She had not been absent a great while were startled by piercing sbricks from the eldest child, and in another instant a man ran into the shop from the street and ex-claimed that a child was at an upper window and in flames. The workmen in the shop rushed up stairs, and upon bursting open the door discovered the eldest child completely enveloped in flames and the dress of the infant also on fire. It required tions peculiar to Parisian mobs in times of but a moment to extinguish the flames, but so rapid had been the progress of the fire that there was nothing left upon the boy when the men entered the room but a small strip of muslin about his waist. From the head of the child to its toes the flesh was completely roasted, and on the right arm the flesh had been so burned that the muscles were exposed. The little sufferer writhed in the most excruciating agony until one o'clock, when death relieved it from further suffering. An inquest was held by Dr. Spicer, coroner, the jury rendering a verdict of death by fire. The infant escaped without any burns. When the mother returned to her home and gazed upon the charred mass that was presented to her view, she almost went mad from grief, and it was with great difficulty that she could be prevented from doing herself injury. THE HIBERNIAN BENEVOLENT SOCIETY-PERMAmeeting of the Hibernian Society was held last night at the City Hall. A M. Keiley, Esq., was called to the chair, and Mr. Thomas O'Farrell acted as secretary.

Mr. Keiley upon taking the chair, in a few remarks, explained the objects of the society, after which he called upon all who were present and not members of the society to come forward and enroll themselves. In answer to this call quite a number of those present proceeded to pay their initiation fee and sign the constitution.

Mr. Dooley then offered the following reso-lution which was adopted:

Resolved, That a committee of five from each ward be appointed by the chair whose duty it shall be to organize, in their respective wards, all who desire to join in the procession on St. Patrick's Day. That the said committees shall appoint officers for their respective ward organizations; and that the five committees jointly shall elect the general officers of the procession and make the general arrangements necessary for the parade.

A Site for the New Penitentiary.—A mong the pet schemes at present before the Senate and House of Delegates, none assume more importance to the citizens of this vicinity, especially, as well as to the State at large, than the removal of the State penitentiary from its present location. The city tax-payers should at once see the necessity which calls for some action in this matter immediately, as the present location, covering about six acres of land, consists of one of the most eligible building sites in the city, and which would, at the lowest estimate, furnish taxable property in less than two years from the time it was put up for sale, to the amount of $100,000, to say nothing of the income to the city from the consumption of gas and water.

Bellona has been suggested as a desirable place, and as one having all the requirements necessary, viz: Buildings and building material nearly sufficient for a new prison; clay for brick making in any amount; close proximity to the granite quarries of the canal and river; easy of access to the city, via the canal; cheapness in the transportation, via same route; desirable and extensive coal fields which can be made an immense source of revenue to the State, and which can be worked by the convicts who are not skilled laborers, and many other advantages too numerous to be spoken of in detail.

We are not wedded to this locality more than to any other, but can see its desirableness in all the respects referred to.

The Berger Family .- The Theatre was The Derger Famuy.—The Theatre was again crowded last night with the largest and most fashionable audience that has ever assembled in this city for many years past. The programme was a very fine one, and was carried out to the letter. The violin solo by Miss Anna Berger deserves special mention. The graceful and artistic manner in which this charming young lady wields the violin bow, is astonishing. She executed the most difficult pieces with the taste and skill of an old professor. repeat the carnival, and it is in accordance with that request that the entertainment will be given to-night. At the first carnivala great variety of new dresses, many of unique design and get-up, were paraded on the floors to the great delight of all present.

To-night, we are assured that the display in this respect will far exceed that of the former occasion. Many who participated then have taken so much interest in the matter as to employ their time since in getting up dresses that cannot be excelled. There will appear to-night in costume about three hundred ladies and gentlemen, and twice that number of spectators. Medical College of Virginia. — The Chemical Hall of this institution was crowded last night by interested spectators, ladies and gentlemen, on the occasion of the annual commencement exercises. A good band of music added much to the interest of the occasion. The most interesting feature of the exercises was the valedictory address to the graduating class by Dr. L. S. Joynes, late Dean of the Faculty, which was replete with medical lore and full of valuable suggestions and advice to the newly made doctore. We publish again the list of the students in the graduating class:

J. A. Brown, Chesterfield, Va.
C. A. Bryce, Hanover county, Va.
J. C. Deaton, Richmond, Va.
S. W. Dickinson, Louisa county, Va.
H. H. Levy, Richmond, Va.
J. E. Parr, Alleghany county, Va.
W. J. Strother, Culpeper C. H., Va.
G. G. Wayt, Richmond, Va.
W. M. Whitten, Alleghany county, Va.
A pleasant incident in connection with the above was the public presentation to Dr. II. H. of a splendid case of surgical instruments for his proficiency as a student.

The Swiss Bell Ringers' Matinee .-

The Swiss Bell Ringers' Matinee.—Tomorrow afternoon, the Berger family will give a grand family matinee at the Theatre, commencing at half-past 2 o'clock. These matinees are a great feature with the Bergers, and are everywhere attended by immense crowds of ladies and children. In Louisville they gave a matinee to an audience numbering two thousand seven hundred persons, fully four-fifths of whom were of the fairer sex. Three weeks ago in Baltimore, they gave a matinee at Concordia Opera House to the largest audience ever congregated within that spacious building. The programme to-morrow afternoon will embrace all the choice specialities of this taiented family, and if the weather is favorable we look to see such an array of beauty and fashion gathered within the walls of the theatre as has not been seen there for many a long day. The regular matinee prices will be maintained, which will enable every one to send their children to hear the sweet music of the Bell Ringers.
