SERVILE INSURRECTION.—The Memphis News of the 29th ult., has some additional news regarding a service insurrection in Arkansas. None of the combinations, save that in Kentucky, have been of any magnitude, and have doubtless been put down—the leaders having ere this suffered death or any magnitude, and have doubtless been put down—the leaders having ere this suffered death for their participation in them. The News says:

A few weeks ago a man named Hancock was arres ed in Union county, Arkansas on suspicion of being engaged in trying to incite the slaves to insurrection. He made some confessions, and managed finally to escape, but was re-arrested, taken to El Borado, tried and short—not, however, by regular process. He was not found guilty on the trial, but subsequently said he knew all about it, but would not tell. This so exasperated the people, as we learn from the Gisiborne (Ls.) Advocate, that they seized him, and being then convinced of his guilt, both him in the woods A man by the name of Mar.in was tried in El Dorado on a similar charge, convicted and hanged. There was to be a general concentration of about three hundred negroes at a given point, led on by Hancock and several others. The town of El Dorado was to be attacked, its inhabitants murdered, and money and provisions obtained by force. The excitement examined their negroes, but they discovered nothing to implicate any one

A letter to the Louisville Courier, dated Hopkinsville, Ky, Dec. 3, says:

Our little town is up in arms, at the present writing. "The negroes are marching upon us," is heard from every mouth. This morning several messengers arrived from Lafayette, a small town, eighteen miles of Hopkinsville, calling on the citizens of this place te come to their assistance. They were momentarily expecting an attack from about six hundred negroes. About 150 persons left immediately for the "seat of war." They were in command of Capt. James Jackson and Sheriif Gowan. Hepkinsville is strongly guarded. It is rumored we will be attacked to-night. I will write you again to-morrow. Would telegraph, but all communication has been cut off—the telegraph poles being cut down.

Accompanying the above is an extra from the Hopkinsville Press, which says:

Hopkinsville Press, which says:

The negroes of Eclipse, Clark, and Lagrange, have united, and are marching towards Dover, and were within eighteen miles of that place when last heard from. Their intention is to relieve the negroes at Dover, then march to the Rolling Mill, then to Bell Wood Furnace, then through Lafayette, on to Hopkinsville and the Obio river.

THE EXPLOSION ON THE STEAMER KENTUCKY -Further Particulars.-The Cincinnati Commercial has the following particulars of the explosion

cial has the following particulars of the explosion of the steam pipe of the new steamer Kentucky, on Saturday night, forty miles below that city:

The steam sped aft to the deck room, scalding seventeen persons—eleven deck hands and firemen and six deck passengers—who were seated around the deck room stove. The night being cold, all the windows and doors were closed, so it was almost impossible for the victims to escape. One or two managed to get through the windows, and in their flight leaped overboard, but were rescued from drowning by the mate, Mr Jordon, who lowered the yawl and went after them. The immense volume of steam put out all the lights in the deck room. Captain Killen and other officers of the boat removed the unfortunate sufferers to the main cabin, where they received the kindest attention. Mattresses were spread on the cabin floor, and flour, cotton, cil, &c., applied to the wounded by Dr. M. H. Burns, who, fortunately, was on board. Three of the wounded died, and eleven others were sent to the hospital on the arrival of the boat here. None of the cabin passengers were injured, as the steam did not find its way into the cabin.

A German lad, whose parents reside in Colum-gers were injured, as the steam did not find its way into the cabin.

A German lad, whose parents reside in Columbia, above this city, after intense suffering, died yesterday morning. He was going to Maysville to learn a trade.

An aged colored man, name unknown, who took passage for Portsmouth, also died, and one of the deck passengers, name unknown, after the boat arrived here. All were very badly scalded, and it is feared that four or five others will not recover.

it is feared that four or five others will not recover.

The names of the wounded firemen and deck hands are Pat. Ryan, Dennis Ryan, Thos. Dorsy, Michael Mahan, Edwid Murphy, Hugh Flaraty, and Thomas Murphy, from Mayavine; George Waller, from Pelicity; John Kerger, Paris Brown, and Thomas Mar, residence unknown; Peter Davis, a deck passenger, and-three others, names unknown. The accord steward, Samuel Morgan, of Felicity, was scalded in the face and hands. He was heating oil at the deck stove when the accident occurred. George Dugan, badly scalded, went to Higginsport, on the Scioto.

COOLNESS UNPARALLELED.—A mercantile firm of this city received this week a letter from the captain of one of the brigs they chartered, dated Barbadoes, in which he informs them that as he believes the United States are about going to eternal smash, he sold ship and cargo and pocketed the money, which he didn't think they will ever see again. He concludes with some complimentary allusions to our countrymen, and wishes he had never seen any of them. The vessel is the brig Boston.—Boston Gazette. brig Boston .- Boston Gazette.

CLOSE OF NAVIGATION.—The Sclota river, at Columbus, Ohio, was frozen over and boys were skating on the ice last Saturday. A letter from Chicago states that the navigation of the Missisalppi above Dubuque has closed at Chicago, with no signs of a sail on the lake in front of that city. The balance of the corn crop of Illinois is likely to be consumed at home, and advance. The present price in the interior of the States is 20 cents, and little to go forward next season.

WIVES FOR THE GERMAN LEGION—One hundred and five soldiers of the British German Legion have arrived at Hamburg from London. Some of them are discharged from the service, but the great er part have gone over for matrimonial purposes. Some speculative individuals have established regular recruiting offices for females willing to accompany the German legion to the Cape of Good Hope, and settle there. One of them has already engaged more than fifty young women, chiefly amongst the millinera, dressmakers, shop-girls and even those connected with the theatres. There are in Hamburg 6,000 more females than men.

WHAT TO SAY AND DO WHEN "POP" GOES THE QUESTION.—As the ladies—unmarried ones especially—are always thankful for advice, they will pardon us for calling their attention to the following directions, which, if they will recollect, may relieve them when placed in what is generally considered an embarrassing position:

1. Especially recommended to Blondes: Pause, sigh very soft, then open your eyes with a good deal of wonder, (of course you have been trying to make it out, but can't.) look your lover in the face and say, "What can you mean, dear Alfred?" If the last words are spoken with a little tremble, so much the better.

2. Very suitable for Brunettes: Give a start, flash a stance at the questioner, turn aside; and be unable to speak your emotion; one hand pressed high upon your bosom, will express this effectually.

3. Safe in the hands of anybody, and generally considered a Clincher: Burst into tears, covering your face with your hands. If you can't cry, drop your head on the inquisitor's shoulder and murmur, "Oh, William!"

4 For 'merry girls' and nice little girls it is anough to say: "No!"—pout, ahake their heads, and look pretty—Philadelphia Nation.

THE CERCL.—There are few students of history | TERRIBLE RATLROAD ACCIDENT IN IRELAND. who have not pondered with a fascination full of pain the horrible episode of Italian crime and cru-elty involved in the fate of the lovely Beatrice Cenci. It is doubtful even if the eventful life of Mary, Queen of Scots, has a point of such fearful attraction as is presented in her fate, and it is therefore no matter of surprise that the poets should have seized it and clothed it with a splendor of fiction in which the true insiders have been done of fiction in which the true insiders have been described. for of fiction in which the true incidents have been obscured or lost. This is peculiarly the case with the representation of the facts best known to the The subject was one peculiarly suited to the per-verted moral nature of Shelley, and he made a use of it in strict accordance with the worst features of his own character. An English writer on Rome, Mr. Whiteside, published some years ago what is supposed to be the true story of Beatrice Cenci.

a translation from an authentic history of that lovely martyr. Speaking of this account a recent letter from Romstays:

It is almost too harrowing to the feelings to be read; but represents the heroine as innocent of the crime of parricide for which she suffered. It is difficult to conceive of such a human devil as Cenci, her unnatural father is represented to have been; a Borgia could not mate him! But, though driven to, madness by his cruelty, and the suspicion of his incestuous passion, Beatrice was neither defiled, nor goaded to murder. Both her moral and physical endurance was nothing short of miraculous; it was the injured exasperated wife, her step mother, who alone incited the assassination of the monster.

Yet the whole family—his wife, two sons and his daughter—were executed together, after having endured horrid tortures to wring from them all a confession of participation in a deed, which one at least of the suffering party was ignorant of, till arrested on suspicion. So grest was the excitement of the Roman populace against the condemnation of Beatrice, that omber way to the scaffold three attempts were made by concerted bands of young men to rescue her from the officers' hands. On the swe of the fatal day she sat meditating her doom so intently, that for some time she did not notice a young man who had bribed the jailor to admit him into the cell, for the purpose of making a sketch of her. Her appearance at this moment is thus described: "Beatrice had risen from her miserable pallet, but, unlike the wretched inmate of a dungeon, resembled a being from a brighter sphere. Her large brown eyes were of a liquid softness, her forebead broad and clear, her countenance of angelic purity, mysteriously beautiful. Around her head a fold of white muslin had been carelessly wrapped, from whence in rich luxuriance fell her fair and waving hair—Profound sorrow and recent bodily anguish imparted an air of touching sensibility to her lovely features." Suddenly turning, she discovered a stranger, seated, with penci nati papers publish long accounts of the abduction from that city of a man named Morris Lindo a citizen of New Orleans, and for the last eight years a book keeper for Connolly & Fox. The nan, it is stated, was vaguely charged with embezzling $9,000 from his employers, and was kidnapped and spirited away into Kentucky by two officers, named Bunker and Anderson. He was then put upon a steamboat under pretence of carrying him to New Orleans, when the manner of his taking off " is thus given by the Cincinnati Commercial of Monday:

mercial of Monday:

The statement of Bunker is, that during the passage to Aurora, Lindo exhibited signs of lethargic drowsiness, which, as he had found an empty vial upon his person, having had laudanum in it, so slarmed him that during the detention of the boat at Aurora he went for a physician, who, upon examination stated as his opinion that the man was possuming. With this is pression they again continued the trip, and Bonker lay down in the upper borth, where, however, he was kept awake by the hard breathing of Lindo, which continued until the boat had nearly reached Vovay, when it ceased and was su ceeded by a deathlike silence. This alarmed the officer, and he arose to discover his unhappy charge at his last gasp and he axpired a few minutes afterward. The body was taken ashore at Vevay, where the captain procured a motalic ooffin, is which the remains were enclosed, subject to the order of his relatives. On Saturday the parties isteres edia this high haded affeir, visited the Mayor for information as to their best method of proceeding in the premises. Of the property which they had taken from the police there were about $390, a valuable gold watch, some other articles of insignificant value, and a truck, which they stated contained property amounting to about $1,0.0 An examination was to be made into the circumstances of the alleged suicide by the Mayor of

A HUMAN BODY FOUND CUT UP IN A BARREI AT ROUSE'S POINT.—On Monday evening last, we learn that the men employed at the railway station, Rouse's Point, found offensive odor arising from a barrel, which had been left there on the Friday previous by the steamer Boston. The barrel had no owner, nor any mark on it; nor was it known who had left it. It had been taken on board the Boston at Port Kent's accompaning was also a who had left it. It had been taken on board the Boston at Port Kent; accompanying was also a trunk containing old clothes, powder, balls, &c.—Some person unknown accempanied both barrel and trunk to the Point, and then disappeared, leaving, it is said, instructions to send the barrel to Lacoile. In consequence of the odor above alided to, the barrel was opened, and found to contain the remains of a man cut up in pieces. The decessed, from appearances, was young, healthy and fleshy. He had a cut on the back of the head.

An extra of the Waterford, Ireland, News, of the 19th uit., contains the particulars of ja terrible ac cident on the Waterford and Külkenny Railroad; It appears that a number of men who were employed ballasting the line above the scene of the calamity, were standing in lurrys, with an engine attached, awaiting on the side rail the arrival of the mail train from Dublin, to proceed to their work, but on the approach of the latter, which consisted of the engine and tender, followed by two goods wagons, two passenger carriages, first and second class, and three goods trains bringing up the rear, the engine driver observed that the points were not regulated to let his train on the main line, and seeing a collision inevitable, he shouted with all his might to the men on the stationary train to jump off, which he did himself, and the collision immediately took place.

The working men in the stationary train jumped from the lurry, and a high embankment being at the side they rushed to, all tumbled back again, were caught by the train and cut to atoms—four had their heads cut completely off, and one, who was the only victim that showed any signs of life after the collision, had his arms cut off. Human efforts must fail to accurately describe this appailing picture—brains, blood and entraits of men, pleces of carriages and engines, goods and lurgage, are everywhere visible, and all present a scene too terrible for contemplation. The engine driver, who fortunately leaped on to the side of the track where the down train should have pass ed, escaped almost unhurt. The engine of the down train, with tender and goods wagon, were smashed to atoms—the tender, on our viewing it, being standing on the end. The following are the names of the five men who were killed: John Kennedy, Patrick Murphy, John Hudson, James Myers and Martin Doyle.

The man Kennedy lay in a ditch bounding one side of the line, with his skull smashed in, out of which might be seen protruding the unfortunate man's brains; another lay longitudinally on the tra

The To clock and 20 minutes Cleveland train for Pittsburg ran through the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago train at Alliance, smashing two passenger cars of the latter train.

One of the cars was thrown in the rotunda of the station and another through the public room, which constitutes a part of Sourbeck's Hotel, in which several persoms were sitting. The rotunda and sitting room were torn down, by which eight persons were killed and several wounded. The killed are Jacob Rudy, John McIntyre, Dr. Smith and lady, all of Alliance; William Ritchie and Mr. Jatterholt, of New Garden, Ohio; and N. S. Taylor and John Brooks, of Jersey. Among the wounded are Chas Coates, engineer, and lady, M. A. Roth, of Philadelphia, thigh tractured and otherwise badly hurt; W. C. Cleland, conductor of the Cleveland train, slightly; D. N. Courtney, slightly; Fielding Cavanaugh and lady; Ann Armour, of Columbus, Indiana, badly; J. Peniter, of Stark county, Ohio, slightly.

Au inquest was held on the bodies Tuesday.—Most of the killed and wounded were not on the cars, but were sitting in the public room when the accident happened.

Several witnesses who were examined testified that the Cleveland train ran into the town at a fearful rate of speed—at least 35 miles per hour. The conductor of the Fort Wayne train supposed that it would be checked in time, according to the rules of the road, but it seemed to increase in speed as it came forward, without sounding either whisthe or bell.

When the collision occurred, it caused a fearful port, which was read, received and laid on the table.

Quorum—Mr. G. A. Myers, from the Committee on Proxies, reported that the committee had proceeded far enough with its labors to ascertain that a quorum was in attendance.

Tolls—Col George Townes offered a resolution, which was adopted—

"That a committee of five be appointed to enquire into the policy adopted by the Richmend and Danville Railroad Company for the regulation of the toils on their road, and report their opinion whether any modification thereof is necessary."

The Chair appointed the following gentlemen said committee: Messrs George Townes, William Martin, W. T. Sutherland, William F. Butler and Taylor Wotten.

wounded are doing well. Mr. Brooks, of New Jersey, was to have been married to a lady in the neighborhood of Alliance, named Ware. The accident caused great excitement, and the engineer and freman of the Cleveland train fied to the woods to escape the fury of the people. Mr. J. B. Stovall offered the following as an amendment:

"That a select committee of five be appointed to enquire into the expediency of accepting the provisions of the act of the General Amembly authorizing the construction of a Branch Road from some point at ornear Danville, to some point at or near Wytheyille on the Virginia and Tennessee Railroad."

Mr. Smith accepted the amendment, and the meetic heigh of the resulting as a manded.

FIRE AND LOSS CF LIFE AT BUFFALO.—Five wooden buildings, on Maple street, Buffalo, N.Y., occupied by German families, were burnt Tues day morning. In the building in which the fire originated the fiames spread so quickly that a sick man in the second story was unable to escape and perished. Five children were badly burnt, and one girl was carried to the hospital, where she died. The loss is estimated at $6,000—mostly in-On motion, the report was unanimously adopted.

Investigation—The special order of the evening, the 'report of the Committee of Investigation,' was taken up, and Mr. Stovall addressed the meeting in opposition to the report. Before concluding his remarks, the hour of 8 o'clock arrived, that being the time appointed for proceeding to the election of President and Directors.

On motion of Dr. T. P. Atkinson, the election was postponed, when Dr. A defended the action of the committee briefly.

Col. Townes and V. Witcher, Esq., also replied to Mr. Stovall, in short and pertinent speeches. Without taking any definite action on the report, the meeting resolved to proceed to the Election of Officers.—Dr. T. P. Atkinson nominated Lewis E Harvie. Esq. of Amelia, for the office of President, Mr. Witcher having declined a re election because of age and ill health.

His nomination was warmly seconded by Messra. Wm. M. Treadway, Samuel S. Bryant and Gen. W. S. B. Cabell. TO BE SOLD AT A GREAT SACKIFiles, to reduce stock—

Mr. Witcher was called on and responded in appropriate terms, returning thanks for the heavy conferred upon him by the Stockholders.

President HARVIE was next called out and returned his thanks for the confidence bestowed in him. He also paid a high compliment to Mr. Witcher. In conclusion, he pledged his best efforts in behalf of the company, and promised to spare no efforts of which he was capable, to advance its interests.

On motion the meeting adjourned to reassess.

Serious Accident.—Yesterday morning, a white man, who called himself a milor, applied to the Captain of the bark "Ziagarella," lying in the dock, at 19th street, for employment. The Captain being in want of hands, told the applicant he needed two or three sailors, and would hire him at once, if he proved himself a competent hand.—With this, the stranger started up the mast, but had not gone far, before he fell to the deck, injuring himself seriously. He was then taken to the medical college, and placed under the hands of the faculty, who will do all in their power to save his life and restore him to health.

The Naiad Queen, or Nymphs of the Rhine, have been witnessed every night this week by large and fashionable andiences, and wen unbounded praise, not only because of the rich and varied spectacle presented to the eye, but because of the aiminable manner in which it has been produced. Apart from the fine acting, the superb scenes of the interior of Sir Rupert's Castle-Pictureague Moon-light of the Rhine—The abode of Demons—The bath of Beauty—Cavern of Riches—Old Gothic Hall—Chamber of Confidential Conversation—and Submarine Caves of the Lurlis Berg, would of themselves make up an entertainment, that could not fall to prove attractive to every lover of the art. No notice that we have room to make, could do justice to this rare and beautiful piece, and we therefore say to our readers, go and see it.

The Sheriffalty—In the Court of Hustings, on yesterday, Messra. Thomas B. Carter, John W. Wright, Isaac W. Walker and Nath C. McGee qualified as deputies under the new Sheriff, Mr. P. P. Winston, whose terus of office commences on the 1st day of January, 1857. Under the law, as it stood before the last seasion of the General Assembly, the term of Mr. Thomas W. Doswell, the present Sheriff, would have expired on the 1st day of July isst; but the Legislature found it expedient, during the last winter, to enact that the terms of the Sheriffs then in office, should not expire until the end of the current year, and that the terms of the Sheriffs elected in May, 1856, should commence the 1st of January, 1857.

On the 1st day of January, 1857.

On the 1st day of January, next, Mr. Doswell will have severed his connection which has existed for a considerable length of time, with great credit to him as an officer, and with entire satisfaction to the community which he has served. We therefore take pleasure in saying to him, for ourselves and his constituency, upon the close of his official career, "well done thou good and fathful servant."
