Happenings of a Day That Will Interest Hyde Park Readers.

INHUMAN ACT OF FRESH YOUNG MEN They Induce William Slancey, a Half-Breed Fellow, to Drink Bear Containing a Drug and Then Cut Off Half His Hair—Rev. D. P. Jones Will Go to Columbus, Ohio.

[The West Side office of the SCRANTON TRIBUNE is located at 125 South Main avenue, where subscriptions, advertisements and communications will receive prompt attention.]

William, or as is better known, "Billy" Glancey, appeared before Alderman Morgan yesterday and procured a warrant for the arrest of James Kennedy and William McNichols, whom he charged with felony. Glancey, who is in a rather demented state, and is frequently made the butt of ignorant ridicule by persons who possess very little of what is termed "humanity."

Saturday afternoon an unknown street vendor entered the house of Thomas Kennedy, the father of one of the defendants. There were several in the place, and Glancey was prevailed upon to take a drink of beer in which a drug had been placed. The effect was soon shown, and he was in a dazed state. While he was unconscious his hair was clipped from one side of his head and his mustache was mutilated in a ridiculous manner. George Fellows, of Tenth street, appeared in behalf of the plaintiff. The Alderman held each of the men in the sum of $300 bail to appear at the next court of quarter sessions.

Pleasant Surprise Party. A pleasant surprise party was tendered Miss Sarah Davis at her home on Lafayette street last Friday evening. Those present were Misses Martha Nichols, Lisa James, Gertrude Lloyd, Gertrude Hughes, Gertrude Beavers, Edith Davis, Edith Lewis, Jennie Jones, Bertha Morgan, Lizzie Cosmoss, Winnie Stevens, Emily Holly, Minnie Thomas, Alma Bellows, Nettie Lewis, Marietta Davis, Emily Evans, Gertrude Freeman, Lizzie Morgan, Jennie Biddle, Della and Sallie Knapp, Cora Reese, Viola Evans and Sarah Davis, and several Messrs. Albert Davis, Thomas Hopkins, William Thomas, John R. Hughes, Alfred Bevan, George Reynolds, David Morley, Thomas Howell, Benjamin Jenkins, William Hamilton, Edward Watkins, Eldridge Dougherty, William Hughes, William P. Lewis, Harry Reese, David and Arthur Evans, Charles and John Cadogan, Benjamin Allen, Harry Davis, David Gibbs, George and Frank Nichols, and William Harris.

More Chickens Stolen. Thomas McAndrews and William Lewis, of the Buck Road, were arrested yesterday on a warrant issued by William Quinn, who charged them with stealing five chickens from his hen coop. At the trial the prosecutor said that Lewis and McAndrews were found with two of the fowls in their possession. One of the chickens was in the henhouse of Thomas McDonough, who resides near there, and who thinks that it was placed there by the defendants. The defense claimed that the hens were given to them by some unknown person on the road. Alderman T. T. Morgan held them in $300 bail each to appear at court. Bail was furnished.

Rev. D. P. Jones Will Leave. During the services in the Tabernacle Congregational church, on Sunday evening, the pastor, Rev. D. P. Jones, announced that after a week's absence he had decided to recall it, but would go to Columbus, O. A week ago the members passed a resolution asking Mr. Jones to remain, and he took a week to consider the matter. Mr. Jones will preach his farewell sermon next Sunday. He will afterward go to Columbus, where he will take charge of his new pastorate. He has been a zealous worker during his stay in this city, and has gained high recognition in church circles. He will be tendered a farewell reception by the church.

Rehearsals for an Elabodded. The Hyde Park Choral society, which has been organized on this side for the purpose of competing at Wilkes-Barre on St. Patrick's Day, will meet this evening in the Welsh Baptist church for rehearsal. William W. Evans, the well known musical director, is the leader. The competitive selection is "O Great is the Depth," from the oratorio "St. Paul." An invitation is extended to all singers to be present at the rehearsal this evening.

Beating His Wife. George Smith, of Luzerne street, was arrested yesterday by Constable John Davis on a warrant charging him with brutally beating and then deserting his wife. The case was heard in the office of T. T. Morgan, of the Fifteenth ward, last evening, and Smith was held under bail to appear at court.

AUTOMATIC TYPE SETTING.

Wonderful Revolution Wrought by Inventors in Two Years.

February Compendium. It was the rivalry in serving up the very latest news that, about the middle of the present century, brought into existence the device by which paper, drawn from continuous rolls, was made itself as well as printed on both sides from cylindrical stereotypes and delivered in properly folded condition at the other end of a single machine. It is only in the present decade that the work of "composition" or "setting" of the type matter itself has been brought up to the same high grade of speed and accuracy by the lately perfected art of automatic type setting.

The type-compositors' machines now before the public fall mainly under two general heads or groups, namely, those which operate upon suitably constructed movable types and those in which the "matter" is cast in vivo, line by line, at each composition in mold-beds composed of assembled matrices. Both classes of machines are operated by depressing "keys" like those of a typewriter and both operate directly with the necessity of direct manipulation, either for composition or for distribution, and thus avoid a serious source of error. This radical and important change is secured by highly ingenious devices, bearing some resemblance to the words in a book, which the types in one class and the matrices in the other class are automatically returned to their respective positions for the next "job." Even the seemingly difficult work of so-called "justification" is automatic, for the spacing quads, depressing their appropriate keys, are so constructed as to be capable of such simultaneous distension to cause the matter to completely and equally fill the line.

So much is the operation like that of type-writing that an expert typewriter soon becomes a competent and rapid compositor, the operator having merely to depress the proper keys, and for the rest, the machine itself does the thinking and sets the characters with unerring precision. The type-setting machine would seem to be crowning work of the long and eventful brain of inventors in the ancient art of recorded speech.

PERSONAL NOTES OF 1867. How the Doings of Scrantonians Were Chronicled by Local Writers.

THE SCRANTON TRIBUNE has received a copy of the Daily Register of Nov. 3, 1867. It will be remembered by the readers of this paper that the Register was a Democratic paper, and for that early day was quite a creditable journal, viewed from the standpoint of a newspaper writer of today.

That Scrantonians in 1867 liked to have local news written in a breezy style is evidenced by the following remarks from the issue of "Peep O' Day": "They will doubtless be read with great interest by old residents of the city."

A. A. Chase, esq., positively denies any relationship with the chief justice. Dr. Wheeler at last accounts had gone missing.

Lawyer Ward has quit horse trading and summed down.

Herbert is going to sing in public one of the songs of the city.

Whitmore the elder has renewed his age and begins to look quite youthful.

Westcott is about to electify the four square walls of the mayor's office with his election.

It is said that McKane is seriously entertaining a proposition to insure the home that he occupies on the city.

Lawyer Wilton is daily charming Dr. Messer with his fine recitations of Shakespeare.

Dr. Squire is getting to very radical. He now recommends the use of porter and don't think that pork is at all harmful.

Jim Simons and his friends are about to start a savings bank at the head of Salt river, where greenbacks are said to be plenty and copper heads scarce.

The editors of the Republican have made arrangements for laying a pneumatic railway to all parts of the city for the purpose of relieving the telegraph of their heavy loads.

Captain Robinson, the gymnast, is exceedingly engaged in the study of the dangerous feat of lifting himself up by the seat of his unmentionables.

Sir Benjamin Finch has under consideration a proposition of matrimony from Queen Vic.

The perilous and dangerous contract for lowering Charley Berry's coat tail has been awarded to Mansfield.

AMUSEMENT NOTES. "The Dezzler" which will be seen at the Academy tonight, is full of fun and frolic, mirth and music, as an egg is full of meat. It is the greatest remedy known for the "blues." All of the old favorites, Joe Ott, Max Miller, the Original Clipper Quartette, John P. Curran, Jessa Hatcher, and Annie Wilmoth (Lorran) are retained, while Annie Lewis, the most charming and more charming artist, will grace the face comedy stage, will be seen as Kitty Starlight.

AN ARABIAN NIGHT. At the Academy of Music Thursday evening "An Arabian Night" will be produced by Belle Archer's company of America's representative comedians, headed by the beautiful actress, Miss Belle Archer, and including such names as Robert Hickman, Charles Butler, Franklyn Roberts, Charles Lyonel, Miss Fanneth Denham, Rose, Florence Marlon and Louise Galloway. This company insures a first class performance of this wonderfully successful comedy.

THE RISING GENERATION. William Barry, formerly the sonneteer of the partnership of Barry & Fay, will present his new play of Irish and American life, "The Rising Generation," at the Academy on Friday and Saturday evenings. "The Rising Generation" is said to be a capital play of its class, abounding in mirthful incidents, bright dialogue and lively, catchy music.

ADONIS CLASS SOCIAL. A Number of Young People Entertained in an Enjoyable Manner. At Excelsior hall last night the members of the Adonis Dancing class gave a very enjoyable social which was attended by about forty couples. Miss Katie Beardon furnished the music and the dancing was in charge of Professor Edward O'Malley.

The following committees looked after the enjoyment of all present: Reception committee, Joseph Hannon, Edward Coleman, John J. Gordon and John J. Donnelly; floor committee, Charles O'Malley, Martin O'Malley, Edward Black, Ignatz Imeldolf and James Walsh.

NORTHEND. The Women's Christian Temperance union of Providence will meet today at 2:30 o'clock p. m. All members are requested to be present.

Mrs. Willis Benjamin, of North Main avenue, is resting quietly this morning and appears some better. There is now some hope of her recovery.

Ask your grocer and butcher for Carr's home made mince meat.

Happenings of a Day That Will Interest Many Tribune Readers.

A SUCCESSFUL MASQUERADE Given by the Scranton Athletic Club. Many Beautiful Costumes Worn. Surprises Were Numerous at the Unmasking—Robinson's Ice House Burned—The Work of an Incendiary—Shorter Paragraphs.

The Scranton Athletic club maintained its reputation last evening as an entertainer of the first quality. The masquerade ball given under its auspices was one of the most successful in the history of the organization. The attendance was somewhat smaller than it has been at similar previous events, but what was lacking in numbers was made up in fellowship and no one of the many that attended could complain of loneliness. The spirit of good nature pervaded all who attended. Everything was conducted most decorously, notwithstanding the fact that everybody enjoyed themselves to his or her hearts content.

The unmasking took place shortly after 11 o'clock and there were many instances of perfect and congratulations were numerous. For the ladies Mrs. Robert Robinson and Mrs. T. H. Spruks were the most conspicuous by their beauty and the novelty of their attire. Mrs. Robinson represented a Scotch lassie, while Mrs. Spruks was a bride for the second time in her life. Other pretty masquers were Mrs. Dan Gilbert, Mrs. Max Zizelman and Miss Lulu Sunday. John F. Schenck as Santa Claus was good, and E. J. Robinson and C. J. Rosar as courtiers of some European court made off-ends. Every form of jest in most instances perfect and congratulations were numerous. For the ladies Mrs. Robert Robinson and Mrs. T. H.
