The Ladies of Swissvale Present His Club With a Fine Banner.

ME. TRENT ON GOOD REPUBLICANISM.

A special meeting of the Dalzell Republast evening. The occasion was the presentation of an elegant banner, handsomely embroidered and bearing the title of the club in letters of gold on a groundwork of club in letters of gold on a groundwork of dark blue silk, by the ladies of Swissvale and vicinity to the club. About 15 ladies and 50 or 60 gentlemen were present to hear the addresses of the Hon. John Dalzell, S. U. Trent, Esq., Mr. A. J. Edwards and other speakers. Among those in the gath-ering were: D. P. Corwin, Secretary of the Pittsburg, Virginia and Charleston Road; I. M. Moffat and D. F. Collingwood, the latter an Americus Club man.

latter an Americus Club man. der, and after briefly stating the object of their assembling, introduced Mr. A. J. Edwards, who had been called upon to present the banner on behalf of the ladies. Mr. Edwards paid a glowing tribute to woman, adverted to her powerful influence for good, and said that everything she touched she elevated and raised shows the country. elevated and raised above the common. He spoke in eulogistic terms of Mr. Daizell, and said well might they place his name upon their banner, for he represented the purest party and grandest organization this country over saw. He referred to the inception of the party and its subsequent career, and in closing said: "The ladies of Swissvale desire to present to you through me, this handsome and elegant banner. When time shall have dimmed its beauty, it is the hope of the donors that the Dalzell Republican Club will still be in its youth and beauty."

MR. TRENT'S CLEVER REPLY. S. N. Trent, in accepting the gift on be-half of the club, expressed his acknowledgments to the donors for their devotion to the principles which the organization represented. He said that strong indeed, was the cause, and favored that had woman's sym-pathy and support, and that all along in the great highways of time woman had been stronger in her tears, than men in their arguments. Proceeding, the speaker referred to the support that women had always accorded the Republican party during the dark days of its household duties, but it was also her mis-sion to inspire men to beneficent results. The aspirations of the Republican party were worthy of a woman's sympathy. Con-tinuing Mr. Trent drew a distinction be-tween Republicans and Democrats, as the tween Republicans and Democracs, some-tormer being so because they knew some-thing and the latter being so they knew nothing. "The because they knew nothing. The Democratic party," he continued, never stood up for anything until it knew what the Republicans were going to do, then they went against it. Where would this country be without the splendid achievemen's of the Republican party? Nothing but a dream, a delusion. It has spoken the voice of liberty; its influence has extended to the ends of the earth; it lifted a race from slavery; it has fostered and protected American industries; it has made us respected abroad, and I say to you that it is worthy of woman's support, for it is the knighthood of American manhood to-day. So, my friends, the gentlemen of this vicinity have founded this organization to maintain these principles, and they believe they can best be maintained by the election of pure, capable and honest men to office."

The Chairman then introduced the Hon.

John Dalzell, who was received with cheers. The sp aker said he would as soon think of making , set speech on the present oceas as he would of addressing his friends in his own parlor. He fully appreciated the kind things said of him, and if their Representa-tive were all he was painted, the honor reflected not on him but on those whose principles he ad .- ated. Any gentleman would be proud to be connected with them. It was a good thing to have a club in a neighborhood like that. Men were gregarious

BRASS BANDS A NECESSITY. to attract crowds and draw the attention of trolled by it. There must be a machine, whether it be good or whether it be bad. By a machine I mean that organization which is necessary to conduct an election.

ARRESTED FOR FORGE Now it seems to me that when the club loses its organization it loses its power to control and direct the machine, which up to a certain point is all right. It is when the machine goes too far that the club should step in and direct it. Whenever a club de-parts from this position and becomes a machine, and ceases to be an auxiliary, it opens the door to "bossism," a thing we should avoid as far as possible, and if we we must not lose sight of this. It is very easy to get up a club on a political basis, especially dur-ing a campaign, but it is a different thing to keep it going afterward. Now, my suggestion is in the line of what is practical. Every club has a social ele-ment and this is a side that should be cultivated; you won't have pressing political questions to keep you going all the time. You must introduce the social substratum; make it more of an element, make your club homelike. Why should there not be from time to time social as well as political discussions? If a man has anything to say why cannot be ventilate his ideas? A good social club, made up of good social fellows is bound to be a success. I suggest to you, for instance, a lecture, say once a month. I will myself undertake to supply one or two

Mr. Dalzell went on to say the club should have a voice in controlling the affairs of the neighborhood, and said: "I cannot underneighborhood, and said: "I cannot under-stand how a man can be a Democract, or how a man can insult his understanding by becoming a Democrat. The Republican party has not getten to the end of its mis-sion or its history. The party that started out for free territories and ended in freeing men, has not fulfilled its mission until the awin! Southern outrage is wiped out. It is a wrong to every man in the nation who has n vote, that the Southern planter has now 5 votes for the 3 be used to have, and I say that the Republican party will carry on its mission until the outrage is removed.

TYRANNY OF THE DEAD.

Rev Pentecont Says the Great Men of the Past Are Handlenpped-Their Influence Deminated Too Much. Rev. Hugh O. Pentecost delivered another lecture in Lafayette Hall last night to an audience that might have been larger, but

The speaker maintained that the influence of the dead dominated religion as taught in churches, theological seminaries, medical and law schools and hampered study in political economy, greatly to the detriment of the body politic. In the last 50 years a great revolution had taken place. The trusted woman helper in the family lican Club was held at its rooms, Swissvale, had been degraded to a mere menial. The trusted hired man was a thing of the past, and his place was occupied by a being less valued by the farmer than one of his cows. This estimate of hired help had developed the tramp, filthy and criminal, and mechanics had become mere appendages to machinery. Political economy, he said, must be re studied. Henry George is called a crank by those who occupy collegiate chairs en-dowed by dead men. Youth never had any chance against an endowment, as witnessed The chairman called the meeting to or- at Andever. Untaxed churches are bad

Washington, Jefferson, Webster and Clay were great in their day, but in 1889 they are sadly handicapped by the fact that they are dead and have not had the benefit of half a century's progress. The mechanics of to-day know more of the live issues than Web-ster could foretell in his time.

The Captain Kidds and Dick Turpins of the past, the speaker said, are to-day the Goulds and the Vanderbilts. People are so much under the influence of the teachings of the dead that many actually believe that Andrew Carnegie, who is absent from his works half the time, individually earns the enormous sum called his share of the

USING THEIR OWN GAS.

Park Bres. Will Construct a Sixteen-Inch Main From Murrysville. Park Bros. & Co. were able to turn on a supply of gas last night from their new well, six miles distant from their present gas wells at Murraysville, and one mile south of McLaughlin station. For the past four months the company inception, and said that it was her lot not alone to darn and mend and perform her points to enable them to have a constant boxes pold duties but it was also her mire supply of gas throughout the long winter months. They found last year that, al-though they had a number of good wells in the Murrysville district, they did not get a sufficient supply of gas to run the mili during the winter months. This resulted last season in a number of cancelled orders. To avoid this state of things in the future the company took time by the forelock, and sunk the new Smith well connecting it with their others. The latter gives them 500 pounds extra pressure. This they anticipate will supply them abundantly for all pur-

The Smith well is sunk about 1,800 feet dep. The pipes which connect the two wells are six miles long and 12 inches in diameter. The laying of the pipe line cost about $2,500 per mile. The aggregate cost for the whole work was upward of $50,000. This work, however, is small in comparison with the new line which they propose to commence shortly. It will run from Mc-Laughlin station to the Homestead reducing station. The new pipe line is to be 16 inches in diameter, and will be about 19 miles in length. The work | RINGTON. will take about nine months to finish it, and will cost over $200,000.

There is another point, too, in connection with the uses jail there, and the Pittsburg police were of a club; there is the instruction socially as well as politically which can be promulgated by them. There is the reflex effect on members of what they may have heard at their club. Men exchange views and ideas, discuss matters of interest suggested by passing events, and subjects in this wise are suggested to the mind of which it never had thought of before. In political affairs there thought of before. In political affairs there must be a machine, and one of the uses of the political club is to control the machine, not be cononce, and a brother of the unfortunate man
