A couple of dogs demolished 17 of John Daggett's sheep one night lately, and the owner of the canines paid $30 for the privilege of having kept them, and slew them.

WEST RANDOLPH.—The store of A. W. Tewksbury & Sons was entered by a couple of burglars last Sunday morning about 3 o'clock. The safe was blown open but about the time of explosion the Boston express train arrived and alarmed the robbers, who thereupon decamped without getting any money from their operations. The store was set on fire but it was discovered and extinguished without any particular damage having been done. The burglars no doubt thought from the immense business done by Tewksbury & Sons, probably the largest store in any retail store in the State except that of the Fairbanks, that they would get a haul by opening that safe, after Saturday's trade. Instead of that, the new fallen snow enabled the people to track the burglars, and they were found in the fields and taken.

Thomas Davenport of Williams town was the inventor of the application of magnetism and electro-magnetism as a moving principle in mechanics for which he obtained a patent Feb. 25, 1837. He was experimenting upon this machine as early as 1832. In 1834 his model was put on exhibition in New York, and from it Professor Morse got his first idea of the electric telegraph.

Lewis Harrington of South Stratford, while out hunting foxes last week, fired his gun at a fox, but the gun burst into such small pieces that he was able to find but very few of them, while both Mr. Harrington and the fox escaped unhurt.

A NARROW ESCAPE.—On Saturday afternoon last, as the freight train from this place was nearing Wells River, the conductor, Mr. George Witherell, noticed a peddler upon the high way swinging a broom at him, and in other ways endeavoring to attract his attention. Looking ahead on the track Mr. Witherell saw a gap about fifty feet long, which had been washed out, owing to the want of a culvert in the proper place. He immediately pulled a pin, which detached seventeen of the nineteen loaded cars of which the train was composed, and these seventeen cars were stopped within four feet of the gap.

The engineer, Martin Hamlin, finding that it was impossible to stop the engine in season, when within fifty feet of the wash out, told the fireman to jump off, which he did. Mr. Hamlin then took his little boy, eight years old, in his arms and leaped from the engine, both, fortunately, escaping without injury.

But the wonderful part of the story remains to be told. The Fish joint, which is used upon this road, forms a continuous rail, so that although the earth had been washed away to the depth of twenty feet, for a distance of fifty feet, taking with it the ties, the engine, "Charles River," weighing thirty tons, with two heavily loaded cars, were supported by the strength of the continuous rail, and passed over the chasm in safety, so that no accident to person or property resulted from what might have caused a most serious disaster.

Hewins the contractor, who built the bridge that broke down at Waterbury, had invested his whole fortune and probably more in the work. He says of the bridge, "I would have stood on it with perfect confidence, and now I almost wish I had."

An old bachelor in Orleans county has been deterred from committing matrimony in the following novel way: Thinking over the subject seriously and particularly the expense of maintaining a family, he set the table in his lonely abode with plates for himself and an imaginary wife and five children. He then sat down to dine and as often as he helped himself to food he put the same quantity on each of the other plates and surveyed the prospect, and at the same time computing the cost. The result of his examination was so discouraging that he resolved not to marry; but why should he think he was to have so large a family to provide for, we cannot explain. He should have remembered the old aphorism: "Never count your chickens before they are hatched."

RUTLAND, Vt., Feb. 23. The liquor raid was resumed here today. The establishments of S. J. Loop, J. T. Caden, Farnes's Hotel and A. F. Davis's feed store, were visited, but no liquor found. The result of the day's work was six barrels taken at the depot.

Soon after the raid commenced a mob assembled in the vicinity, and officer H. O. Perkins was thrown into the mud. An assistant named Powers was pursued by the crowd through the depot yard with hoots and cheers. He drew a pistol, threatening vengeance, after which he was pelted with rotten eggs and brickbats, finally retreating for safety into Morse Block.

Rev. Richard Grogan was on hand, the hero of the occasion, but no violence was offered him. The excitement ran high at one time and fears were entertained for the result, but the mob were dispersed after a brief speech from Deputy Sheriff Sanderson. The proceedings of the mob were disgraceful and aroused much indignation.

Several of the leading citizens have given a bond to indemnify the officers, and it is understood the raid will be resumed to-morrow.

In Burlington, Derby & Ford were recently indicted for selling liquor. They appeared and demanded a specification of the number of offences. The State's Attorney then brought a charge of 3200 offences, by selling to sixteen persons, which would make in fines the modest little sum of $32,000, to say nothing of the costs.

A committee was appointed to promote the enterprise.

ENTERPRISING THEIF.—A short time since one Abram Nute engaged board at Mrs. William Turner's, in Belows Falls, and after a short stay suddenly departed, taking $25 in money belonging to Mrs. Turner, and a suit of clothes owned by A. N. Lee, another boarder. He next went to Brattleboro, and from there to Keene, N. H., where he engaged rooms and dispensed hospitality with great liberality at the expense of the hotel keeper. Nute's next field of operation was at South Vernon, where he stole a horse belonging to Austin Kingsley, and a sleigh and robes from Mr. Priest, proprietor of the hotel. He afterward traded one of the robes for an overcoat. Finally he was arrested in Chesterfield, N. H., and after a trial was lodged in jail at Newfane. It has been ascertained that he is a prison bird from Massachusetts, and his chances for employment at Windsor after the next term of County Court are not particularly doubtful.

ADVERTISEMENT.

To Whom it may concern In Orange County Vt., and Grafton County N. H.

On account of the many persistent abuse, conspired, scandalous reports, prior, and during the undesignated absence to the Pacific Coast, doubtless designed not only for the injury of my reputation, but to obtain that which honest industry may have accomplished. It appears to become my duty to make known to the people of said counties that the more recent reports connecting me with one alleged Mann of some town in Grafton County (not known to me) are equally false in every allegation as all former ones covering a space of fifteen years, which I trust have each respective, beyond the shadow of a doubt proved to be abusive conspired fabrications. Therefore in order that the late reports could in anywise be referable to my past life, it would have been absolutely necessary for the laws of nature to have been superseded by that of spontaneous combustion.

Two married men (the names of which I defer to mention) have been represented as witnesses against me. I challenge them to produce any truthful evidence against me.

The late report also conveys the idea of fraud and dishonesty of which I have to say I have done business in the four terrestrial extremes of the United States and can say with all conscience that I have paid or satisfied cheerfully every just claim against me.

A word more: On account of the willful depravity of human nature, an evil report takes the swiftest wings and penetrates the minutest corners, while a good report becomes a burthen to the traveler and is left by the way-side. Therefore the scandalizer (even should it be his desire) can never retrace his steps to plant by the way the rose where stands the thorn.

[Note to THE EDITOR.—Although we publish the above as an advertisement, as a matter of supererogation, we feel constrained to express our unbounded admiration of the sparkling scintillations from the facile pen which has so long "wasted its sweetness on the desert air." It is not often that so pellucid a calm of one's innermost nature is so stirred to its lower depths, and bubbles forth with such a spontaneity of spherical translation, evoking an exultation of sympathy with the transcendental periphrasis of the above transfiguration of poetical imagery, critical erudition and sublime pathos. We rest here for fear of an attack of Corboreo-spinal-meningitis.]

CARBOLIC SALVE.

The important discovery of the CARBOLIC ACID as a CLEANSING, PURIFYING, and HEALING Agent is one of the most remarkable results of modern medical research. During the late civil war it was extensively used in the Hospitals, and was found to be not only a thorough disinfectant, but also the most wonderful and speedy HEALING REMEDY ever known.

It is now presented in a scientific combination with other soothing and healing agents, in the form of a SALVE, and having been already used in numerous cases with most satisfactory and beneficial results, we have no hesitations in offering it to the public as the most certain, rapid, and effectual remedy for all Sores and Ulcers, no matter of how long standing, for Burns, Cuts, Wounds, and every ABRASION OF SKIN or FLESH, and for Skin diseases generally.
