CALFSKINS MUST BE GOOD.

Those Used for Drumheads and Banjos Are Prepared with Great Care.

Calfskins are used almost exclusively in the manufacture of drumheads and banjo heads, and the utmost skill and care are required in their preparation for these uses to produce a smooth, even, unbroken skin. The drum and banjo heads are all made from skins. Calfskin is the best material, but sheepskin is good.

The hides come by rail to the factory in great bundles. They are exactly as when taken from the carcass, except that they have been pickled in salt. On receipt at the factory the hides are thrown into a small pond beside the building and left there to soak in running water till all the salt is washed out. This takes a long time. After being freshened the hides are thrown over the frames and "broken." The bits of flesh remaining on the hides are removed and the skin is then soft and pliable.

The hide is next put in a vat with lime and left there for about two weeks. This loosens the hair, which is scraped off. Then the skin is stretched tight on a frame and shaved on both sides. Another bath in a vat gives the skin a transparent effect and puts it in apple-ple order. Once more the skin is stretched out on a frame, and if any finishing touches are needed they are given. After being cut in shape it is ready for the market.

The army drumheads are nineteen to twenty inches in diameter. Other sizes vary from the tiny ones used for toy drums to the great big bass drums some of which are sixty inches in diameter. Banjo heads are of more uniform size.

THIS NEW CHAMOIS.

Wouldn't Clean Windows as Nicely as It Was Expected to Do.

There is a prominent doctor in Philadelphia who is busy telling a little joke on himself. It appears that he employed an Irish servant, who had just arrived from the "ould sod." Starting out one morning he noticed his office windows were rather dirty, and calling Bridget, he instructed her to clean them before he returned. At the same time he told her that he would stop and purchase a new chamois skin and send it home, and with this she was to clean the windows. After he had gone his rounds, he returned to his office. Glancing at the windows, he found them thickly streaked with grease. He called Bridget, and the following colloquy took place:

"Bridget, didn't I tell you to clean the windows?"
"Yes, sor."
"And didn't I tell you to use the new chamois?"
"Yes, sor."
"Well, did you use it?"
"Sure I did, sor."
"Let me see the chamois," said the doctor, and Bridget promptly brought it. Then for the first time he learned that his wife had left the house a half hour before he did in the morning and had sent home some tripe. The doctor declines to say what happened to the chamois skin.

In Legal Terms.

If I were to give you an orange, said the Judge, I would simply say, "I give you the orange," but should the transaction be entrusted to a lawyer to put in writing he would adopt this form:

"I hereby give, grant, and convey to you all my interest, right, title and advantage of and in said orange, together with its rind, skin, juice, pulp and pits; and all rights and advantages therein, with full power to bite, suck, or otherwise eat the same or give away with or without rind, skin, juice, pulp or pits; anything hereinbefore or in any other deed or deeds, instruments of any nature or kind whatever to the contrary in any wise notwithstanding."

There is only one kind of disputing for which there is any excuse—that which terminates in going to the dictionary.

Why Old Flats and Houses Don't Rent.

Real estate men and owners should not overlook the fact that the Lake View Gas Fixture Company, 233 Lincoln avenue, Telephone North 708, refinish old chandeliers, making them equal to new at very small cost. In many cases after expending money for cleaning or repapering the chandeliers are left in the same dirty, fly-specked condition as before, and are not in keeping with the new decorations, thereby spoiling that which has been done, when at a very small cost the chandeliers, brackets, etc., can be refinished equal to new. We refinish in all the latest colors, such as polished brass, gilt, rich gilt, old copper, polished copper, oxidized copper, silver and gold.

We are also makers of a fine line of gas fixtures at prices to suit the times. Call up North 708. Our agent will call and estimate.
