MEXICAN ESCAPES FROM HOSPITAL

With Pneumonia Wades River Trice in Night Clothes-- Now Better

The following story of what may result in proving that cold water is a good remedy for pneumonia, is taken from the Clifton Copper Era:

"Salmon Perez of Metcalf, who was at the Shannon hospital suffering with pneumonia, while in a fit of delirium, made his escape at about 7:30 p. m. by jumping through the upper sash of the window of his room. At that particular instant the nurse was at the telephone, but the alarm was soon given, and the Chinese cook overtook him near the bank of the river. Three young men happened along about that time, and assisted in attempting to return the man to the hospital. He went along quietly for some distance, but again becoming violent, shook off the men and dashed into and across the river. The officers were telephoned for and soon made their appearance and spent some time in searching for the unfortunate man.

"A. A. Anderson, of the Becker-Franz company, happened along at that time and, being on horseback, he searched the entire section to the Ward place, but without finding a trace of the missing man. Dr. Fales was also soon in the saddle, and with others visited the settlements on Shannon Heights, but was not successful in locating the man, and after several hours the search was given up. As Perez had nothing on him but his night clothes, it was a foregone conclusion that he could not live through the night, but he fooled them for in the morning he was found in a bed in a tent on Shannon Heights and apparently no worse for his experience of the previous night, but still 'bug house.'

"After crossing the river at the ford he must have wandered down the river and crossed it again near the pump station, and then made his way up onto the hill. Possibly the ice water which he waded through, together with the chilly atmosphere, subdued his fever until he was rational enough to realize his condition, hence he entered the tent and got into bed. He is now doing well, and the chances for his recovery are most favorable."

KNOCKED ON HEAD AND PUT IN JAIL

Troubles Galore for Son of Sonora in the Copper City

Douglas, Ariz., Feb. 13 --(Special)-- When the officers went to the city jail this morning to bring the prisoners to Judge McDonald's court for hearing, they found a Mexican for whom they could not at first account. His scalp was cut open on one side and he had another cut on his elbow.

In court he said that last night he went, as usual, to his home near Sixth street to go to bed. He found a man in his room, and he asked him what he was doing there. The man replied by banging him over the head with a piece of iron and once again over the upraised arm, cutting gashes at both blows. Seeing that the intruder was inclined to hold the place, the Mexican went outside and to Dyson's saloon on Sixth street, from which place he telephoned for an officer. He says the officer came and put him in jail.

As all the night officers were asleep this morning, the judge did not see fit to awaken them, and did not get the officer's side of the story. The Mexican looked good and tame so the judge told him to go and to come back this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The jail was broken open last night after the Mexican was put in, but he was either too drunk, too sick, too innocent or too ignorant to escape with the other prisoners.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr. has issued a ukase on truth-telling, which indicates that he need not be expected to answer impertinent questions put by the State of Missouri.

MEN'S SUITS AT

WE will inaugurate today, Feb. 13, a semi-annual $7.75 sale of Men's Suits. This, as a score of other special sales held by this store, will be a permanently established feature of this business. The character of merchandise offered will be so unusual, so extraordinary, of such high quality, that the many patrons will look forward to this event with great expectancy and anticipation. We have never attempted a sale of suits at this special price before. But we see no good reason, with the great values presented to introduce this sale, why it should not be one of phenomenal success. Judging from the great interest and enthusiasm displayed in the active buying of last week would lead us to believe that the Bisbee people certainly appreciate the great bargains tendered them at this time. It is our greatest desire and we shall put forth our best efforts to make this sale as worthy, as interesting and as appealing to the economizer as was the sale just preceding. Now is the chance to pick up a suit at a price you will be glad to tell your friends about. Come early. "The first here best served." The inevitable "motto" of a sale like this.

DOUGLAS DEMOCRATS START CITY CAMPAIGN

S. F. McGuire Chosen Chairman at Large of Executive Committee

Douglas, Ariz., Feb. 13.--(Special)-- The democrats of Douglas met in mass meeting Saturday evening at Judge McDonald's office at 8:30 o'clock for the purpose of organizing for the coming campaign for city officers.

There was a good attendance, every ward in the city being represented, and much interest was shown in every detail of the organization.

Judge McDonald called the meeting to order. H. B. Rice was elected temporary chairman and Mr. Ross was elected temporary secretary. The temporary organization thus effected became permanent.

It was decided, after some discussion, to elect a city executive committee, composed of one committeeman from each of the six wards and one at large, making a committee of seven.

A five minute recess was taken in order that the various democrats present from the several wards might caucus and select their committeemen.

First ward, Henry T. Helm.
Second ward, J. F. Ross.
Third ward, R. S. MacLay.
Fourth ward, W. M. Adamson.
Fifth ward, T. A. Daly.
Sixth ward, C. H. Goshen.

Another recess was taken, after the actions of the wards had been ratified by the mass meeting, in order that the six committeemen might select a chairman at large. S. F. McGuire was chosen.

The ward committeemen then announced the time of ward meetings for next Saturday night at 8:30 o'clock, at which time each will nominate three delegates to the democratic city convention, to be held on February 24. The delegates then elected will name the city democratic ticket.

The meeting adjourned, after a harmonious session, in which great interest had been manifested without a single jar.

Several candidates and prospective candidates were present, but there was no canvassing for support nor any log rolling. The meeting promised unity among democrats to the end that a good city ticket might be nominated, which seemed to be the idea uppermost in the minds of the democrats present.

RAILROAD ASSESSMENT IN NEW MEXICO.

Says the Copper Era: "Some of the Arizona newspapers seem to be of the impression that the New Mexico board of equalization raised the value of railroads quite materially. The Era does not think the raise amounts to anything on the main lines, though the short lines were all raised slightly. The main line of the Santa Fe from Albuquerque north was raised $1000 per mile, but was reduced from Albuquerque south to the same extent. There are many more miles of the Santa Fe south of Albuquerque than north of it, hence the tax on the road will be lowered instead of raised. All railroads in New Mexico are assessed slightly higher than in Arizona, but the New Mexico board of equalization does not seem anxious to put even a fair valuation upon the railroads."

G. E. Hunt, foreman at the D. C. concentrator at Morenci, met with a serious accident at the mill last Sunday afternoon. A flying piece of brass from a broken casting struck him in the eye, inflicting a dangerous and painful wound. Mr. Hunt left for Phoenix Monday morning to receive treatment at the hands of an oculist.

A large number of men are now at work driving piling along the river front in North Clifton. The piling will extend from the flume on down around the town, and when completed that part of Clifton will be fully protected from overflows from the Frisco river.

Hon. Ben M. Crawford, of Clifton, is in Los Angeles this week attending the meetings of a mining company of which he is general manager in the development of gold properties near Clifton.

The Federal grand jury in session this week in Solomonville returned a number of indictments against parties who are charged with selling whiskey to Indians.

Sheriff Parks, of Graham county, had his arm broken this week by a kick from a horse. He is reported to be getting along nicely.

H. F. Watson has received his commission as postmaster of Clifton.

STATEMENT MADE BY COLLECTOR BAKER

Says His Downfall at Nogales Was Work of Political Enemies.

Edwin Baker, the recently deposed collector of customs at Nogales, has made a public statement, in which he attributes his fall to the work of political enemies.

Baker has been led to make the statement as the result of the suicide in Los Angeles of a man whose wife he was out riding with at the time the husband took his life. The suicide of the husband is said to be due to Baker's friendship for the wife.

Baker's statement is as follows: "Late on Friday evening I received telegraphic instructions to turn the office over to Earl Griswold, the deputy collector of customs. The telegram said further that I had been removed."

"I believe the cause of the removal is charges that were filed against me in Washington on account of the suicide of my friend Notter in Los Angeles several months ago. I was out riding with Mrs. Notter. When we returned to the Notter's quarters at their hotel we found that he had committed suicide. My political enemies in Nogales took advantage of this and have filed charges connecting me with the affair.

"Mr. and Mrs. Notter and I were friends for several years and occupied the same house in Nogales. I absolutely deny that my relations with the family were other than those of a true friend of both of them. In fact, I more than once prevented Notter from committing suicide when he was on the verge of it.

"During the past year, some men who have been anxious to get my position have made a fight against me. I sent in my resignation to Washington some time ago, but the department refused to accept it. I have been wanting to be relieved for the past few months."

LIVED LIKE A HERMIT.

Uncle John Lyons, a cattleman of the Little Dragons who lived the life of a hermit, occupying a cave as his abiding place, was taken to Benson Sunday night in a serious condition. Mr. Lyons fell off a cliff while hunting, receiving a fracture of the left leg near the thigh. He crawled to his cave and lay helpless for eleven days without water before any one discovered him.

AFRAID OF STRONG MEDICINES.

Many people suffer for years from rheumatic pains, and prefer to do so rather than take the strong medicines usually given for rheumatism, not knowing that quick relief from pain may be had simply by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm and without taking any medicine internally. For sale by all dealers in patent medicines.
