TUESDAY MORNING AUG. 25, 1860 The Rival Rope-Walkers--Excitement at

The Rival Rope-Walkers-Excitement at Niagara. There was increased excitement at the Falls yesterday. The rope-walking mania appears to have broken out anew. The apnouncement that there were to be two exhibitions, at dif-ferent points on the river, drew a large crowd. Fourteen car-loads went from Bunalo, and more than that number went from Hamilton, to say nothing of a great many who went my the Central and got to the place by other routes.

Forties. Farini made his first essay in public at the Fails, his rope-one thousand seven hundred feet long-being drawn across the gorge half a mile or so below the great catanact. This rope

Fails, his rope—one thousand seven hundred feet long—being drawn across the gorge half a mile or so below the great cataract. This rope is of manilia, two inches in diameter, weighs four thousand live hundred pounds, and is satained by one hundred and forty guys, in which fitty-three thousand feet of rope is used. The deflexion of the rope is great, not less than eighty isel; but, owing to its great length, is gradual. Farini marched down from the grove on the American side to the tane of a band of music. He carried a balancing-pole of unusual length, which soon became en-tangled in the gays, and gave nim a great deal of routole. This accident led many to fear that he would not sately accomplish his feat. Many predicted and openty declared that he would not sately accomplish his feat. Many predicted and openty declared that he would hot sately accomplish his feat. Many predicted and openty declared that he would hot sately accomplish his feat. Many predicted and openty declared that he would hot sately accomplish his feat. Many predicted and openty declared that he would hot sately accomplish his feat. So hear the standing upon his bend, hanging by his hands, by one arm, at the eibow, &c. He epset half an horr in crossing to the Chan-dian side, where he was received with cheers. After spending a little time at the Cliffon thence in taking retreshments, Farini re-turned to his rope and proceeded quickly to . . . The steamer Maid of the Mist had been ly-fing below for some time, a waiting the coming hand, by which he drew up to a point right whis hand he dropped a line on board, by which he drew up to a point right where the Signor, and he dropped a line on this node that to the main line, down he event, nearly a hundred feet, to the deck of the steamer, sliding by his hands, feet foremost.-Atten receiving the congratulations of the steamer head-foremost, he did all else pro-mised, and the and ence appeared to be as weil stored as though a farm did not descend to the steamer nead-foremost, he did all else p satisfied as though he had broken his new for their amusement. Blondin appeared at six o'clock upon his rope below Suspension Bridge, and performed many of his most daring feats. He was stim-ninted to exertion by the presence of his ri-val, who had just made such a successful ex-hibition up the river. The paying andiences were not very large, as many preferred to take outside positions to paying anything to the performers.-Rockester (N.Y.) Union, Aug. 16.

THE LONGEST TRAIN OF THE SEASON CROSS-ING THE PLAINS .- The Kansas City (Mo.) Journal of Commerce of the 16th has the following: Yesterday the largest train reached this city that has yet made its entrance upon one day during the present season. It consisted of forty-six of those huge "prainte schooners," drawn by 400 head of cattle, and reached near-ly one uffile in length. Twenty-three of the wagons and teams belonged to Majors, and had taken Government supplies out to Fort Union; the other twenty-three belonged to Bryant & Bernard, and had been to Santa Fe with merchandize. The whole forty-six wagons came in loaded with wool, bringing in all over 70,000 pounds. The wool was con-signed to McCarty & Barkley. There is not another city in the Union in which can be witnessed such immense cara-vans of internal commerce as the streets of Kanas Olty has presented during the whole of the present season. Not for one day alone are these overland trains from the "great plains to be seen wending their way to and has pased for the last three months but wit-nessed the arrival or departure of from five Yesterday the largest train reached this city has passed for the fast three motions out when nessed the arrival or departure of from five to twenty-five of these huge overland vessels, to or from New Mexico, the mines or some of the Government outposts. This trade will continue for two months to come.

A RAILWAY TRAIN OVERTAKING AND OUT STRIPPING A THUNDER STORM .- N. P. Willis writes in the Home Journal of his late Western

To overtake a thunder shower, whirl through it and outrun it, was the first of the day's ex-cluing novelties. We saw it ahead of us, on the prairie, as you see a single black cloud in the sky, with subshine all around it. It was movsky, with substance all around it. It was mov-ing in the same direction as ourselves, proba-bly at about twenty miles per hour; and we soon began to overtake it with our better har-nessed thander and lighting. The conductor pointed the dark mass out to me some ten or liteen minutes before we entered the outer skirt of the shower, and we were in a pelting rain, with lightning and peals of thunder, for pernaps ten minutes --emering in fair weather rain, with lightning and peals of thunder, for pernaps ten minutes emerging in fair weather on the other side, and leaving the storm to lag behind us like the "slow couch" that it was! But, certainly, it was very queer thus to give thunder and lightning the go-by. It seemed to me, somehow, anticipatory of another state of things. When we go telegraphing about, at the beginning of our spirit travels in the next life, I am sure I shall have a vague impression of having done something of that sort before— this experience of distancing a well-trained thunder-cloud being laid away in my memory
