster street, Providence, R. I. Feb. 15, 1845.

DOCTOR TAYLOR'S BALSAM OF LIVERWORT. 375 Bowery.—[I do not care to ask the serious attention of every individual having any affection of the Lungs, Liver Complaint, or Consumptive Dyspepsia, Pain in the Stomach, or to read the following certificate, which is one of the shortest among those recently received. I assure the sick that there is no quackery or humbug, but an honest development of the facts, which I am ready to substantiate, and advise every one to beware of counterfeits and imitations, and buy only as above, or of Leeds & Hazard, No. 127 Water street, or Mrs. Hays, agent, 139 Fulton street, Brooklyn.

GURDON J. LEEDS, Orange, March 1, 1845.

This is to certify that about five years since I was taken with a violent cold, accompanied with a cough. My physician informed me that probably came from the lungs—the blood was of a bright red color. I had two spells of R. I went as soon as possible to your agent, Dr. Leonard in Newark, and procured one bottle of your genuine Dr. Taylor's Balsam of Liverwort, which acted on me like a charm, entirely curing me, and I have never since any other such time, but afterwards took another bottle for certainty. I am a resident of Orange, N. J., where I can be referred to at all times, if any wish to know personally about the curative qualities of this most excellent medicine."
