Powers of District Commanders under the Reconstruction Acts.

The following important announcement is made in the National Intelligencer of vesterday. It shows that the President, backed by his Cabinet, looks upon the removal of State officers as an act of usurpation on the part of the district commanders. We have more than once expressed this opinion. We defy any man to find one word in the reconstruction acts which authorizes them to interfere in any manner with these officers. The utmost that they can lawfully do is to assist the civil authorities in the administration of justice. We quote from the Intelligencer:

"We have authority for the statement that at a very recent consultation of the Cabinet it was decided that the military officers in command of the five districts into which the ten unrepresented southern States are divided have no power to remove civil officers deriving their authority from the State governments as now organized. The question, we understand, before the Cabinet had more immediate reference to the removal of the Governor and other civil officers of the State of Louisiana by General Sheridan; but of course will ap-ply to the action of the other four commanders. No doubt the forthcoming opinion of the Attorney-General, in accordance with the reasoning of which it is understood the decireferred to was arrived at, will fully jus tify the legality and propriety of this deter-

The Intelligencer intimates that SHERI DAN will be instructed in his duties; that the civil officers are to be restored to their places; and that Mr. Johnson can't be bullied. Does the New York Tribune, the Intelligencer asks, "fancy that the Pre-"sident of the United States is to be "swerved from his sworn duty by news-"paper threats, after a partisan commit-"tee has been hounding his track for "months in the vain effort to make a case "against him that would support a despe-"rate majority in the opinion of the "civilized world in their project to depose "him from his high office?"

Gerrit Smith on Confiscation. We remarked some time ago that if confiscation should be commenced in the South it would end in the North. This view of the matter is taken by Hon. GERRIT SMITH, who, in a letter just published. "Confiscation once entered upon, it will be difficult, if not impossible, to set limits to the spread of its demoralizing power. The spirit of lawless greed engendered by confiscation will no more stop at State or other lines than will the flames of a prairie fire at the word of command. Let there be confiscation in the South for the benefit of these, Mr. Stevens's loyal losers, and also for the benefit of the poor blacks, as he also proposes; and very pon, under its debauching influence, immens numbers at the North will be clamoring in the name of "Agrarianism," "Equalization," and other taking names, for their neighbors' possessions. And these rich possessions, it must be remembered, will kindle the spirit of robbery, as can none of the poor possessions of the desolated South.

fine farms on the northwestern prairies and the beautiful ones on the Hudson river will have to be cut up into those "fortyacre lots" which seem to be the burden of STEVENS'S, and WADE'S, and SUMNER'S confiscation speeches.

Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad. PLAN OF OPERATIONS.

We publish below the plan of organization adopted by the Central Railroad for the purpose of procuring subscriptions of money and land to the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad, as well as advancing the general interests of this great enterprise.

In meeting of the Board of Directors of the Virginia Central Railroad Company, at the office of the company. Richmond, June 7, 1867—present, E. Fontaine, president; Jacob Baylor, N. B. Hill, R. B. Davis, R. H. Maury, directors—the following programme and organization was adopted:

To insure the success of the conditional con-tract entered into by this company for build-ing the Covington and Ohio railroad, and carrying it into practical operation as speedily as rying it into practical operation as speedily as possible,

Resolved, That the following organization and programme should be adopted—viz:

1. As subscriptions of stock may be expected from some of the western and northern cities, as well as from 'the counties of West Virginia, it is expedient to select as an agent Virginia, it is expedient to select as an agent Virginia, it is expedient to select as an agent Virginia, it is expedient to select as an agent Virginia, it is expedient to select as an agent formation, and possessing the confidence of formation, and possessing the confidence of the public, who should have an active assistant. His duties should be to secure outside ant. His duties should be to secure outside ant. His duties should be to secure outside of the limits of Virginia as much as possible of the limits of Virginia as mu be agreed on between the land-owners as may be agreed on between the handle with the direct and themselves, not more than the valuation of 1860, or any other lands within the direct influence of the proposed improvement, subject to the approval of the principal agent in the vicinity of the Baptist College, head of amed in the first article.

3d. There shall be appointed in the several counties or towns to be benefited by the construction of the Covington and Ohio railroad five or more commissioners to make arrangements for procuring corporate subscriptions of cash of the $5,000,000 of eight per cent. preferred stock; and, also, if they deem it expedients of the corporate subscriptions. dient, to open books for individual subscription of the same stock.

4. The local agents named in the second ar-ticle for getting land subscriptions of stock are expected to make contracts providing that satisfactory deeds shall be given as soon as operations are commenced on the work, a which time the vendors of land will become stockholders. If any difference arise in fixing the value of lands to be subscribed as stock, the question is to be referred to the county commissioners named in the third article.

5. The president of this company will cause steps to be taken without delay to obtain a corporate subscription from the city of Richand and towns and counties on the line of the road in Virginia which are immediately interested, and shall appoint commissioner to aid him in this duty; and also to open books for individual subscription if they think it expedient.

The president of this company is requested to invite public meetings for the furtherance of the enterprise.

7. The principal agents provided for in the first article and the local agents should be compensated for their services out of the first money collected from subscriptions herein provided for; but the actual expenses of the principal agent, his assistant, and the local agents named in the second article, should be advanced by the Central Railroad Company.

Under the 1st article, the Hon. Allen T. Caperton was appointed agent of the company, and Major James Gordon Paxton as his as-Sistant.

Under the 2d article of the organization, George Craig, John Swan, John Vawter, and Thomas Matthews, are appointed agents to get subscriptions of ordinary stock, payable in land or money. The districts or counties in which each agent will act will be arranged mongst themselves.
Under the 3d article, the following commis-

THE PRIZE FIGHT .- Somewhere on the banks of the Potomac there took place yesterday, says our telegram, another of those brutal exhibitions which tend so much to the increase of vice in the community, and the degradation of our race. Men place themselves under trainers, and for weeks undergo the severest physical labor for the purpose of beating and bruising each other. They fight for hours, and retire from the "ring" so disfigured that their most intimate friends find it difficult to recognize them-and this is called sport! The result of this contest has been telegraphed to every part of the Union, and read by thousands of people. Newspaper correspondents will describe the field and the multitude, and take accurate notes of each " round," and almost gloating over the sufferings of these brutes in human form; and all to feed a morbid appetite for excitement. There are always among the throngs who rush to see these degrading spectacles some who occupy high positions in the community. Magistrates and other officers of the law, whose duty it is to promptly arrest all offenders, will give their sanction to this scene by the interest they manifest in its

The sooner we get over the desire for such exhibitions the better it will be for humanity. The boasted civilization of the nineteenth century finds in these "prize-ring fights" a brutal illustration of its much-talked-of progress.

Let the Northern people take warning in time. NOMMER BOARDING FOR JULY AND AUGUST.—With a view of making known the advantages of our location for a summer resort, we have determined to reduce our charges to THIRTY DOLLARS per month for adults, and TWENTY DOLLARS per month for children ten years old and under.

Our location is the once celebrated summer resort conducted by John S. Cocke, Esq., one and a half miles from Greenwood depot, Albemarle county, Va. A large shady yard, and porches measuring in the aggregate over 400 feet, commodious rooms, and the never-ceasing murmer of two bold mountain streams which flow hard by, and give a perpetual freshness and beauty to the landscape, are among the attractions which are offered to those wishing to visit this mountain region.
