Master Leo. J. Vogt Wins the First Little Pony and Cart!

To Whom. It May Concern:

This is to certify that we have examined the books of Parker, Bridget & Company and the cards of the little boy and girl contestants, and find that Master Leo J. Vogt has brought the firm the largest amount of trade during the month of October, and is therefore entitled to the prize of said pony and cart.

Signed:

JOHN W. AVERY, "Times." WM. A. PAGE. "Post." J. WHIT HERRON, "Star." Committee.

The above letter explains itself, and Master Leo J. Vogt will please call at the store at 9 o'clock this morning and receive the little pony and cart for which he has worked so zealously and so justly earned !

Young Vogt was pushed closely by Master Bowman and a few others, and these less fortunate young gentlemen have two more chances to secure a little pony and cart.

The contest for the second little pony and cart begins this morning, and any boy under 16 years of age can compete. Cards with all necessary information will be furnished upon application at the store.

The Canterbarys are now nego-tiating for games with a number of good teams, and with soon be right in the heart of the fray. They are ready to consider propositions from any of the football brethren.

The game between the Orients and Poto-mass, in which neither team scored, is commented upon in the most cattering way by football experts. It is praised as one of the very best contexture on the griddron in this city. When these two teams come together again to settle the account now open they are sure to attract the presence and attention of about every lover of the football game in the city.

It is suid that Oille Sears has been offered a money inducement to quit the Potomacs and add his strength to one of the other local teams. That this is true is not posi-tively known, but if it is, it is not likely that it will have the desired effect. Sears is counted one of the very best combina-tions of football staff in Washington, and he would no doubt be delightfaily wel-coused by any team that his fancy might lead him to; but he likes the Potomacs and will remain with them.
