

BURLINGTON.

FRIDAY MORNING, APRIL 8.

PEOPLE'S TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT WM. H. HARRISON.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT FRANCIS GRANGER.

FOR GOVERNOR SILAS H. JENISON.

FOR VICE GOVERNOR DAVID M. CAMP, of Derby.

The following interesting letter from Capt. HITCHCOCK, was addressed to his mother...

Fort Drake (Genl Clinch's Plantation), MARCH 12, 1836.

I wrote to you from Fort King about the 22d ult. and told you of the intention of Genl Gaines to go south towards Tampa Bay...

The war is certainly checked, if not ended. The Indians undoubtedly wish to make peace...

The justice, morality, and regard for the opinion of the decent and respectable portion of the public...

The question of the contested seat of one of the North Carolina Representatives...

The house of Representatives of the U. States sat till half past four on Sunday morning...

The sitting extended to more hours on the Sabbath morning than the House usually sits on week days...

Mr. Van Buren knows, or gravely apprehends, that he cannot be elected President by the people...

Mr. Van Buren knows, or gravely apprehends, that he cannot be elected President by the people...

Mr. Van Buren knows, or gravely apprehends, that he cannot be elected President by the people...

haste to do evil, that "the Sabbath of the Lord our God," which, from childhood up, we are all taught to keep holy...

WASHINGTON, Monday morning. After I had mailed my letter of Saturday night, in which I stated my belief that the election subject would be terminated...

WASHINGTON, March 29. The previous question was brought to our aid to-day, and Mr. Graham, as was anticipated on all hands, was ousted from his seat by a majority of twenty seven.

WASHINGTON, March 29. The previous question was brought to our aid to-day, and Mr. Graham, as was anticipated on all hands, was ousted from his seat by a majority of twenty seven.

WASHINGTON, March 29. The previous question was brought to our aid to-day, and Mr. Graham, as was anticipated on all hands, was ousted from his seat by a majority of twenty seven.

WASHINGTON, March 29. The previous question was brought to our aid to-day, and Mr. Graham, as was anticipated on all hands, was ousted from his seat by a majority of twenty seven.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29, 1836. The House of Representatives have been engaged today about seven hours on the North Carolina Contested Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29, 1836. The House of Representatives have been engaged today about seven hours on the North Carolina Contested Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29, 1836. The House of Representatives have been engaged today about seven hours on the North Carolina Contested Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29, 1836. The House of Representatives have been engaged today about seven hours on the North Carolina Contested Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29, 1836. The House of Representatives have been engaged today about seven hours on the North Carolina Contested Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29, 1836. The House of Representatives have been engaged today about seven hours on the North Carolina Contested Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29, 1836. The House of Representatives have been engaged today about seven hours on the North Carolina Contested Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29, 1836. The House of Representatives have been engaged today about seven hours on the North Carolina Contested Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29, 1836. The House of Representatives have been engaged today about seven hours on the North Carolina Contested Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29, 1836. The House of Representatives have been engaged today about seven hours on the North Carolina Contested Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29, 1836. The House of Representatives have been engaged today about seven hours on the North Carolina Contested Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29, 1836. The House of Representatives have been engaged today about seven hours on the North Carolina Contested Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29, 1836. The House of Representatives have been engaged today about seven hours on the North Carolina Contested Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29, 1836. The House of Representatives have been engaged today about seven hours on the North Carolina Contested Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29, 1836. The House of Representatives have been engaged today about seven hours on the North Carolina Contested Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29, 1836. The House of Representatives have been engaged today about seven hours on the North Carolina Contested Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29, 1836. The House of Representatives have been engaged today about seven hours on the North Carolina Contested Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29, 1836. The House of Representatives have been engaged today about seven hours on the North Carolina Contested Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29, 1836. The House of Representatives have been engaged today about seven hours on the North Carolina Contested Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29, 1836. The House of Representatives have been engaged today about seven hours on the North Carolina Contested Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29, 1836. The House of Representatives have been engaged today about seven hours on the North Carolina Contested Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29, 1836. The House of Representatives have been engaged today about seven hours on the North Carolina Contested Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29, 1836. The House of Representatives have been engaged today about seven hours on the North Carolina Contested Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29, 1836. The House of Representatives have been engaged today about seven hours on the North Carolina Contested Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29, 1836. The House of Representatives have been engaged today about seven hours on the North Carolina Contested Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29, 1836. The House of Representatives have been engaged today about seven hours on the North Carolina Contested Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29, 1836. The House of Representatives have been engaged today about seven hours on the North Carolina Contested Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29, 1836. The House of Representatives have been engaged today about seven hours on the North Carolina Contested Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29, 1836. The House of Representatives have been engaged today about seven hours on the North Carolina Contested Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29, 1836. The House of Representatives have been engaged today about seven hours on the North Carolina Contested Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29, 1836. The House of Representatives have been engaged today about seven hours on the North Carolina Contested Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29, 1836. The House of Representatives have been engaged today about seven hours on the North Carolina Contested Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29, 1836. The House of Representatives have been engaged today about seven hours on the North Carolina Contested Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29, 1836. The House of Representatives have been engaged today about seven hours on the North Carolina Contested Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29, 1836. The House of Representatives have been engaged today about seven hours on the North Carolina Contested Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29, 1836. The House of Representatives have been engaged today about seven hours on the North Carolina Contested Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29, 1836. The House of Representatives have been engaged today about seven hours on the North Carolina Contested Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29, 1836. The House of Representatives have been engaged today about seven hours on the North Carolina Contested Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29, 1836. The House of Representatives have been engaged today about seven hours on the North Carolina Contested Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29, 1836. The House of Representatives have been engaged today about seven hours on the North Carolina Contested Election.