Chaney--Roadcap.

Rapahine, April 10.—This afternoon at two o'clock a beautiful marriage was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Parker, Rev. P. Swan, cousin of the bride, officiating; assisted by the bride's pastor, Rev. A. H. Hamilton, when Miss Stephanie Lee Roadcap became the bride of Mr. Fred W. Chaney of Danville, Va.

The bride, who is a young lady of many accomplishments, is an alumnus of Roanoke College, Danville, was attired in a handsome white silk made "en Princess," with veil and gloves to match. Her veil was draped with lilies of the valley caught up with a crescent of pearls, the gift of the groom. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. Miss Nettie Bowles of Clifton Forge, was maid of honor, and wore a white organdie over tulle and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and maiden hair ferns. Mr. Harry Lewis of Danville was best man. Little Elizabeth Parker carried the ring on a white satin pillow. The bridesmaids were Misses Lena Kulsh Bull of Eastern Shore, Lena Chaney, sister of the groom, of Danville, Mary Lackey of Timber Ridge, and Grace Parker of Rapahine. They were costumed in white moirai and carried white carnations and ferns tied with white tulle. Little Hazelzy Roadcap and Mabel Fultz were ribbon bearers.

The bridal party presented a very pretty tableau scene, as the bay window had been especially prepared for the purpose. The ribbon girls entered first, fixing the aisle. Then the minister, groom and best man took their places, followed by the ushers Messrs. Robert Withburn of Clifton Forge and J. D. Parker of Rapahine. Then came the bridesmaids. The maid of honor walked in advance of the ring bearer, and the bride entered leaning on the arm of her grandfather, Mr. Parker, who gave her away. The two who were plighting their troth stood under a horseshoe of white flowers which was suspended from an arch of cypress. Potted plants and white flowers were used to carry out the color scheme which was white and green. After the conclusion of the ceremony the newly wedded couple proceeded to the reception room and while they were receiving congratulations and best wishes from Mrs. S. G. Goehneau and her family, Mrs. S. G. Goehneau sang in soft sweet tone "O Perfect Love."

A sumptuous luncheon, which consisted of meats, relishes, salads and desserts, was served in the most hospitable manner to the large number of guests whose attendance attested to the popularity of the bride. The dining room was decorated beautifully with carnations, ferns, etc., the color scheme being carried out.

The bride was the recipient of a great number of the most handsome presents, exquisite cut glass, silver and bric-a-brac, which expressed in the most complimentary manner the esteem and love for both bride and groom. The bride couple left on the five o'clock train amidst a shower of rice for their future home in Danville, where a reception will be given them at the home of the groom. The bride is one of Rockbridge's attractive young ladies and has a host of friends who wish for her a long life of future happiness. The groom is a young man of many sterling qualities, and has a host of friends.

THE NEWS FROM CRIMORA.

Improvements to Mine Property—A Successful Commission Business—Large Shipments of Flour—Fine Wheat Prospects—Personal, Etc.

Crimora, Va., April 11th, 1906. A visit to this section of Augusta county, at all times interesting, is more pleasing at this season of the year when nature is putting on her mantle of spring life. Those who are favored with a trip of inspection to the Mangrove mines will find it an interesting sight and its novel method of mining, the duty appreciated. The work is known as the Crimora Mangrove Mines and are now completing valuable improvements that will enable the company to do a greatly increased business. The drainage tunnel that has been building for about three years is finished and will be valuable not only to this mine but to the Old Dominion—that adjoins. Another expensive improvement is the great water dam that required 24 car-loads of cement for the grouting alone. Besides this a dam of great strength is to be put across an adjacent mountain ravine and later a large settling pond. All this means much for the successful and profitable operation of the mine.

To the north of this mine is the property of the Augusta Mangrove Co., where the openings have brought to light some very fine ore. Not long since Mr. Sparke was here going over the property and prospecting in the interest of the Mangrove parties.

In this connection it is as well to say that the Old Dominion Co. is expected soon to develop its property. Its rights are owned by Mr. C. H. Harman, of New York, Messrs. Massie, of Charlottesville, Patterson of Richmond, and others.

Since winter days are at hand the Sunday School for the summer has been opened in the Methodist church, Mr. W. R. Talley, superintendent. At present there is no secretary and treasurer owing to the removal from the neighborhood of Mr. L. B. Goehneau, the obliging mail carrier of R. F. D. No. 1 operating from this place. As rural carrier he is succeeded by Mr. E. R. Kennedy, who with his family have long been residents of this place. The route though a long and difficult one has been well maintained and an excellent service given by both Mr. Goehneau and his successor.

Messrs. Harman and De Runderan have been shipping lately quite a good deal of flour from the Crimora Roller Mills, most of which finds its market in this State and the Carolinas. The popular brand are Acme, Eureka and White Lilly—100 barrels per day being the mill capacity.

A business in Crimora that has grown to proportions of usefulness and profit is the commission house of Plaine & Koiner. It has in the past 12 months, furnished the mangrove mines with 2,400 tons of coal, besides what is supplied to local consumers at the village here; it has handled 900 tons feed, 200 barrels flour, 2 car loads of woven wire fence, about 200 car-loads of hay and straw and about 600,000 chestnut shingles. This last (the shingles) has become a big proposition, some years since our people used no shingles, but covered with tin and other roofing. Now they prefer the shingles, which in chestnut, are practically indestructible, lasting it is said many years longer than other popular roofing material. This firm is owner of a tract of timber land across the mountain from which they expect to cut a million feet in oak, poplar, chestnut and other woods that will find outlet in Baltimore. Their right hand man in the heavy hauling necessary to reach the railway at this point is Mr. Joseph F. Wood, a teamster of skill and experience. Mr. Wood has himself brought over the mountain since last summer more than a half million manufactured shingles.

Our people are pleased with the appointment of Rev. G. D. White of Front Royal, as the new presiding elder for this district. Mr. Charles H. O'Neil of Mr. Crawford, has accepted a position as salesman in the general merchandise store of Mr. W. R. Talley and entered upon his new duties last week.

Wheat in this section is looking fine, much better than in some other sections of the county usually as well favored.

Middlebrook Items.

Mrs. A. L. Steele has returned home after spending the winter with her nieces in Washington, D. C.

Harper Manley, who recently graduated from Dunsore Business College, has accepted a position in W. Va.

Miss Lettie Smith has returned home from Avis, where she taught the past season.

Mrs. Gwin, who has been so very ill of consumption all the fall and winter, died at her home near here Sunday morning, March 25th. The burial took place at Mt. Taber church Tuesday, March 27th, at 11 o'clock. Rev. Mr. Ritchie of Churchville, officiating. Mrs. Gwin is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Carl Clemmer and Miss Maggie Gwin, and one son, Herman. Mrs. Gwin was aged 54 years, 5 months and 15 days.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Rosen and daughter of Staunton, spent Sunday at the home of H. T. Rosen.

Mr. Clarence Spitzer and Miss Mildred Lupton spent Sunday visiting Mrs. M. V. Spitzer of this place.

Mr. John Manley spent Sunday at his home in this place.

Mr. Arthur Swartzel of near Greenville, visited his parents.

Dr. Hart spent a few days last week at his home in Louisa county.

Mr. Reed, who has been clerking for N. E. Cross, has returned to his home at Walker's Creek.

Miss Erna Spitzer of near Swoope, spent a few days last week with her aunt, Miss Jennie Boserman at J. H. Swartzel's.

Mr. and Mrs. Holmes left last week for Galveston, Texas, after spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. William Amole of near here. Mr. and Mrs. Holmes were recently married in Washington, D. C. Mrs. Holmes will be remembered here by her many friends as Miss Virginia Steele, daughter of the late Wm. Steele.

No candidate offered for the primary for Congress in the 10th district save Hon. H. D. Flood, and the committee will meet in Lynchburg tomorrow and declare him the nominee.
